Study Launched On School Needs

A University of Chicago team of educators and a group of 42 Arlington Heights citizens began Monday to tackle the job of surveying District 25's school needs.

The study, approved last summer by the Arlington Heights elementary school board, is billed as a financial survey—but in the broadest sense.

Among the citizen members is Victor Myer, former school board president.

Board Pres. Harold Sortor told the men and women attending the study's kick-off meeting Monday in the South Junior High cafeteria that the survey is designed to cover four questions:

—What income can the schools expect?

—How is it spent now?

—What kind of elmentary education does Arlington Heights want?

—What is the quality of education provided now?

DISTRICT 25, Sortor said, is undertaking the financial survey because it is facing a new problem: that of providing quality education in a district in which the assessed valuation per child is going down.

He said Supt. Ralph E. Clabaugh had suggested the University of Chicago group because it could be more objective, could provide a "disinterested but not uninterested" approach. The Arlington Heights elementary district's administrative staff was "too close to the operation," Clabaugh said.

The board had to face up to its financial problems—and fast—last year when it learned, two days after approving higher teacher salaries, that the year's assessed valuation would be $4 million less than planned.

THE UNIVERSITY of Chicago's Midwest Administration Center has agreed to do the financial survey, Prof. J. Alan Thomas told the lay citizens group, because it felt the answers might prove helpful to other school districts facing similar problems.

"We don't anticipate any earthshaking results," said Professor Thomas. "This is known as a good school system and your superintendent is widely known and respected." But he said the university team hopes the survey will provide guidelines for improving administrative supervision of finances and of the educational program in the schools.

Plea for Shop Zoning Denied

An attorney said two plan commission members had a "conflict of interest" but the Arlington Heights Village Board apparently felt differently Monday.

It accepted the plan commission's recommendation and rejected his client's petition for rezoning and annexation to the village.

Involved is business zoning on a one-acre parcel southeast of Arlington Heights and Central Roads, planned for a convenience type food store and a small shopping center. The plan commission Jan. 5 rejected the zoning 9 to 0, with one member passing.

THE ATTORNEY, Leonard Bosgraf of Chicago, said he was "not making any accusations" but went on to make them:

One member, Clifford Johnson, had a "Conflict of interest . . . and he recognized this by passing" on the vote, Bosgraf said. Johnson, a Jewel Tea Co. executive, did participate in the discussion at the plan commission hearing, Bosgraf noted.

Another member, identified by trustees as Clyde Ferry, a professional shopping center consultant, joined with eight other members in voting "no."

Bosgraf said he had heard Ferry might have an interest and added his (Bosgraf's) associate, Howard Stone of Affiliated Realty Service Inc., Glenview, might be able to elaborate. Stone did not comment on the remark

IN RECOMMENDING a turndown on the zoning, the plan commission had noted the parcel extends the full block from Arlington Heights Road to Pine Avenue—a sore point among neighbors on Pine who had objected during the hearing. The plan group found the new zoning "would be projecting commercial zoning into a single family residential area."

Bosgraf noted that the property immediately north, at Pine and Central, already has county commercial zoning and that the land along Arlington Heights Road has village commercial zoning. For residences on Pine, he said, "the harm is already there."

The village board vote on denial was 5 to 0, with Trustee Carl Mees passing.

Mothers March Tuesday Night

The Mothers March, culmination of the annual March of Dimes drive in Arlington Heights, will be conducted Tuesday night, according to chairman Mrs. Norman Bittner. For details, see story inside today's Herald.

Panel to Predict Arlington of 1976

What will Arlington Heights be like 10 years from now?

A glimpse into the future will be offered by the Arlington Heights Community Council (Commco) when it meets Jan. 31. Three community leaders will be asked to project their thinking 10 years ahead to provide a composite guess about the future of Arlington Heights.

THE EXPERT PANEL includes:

—Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications,

—John G. Woods, village president, and —Robert Cagann, director of property management for FBK Realtors and a Wheeling Township auditor.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at Miner Junior High School, Miner Street and Dryden Avenue. Opportunity will be provided for the public to question panel members.

The crystal-ball gazing will not be an easy job:

Arlington Heights is one of the fastest growing communities in the state. With a population of less than 10,000 in 1950, the village topped 44,000 last year and is expected to reach 75,000 to 80,000 in the next decade.

"THIS GROWTH has created problems of its own," observed Commco program chairman Richard A. Cowen.

"Will our schools be adequate to educate the child of 1975? What can be done to save the downtown area, to make it attract shoppers and business? Is it time to reconsider our zoning laws and views on industry, light and heavy? Will our present form of village government, village manager and board of trustees, be adequate to govern our larger village?"

Mrs. Best Dies; Widow Of Physician

Services were held Tuesday for Mrs. Genevieve S. Best, widow of a pioneering Arlington Heights physician.

Mrs. Best died Saturday at Northwest Community Hospital. She was 87.

She was the widow of Dr. Bruce T. Best, who died in 1956. Best's father, Dr. John E. Best, began medical practice in the village in 1872, and his son followed in his footsteps.

THEY HAD an office in their home at Fremont and Dunton. The old residence is currently owned by the Evangelical Free Church and used for Sunday School.

Services for Mrs. Best were held at the First Methodist Church, with interment at Arlington Heights Cemetery. Surviving are two sons Richard H. of Evanston and John S. of Menominee Falls, Wis., four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Teen Dance Hall Moving

The Cellar, it appears, is moving to Palatine.

The teen dance hall, which has become almost an institution since it opened in Arlington Heights last March, will vacate its home in the old St. Peter's activities building at Highland Avenue and Eastman Street.

Partial demolition of the building, which will become part of a high rise commercial-apartment complex, is scheduled next month. Proprietor Paul Samson plans to move the Cellar to the former Life Rugs building on Northwest Highway, immediately south of the cloverleaf being constructed at Highway 53. The Palatine Village Board will act on his request for appropriate zoning of the property Jan. 31.

Church Draws Probing Youth

A youth program with an unusual approach is getting rave notices and, more significantly, a steady attendance at the Arlington Heights First Presbyterian Church.

Called Senior High Fellowship, the program attracts about 80 high school students each Sunday night. Some take bag lunches and guitars for informal sessions, hear discussions on important topics of the day, hash them over in discussion sessions and take short courses.

They pick their own programs on topics ranging from love to civil rights to teen-parent relationships.

Store-Office Proposal Debated

Consideration of a proposal to redevelop a downtown parcel was suspended by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last Wednesday until Feb. 9, when neighboring property owners will be invited to give their views.

Involved is the west half of a triangular parcel at Northwest Highway and Highland Avenue. It presently contains a frame residence and a small Texaco station.

JOHN SCHAFEHEN, owner of the Hobby Lobby, 210 E. Northwest Highway, proposes to build a two-story masonry building housing an enlarged hobby store and offices.

As part of the redevelopment, he has proposed the village vacate a short frontage road in front of the property and has offered to compensate the village and North Western Railway for their interests in the street right-of-way.

Several commissioners expressed skepticism over the proposed street vacation and the effect on neighboring properties.

BUT THEY AGREED at least in its existing state some traffic hazard exists because a "third lane" of traffic on Northwest Highway tends to be squeezed into the frontage roadway.

Among the questions of commissioners:

—Would the neighboring Sinclair Oil Co. be interested in vacationn of the street in front of its premises?

—How would traffic into the National Tea parking lot to the west be affected?

—HOW WOULD the change affect the new high rise commercial-apartment complex planned immediately to the north, as well as other neighboring properties?

Plan commission members will seek answers to those questions Feb. 9. One commissioner, Norval B. Stephens, said Schafehen's attorney, Eugene Schlickman, had voted against a similar vacation at Northwest Highway and Arlington Heights Road when Schlickman was on the board of trustees.

Robert L. Martin, 641 S. Dunton Ave., has been elected chairman of the board, the top elective position at the 118-year-old Chicago marketplace. He will serve one year.

JAMES R. KELLY, 1113 W. Harvard St., has been elected to a three-year term as director.

Kelly is a partner of Gerstenberg & Co., and has been a member of the Chicago Board of Trade since 1957.

Martin, a vice president of the J & O Grain Co., has been an exchange member since 1947, serving in many elective positions. He had been elected to two three-year terms as director, but completed only five years of service to accept the nomination for vice chairman in 1964.

Public Parkway Intended

By DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

A flood damage prevention ordinance, to be used as a legal tool in development of the proposed McDonald Creek Parkway, has been recommended by a special committee of the Arlington Heights Plan Commission.

The parkway development, which would give a unique character to the still-to-be developed area on the far north side of the village, already has been accepted in principal by the plan commission for part of the creek bed. The flood plains ordinance and related measures have been taken under advisement, along with the suggested extension.

The proposed ordinance would prohibit construction of homes on or dangerously close to flood plains. And it would provide for continuous park development along the creek with adequate public access.

THE DEVELOPMENT is an attempt to get away from traditional problems of creekway development: underground pipes and fenced-in retention basins, houses on flood plains, fenced creek channels and such.

Village staff engineer John Best said he envisioned lagoons and widened areas of the creekbed taking the place of retention basins and high quality homes developing along the parkway.

The special committee, headed by commissioner Charles B. Cronin, reported the development would have "the double advantage of better flood and area control and an opportunity of providing more open space and park areas."

The area involved in the present McDonald study is from Hintz Road on the north to Palatine Road on the south and from Buffalo Grove Road east to Schoenbeck Road. The subcommittee recommended the creek bed within that area be developed with a parkway, as it had recommended the area to the west.

IN CONSIDERING the development the special group had reports drafted on flood control and water use by Best and on recreational potentials by Parks Supt. Thomas Thornton.

Thornton's report envisions a whole series of interconnecting park and school properties over a large area. The park district has approved in principal such a system.

Furniture Store To Show Paintings

A collection of eight antique paintings will go on display Jan. 31 at Schneller Furniture Co., 32 S. Evergreen Ave., Arlington Heights.

The paintings, mostly 17th and 18th century works, were to arrive in Arlington Heights this week, according to customs officials. Joseph Schneller, owner of the furniture firm, bought them while in Europe last December.

He plans to sell the paintings to groups that will put them on public display, and he hopes they may eventually find their way into an art museum if one is established in Arlington Heights.

"THESE ARE ALL museum-quality works. I'm thrilled that I was able to acquire them and bring them to Arlington Heights," said Schneller.

He bought them on one of his periodic trips to Europe. Schneller also brought back more than 50 contemporary paintings which he plans to sell privately.

Included among them is a painting by George Robin, contemporary French artist. Schneller plans to keep that painting, valued at more than $1,000, in his private collection.

TWO OF THE antique works are by unknown artisits; they are of the Florentine school of the early 1700's.

Also in the collection are a set by Thomas Clater, English figure and genrepainter. Other artists are: Sir John Gordon Watson, Scottish portrait painter; F. Farrer, English painter of animal and sporting scenes; Joseph Knight, English figure and landscape painter, and Alexander Thiele, German landscape painter and etcher. (A

WORK OF SIR JOHN GORDON WATSON is among eight antique paintings that will go on public display Jan. 31 for about a month at Schneller Furniture Co., 32 S. Evergreen Ave., Arlington Heights. Watson, Scottish portrait painter, was born in Edinburgh in 1788. His works are in several galleries in the British Isles and U.S.

Grant Requests of Kaspar Residents

Residents of N. Kaspar Avenue had two wishes granted Monday.

The Arlington Heights Village Board approved ordinances establishing a 25 miles-an-hour speed limit from Northwest Highway to Oakton Street and prohibiting through trucking on the street.

Both measures were requested by residents at a Board of Local Improvements hearing two weeks ago. Kaspar will be improved, possibly by special assessment.

DURING THE assessment hearing, several residents aired gripes about trucks from a nearby excavating firm and about car speeds. The complaints were passed along by Village Engineer Charles Tower.

Responding to questions by Trustee Carl Mees, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said an engineering survey was done to determine the speed limit. State law sets minimum speeds in urban areas at 30 miles an hour, explained Village Atty. Jack Siegel, unless the village finds a lower speed necessary to safety.

New Sewer To Be Built On Euclid

A new sanitary sewer to serve lots on the north side of Euclid Street from Wilke Road to a point 1½ blocks east will be constructed by the Village of Arlington Heights.

The village board Monday approved a $5,408 contract with the Mike DiPaola Co. for the work. Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said residents have "one to six inches of water in their basements each time it rains." He said the sewer would be paid for from the water and sewer bond fund.

Other firms bidding on the project were D. DiOrio & Son, Inc., $5,464; Rosetti Construction Co., $6,351, and Scully, Hunter & Scully, $8,697. (A

Toastmasters Open 1966 Speech Season

Eighteen members and three guests spun and skidded their way through last Wednesday's deep snow to attend the Jan. 12 kick-off meeting of the 1966 season for the area Toastmasters Club.

The club added its 24th member, Gerald M. Chapman, Arlington Heights attorney residing at 903 N. Kaspar Ave. Formal speeches were delivered by Ray Mell, who won the cup for best speech of the evening, by Bob Lanz, who described the social changes occurring in the south, by Bob Stedronsky, who discussed the investment opportunities present in the "Soaring Sixties," and by Bernie Clark, who cited the dangers of "walking a crooked mile."

AN EDUCATIONAL speech was delivered by "Doc" Henry Neumann. Toastmaster for the evening was Don Heine, speech evaluators were Bob Foster, Don Knuth and Billy McMinn. "Table Topics" was conducted by Dean Eggen and the cup for best response was awarded to Art Travers, a new member, of 1115 N. Yale Ave.

Suspect Found in Hit-Run Accident

Arlington Heights police said Tuesday they would issue warrants against a Woodstock man suspected of hit-and-run in an accident Saturday in which several persons were injured.

He is Ralph Haupris, 62.

The accident happened at Arlington Heights and Rand Roads at 11:20 p.m. Betty A. Carney, 21, Chicago, said she was driving northwest on Rand when her car was struck in the rear by a vehicle which continued northwest. She told police she thought she saw blood on the other driver's face.

HAUPRIS CAME under suspicion after he admitted himself to a hospital in Woodstock.

Taken to Northwest Community Hospital after they complained of sore necks were Miss Carney and two companions, Joan Nicoll, 20, and Petrina M. Tignino, 22, both of Glenview. (A

Downtown Report Is Submitted

A technical report on the Arlington Heights downtown plan was submitted to the plan commission last week by the Tec-Search community planning firm.

The report includes background material necessary for the plan group to conduct public hearings on the downtown plan submitted by Tec-Search last summer. The plan commission had planned to begin public hearings last fall, but copies of the technical report were unavailable.

The group is still waiting for a companion report on revision of the Arlington Heights thoroughfare plan. (A

Two Citizen Leaders Get High Praise

Two men who headed the library citizens committee which worked for passage of a $1,425,000 library bond referendum were given a pat on the back Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

Norval B. Stephens and George C. (bud) Beacham were handed resolutions of appreciation praising them for working "diligently and effectively" for passage of the library expansion program. Voters approved the bond issue Jan. 8.

Stephens took the opportunity to toss bouquets to people who helped in the drive, including the other citizen members, the village manager and clerk, the volunteer poll workers and Mrs. Catherine Phillips, village manager's secretary who typed 150 thank you letters to helpers.

Children should register early as class enrollment is limited. The fee of $2 for 10 lessons may be paid at Pioneer Park, administrative office. (A

Furniture Store To Show Paintings

A collection of eight antique paintings will go on display Jan. 31 at Schneller Furniture Co., 32 S. Evergreen Ave., Arlington Heights.

The paintings, mostly 17th and 18th century works, were to arrive in Arlington Heights this week, according to customs officials. Joseph Schneller, owner of the furniture firm, bought them while in Europe last December.

He plans to sell the paintings to groups that will put them on public display, and he hopes they may eventually find their way into an art museum if one is established in Arlington Heights.

"THESE ARE ALL museum-quality works. I'm thrilled that I was able to acquire them and bring them to Arlington Heights," said Schneller.

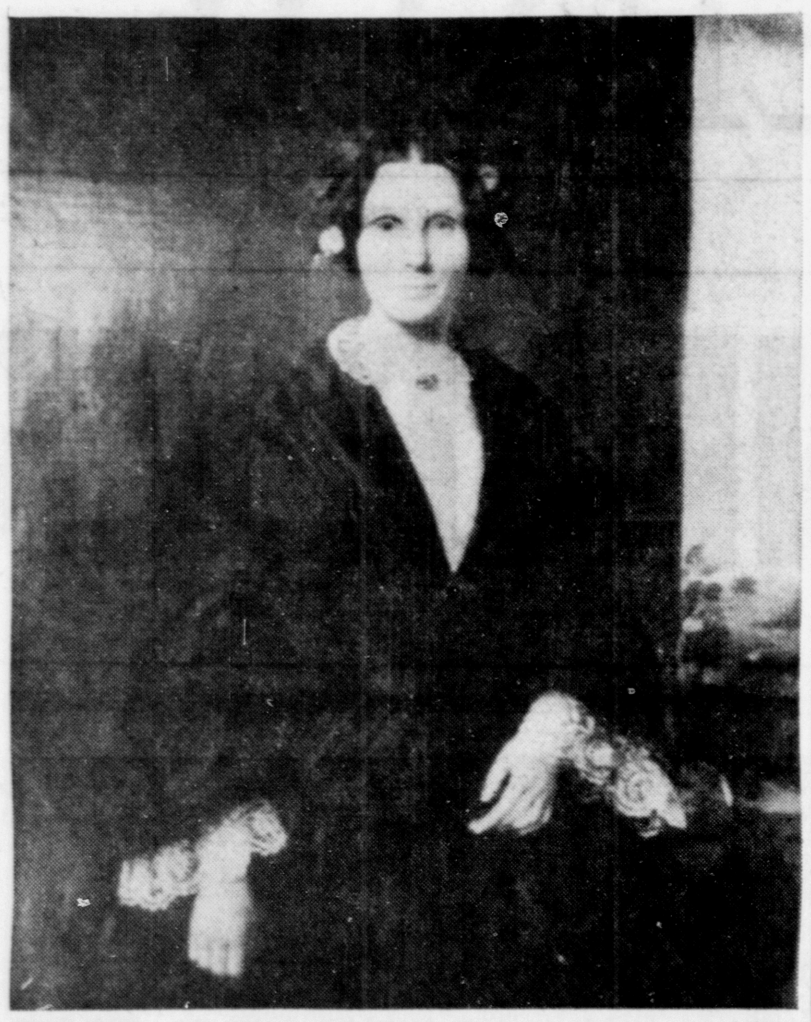
He bought them on one of his periodic trips to Europe. Schneller also brought back more than 50 contemporary paintings which he plans to sell privately.

Included among them is a painting by George Robin, contemporary French artist. Schneller plans to keep that painting, valued at more than $1,000, in his private collection.

TWO OF THE antique works are by unknown artisits; they are of the Florentine school of the early 1700's.

Also in the collection are a set by Thomas Clater, English figure and genrepainter. Other artists are: Sir John Gordon Watson, Scottish portrait painter; F. Farrer, English painter of animal and sporting scenes; Joseph Knight, English figure and landscape painter, and Alexander Thiele, German landscape painter and etcher. (A



WORK OF SIR JOHN GORDON WATSON is among eight antique paintings that will go on public display Jan. 31 for about a month at Schneller Furniture Co., 32 S. Evergreen Ave., Arlington Heights. Watson, Scottish portrait painter, was born in Edinburgh in 1788. His works are in several galleries in the British Isles and U.S.

Suspect Found in Hit-Run Accident

Arlington Heights police said Tuesday they would issue warrants against a Woodstock man suspected of hit-and-run in an accident Saturday in which several persons were injured.

He is Ralph Haupris, 62.

The accident happened at Arlington Heights and Rand Roads at 11:20 p.m. Betty A. Carney, 21, Chicago, said she was driving northwest on Rand when her car was struck in the rear by a vehicle which continued northwest. She told police she thought she saw blood on the other driver's face.

HAUPRIS CAME under suspicion after he admitted himself to a hospital in Woodstock.

Taken to Northwest Community Hospital after they complained of sore necks were Miss Carney and two companions, Joan Nicoll, 20, and Petrina M. Tignino, 22, both of Glenview.(A

Two Citizen Leaders Get High Praise

Two men who headed the library citizens committee which worked for passage of a $1,425,000 library bond referendum were given a pat on the back Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

Norval B. Stephens and George C. (bud) Beacham were handed resolutions of appreciation praising them for working "diligently and effectively" for passage of the library expansion program. Voters approved the bond issue Jan. 8.

Stephens took the opportunity to toss bouquets to people who helped in the drive, including the other citizen members, the village manager and clerk, the volunteer poll workers and Mrs. Catherine Phillips, village manager's secretary who typed 150 thank you letters to helpers.

Downtown Report Is Submitted

A technical report on the Arlington Heights downtown plan was submitted to the plan commission last week by the Tec-Search community planning firm.

The report includes background material necessary for the plan group to conduct public hearings on the downtown plan submitted by Tec-Search last summer. The plan commission had planned to begin public hearings last fall, but copies of the technical report were unavailable.

The group is still waiting for a companion report on revision of the Arlington Heights thoroughfare plan. (A

Tumbling, Trampoline Classes Set

Tumbling and trampoline lessons will begin on Saturday, Jan. 29.

Children may register at the Arlington Heights Park District office for classes of 10 weeks duration. The first meeting will be at two different locations—Recreation and Pioneer Parks.

The youngest, 6 to 8 years, meet at 9 a.m.; the 9 to 13 year beginners at 10 a.m.; and the advanced students meet at 11 a.m. Advanced students must be at least eight years old and have taken at least one previous session in either the summer or winter program.

Grant Requests of Kaspar Residents

Residents of N. Kaspar Avenue had two wishes granted Monday.

The Arlington Heights Village Board approved ordinances establishing a 25 miles-an-hour speed limit from Northwest Highway to Oakton Street and prohibiting through trucking on the street.

Both measures were requested by residents at a Board of Local Improvements hearing two weeks ago. Kaspar will be improved, possibly by special assessment.

DURING THE assessment hearing, several residents aired gripes about trucks from a nearby excavating firm and about car speeds. The complaints were passed along by Village Engineer Charles Tower.

Responding to questions by Trustee Carl Mees, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said an engineering survey was done to determine the speed limit. State law sets minimum speeds in urban areas at 30 miles an hour, explained Village Atty. Jack Siegel, unless the village finds a lower speed necessary to safety.

New Sewer To Be Built On Euclid

A new sanitary sewer to serve lots on the north side of Euclid Street from Wilke Road to a point 1½ blocks east will be constructed by the Village of Arlington Heights.

The village board Monday approved a $5,408 contract with the Mike DiPaola Co. for the work. Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said residents have "one to six inches of water in their basements each time it rains." He said the sewer would be paid for from the water and sewer bond fund.

Other firms bidding on the project were D. DiOrio & Son, Inc., $5,464; Rosetti Construction Co., $6,351, and Scully, Hunter & Scully, $8,697. (A

Toastmasters Open 1966 Speech Season

Eighteen members and three guests spun and skidded their way through last Wednesday's deep snow to attend the Jan. 12 kick-off meeting of the 1966 season for the area Toastmasters Club.

The club added its 24th member, Gerald M. Chapman, Arlington Heights attorney residing at 903 N. Kaspar Ave. Formal speeches were delivered by Ray Mell, who won the cup for best speech of the evening, by Bob Lanz, who described the social changes occurring in the south, by Bob Stedronsky, who discussed the investment opportunities present in the "Soaring Sixties," and by Bernie Clark, who cited the dangers of "walking a crooked mile."

AN EDUCATIONAL speech was delivered by "Doc" Henry Neumann. Toastmaster for the evening was Don Heine, speech evaluators were Bob Foster, Don Knuth and Billy McMinn. "Table Topics" was conducted by Dean Eggen and the cup for best response was awarded to Art Travers, a new member, of 1115 N. Yale Ave.

Members of Toastmasters will travel to Crystal Lake tonight (Thursday) for a joint meeting with the Crystal Lake Club. A few membership openings are still available in the Club, which will meet again on Jan. 26, in the Community Room of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, at 8:15 p.m. Guests are welcome.

New Daily Newspaper Announced by Field

Publication of a five-day-a-week newspaper in Arlington Heights has been announced by Field Enterprises, Inc., Chicago.

Announcement of the formation of a wholly-owned subsidiary firm, Day Publications Inc., came at a luncheon Monday to which a large number of civic leaders were invited.

Field Enterprises, Inc. publishes the Chicago Daily News, Chicago Sun-Times, World Book Encyclopedia and Childcraft, among other enterprises, and operates WFLD-TV, Chicago.

THE NEWSPAPER'S office will be located at 217 S. Arlington Heights Road, with printing at Lemont, for the time being. The paper will start publishing Jan. 31.

Top editorial positions on the new paper are weighted with former personnel of the Chicago Daily News. President of Day Publications and editor and publisher of the newspaper will be John E. Stanton, formerly managing editor of the Chicago Daily News, who had been associated with that paper since 1945.

Field Enterprises also announced it would publish a weekly shopper.

George B. Young, president of Field Enterprises, told community leaders his firm felt, "It is time for a community such as Arlington Heights to have its own daily newspaper." He said the new paper would be "an autonomous newspaper, not tied to 'downtown.' "

IN A STATEMENT issued to trade publications interested in the move, Robert Y. Paddock, vice president of Paddock Publications Inc. which publishes the Arlington Heights Herald, said his firm was "pleased that our community of Arlington Heights has been selected for this most serious attempt to date by a Chicago newspaper to provide local news coverage.

"The suburbs today," continued Paddock, "provide half the potential readership of the Chicago press, and this acknowledgement by the Daily News of the importance of Arlington Heights and the northwest suburban area indicates we made the right choice 70 years ago in sinking our roots here.

"In our years here in suburbia, Paddock Publications has grown from a small, country weekly into a chain of 16 suburban newspapers, winning numerous awards for its development of a distinctly suburban media. Paddock Publications has gained a reputation as "the accepted influence in northwest suburbs.

"We welcome Field Enterprises Inc. into our fast-growing community and look forward to stimulating, rewarding competition with them."

the Great lady who started a Revolution...

When the legendary Kohinoor diamond made its way to Great Britain, Queen Victoria and Prince Albert had it re-cut in the modern manner to add to its dazzling brilliance. The result is the magnificent gem to be seen in Her Majesty's tiara. Today, it's not at all unusual for women of taste to have their diamond jewelry restyled or re-set in contemporary mountings. Why not bring yours in today and consult with our designers? The cost is surprisingly modest.

Delay Vote On Parking Fund Refund

Action on a requested refund of money contributed to the downtown off-street parking fund was tabled Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The board acted at the request of Atty. Eugene Schlickman, representing Howard S. Faber, who is seeking the refund of $4,800. Schlickman asked trustees to take up the request Feb. 7.

FABER CONTRIBUTED to the fund in 1959 after he expanded his building and was not able to meet the off-street parking requirement. Last month, he applied for, and received from the zoning board of appeals, a variation in the required number of spaces. The zoning board subsequently refused to review its position despite a direct appeal by one village trustee.

In seeking the request, Schlickman noted the zoning board's findings of fact in the case were not yet available to trustees. (A

Q. What is the proper length of time for a young woman to wear mourning for her father or mother?

A. There is no "proper" length of time. This is entirely a matter of her feelings and choice. The wearing of mourning is not nearly so strict a custom as it once was, in fact most people nowadays do not consider it necessary at all.

Adult Education Sign-Up Next Week

Sign-up nights for District 214's second semester adult education classes will be next Tuesday and Wednesday at the four high schools.

Three college-credit education courses from Bradley University will be among courses offered by adult school teachers working under the direction of W. L. Randle, director of adult education for the district.

Other new course listings include slimnastics, wiring and soldering, technical and professional report writing, slipcovers and draperies, and theatrical workshops.

Registration for the adult classes will take place Monday, Jan. 24, in the Arlington High School library; Tuesday, Jan. 25, in the Prospect High School cafeteria; Wednesday, Jan. 26, in the Forest View High School library, and Thursday, Jan. 27, in the Wheeling High School cafeteria.

SIGN-UP HOURS for all the schools will be from 7 to 9 p.m., and registrants should enroll at the school where the classes they want will be held.

Some 2,500 area residents are expected to enroll for the District 214 offering of more than 100 adult education classes, Randle has estimated.

There were almost 3,200 men and women registered for the fall session of classes. They studied practical subjects like bookkeeping and business law, improvement - oriented courses like algebra and electronics, and such "for fun" courses as banjo, bridge and golf.

The Editor's Desk

By DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

WINTER, it seems, has finally arrived in Arlington Heights. Last week's snow is still on the ground, and a hard frost promises to keep it there.

They were even able to hold the annual Rotary Ice Carnival last Saturday You'll remember it was set for Jan. 8, but the weather was so mild the main ingredient —ice — was lacking.

BAUMANN

I dropped in on the carnival to stab my memory with thoughts of a youth long gone. About 180 kids participated in the big winter event, which ran like clockwork. By happenstance, two of the winners — Peggy Ann Rorig and Tommy Peterson — are neighbors. Both hail from the 1100 Block of N. Walnut Ave. You'll find a complete list of winners in another column.

SPEAKING of the snow storm, I've heard many compliments about the job the plow jockeys did, keeping Arlington Heights streets open during the storm Wednesday night and early Thursday.

Though the streets were clear, I got to work late Thursday — my wife didn't get the driveway cleaned off in time.

She did shovel, though. That makes our neighbors better-off than commuters, who were still walking in the streets around the station earlier this week because some sidewalks there hadn't been shoveled.

Several residents called asking whether police could not ticket people who failed to clear their walks. I asked Village Atty. Jack Siegel. The State Supreme Court many years ago, he said, had ruled that since the sidewalks are public property a municipality can't require residents to remove snow from them.

The answer, apparently, is talk to your neighbor. Or better yet, have your neighbor talk to his wife. (A

New Daily Newspaper Announced by Field

Publication of a five-day-a-week newspaper in Arlington Heights has been announced by Field Enterprises, Inc., Chicago.

Announcement of the formation of a wholly-owned subsidiary firm, Day Publications Inc., came at a luncheon Monday to which a large number of civic leaders were invited.

Field Enterprises, Inc. publishes the Chicago Daily News, Chicago Sun-Times, World Book Encyclopedia and Childcraft, among other enterprises, and operates WFLD-TV, Chicago.

THE NEWSPAPER'S office will be located at 217 S. Arlington Heights Road, with printing at Lemont, for the time being. The paper will start publishing Jan. 31.

Top editorial positions on the new paper are weighted with former personnel of the Chicago Daily News. President of Day Publications and editor and publisher of the newspaper will be John E. Stanton, formerly managing editor of the Chicago Daily News, who had been associated with that paper since 1945.

Field Enterprises also announced it would publish a weekly shopper.

George B. Young, president of Field Enterprises, told community leaders his firm felt, "It is time for a community such as Arlington Heights to have its own daily newspaper." He said the new paper would be "an autonomous newspaper, not tied to 'downtown.'"

IN A STATEMENT issued to trade publications interested in the move, Robert Y. Paddock, vice president of Paddock Publications Inc. which publishes the Arlington Heights Herald, said his firm was "pleased that our community of Arlington Heights has been selected for this most serious attempt to date by a Chicago newspaper to provide local news coverage.

"The suburbs today," continued Paddock, "provide half the potential readership of the Chicago press, and this acknowledgement by the Daily News of the importance of Arlington Heights and the northwest suburban area indicates we made the right choice 70 years ago in sinking our roots here.

"In our years here in suburbia, Paddock Publications has grown from a small, country weekly into a chain of 16 suburban newspapers, winning numerous awards for its development of a distinctly suburban media. Paddock Publications has gained a reputation as "the accepted influence in northwest suburbs.

"We welcome Field Enterprises Inc. into our fast-growing community and look forward to stimulating, rewarding competition with them."

Delay Vote On Parking Fund Refund

Action on a requested refund of money contributed to the downtown off-street parking fund was tabled Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The board acted at the request of Atty. Eugene Schlickman, representing Howard S. Faber, who is seeking the refund of $4,800. Schlickman asked trustees to take up the request Feb. 7.

FABER CONTRIBUTED to the fund in 1959 after he expanded his building and was not able to meet the off-street parking requirement. Last month, he applied for, and received from the zoning board of appeals, a variation in the required number of spaces. The zoning board subsequently refused to review its position despite a direct appeal by one village trustee.

In seeking the request, Schlickman noted the zoning board's findings of fact in the case were not yet available to trustees. (A

Q. What is the proper length of time for a young woman to wear mourning for her father or mother?

A. There is no "proper" length of time. This is entirely a matter of her feelings and choice. The wearing of mourning is not nearly so strict a custom as it once was, in fact most people nowadays do not consider it necessary at all.

Adult Education Sign-Up Next Week

Sign-up nights for District 214's second semester adult education classes will be next Tuesday and Wednesday at the four high schools.

Three college-credit education courses from Bradley University will be among courses offered by adult school teachers working under the direction of W. L. Randle, director of adult education for the district.

Other new course listings include slimnastics, wiring and soldering, technical and professional report writing, slipcovers and draperies, and theatrical workshops.

Registration for the adult classes will take place Monday, Jan. 24, in the Arlington High School library; Tuesday, Jan. 25, in the Prospect High School cafeteria; Wednesday, Jan. 26, in the Forest View High School library, and Thursday, Jan. 27, in the Wheeling High School cafeteria.

SIGN-UP HOURS for all the schools will be from 7 to 9 p.m., and registrants should enroll at the school where the classes they want will be held.

Some 2,500 area residents are expected to enroll for the District 214 offering of more than 100 adult education classes, Randle has estimated.

There were almost 3,200 men and women registered for the fall session of classes. They studied practical subjects like bookkeeping and business law, improvement - oriented courses like algebra and electronics, and such "for fun" courses as banjo, bridge and golf.

WINTER, it seems, has finally arrived in Arlington Heights. Last week's snow is still on the ground, and a hard frost promises to keep it there.

They were even able to hold the annual Rotary Ice Carnival last Saturday. You'll remember it was set for Jan. 8, but the weather was so mild the main ingredient—ice—was lacking.

I dropped in on the carnival to stab my memory with thoughts of a youth long gone. About 180 kids participated in the big winter event, which ran like clockwork. By happenstance, two of the winners — Peggy Ann Rorig and Tommy Peterson — are neighbors. Both hail from the 1100 Block of N. Walnut Ave. You'll find a complete list of winners in another column.

SPEAKING of the snow storm, I've heard many compliments about the job the plow jockeys did, keeping Arlington Heights streets open during the storm Wednesday night and early Thursday.

Though the streets were clear, I got to work late Thursday — my wife didn't get the driveway cleaned off in time.

She did shovel, though. That makes our neighbors better-off than commuters, who were still walking in the streets around the station earlier this week because some sidewalks there hadn't been shoveled.

Several residents called asking whether police could not ticket people who failed to clear their walks. I asked Village Atty. Jack Siegel. The State Supreme Court many years ago, he said, had ruled that since the sidewalks are public property a municipality can't require residents to remove snow from them.

The answer, apparently, is talk to your neighbor. Or better yet, have your neighbor talk to his wife. (A

Funeral Home Reports Sweater Typewriter Gone

A typewriter and a sweater were taken from the receiving room of Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home, 2000 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights police were told Saturday. William Andres of the firm estimated the value of items taken at about $325. (A

OK Preliminary Plat of 8 Lots

Preliminary plat layout for Vaccaro's resubdivision was approved by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last Wednesday. The eight-lot residential subdivision is in the 1100 Block of N. Belmont Avenue.

The group's favorable recommendation will go to the village board Feb. 7. The preliminary plat was the same as one approved five years ago; reapproval was necessary because of the time lapse. (A

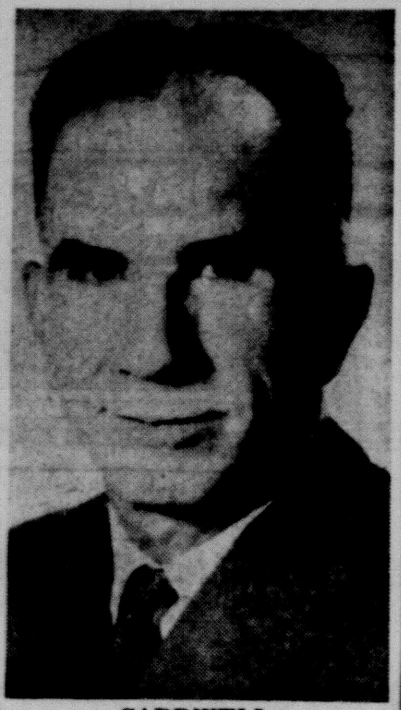
Missionary to Talk



CARDWELL

Walter D. Cardwell, executive director of evangelistic field services for the United Christian Missionary Society, will speak at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the School of World Outreach sponsored by the Christian Church of Arlington Heights, 333 W. Thomas St. A potluck dinner will be served prior to his talk at 5:30.

As former missionary to the republic of the Congo, Cardwell moved from the resources and interpretation department to the department of evangelism of the United Society, an international agency of the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) in 1964. While serving in Africa from 1945 to 1958, he was the legal representative of the Disciples of Christ Congo Mission whose headquarters are in Coquilhatville.

HE TAUGHT at the "Ecole Des Predicateurs" (Preachers' School) in Bolenge. During his term in the Congo, he and his wife, also a missionary, were engaged in evangelistic work and made many trips into the "back country" to meet with groups of Christians and give guidance to the native preachers.

Cardwell has served in the pastorate of churches in Kentucky and Mississippi. He attended the Kennedy School of Missions at Hartford, Conn.

Programmed Learning Helps Fast, Slow Alike

Programmed learning devices provide a useful tool for teaching students on an individual basis, the Arlington Heights Elementary school board has been told.

Two men charged with the programmed learning program — Director of Instruction William J. Fritsche and mathematics consultant John W. Bennett—appeared before the board recently to explain the advantages and limitations of the step-by-step learning devices.

They explained the district does not use teaching machines. Such machines are extremely expensive for the amount of use they can receive, Fritsche said, and lower cost versions tried out in District 25 did not prove satisfactory.

RATHER, THE district used workbook-style materials. The student works through the book at his own pace and, depending on the style of book may get an immediate response to whether he answers a question right, may be referred back to the section containing the right answer or may receive several references.

The program is modest: about $3,500 has been spent for materials over the past three years. Fritsche credited Bennett's missionary work among teachers with a doubling of the use of materials in the last year. The materials are kept in a central supply, available to teachers at all schools.

Bennett characterized the approach as "building little bits of knowledge into the larger concept." He said it may be used for slow learners who need individual study, for advanced students who wish to work ahead and for review purposes.

A disadvantage, he said, is that the user "has to be an independent worker, he must be self motivating or interested in the subject. It's not for every student."

Approve Extension Of Lillian Street

A recommendation that Lillian Street extend straight east from the Harold Eberhardy subdivision to Arlington Heights Road was approved last week by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission.

Also approved was a recommendation that the Board of Local Improvements be asked to begin special assessment proceedings to complete the street from Eberhardy's east property line, about Evergreen Avenue, to the main thoroughfare.

THE COMMISSION rejected a proposal which would have curved Lillian south on a narrow 24-foot right-of-way past a Pure Oil station on Arlington Heights Road. As recommended by the plan commission, the street would have a standard width and would include sidewalks.

Finding an eastern access to the 17-acre subdivision, which iicludes a small parcel of apartment zoning and the Arlington Highlands single family development, has been one in a series of stumbling blocks delaying approval of the subdivision.

THE TRACT is south of Palatine Road, and access from that thoroughfare is limited to an east-bound frontage road. Residents of Arlington Knolls, to the south, had protested their streets would be the major access to the apartment area.

Plan Commission Chairman Harold Carlson apparently spoke the mind of other commissioners in comenting the village apparently "made a mistake" years ago in not demanding the developments along Arlington Heights Road not provide access to the interior. (A

As former missionary to the republic of the Congo, Cardwell moved from the resources and interpretation department to the department of evangelism of the United Society, an international agency of the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) in 1964. While serving in Africa from 1945 to 1958, he was the legal representative of the Disciples of Christ Congo Mission whose headquarters are in Coquilhatville.

HE TAUGHT at the "Ecole Des Predicateurs" (Preachers' School) in Bolenge. During his term in the Congo, he and his wife, also a missionary, were engaged in evangelistic work and made many trips into the "back country" to meet with groups of Christians and give guidance to the native preachers.

Cardwell has served in the pastorate of churches in Kentucky and Mississippi. He attended the Kennedy School of Missions at Hartford, Conn.

Programmed Learning Helps Fast, Slow Alike

Programmed learning devices provide a useful tool for teaching students on an individual basis, the Arlington Heights Elementary school board has been told.

Two men charged with the programmed learning program — Director of Instruction William J. Fritsche and mathematics consultant John W. Bennett—appeared before the board recently to explain the advantages and limitations of the step-by-step learning devices.

They explained the district does not use teaching machines. Such machines are extremely expensive for the amount of use they can receive, Fritsche said, and lower cost versions tried out in District 25 did not prove satisfactory.

RATHER, THE district used workbook-style materials. The student works through the book at his own pace and, depending on the style of book may get an immediate response to whether he answers a question right, may be referred back to the section containing the right answer or may receive several references.

The program is modest: about $3,500 has been spent for materials over the past three years. Fritsche credited Bennett's missionary work among teachers with a doubling of the use of materials in the last year. The materials are kept in a central supply, available to teachers at all schools.

Bennett characterized the approach as "building little bits of knowledge into the larger concept." He said it may be used for slow learners who need individual study, for advanced students who wish to work ahead and for review purposes.

A disadvantage, he said, is that the user "has to be an independent worker, he must be self motivating or interested in the subject. It's not for every student."

Approve Extension Of Lillian Street

A recommendation that Lillian Street extend straight east from the Harold Eberhardy subdivision to Arlington Heights Road was approved last week by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission.

Also approved was a recommendation that the Board of Local Improvements be asked to begin special assessment proceedings to complete the street from Eberhardy's east property line, about Evergreen Avenue, to the main thoroughfare.

THE COMMISSION rejected a proposal which would have curved Lillian south on a narrow 24-foot right-of-way past a Pure Oil station on Arlington Heights Road. As recommended by the plan commission, the street would have a standard width and would include sidewalks.

Finding an eastern access to the 17-acre subdivision, which includes a small parcel of apartment zoning and the Arlington Highlands single family development, has been one in a series of stumbling blocks delaying approval of the subdivision.

THE TRACT is south of Palatine Road, and access from that thoroughfare is limited to an east-bound frontage road. Residents of Arlington Knolls, to the south, had protested their streets would be the major access to the apartment area.

Plan Commission Chairman Harold Carlson apparently spoke the mind of other commissioners in comenting the village apparently "made a mistake" years ago in not demanding the developments along Arlington Heights Road not provide access to the interior. (A

Ailing Sen. Graham In 'Good Condition'

State Sen. John A. Graham (R-Barrington), recovering from a slight stroke suffered Dec. 31, is expected to be out of the hospital in another week to 10 days.

He has been recuperating at Sherman Hospital in Elgin, where he is reported as "doing fine — in good condition" this week.

Although the hospital spokesman had "no idea when he'll be going home" and Graham's doctor was unavailable, Mrs. Graham said he should be released in about a week.

"He's doing just fine. He's up and around, and they're of course giving him every advantage so he recovers fully," she said.

SHE INDICATED he may plan on a vacation after leaving the hospital. "He was overworked and exhausted too, and he needs the rest," she said.

A senator since 1958, Graham has made it known since last fall that he will run again this year as a candidate in the new 3rd District. The district takes in Barrington, Hanover, Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeland Elk Grove Townships, and portions of Northfield and Maine Townships.

Although there have been rumors of Republicans to oppose the conservative Graham, there have been no formal announcements except by two who will not run against him. They are State Rep. Eugene Schlickman of Arlington Heights, who will seek re-election to the House, and Wheeling Township Committeeman Thomas J. Houser, who has taken the position of manager for Charles Percy's campaign for the U. S. Senate. (B10

Farm Record Book Will Be Explained

An informational meeting on use of the new Illinois Farm Record book will be held on Friday, Jan. 21.

The new record also provides for a farm income summary and crop and livestock and enterprise analysis.

Heyen states that all interested farmers and vegetable growers in the area who are interested in learning about the new record are invited to attend the meeting. Those who have purchased the new record should bring it with them. Heyen also stated that for those who have not already purchased the record should bring it with them. Standardized Mailbox Proposal Is Rejected

The Arlington Heights Village Board has rejected an administration proposal to standardize curbside mailboxes in new subdivisions.

Trustees Monday issued muffled growls at the post office department's decision requiring the curbside installations and voted to keep arm's-length distance from mailbox styles.

AFTER THE post office announced the rural-type boxes would be required in new subdivisions — a class of service called "mounted delivery" — the village administration proposed an ordinance requiring standard installations. Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said he thought they would give a better appearance.

Hanson submitted sketches of the proposed uniform installation Monday. Basically, it would involve a two-inch pipe set at the property line and supporting two boxes.

Hanson also included sketches from the post office department showing what individuals have done with curbside installations, including one set on the nose of a seal.

"When we talked about this before," commented Trustee John White, "most of us expressed some extreme displeasure. Having looked at these plans, my feeling is intensified.

"My reaction is to let people put up their own . . . I think they'd look better."

TRUSTEE Frank Palmatier suggested if the village kept hands off the post office department might get more pressure after residents saw the results.

Trustee Roy Bressler, chairman of the public relations committee, said the village should keep hands off or "the gripes will transfer to the village."

A suggestion made two weeks ago by Village Pres. John G. Woods, that the board send off a resolution asking a post office review of the policy, was not discussed Monday.

Final Greenbrier Plat Endorsed

Final plat of Greenbrier Unit 10 was approved by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission last Wednesday. The group's favorable recommendation will go to the village board Feb. 7. The 37-lot Unit 10 is the last unit to be developed in Greenbrier subdivision. It is zoned for single family use.

Judge Dahl to Sit In Juvenile Court

Few people in Arlington Heights were more pleased over last week's appointment of Judge Walter P. Dahl, 416 S. Windsor Drive, as chief Juvenile Court judge, than Mrs. Charles Aldag.

Mrs. Aldag, program chairman for the local American Association of University Women's branch, last fall booked Judge Dahl as a speaker for the AAUW's March 10 meeting.

Judge Dahl, married and the father of two children, was elected to the bench in November 1962 and had been assigned to the Criminal Court since that time. He had served as a justice of the peace in Wheeling Township from 1956 through 1962.

APPOINTMENT of Judge Dahl as Juvenile Court judge was announced by John S. Boyle, chief judge of the Circuit Court, at a press conference. Boyle described Juvenile court as a trying assignment because of its heavy caseload of dependent, neglected or delinquent children.

After the announcement, Dahl said he intends no change in the Juvenile Court. He said he hopes to continue the "good work" of his predecessor, Judge Daniel McNamara.

A Marine Corps veteran, Dahl attended the judges' college at the University of Colorado last year on a fellowship received from the National College of State Trial Judges.

Signal Saves Train from Derailment

A westbound train narrowly escaped derailment in Arlington Heights last Friday, officials of the Chicago and North Western Railway told police.

Railway officers reported at 4:45 p.m. the train, No. 658, was brought to an emergency stop several blocks east of Arlington Heights Road when an engineer noticed an automatic warning signal was operating. A check revealed a switching track to a spur line had been left half open.

Railway officers said they found no evidence it was tampered with, and they did not know whether it might have been left open accidentally. They said they will have extra railroad guards in the area.

Auto Stickers Will Be Sold On Saturdays

Arlington Heights village offices will be open the next three Saturdays for over-the-counter sales of vehicle stickers.

Village Finance Dir. Stewart M. Grant said he was notified the long overdue stickers had been mailed air express from New York Tuesday and should have arrived in the village Wednesday (yesterday).

GRANT SAID his personnel will begin to "grind out" stickers as soon as they arrive for residents who have applied by mail. For those who want to buy the sticker in person, the counter in the Municipal Building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Road, will have special 8 a.m. to noon hours Saturdays.

The annual wheel tax is $10 for autos.

Industrial Plat Okayed

Final plat for Unit 1 of the Arlington Industrial Subdivision was approved by the Arlington Village Board Monday, following a favorable recommendation by the plan commission last Wednesday.

The 50-acre Unit 1 is the first portion planned of the vast 350-acre industrial development on the far north side.

Public Building Commission Asked

A recommendation from its finance committee that it create a public building commission has been taken under advisement by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

Such a building commission has been billed as a potential tool in the redevelopment of downtown.

While no formal vote was taken on the proposed commission, trustees appear generally receptive.

VILLAGE PRES. John G. Woods told the Herald a formal vote on creation of the commission would come after details are presented to trustees. Creation of a building commission would have to be approved by voters.

The possible creation of a public building commission was first raised among trustees by Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel when he reported on new state legislation last November. Before the last legislative session public building commissions were limited to Chicago.

Siegel pointed out a commission would be able to construct facilities for lease to other governmental and quasi-governmental units.

THE NEW facilities would be financed by revenue bonds, that is, from revenue derived from rentals rather than property taxes.

Possible use of a building commission to construct new post office facilities in a new location was discussed, and village officials subsequently reported the post office department is receptive to the idea of relocating.

Officials to Talk On Human Relations

Village Pres. John G. Woods and two other village officials will be speakers at tonight's meeting of the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee.

The meeting will take place at 8 p.m. in the Lutheran Church of the Cross, 2025 Goebbert Road, just north of Forest View High School.

Appearing with Woods will be Trustee John J. Walsh Jr., human relations liaison member of the village board, and Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson.

THE THREE WILL describe village plans in the area of human relations.

"We're looking forward to this as one of our most important programs," said Nicholas Shuman, president of the human relations committee, in telling of plans for tonight's meeting.

Future programs for the human relations group may include a theatrical production with a human relations theme, a movie on "Property Values and Race," and a program on human relations problems faced by the area's Spanish-speaking citizens.

Fees Hiked for Zoning Hearings

A stiff hike in filing fees for zoning changes and variations was approved by the Arlington Heights Village Board Monday.

The board acted on the advice of its finance committee, which said the new fees would be more in line with village costs in advertising and conducting public hearings.

Rezoning requests, heard by the plan commission, will have to be accompanied by a $150 filing fee. The old fee was $85.

REQUESTS FOR zoning variations, heard by the zoning board of appeals, will have to be accompanied by a fee of $50. Former charge was $30.

Finance committee Chairman Carl Mees said rezoning matters are costing the village about $135, including $20 to $25 for legal advertising, $10 for secretarial help and $105 in pay for commission members.

He said variation requests are costing the village between $25 and $31, with $15 to $20 for advertising and $10 to $11 for secretary. Zoning board members are unpaid.

'Bird Dog' Role Okayed On Library

Arlington Heights will "lend" its village manager to the library board to oversee construction of the recently approved $1,425,000 library.

Trustees agreed to the request by Library Board Pres. Mrs. Florence Hendrickson Monday. Mrs. Hendrickson, in asking for Mgr. L. A. Hanson's services, noted he had supervised construction of the new Municipal Building.

The board agreed to let Hanson bird dog construction on behalf of the library directors. Hanson said he did not know how much time the work would require but that he would tap the facilities of the village building and engineering departments.

Walters Elected By Chamber

BOB WALTERS

Bob Walters, Arlington Heights district sales manager for Baird & Warner Inc., has been named president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

He succeeds H. C. Wolf, last year's president. Other newly named chamber officers are Vice Pres. Allan Peters, an attorney and Treasurer John Janszen, of Arlington Furniture. Wolf was named chairman of the chamber's board of directors.

Probing Youth Drawn To Church Fellowship

Rev. Isaac Strain

THE FELLOWSHIP program has a terminology all its own: small Go Groups gather to provide intimate discussions among students; Search Groups provide an in-depth study of some topic that cannot be handled in one sitting; Evening Emphasis starts with folk music and moves to a topical discussion.

An apparently important factor in the success of the program is the variety of challenging programs. Planned in the first three months of 1966 are speakers on "A Summer in Mississippi," "John Birchers Speak Out," "Get Out of Viet Nam?"

Dramas are planned on "Cry Dawn" — the problem of death, and "Christ in Concrete City." Other programs will include discussions of personal ethics, prayer, contemporary communications and contemporary idols.

THE PROGRAM, with a staff of 10 lay counselors, is headed by the Rev. Isaac Strain. An ordained Baptist minister, the Rev. Mr. Strain is minister of music for the Presbyterian Church.

"This is a real effort to sit down and talk to kids at length," commented the Rev. Mr. Strain," and to help them to understand themselves. Most adults don't talk to kids on a serious level."

Fellowship students apparently have not been content only to take part in the program but to act on what they learn about society and themselves. They held a spaghetti dinner, raising $300 for an orphanage, and conducted a program at a home for unwed mothers.

"We expect to do some work in settlement houses and in service within Arlington Heights," Strain added.

Night Recreation Attendance Spotty

Arlington Heights Park District's pilot program in providing evening recreation facilities weekdays at Recreation Park has had its ups and downs.

The program is intended to create new recreational opportunities for unorganized groups of residents.

As few as 10 or 15 and as many as 75 used the evening facilities last month during open hours for pool, table tennis, and similar activities, the park board was told last week.

HAMPERING full participation, the board was told, is the fact that previously-scheduled activities have sometimes tied up the basement recreation room used for the pilot program.

With second session activities starting, the park district hopes to rearrange things so the evening recreation program can operate more regularly, in a definite room and for definite hours.

Acting as evening supervisor has been Richard Podewell, who also teaches physical education at Thomas Junior High School.

A Correction

An error occurred in a Jan. 13 Herald story about an auto accident at Central Road and Arthur Avenue, Arlington Heights, which occurred Jan. 7.

The story indicated a car driven by Kenneth M. Turcotte, 42, 2207 Kirchoff Road, Rolling Meadows, was struck in the rear by one driven by David W. Erbach, 17, 513 S. Main, Mount Prospect. The Erbach vehicle, in fact, was struck in the rear.

Police charged Turcotte with negligent driving. A youth riding in Erbach's car, Jan Golab, was injured slightly. He lives at 100 W. Berkshire Lane.(AM

6th High School Needed, Citizen Group Declares

Citizens Committee members say there will be overcrowding — or even double shifts — at other District 214 high schools by 1968 if the bond referendum for the area's sixth high school is not approved by voters on Saturday, Feb. 5.

The referendum asks voters approval of a $6.5 million school building on Willow Road, just east of Rand Road, and purchase of another school site, for $300,000.

The new school — still unnamed — would open in September, 1968, with construction to be started as soon as possible. The $300,000 site recommended for purchase is located in the fastgrowing River Trails area, a quarter mile east of Wheeling Road and a quarter mile north of Camp McDonald Road.

THE SIXTH HIGH school is a "must," says Thomas Montgomery, Hasbrook Civic Association representative who served on as chairman of the Citizens Committee's area growth committee. That subcommittee's task was to answer the questions, "Is another high school needed?" and "If so, where?"

The site recommended — and approved by the Citizens Committee and the District 214 Board of Education — lies where the next few years' largest student increase is expected, in new subdivisions in the north central part of the district.

When Elk Grove High School opens next year, District 214's school capacity (now 10,000) will rise to 12,500. But by 1968, student population — based on what the Citizens Committee is stressing are "conservative estimates" — will be 14,025. Most of this growth will be in the Arlington, Prospect, and Wheeling attendance areas, and these high schools are operating at or near capacity now.

Montgomery said the area growth committee looked at three other possible sites, and recommended the Willow Road property both because of its location — where it can ease the pressure on Arlington, Wheeling and Prospect schools— and because of the character of the area itself.

"BECAUSE THIS section will be mostly residential there will be very little need for bussing," Montgomery explained. "We estimate as many as 75 per cent of the students will be able to walk to school." And the location, near but not on main roads, will facilitate auto traffic to and from the school as well, he said.

Already the largest high school district in Illinois outside of Chicago, District 214 is expected to ultimately have 10 high schools. Formed in 1914, the district had just one high school — Arlington — for many years. Prospect High School was opened in 1959. Since then Forest View and Wheeling High School have been built, and Elk Grove High School is now under construction.

This will be the first time the district has found it necessary to ask approval of a new school before the last one was finished and in use. But high school officials and Citizens Committee members say that if the Willow Road school is not begun now, the district soon would find it necessary to ask approval of two high schools at the same time. The student increase is just that great, they say.

Absentee Ballots Available

If you expect to be out of town on Saturday, Feb. 5, the date set by High School District 214 for its sixth high school bond referendum, you can get your absentee ballots now.

Applications for absentee ballots are available at the District 214 administration building at 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect, near Prospect High School.

THE DISTRICT will accept mailed requests for ballot applications until Monday, Jan. 31, and applications may be requested in person at the district administration building through Wednesday, Feb. 2.

Returned ballots must be mailed or delivered to the high school district office no later than Friday, Feb. 2.

Candidates Are Sought By Caucus

Prospect Heights School District 23 Educational Caucus is still seeking applicants to be considered for endorsement by the organization as board of education members.

Nominating committee chairman Dennis Schachner advises that five names have been presented to the group for consideration.

Interviews are being scheduled for the applicants who either have applied personally or have had their names submitted by friends.

Deadline for caucus consideration has been set as the first week in February. Any party desiring caucus sponsorship should contact chairman Schachner at CL 5-3030.

The terms of three current members of the board of education — Mrs. Martha Koelsch, J. Donald Elston and Roy M. Weinberg — expire in April.

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN HALE

How about a Spanish version of the sandwich we call a Hero? Slice a loaf of Italian bread lengthwise, brush each cut side generously with Spanish olive oil, spread grated or sliced cheese, thinly-sliced onions and well-drained pimentos over the bread. Press tightly together, cut loaf in 2-inch pieces.

A tart sauce for cabbage or other greens is easily made by blending ¾ cup of mayonnaise and ⅓ cup lemon juice and heating in top of a double boiler.

For variety, and for delicious taste change, mix your favorite jelly with some honey and use as a spread for toast.

Using a mixture of half milk and half coffee as the liquid will impart a new flavor to your butterscotch pudding.

Helen's Favorite:

Hamburgers Deluxe
(Serves 8)

- 2 cans French-Fried Onion rings
- 1 cup soft butter
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt
- 8 crusty rolls or hamburger buns
- 8 thick hamburger patties

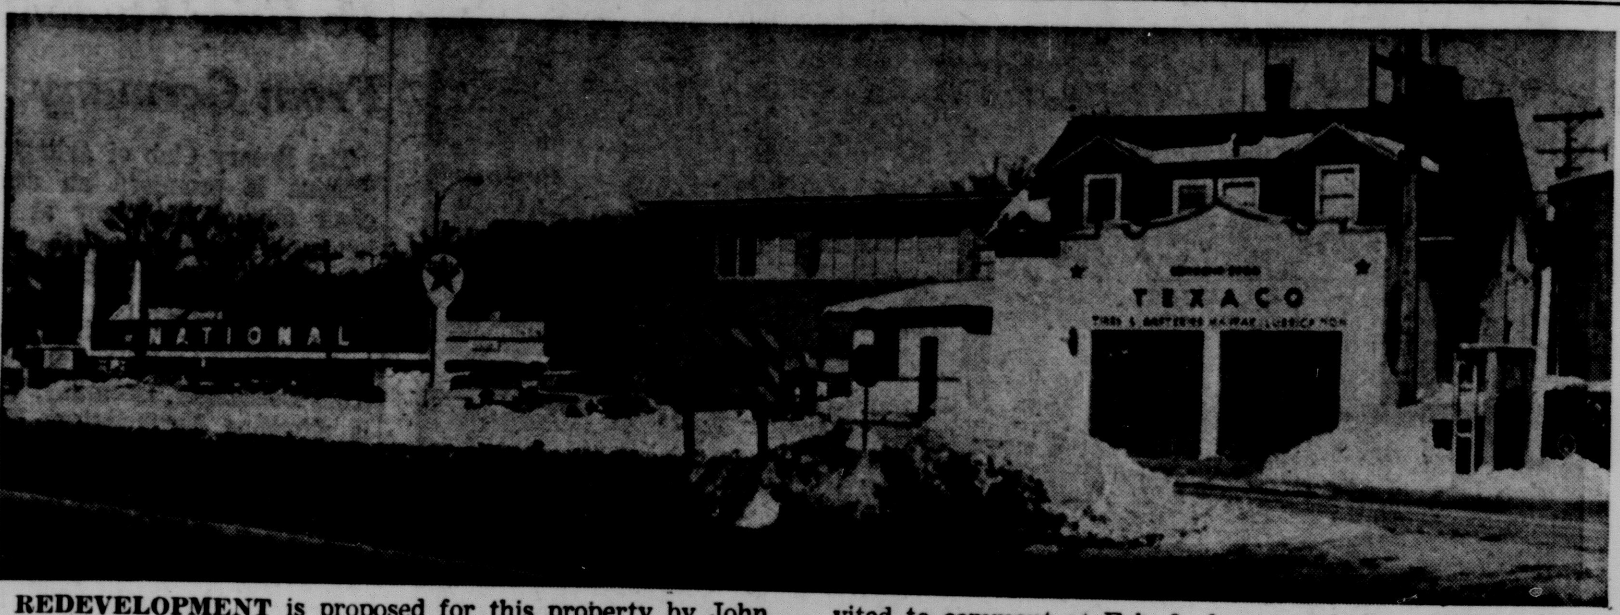
Heat onion rings as directed on cans. Combine butter, salt and spread on split and heated rolls. Fill with onion rings and hamburgers which have been cooked as desired in broiler or grill. Serve with chili sauce and mustard, as desired.



REDEVELOPMENT is proposed for this property by John Schafehen, owner of Hobby Lobby in Arlington Heights. Property is northeast of the Highland-Northwest Highway intersection. Neighboring property owners have been invited to comment at Feb. 9 plan commission meeting, since request involves vacation of short frontage road and triangularrumble strip in foreground as described in separate story. 6th High School Needed, Citizen Group Declares

Citizens Committee members say there will be overcrowding — or even double shifts — at other District 214 high schools by 1968 if the bond referendum for the area's sixth high school is not approved by voters on Saturday, Feb. 5.

The referendum asks voters approval of a $6.5 million school building on Willow Road, just east of Rand Road, and purchase of another school site, for $300,000.

The new school — still unnamed — would open in September, 1968, with construction to be started as soon as possible. The $300,000 site recommended for purchase is located in the fastgrowing River Trails area, a quarter mile east of Wheeling Road and a quarter mile north of Camp McDonald Road.

THE SIXTH HIGH school is a "must," says Thomas Montgomery, Hasbrook Civic Association representative who served on as chairman of the Citizens Committee's area growth committee. That subcommittee's task was to answer the questions, "Is another high school needed?" and "If so, where?"

The site recommended — and approved by the Citizens Committee and the District 214 Board of Education — lies where the the next few years' largest student increase is expected, in new subdivisions in the north central part of the district.

When Elk Grove High School opens next year, District 214's school capacity (now 10,000) will rise to 12,500. But by 1968, student population — based on what the Citizens Committee is stressing are "conservative estimates" — will be 14,025. Most of this growth will be in the Arlington, Prospect, and Wheeling attendance areas, and these high schools are operating at or near capacity now.

Montgomery said the area growth committee looked at three other possible sites, and recommended the Willow Road property both because of its location — where it can ease the pressure on Arlington, Wheeling and Prospect schools— and because of the character of the area itself.

"BECAUSE THIS section will be mostly residential there will be very little need for bussing," Montgomery explained. "We estimate as many as 75 per cent of the students will be able to walk to school." And the location, near but not on main roads, will facilitate auto traffic to and from the school as well, he said.

Already the largest high school district in Illinois outside of Chicago, District 214 is expected to ultimately have 10 high schools. Formed in 1914, the district had just one high school — Arlington — for many years. Prospect High School was opened in 1959. Since then Forest View and Wheeling High School have been built, and Elk Grove High School is now under construction.

This will be the first time the district has found it necessary to ask approval of a new school before the last one was finished and in use. But high school officials and Citizens Committee members say that if the Willow Road school is not begun now, the district soon would find it necessary to ask approval of two high schools at the same time. The student increase is just that great, they say.

Absentee Ballots Available

If you expect to be out of town on Saturday, Feb. 5, the date set by High School District 214 for its sixth high school bond referendum, you can get your absentee ballots now.

Applications for absentee ballots are available at the District 214 administration building at 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect, near Prospect High School.

THE DISTRICT will accept mailed requests for ballot applications until Monday, Jan. 31, and applications may be requested in person at the district administration building through Wednesday, Feb. 2.

Returned ballots must be mailed or delivered to the high school district office no later than Friday, Feb. 2.

Candidates Are Sought By Caucus

Prospect Heights School District 23 Educational Caucus is still seeking applicants to be considered for endorsement by the organization as board of education members.

Nominating committee chairman Dennis Schachner advises that five names have been presented to the group for consideration.

Interviews are being scheduled for the applicants who either have applied personally or have had their names submitted by friends.

Deadline for caucus consideration has been set as the first week in February. Any party desiring caucus sponsorship should contact chairman Schachner at CL 5-3030.

The terms of three current members of the board of education — Mrs. Martha Koelsch, J. Donald Elston and Roy M. Weinberg — expire in April.

BY HELEN HALE

How about a Spanish version of the sandwich we call a Hero? Slice a loaf of Italian bread lengthwise, brush each cut side generously with Spanish olive oil, spread grated or sliced cheese, thinly-sliced onions and well-drained pimentos over the bread. Press tightly together, cut loaf in 2-inch pieces.

A tart sauce for cabbage or other greens is easily made by blending ¾ cup of mayonnaise and ⅓ cup lemon juice and heating in top of a double boiler.

For variety, and for delicious taste change, mix your favorite jelly with some honey and use as a spread for toast.

Using a mixture of half milk and half coffee as the liquid will impart a new flavor to your butterscotch pudding.

Helen's Favorite:

Hamburgers Deluxe
(Serves 8)

- 2 cans French-Fried Onion rings
- 1 cup soft butter
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt
- 8 crusty rolls or hamburger buns
- 8 thick hamburger patties

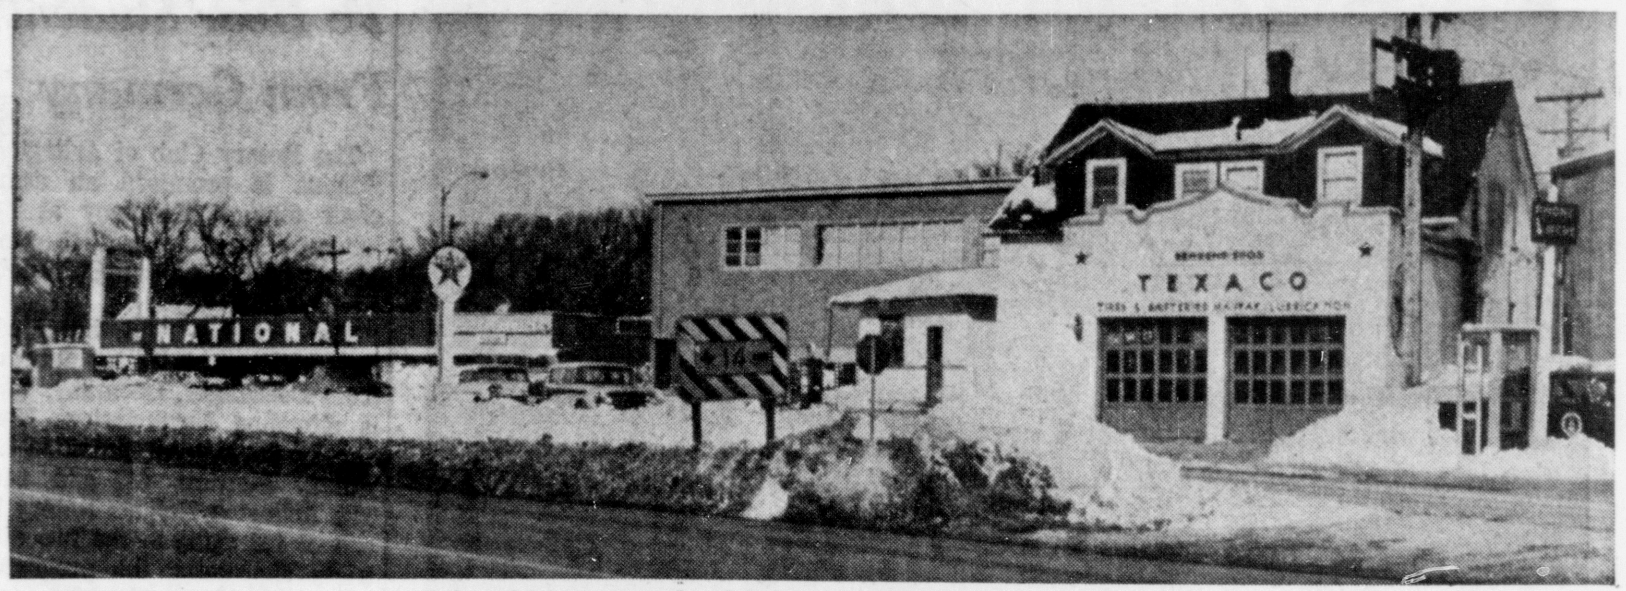
Heat onion rings as directed on cans. Combine butter, salt and spread on split and heated rolls. Fill with onion rings and hamburgers which have been cooked as desired in broiler or grill. Serve with chili sauce and mustard, as desired.



REDEVELOPMENT is proposed for this property by John Schafehen, owner of Hobby Lobby in Arlington Heights. Property is northeast of the Highland-Northwest Highway intersection. Neighboring property owners have been invited to comment at Feb. 9 plan commission meeting, since request involves vacation of short frontage road and triangularrumble strip in foreground as described in separate story. MRS. BEVERLY BECKMANN, wife of the Rev. Mr. William Beckmann, 611 S. Mitchell Ave., Arlington Heights, and son, Mark, roll out the welcome wagon for "Blackie," a tame crow. "He has been hanging around since the snowfall over a week ago," said Mrs. Beckmann. "He usually comes around 10 a.m. In the afternoon he hangs around Park School when the kids are out and sits on the fence and talks (caw, cackle, caw) to them." Mrs. Beckmann and her neighbors leave food out for Blackie but, she notes, "he sits up in the tree and waits till someone comes out to give it to him so he can eat from their hand. I think he wants personal service." The crow is not banded but Mrs. Beckmann suspects that he has been tamed by someone. (A

Rotary Club To Hear Student From Germany

The speaker will be Karl-Bruno Fritzen, a Rotary Scholar from Dusseldorf, Germany, who is attending Northwestern University on a grant provided by Rotary Districts 642 and 644. The Arlington Heights Rotary is one of 108 clubs in the two districts supporting the program.

Fritzen, preparing for the Roman Catholic priesthood, plans to return to Germany in June to resume his theological studies. (A

Parks Buy Chlorinator, Typewriter

Purchases approved by the Arlington Heights Park Board at last week's meeting included an electric typewriter and a chlorinator for the Pioneer Park wading pool.

Park commissioners approved the purchase of a $420 IBM electric typewriter, the highest price of six submitted. Park Supt. Thomas Thornton recommended the purchase, saying the park had had unsatisfactory service from a different manufacturer's models.

ALSO APPROVED were purchase of a $275 wading pool chlorinator, from Halogen Supply Co.; draperies for Recreation Park fieldhouse south room, $256.20 from the Williamsburg Drapery Co., and floor tile for Pioneer Park bathhouse, $280.44 from Century Tile and Supply Co.

Thornton said that he had solicited quotes for the draperies from other firms, but that Williamsburg was the only one responding. "Of course," he said, "the letter did say 'Williamsburg drapery material or equivalent'." He said that the park district's previous purchases from the Williamsburg firm had all proved satisfactory.

Mothers March To Climax Drive

The annual Mother's March will be held next Tuesday night, according to Richard Cowen, chairman of the Arlington Heights March of Dimes.

The Mothers March is the culmination of the fund raising effort in Arlington Heights and will be held regardless of weather. Chairman of the Mother's March is Mrs. Norman Bittner, 205 S. Dunton Ave.

Mrs. Bittner has announced the names of four area chairmen who have agreed to help coordinate efforts and recruit volunteers.

THEY ARE MRS. Darlene Wajerski, 2016 N. Chestnut Ave.. Mrs. Pat Thompson, 636 S. Evergreen Ave., Mrs. William Lathen, 406 E. Sunset Drive, and Mrs. Ralph Taege, 1327 N. Highland Ave.

Mrs. Bittner added, "I have been very encouraged by the number of women who have volunteered to give one hour of their time on Tuesday evening but we still need more marchers. In just one hour, each marcher could raise enough money to provide one day's hospital care for some child suffering from birth defects." Anyone willing to volunteer an hour of their time should call Mrs. Bittner at 255-1009.

The March of Dimes, best known for its fight against polio, is now actively engaged in research, providing training and guidance, and treating children suffering from any number of birth defects.

"The March of Dimes campaign ends Jan. 31. Contributions may also be mailed to the March of Dimes, c/o Arlington Heights National Bank, Arlington Heights, Ill.," stated Cowen. All contributions are tax deductible. (A

Ideas for Library Sought in Indiana

Librarians in Gary, Elkhart and South Bend, got a quizzing from Mrs. Mary Lee Ewalt, Arlington Heights head librarian, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ewalt made the tour of Indiana libraries with Robert S. Nicol and Robert D. Chaney, whose firm of Nicol and Nicol will design the new $1.4 million Arlington Heights public library whose construction was approved by voters last month.

She and the architects are looking for good ideas to incorporate in plans for construction and operation of the library.

Mrs. Ewalt took with her a three-page list of questions she wanted answered on all sorts of library-related problems. They ranged from staffing to the location of study carrels to policies on smoking. She took a camera with her so she could have a picture record as well as a written one.

A SIMILAR visit has already been made by the Arlington Heights head librarian to the Elgin public library. Another library on her list for visiting is the one in Waukegan.

The libraries being visited were all suggested by Don Beane, the library consultant assisting in planning of the new facility here.

The libraries were chosen, Mrs. Ewalt said, because their facilities and problems are comparable to those faced by Arlington Heights. "It wouldn't be much help to visit libraries that are much larger or have a different type of clientele," she explained. (A

Recruit Marchers For Memorial Day

"Sign up now!" is the word from the Arlington Heights VFW Post 981 to community organizations wishing to march in the 1966 Memorial Day parade.

Places in the Memorial parade will be assigned on a "first come, first served" basis, VFW spokesman Edward R. Doyle said today in issuing a first call to interested groups.

"IF WE ARE to have a big parade," said Doyle, "we need to do a lot of planning. It takes two or three months to get a parade lineup planned."

He said community-wide support was necessary if Arlington Heights was to retain—or top—its record of having the second largest Memorial Day parade in the suburban Chicago area.

Names of organizations, and the person heading their parade committee, should be sent to VFW Post 981, 811 N. Yale Ave., Arlington Heights. (A

The libraries were chosen, Mrs. Ewalt said, because their facilities and problems are comparable to those faced by Arlington Heights. "It wouldn't be much help to visit libraries that are much larger or have a different type of clientele," she explained. (A

Recruit Marchers For Memorial Day

"Sign up now!" is the word from the Arlington Heights VFW Post 981 to community organizations wishing to march in the 1966 Memorial Day parade.

Places in the Memorial parade will be assigned on a "first come, first served" basis, VFW spokesman Edward R. Doyle said today in issuing a first call to interested groups.

"IF WE ARE to have a big parade," said Doyle, "we need to do a lot of planning. It takes two or three months to get a parade lineup planned."

He said community-wide support was necessary if Arlington Heights was to retain—or top—its record of having the second largest Memorial Day parade in the suburban Chicago area.

Names of organizations, and the person heading their parade committee, should be sent to VFW Post 981, 811 N. Yale Ave., Arlington Heights. (A

'Instant' Cocktail Party Surprises Suburb Housewife

The look on the Des Plaines housewife's face reflected joy, confusion and a touch of anguish.

Standing before her on the front porch of her home last Friday was French film star Jean Pierre Aumont. Aumont had just informed the housewife, Mrs. Harry Kinser, of 973 Margret St., Des Plaines, that the more than 40 persons standing behind him were about to invade her home for a cocktail party.

Mrs. Kinser put her hands to her face in dismay as cameras flashed and a three piece combo blurted out a lively tune.

The crowd, including executives of the Schenley Distillers Co., marched into the house with a corps of newsmen. Within minutes the Kinser home was the scene of "The Oldest, Established, Non-Permanent Floating Cocktail Party in the United States."

THE PARTY WAS one of several set up across the country last week to help introduce Schenley's new bottled cocktails. In addition to the combo, the Schenley Co. supplied cocktail waitresses, maids, a bartender and a home economist who brought along a supply of "instant hors d'oeuvres." As in the five other cities where the parties had been thrown, the husband of the unsuspecting hostess had been contacted in advance.

"Mary was expecting a party," Kinser explained, "but she thought it would be only a few close friends over for early cocktails. I remembered that it was 21 years ago to the day that we had our first date, and we both agreed that an important event like that should be marked with appropriate ceremony."

Eighteen members of the party, including the combo, had flown from New York to Miami, New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco where similar parties had taken place. Des Plaines was the last stop for the group before returning to New York.

CARMEL TINTLE, vice president of Schenley Distillers Co., explained the purpose of the tour saying, "What better way to introduce a new cocktail than by having a cocktail party?" He pointed out that every part of the festivities was instant, including "instant hors d'oeuvres," "instant service," not to mention the "instant drinks."

There was no word on whether "instant hangover cures" were provided for those who celebrated in excess.

Q. Is it really bad manners for a woman to file her nails in the presence of a guest? A friend and I are having an argument about this.

A. To file a broken nail that is catching on things is all right — but to give yourself a manicure in the presence of guests or friends is in extremely bad taste.

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Sue Smith, 439-4851 Betty Ainslie, CL 3-9021
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298

The traditional mid-January lull in events has set in, as Arlington Heighters devote their time to planning for that midwinter vacation in Florida or next summer's camping trip. Although activities have dropped off sharply, there is still news of a social nature as residents entertain guests and visit with friends.

We would like our readers to note that Elsie Jedd, who has written half of this column for some time, has decided that a bit of relaxation is in order, and will no longer be contributing to the column. Her sections of Arlington Heights are now being covered by Betty Ainslie.

Miss Janet Tierney, of Wooster, Ohio, is arriving Saturday to visit for four days at the home of her parents, the Edwin R. Tierneys, 315 W. Park. Miss Tierney, a senior at the College of Wooster, will be vacationing between semesters.

The Kenneth Hoods, 604 W. Campbell, returned Monday afternoon from a weekend visit with their daughter, Jo Ann, who is busy teaching in St. Louis.

MR. AND MRS. Clarence I. Davis, 515 S. Vail, recently completed a 10-day trip south and east. In Knoxville, they spent several days at the home of their daughter, son-in-law and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Van Fleet. In Pennsylvania, they stayed at the Pittsburgh home of their daughter, Mrs. Bernard LaMont and family.

Guests in the Mirrell R. Kephart home, 801 S. Evergreen for the past two weeks have been Kephart's parents, the senior Mirrell Kepharts of St. Louis, who plan to return home late this week.

Mrs. Arthur Volz of Calvin Circle, Westminster Place, Evanston, formerly a resident of Arlington Heights, spent Sunday here attending the installation and reception for the Rev. Leon Haring of the First Presbyterian Church.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kelleher, 4 W. Miner, were their mothers, Mrs. P. A. Kelleher, from Miami Shores, Fla., and Mrs. Elmer Tapley, who currently makes her home in Auburndale, Mass., where she is the head resident of a dormitory at a local junior college. Both ladies visited here for two weeks.

MISS MARILYN Smith, 909 S. Dunton, is leaving Jan. 28 for 10 days in Boulder, Colo., where she will visit Sue Carlisle of Arlington Heights, a junior at the University of Colorado. During the semester break, the girls are joining a ski group, sponsored by a local church, to spend five days at Mountain Lodge in the Rockies.

Sharon L. Smith has just received her bachelor of science degree in nursing at the University of Washington in Seattle. She is at present in the pediatrics ward in a Seattle hospital. Both girls are the daughters of the James A. Smiths, 909 S. Dunton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rauch, 110 S. Dunton, celebrated Mrs. Rauch's birthday Jan. 11 by going out to dinner, following which Mrs. Rauch's parents, the Paul Tossmans and her brother and family, the Ronald Tossmans, arrived at the Rauch home for dessert of coffee and birthday cake.

ON JAN. 16, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tossman, 111 S. Pine, celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary by inviting family members to their home for evening dessert. Present to contribute to the festivity of the occasion were the daughter and family, the Jerome Rauches, their son and family, the Ronald Tossmans and the senior Mr. Tossman's sister, Mrs. Betty Meeham and her daughter, Shiela.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Niemeyer and son, Philip, formerly of 910 N. Beverly Lane, moved last week to 1102 Kirchoff, where they plan to live until the completion of their new home at 828 S. Mitchell.

TWELVE TO 15 women in the Scarsdale area meet twice a month for a session of talk and knitting. Mrs. Clyde A. Ferry, 637 Bristol, entertained the group for an afternoon in January. "I'm new to the group," declared Mrs. Ferry. "But it's a good opportunity to get knitting finished and we come if we can."

Jan Ferry, a junior at Lawrence University in Appleton, Wis., has finished her job as rushing chairman for her sorority, Delta Gamma, and declares with a sigh of relief that she can now get at the studying.

Mrs. Adolph Lindstrom, 214 Pine, spent a week snowed in at her son's home in Long Grove. While there her granddaughter, Karin, celebrated her ninth birthday.

MAJ. GEORGE DICKS from Fort Wayne, Ind., was in town inspecting reserve units in this area and found time to spend the weekend with the Norman R. Kellogg family at 534 Dryden.

Peggy Scheck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Scheck of 512 Banbury, has many plans for her in-between-semester vacation from the University of Illinois. She will be home to recover from exams on Friday.

A fun Saturday night bridge party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kussow, 815 Burton. The Wally Drews of Winnetka, Dick Schowengerdts and the Warner Vaules of Arlington Heights were the guests.

A LUNCHEON and bridge party was given recently by Mrs. Elsie Jedd, 108 S. Brighton Place, for her friend, Mrs. Warren Kline, a former Stonegate resident who is moving to Atlanta, Ga.

David Gardner celebrated his fourth birthday at a party given by his mother, Mrs. Russell Gardner, 406 Lincoln. Beside his sister, Susan, and brother, Jeff, David was host to Susan and Ian Comly, Lynda and Laura Potts, Stacy Bragg and David's cousins from Evanston, Jeff and Greg Gardner.

The Harry Wickstroms of 527 Dryden are just back from a trip to Fish Creek in Door County, where they managed to squeeze in some skiing. Lorie and Paul went with their parents, but the baby remained at home for this short vacation.

COMBINING BUSINESS with pleasure Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Todd of 103 Brighton took a flying trip to Louisville to attend a meeting of Catalysts and Chemical Inc. Included was a banquet at the Stauffer Inn.

Kerry and Patrick Moore, 345 Windsor, along with John Todd, 103 Brighton, sang with the Arlingtots at Medinah Temple on Sunday Jan.

Some doctors in the area got away from ringing phones last weekend, on an all too short fun trip to the Abbey in Fontana. In this all doctor and wives group were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Alfini, Dr. and Mrs. John Brouhard, Dr. and Mrs. Peter Sengson and Dr. and Mrs. E. Jacobs. "No skiing," laughed Mrs. Jacobs. "We spent our time just plain relaxing and swimming."

THE GEORGE W. Rose family, 1300 Mayfair, have just returned from a trip to California. They visited Mr. Rose's sister, Miss Dorothy Rose, and took many side trips. They went to Palm Springs and saw Sea World on Mission Bay near San Diego. They also visited Lake Arrowhead and managed to get into Los Angeles several times. While in California for two weeks, their three daughters and a brother all gathered on the West Coast for a family reunion.

Florida, Fort Lauderdale to be exact, was the location of a recent trip the Walter Kellins of 105 Stratford took. Their five children enjoyed the swimming and they all stopped to see Mrs. Kellin's sister in Columbus, Ga. on their way home.

"We only had three days to get ready," laughed Mrs. Kellin. "But we just packed up and went."

Another family, the T. N. Hackneys of 306 S. Gibbons have just returned from Florida. They spent their time at Indian Rocks Beach, just south of Clearwater. They rented a cottage and all six family members reportedly had a wonderful time. (A

Eastwood Events

"Happy Birthday" has been sung quite often during these past weeks in Eastwood. On Jan. 5, Ellen Fill celebrated her 13th birthday with her family at 642 Beverly Lane. So many relatives wished to help her celebrate, that her mother, Donna, entertained for the birthday celebrant on three different evenings.

One evening her grandparents, the Anthony Fills of Norwood Park, were there for a birthday dinner. Guests at the two other dinners were aunts, uncles and cousins.

On Jan. 17, Ellen's sister, Diane, returned to Eastwood by train from the University of Ilinols for a two-week mid-year vacation.

Friday found two Eastwooders celebrating their birthdays. Jay Griffin celebrated his eighth birthday at 415 Beverly Lane. His mother, Ronna, and young brother, Gary, feted him with an after school party for 20 guests. The Eastwooders who attended the party that boasted an outer-space theme were David Conn, Kent Hammerstrom, Dan and Ted Ziarkowski, Craig Kennedy, Gary and Billy Gladder and Tory Pederson. The cake that was decorated to resemble the surface of the moon with space men was much admired.

THE OTHER Jan. 14 birthday celebrant was Sam Cullison III, who blew out 18 candles on his cake. The day was extra happy, as Sam's grandmother, Mrs. Jacob Wilkins, had just flown back from her holiday vacation in New York. She plans to remain in Eastwood a while longer before returning to her home in Gary.

Other recent houseguests at the Cullison home, 511 N. Hickory, were Sam's father, Sam Cullison Sr., and his daughter, Mrs. R. B. Gunia, who had driven to Eastwood from Pittsburgh.

This weekend will find John Cullison home for a vacation from his studies at the University of Indiana.

Mary Robin Nowack, 720 N. Hickory, celebrated her 11th birthday with a family dinner. Her parents, Karl and Jean, and Julie, Liz and Steven sang the birthday song as the home baked angel food cake was being served. It is interesting to note that on Jan. 4, Mary Robin gave her mother a pansy that had just bloomed in the garden at the south side of their house. Also, at the end of December, the Nowacks watched a lone robin pull a frozen worm out of the ground.

On Jan. 11, Donna Drake hosted a literature study group meeting for the woman's club at her home, 411 Beverly Lane. Eastwooder Laura Fritz was among the 20 ladies present.

LAST WEEK as Eastwood received a thick blanket of snow, Vi Corcoron was serving lunch to friends in her home at 507 N. Hickory. Guests were Dorothy Cryer and Olive Babcock of Arlington Heights and Ginny Elmgram of Lake Forest.

Saturday evening Joseph and Vi entertained business associates with a buffet supper followed by dessert and coffee.

Art Lindahl, 207 Beverly Lane, became a grandfather again. His daughter, Sandra Sampson brought a second son home in December.

John and Flora Haslam flew home to 406 Beverly Lane after enjoying a week's vacation in New York City. The visit enabled them to see their daughter, Pamela, and her husband, David Allen, who were visiting David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Walsh. David is a medical student at Drake University in Durham, N. C.

TWO DAYS ago several Eastwood ladies spent an enlightening hour as they visited the therapeutic facilities for crippled children at the North Center at 5903 W. Fulton in Chicago. The ladies who belong to the newly formed service league were Jackie Pipher, Ronna Griffin, Dolores Nielson, Marge Hammerstrom, Marietta Derebey, Doris Stueber, Gwen Kelly, Jo Dell Jochims and Joey Dilsaver. After lunch in town, the ladies drove back to Eastwood.

Last week Jo Dell Jochims and Yvonne Koch were co-hostesses at an all neighborhood evening coffee party in the Jochim home, 415 N. Hickory. Guests of honor were Jo Dell's new neighbor, Peggy Ross, and Yvonne's new neighbor, Mava Maertz. Welcoming them were Anita Drake, Marian Henekin, Marietta Derebey, Sue Gleeson, Donna Newquist, Esther Gamenthaler, Vi Corcoron, Eleanor Cullison, Joyce Jones, Doris Stueber and Pat Meyer.

AS THE LADIES enjoyed getting acquainted, the husbands who were not busy babysitting gathered at the Koch home.

A recent chance meeting at a local supermarket brought Yvonne Koch and Betty Kenney of Virginia Terrace together. The ladies had last seen each other when they attended eighth grade in Evanston. Last week found them enjoying a coffee hour at the Koch home, 420 N. Hickory. Needless to add, the old eighth grade year book was on the table and memories were recalled. (A

The traditional mid-January lull in events has set in, as Arlington Heighters devote their time to planning for that mid-winter vacation in Florida or next summer's camping trip. Although activities have dropped off sharply, there is still news of a social nature as residents entertain guests and visit with friends.

We would like our readers to note that Elsie Jedd, who has written half of this column for some time, has decided that a bit of relaxation is in order, and will no longer be contributing to the column. Her sections of Arlington Heights are now being covered by Betty Ainslie.

Planners Map Strategy for Water Control

'Crash Spending' Emphasis Shifted

by Pat Hensel
Staff Writer

A shift from "massive crash spending" to "orderly long-range programs" is the theme of a water management study soon to be published by the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission.

Highlights of the study were presented last Wednesday in a Water Planning Conference sponsored by the Chicago League of Women Voters.

The all-day meeting, held at the Chicago Natural History Museum, drew LWV members, municipal officials and engineers from the six-county metropolitan area. Many had supplied information upon which the study is based.

Dr. Gilbert White, NIPC consultant, called for "wise management of water problems" on a regional, statewide, national and worldwide basis.

A "COORDINATED approach to water problems" must be made with an eye to the "impacts on social, cultural and practical society," he stressed.

One of the most common places to store water, White jested, is in basements.

He called for water management on a state or county level, or on a regional basis through expansion of a metropolitan area sanitary district.

Matthew Rockwell, NIPC director, said these and other alternatives will be fully detailed in the water resources report.

Though no specific recommendations will be made, "you can read between the lines," he added.

ONE OF THE alternatives to storing water in basements would be a hookup with the Chicago Sanitary District. Pipes would send water as far as the Fox River, and flood waters would be piped back to the Lake Michigan "reservoir."

Rockwell cautioned that this would be a "very expensive" solution to the area's water problems, the cost varying with location density and elevation of intervening municipalities and streams.

Other ways to store flood waters for future use in low-flow periods would include ground-level or above-ground-level reservoirs.

The NIPC may lobby for a state water resource management agency to plan long-term "strategy," Rockwell said.

He deplored the 1,200 local units of government in the six-county area:

"ON ONE HAND we have a power overlap (with too many agencies involved in the management of one water and sewer situation) and on the other hand we have a power vacuum (where no one has jurisdistion)."

He called for water management strategy involving four principles:

Shift emphasis from massive crash spending to long-range programs, subject operating programs to outside review, let local agencies know what's going on, and establish a public clearing house for research findings.

White had said, earlier in the afternoon, that industry is the "largest water-user," followed to a much lesser degree by residential, and then commercial.

He cited Salt Creek, which runs through North Cook, DuPage and South Cook Counties, as a prime example of an "acute flood problem."

He said the building up of residential, industrial and commercial buildings along the creek's shores has forced water to spill over the banks rather than return to the ground as ground water supply.

JACK SCHAEFER, geologist, has directed the entire water management study. He is preparing now to lift Salt Creek out of the total picture for a concentrated analysis.

He will be assisted, as he was with the newly prepared management study, by a technical advisory committee representing agencies which would have to administer a long-range program.

The study of Salt Creek is referred to by Schaefer as a "pilot study," in that it will describe a step-by-step analysis of "ideal" water management.

Sub-topics in the study will be surface and sub-surface water supplies, and land-uses.

"Salt Creek has been selected for the study for a variety of reasons," Schaefer explained. "There's been a lot of talk about Salt Creek flood control, but very little talk about other problems, such as low flow and pollution." (A-15

New Realty Section Makes Bow Jan. 27

The exciting, all-new Real Estate Section, offering readers the well-liked picture ads of homes for sale, as well as all of the Real Estate columns of the Classified section, will make its first appearance Thursday, Jan. 27, with all 15 Thursday editions of Paddock Publications.

Realtor offices in the northwest suburbs have been working with Paddock staff the past three months to bring this new home selling vehicle to reality, with many facets of promotional effort added to the former Design for Living section.

"WE THOUGHT IT was time we updated our Realtor advertising program," stated Robert Y. Paddick, director of advertising for the publishing firm, "and added everything we could think of to make it as easy as possible for our readers to have everything about home sales combined in one package.

"Paddock photographers are going all out to come forth with a year-round series of special, eye-catching covers. Special photographer was assigned the task of taking many basic shots in Europe. New format for the entire section was adopted, including almost 30 per cent increase in circulation.

"Real Estate columns of our Classified Section will be found in this new Real Estate section each week, too," stated Paddock, "so that everyone looking for homes to buy, or for rentals, can easily pick out the Real Estate section and quickly select the information desired."

EDITORIAL CONTENT of the section will focus on real estate sales and housing trends, as well as the familiar Business Briefs of many years standing. Special mailings of this section to newly transferred executives, looking for homes, have also been included in promotion plans.

"We're confident the public will find this new, compact section a handy home buyers' guide," concluded Paddock.

Houser to Direct Percy's Campaign

Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman Thomas J. Houser has been named officially to the post of campaign manager for Charles H. Percy's campaign for the U. S. Senate.

Houser had said several weeks ago that he would take the job, provided he could make the necessary arrangements with his full-time employer. Commerce counsel for the Burlington Railroad, Houser has been granted a leave of absence to work for Percy in his fight against Democratic incumbent Paul Douglas, who made his formal campaign announcement last Friday.

Houser also served as manager for Percy's gubernatorial campaign against Otto Kerner in 1964. The committeeman is chairman of the executive committee of the Republican Central Committee of Cook County.

"I am very pleased to have Tom Houser as my campaign manager," Percy said this week. "Houser accepts this responsibility at great personal sacrifice. He typifies a citizen's concern for our political institutions and is himself a political leader of the highest caliber."

PERCY ALSO named his press aide, Scott Cohen of Chicago, who has worked with Percy during the past year as program director and press chief for the New Illinois Committee. Bruce Ladd, former associate editor of Paddock Publications, served in that capacity for Percy's campaign for governor; he now is legislative assistant to Cong. Donald Rumsfeld (R-13th District).

Official opening of the Percy campaign will be announced subsequent to the Republican state conference scheduled in Springfield Jan. 28 and 29, Houser said. The conference, instigated by Percy, is expected to give him its endorsement. (A15

Staff Writer

A shift from "massive crash spending" to "orderly long-range programs" is the theme of a water management study soon to be published by the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission.

Highlights of the study were presented last Wednesday in a Water Planning Conference sponsored by the Chicago League of Women Voters.

The all-day meeting, held at the Chicago Natural History Museum, drew LWV members, municipal officials and engineers from the six-county metropolitan area. Many had supplied information upon which the study is based.

Dr. Gilbert White, NIPC consultant, called for "wise management of water problems" on a regional, statewide, national and worldwide basis.

A "COORDINATED approach to water problems" must be made with an eye to the "impacts on social, cultural and practical society," he stressed.

One of the most common places to store water, White jested, is in basements.

He called for water management on a state or county level, or on a regional basis through expansion of a metropolitan area sanitary district.

Matthew Rockwell, NIPC director, said these and other alternatives will be fully detailed in the water resources report.

Though no specific recommendations will be made, "you can read between the lines," he added.

ONE OF THE alternatives to storing water in basements would be a hookup with the Chicago Sanitary District. Pipes would send water as far as the Fox River, and flood waters would be piped back to the Lake Michigan "reservoir."

Rockwell cautioned that this would be a "very expensive" solution to the area's water problems, the cost varying with location density and elevation of intervening municipalities and streams.

Other ways to store flood waters for future use in low-flow periods would include ground-level or above-ground-level reservoirs.

The NIPC may lobby for a state water resource management agency to plan long-term "strategy," Rockwell said.

He deplored the 1,200 local units of government in the six-county area:

"ON ONE HAND we have a power overlap (with too many agencies involved in the management of one water and sewer situation) and on the other hand we have a power vacuum (where no one has jurisdistion)."

He called for water management strategy involving four principles:

Shift emphasis from massive crash spending to long-range programs, subject operating programs to outside review, let local agencies know what's going on, and establish a public clearing house for research findings.

White had said, earlier in the afternoon, that industry is the "largest water-user," followed to a much lesser degree by residential, and then commercial.

He cited Salt Creek, which runs through North Cook, DuPage and South Cook Counties, as a prime example of an "acute flood problem."

He said the building up of residential, industrial and commercial buildings along the creek's shores has forced water to spill over the banks rather than return to the ground as ground water supply.

JACK SCHAEFER, geologist, has directed the entire water management study. He is preparing now to lift Salt Creek out of the total picture for a concentrated analysis.

He will be assisted, as he was with the newly prepared management study, by a technical advisory committee representing agencies which would have to administer a long-range program.

The study of Salt Creek is referred to by Schaefer as a "pilot study," in that it will describe a step-by-step analysis of "ideal" water management.

Sub-topics in the study will be surface and sub-surface water supplies, and land-uses.

"Salt Creek has been selected for the study for a variety of reasons," Schaefer explained. "There's been a lot of talk about Salt Creek flood contro but very little talk about othe problems, such as low flow an pollution." (A-1

New Realty Section Makes Bow Jan. 27

The exciting, all-new Real Estate Section, offering readers the well-liked picture ads of homes for sale, as well as all of the Real Estate columns of the Classified section, will make its first appearance Thursday, Jan. 27, with all 15 Thursday editions of Paddock Publications.

Realtor offices in the northwest suburbs have been working with Paddock staff the past three months to bring this new home selling vehicle to reality, with many facets of promotional effort added to the former Design for Living section.

"WE THOUGHT IT was time we updated our Realtor advertising program," stated Robert Y. Paddick, director of advertising for the publishing firm, "and added everything we could think of to make it as easy as possible for our readers to have everything about home sales combined in one package.

"Paddock photographers are going all out to come forth with a year-round series of special, eye-catching covers. Special photographer was assigned the task of taking many basic shots in Europe. New format for the entire section was adopted, including almost 30 per cent increase in circulation.

"Real Estate columns of our Classified Section will be found in this new Real Estate section each week, too," stated Paddock, "so that everyone looking for homes to buy, or for rentals, can easily pick out the Real Estate section and quickly select the information desired."

EDITORIAL CONTENT of the section will focus on real estate sales and housing trends, as well as the familiar Business Briefs of many years standing. Special mailings of this section to newly transferred executives, looking for homes, have also been included in promotion plans.

"We're confident the public will find this new, compact section a handy home buyers' guide," concluded Paddock.

Houser to Direct Percy's Campaign

Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman Thomas J. Houser has been named officially to the post of campaign manager for Charles H. Percy's campaign for the U. S. Senate.

Houser had said several weeks ago that he would take the job, provided he could make the necessary arrangements with his full-time employer. Commerce counsel for the Burlington Railroad, Houser has been granted a leave of absence to work for Percy in his fight against Democratic incumbent Paul Douglas, who made his formal campaign announcement last Friday.

Houser also served as manager for Percy's gubernatorial campaign against Otto Kerner in 1964. The committeeman is chairman of the executive committee of the Republican Central Committee of Cook County.

"I am very pleased to have Tom Houser as my campaign manager," Percy said this week. "Houser accepts this responsibility at great personal sacrifice. He typifies a citizen's concern for our political institutions and is himself a political leader of the highest caliber."

PERCY ALSO named his press aide, Scott Cohen of Chicago, who has worked with Percy during the past year as program director and press chief for the New Illinois Committee. Official opening of the Percy campaign will be announced subsequent to the Republican state conference scheduled in Springfield Jan. 28 and 29, Houser said. The conference, instigated by Percy, is expected to give him its endorsement. (A15

Fulle to Talk on Town-County Affairs

Cook County Commissioner Floyd Fulle of Des Plaines will be the speaker next Wednesday at the Northwest Municipal Conference's annual dinner meeting in Old Orchard Country Club.

Village officials will begin congregating at the country club at 7 p.m. for the always-well-attended annual meeting of the municipal conference, with Fulle's talk to follow a cocktail hour and the dinner.

Inter-governmental relationships—in this case, between the villages and Cook county government— will be the topic of Fulle's talk.

INTRODUCING him will be Arlington Heights Village Pres. John G. Woods, who has been serving as Northwest Municipal Conference president for almost a year.

Fulle, a Des Plaines publisher and long-time Republican politician, was appointed Cook County Commissioner in 1964 upon the death of his father. County Commissioner Fred A. Fulle.

A candidate for re-election to the board of commissioners this year, he served as editor of the Des Plaines Suburban Times from 1961 to 1963 and then founded the Suburban Progress. He is also owner of the Rosemont Publications.

Fulle, 44, served in the army during World War II and currently holds a commission as lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserves.

THE TOPIC OF his talk will be "Your Municipality and Cook County."

New officers of the Northwest Municipal Conference, which represents suburban villages and cities from Park Ridge to Barrington, will be elected at the meeting. The troop then selected Linda Anderson, Joy Johnson and Donna Schultz to deliver the toys to the Academy.

On Dec. 21 Troop 181 held a Court of Awards. The Sign of the Star was awarded to Debbie Rude, Linda Towery, Vicki Majka and Becky Dietrich. At this same time some of the girls were awarded the Home, Health and Safety, Foot Traveler, Magic Carpet, Housekeeper, Books and Needlecraft badges.

Fulle to Talk on Town-County Affairs

Cook County Commissioner Floyd Fulle of Des Plaines will be the speaker next Wednesday at the Northwest Municipal Conference's annual dinner meeting in Old Orchard Country Club.

Village officials will begin congregating at the country club at 7 p.m. for the always-well-attended annual meeting of the municipal conference, with Fulle's talk to follow a cocktail hour and the dinner.

Inter-governmental relationships—in this case, between the villages and Cook county government— will be the topic of Fulle's talk.

INTRODUCING him will be Arlington Heights Village Pres. John G. Woods, who has been serving as Northwest Municipal Conference president for almost a year.

Fulle, a Des Plaines publisher and long-time Republican politician, was appointed Cook County Commissioner in 1964 upon the death of his father. County Commissioner Fred A. Fulle.

A candidate for re-election to the board of commissioners this year, he served as editor of the Des Plaines Suburban Times from 1961 to 1963 and then founded the Suburban Progress. He is also owner of the Rosemont Publications.

Fulle, 44, served in the army during World War II and currently holds a commission as lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Reserves.

THE TOPIC OF his talk will be "Your Municipality and Cook County."

New officers of the Northwest Municipal Conference, which represents suburban villages and cities from Park Ridge to Barrington, will be elected at the meeting. Serving on the nominating committee are two former conference presidents, Village Pres. John H. D. Blanke of Barrington and Mayor Herbert H. 2 Topics Picked for Women Voter Meets

Two diverse topics — metropolitan problems and federal anti-poverty programs — will be discussed by members of the local 100-member League of Women Voters at four meetings this week and next.

Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission slides will be used to illustrate a program on metropolitan problems at tonight's general league meeting in Hasbrook Park Fieldhouse, Arlington Heights. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Leaguers will argue standards to be used in evaluating federal anti-poverty programs during three unit meetings Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Out of these discussions, and similar ones held by leaguers through the country, will come national guidelines for League action in this area.

THE UNIT MEETINGS will take place at 1 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Arthur Olsen, 302 E. Hiawatha, Mount Prospect; at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Congregational United Church of Christ, Kirchoff and Kennicott, Arlington Heights, and at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Ronald Larson, 817 Lynnwood, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. George Schroeder of Arlington Heights will be in charge of the program at tonight's meeting, at which leaguers will get a fast look at Cook County metropolitan problems ranging from intergovernmental conflicts to flood control.

Assisting Mrs. Schroeder will be Mrs. Tom Lunak of Des Plaines, local LWV delegate to the Cook County Council of Leagues of Women Voters; and Mrs. Bill Marier and Mrs. Walter Navik, both of Arlington Heights.

Materials used at unit meetings have been compiled by a study committee headed by Mrs. Dwight Walton, Arlington Heights.

The League meetings are open to any area woman interested in the topics. Arrangements to attend may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Korte at 392-1535.

Wheeling Captains Endorse Schlickman

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights) last week was endorsed for re-election to the Illinois House of Representatives by the Wheeling Township Republican Precinct Captains Organization.

Thomas J. Houser, committeeman, stated that he was very pleased by this action: "Gene did an excellent job in Springfield during the last session, and he is a great credit to our township." Schlickman was first elected on the at-large ballot for the House in 1964.

They were accompanied by Virginia Macdonald, committeewoman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee, and her husband, Alan; June Hunter, president of the 13th Congressional District Woman's Club; and Ethel Kolerus, Houser's committeewoman. All are residents of Wheeling Township.

Approximately 750 Republicans from the northern part of the state attended.

The meeting featured a speech by Ray Bliss, chairman of the Republican National Committee, Washington, D. C. Bliss reported that the number of Illinois residents who did not vote in the 1964 general election totaled approximately one-fourth of the state's adult population. He stressed the importance of registration of voters as a principal means for winning elections. (B10

TV ACIDS

by ED LANDWEHR

Three scientists report that television contributes considerably to stress. They found that tension and excitement generated by stimulating programs increased stomach acid greatly. Annoying commercials created even more tension and stomach acid.

But, the worse tension created was the television set itself. Flickering pictures, snow and lines, picture dullness build up stomach acids to record amounts. So, need we say, phone CLearbrook 5-0700 and let LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights put your television viewing back on the road to less-acidity viewing. That's what the scientists do.

2 Topics Picked for Women Voter Meets

Two diverse topics — metropolitan problems and federal anti-poverty programs — will be discussed by members of the local 100-member League of Women Voters at four meetings this week and next.

Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission slides will be used to illustrate a program on metropolitan problems at tonight's general league meeting in Hasbrook Park Fieldhouse, Arlington Heights. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Leaguers will argue standards to be used in evaluating federal anti-poverty programs during three unit meetings Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Out of these discussions, and similar ones held by leaguers through the country, will come national guidelines for League action in this area.

THE UNIT MEETINGS will take place at 1 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Arthur Olsen, 302 E. Hiawatha, Mount Prospect; at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Congregational United Church of Christ, Kirchoff and Kennicott, Arlington Heights, and at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Ronald Larson, 817 Lynnwood, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. George Schroeder of Arlington Heights will be in charge of the program at tonight's meeting, at which leaguers will get a fast look at Cook County metropolitan problems ranging from intergovernmental conflicts to flood control.

Assisting Mrs. Schroeder will be Mrs. Tom Lunak of Des Plaines, local LWV delegate to the Cook County Council of Leagues of Women Voters; and Mrs. Bill Marier and Mrs. Walter Navik, both of Arlington Heights.

Materials used at unit meetings have been compiled by a study committee headed by Mrs. Dwight Walton, Arlington Heights.

The League meetings are open to any area woman interested in the topics. Arrangements to attend may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Korte at 392-1535.

Wheeling Captains Endorse Schlickman

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R-Arlington Heights) last week was endorsed for re-election to the Illinois House of Representatives by the Wheeling Township Republican Precinct Captains Organization.

Thomas J. Houser, committeeman, stated that he was very pleased by this action: "Gene did an excellent job in Springfield during the last session, and he is a great credit to our township." Schlickman was first elected on the at-large ballot for the House in 1964.

On the same day of the endorsement of Schlickman, he and Houser attended the State Republican candidates and workers school in Rockford. They were accompanied by Virginia Macdonald, committeewoman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee, and her husband, Alan; June Hunter, president of the 13th Congressional District Woman's Club; and Ethel Kolerus, Houser's committeewoman. All are residents of Wheeling Township.

Approximately 750 Republicans from the northern part of the state attended.

The meeting featured a speech by Ray Bliss, chairman of the Republican National Committee, Washington, D. C. Bliss reported that the number of Illinois residents who did not vote in the 1964 general election totaled approximately one-fourth of the state's adult population. He stressed the importance of registration of voters as a principal means for winning elections. (B10

TV ACIDS

by ED LANDWEHR

Three scientists report that television contributes considerably to stress. They found that tension and excitement generated by stimulating programs increased stomach acid greatly. Annoying commercials created even more tension and stomach acid.

But, the worse tension created was the television set itself. Flickering pictures, snow and lines, picture dullness build up stomach acids to record amounts. So, need we say, phone CLearbrook 5-0700 and let LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights put your television viewing back on the road to less-acidity viewing. That's what the scientists do.

PALATINE

The 11 members of the Elutakata group of Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls can look back on 1965 with pleasure and a feeling of accomplishment in their work toward the Group Torchbearer Rank.

In September the group discussed program possibilities for the coming year at St. Paul United Church of Christ, which is their regular meeting place.

During October they presented their 4th public performance of the puppet show "The Three Bears Visit Goldilocks," at the first monthly all-district meeting of Palatine Camp Fire Girls. The girls not only made the puppets, but also created the stage setting.

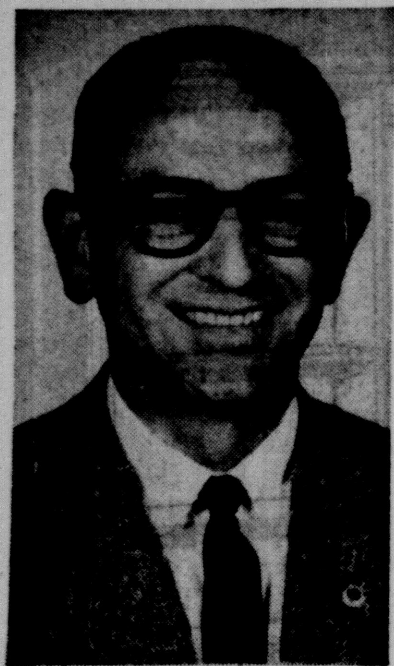
On Oct. 30 they held a Halloween party at the Otto home. Each girl invited one personal guest. The costumes which the girls and their guests wore had to go together and had to be made by the girls. A prize was awarded for the best costumes, and although the decision was difficult because of the many imaginative creations, it was awarded to Raggedy Ann and Andy. A scavenger hunt was followed by games and refreshments.

NOVEMBER was devoted to making Lummi Sticks. These are wooden dowels painted with Indian symbols and used to play an Indian game. Mr. Milton Koehler spent part of one meeting explaining the rules and procedures of bowling. Bowling is the game which the girls decided to concentrate on and improve their skill at during the year. Most of the girls participated in the District Service Project on November 11th at which gifts were made for children at the Dixon State School.

In December the group went bowling. Shortly before Christmas a special meeting was held to stuff 1,000 envelopes for the Palatine Community Combined Appeal. They were also well represented at the District Christmas Party.

The officers in the group are: Martha Clark, president; Terrill Doggett, vice president; Cheryl Karen Manz, Julianne Otto, treasurer. The rest of the members are Cathy Cottingham, Kaaren Manz, Julianne Otto, Debra Rosendahl, Kathy Healey, Lenore Velovich, Pat Hochmuth, and their leader is Mrs. Wayne Hochmuth. (B10

Atcher Mentioned For State Senate



ROBERT O. ATCHER

Friends of Robert O. Atcher, Schaumburg village president, tossed his name into the hopper this week as a potential candidate against Sen. John Graham (R-Barrington).

Graham, recuperating from a light stroke, could not be reached for comment.

Atcher admitted he had been contacted by Schaumburg Township residents about the possibility of making the race and .said, "I want to know whether there is popular support for this before I invest my time and money."

It was hinted that County Commissioner Floyd T. Fulle of Maine Township was active among the "Atcher for Senator" backers, but Fulle denied this.

COMMITTEEMAN Carl Hansen of Elk Grove Township said he has had no requests for support and his organization has not made a commitment.

Committeeman Tom Houser of Wheeling Township is on vacation and unavailable for comment.

Support of Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships is seen as essential in anyone's bid for the senatorial seat. The district is composed of Barrington, Hanover, Schaumburg, Palatine, Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships, and half of Northfield and a small portion of Maine Townships. (B-10

Rumsfeld Opposes Subsidized Press

Cong. Donald Rumsfeld (R-13th), a member of the House Subcommittee on Government Information, has described as "extremely dangerous" a proposal under consideration by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) to grant $150,000 to a Washington, D.C., community action group to launch a weekly newspaper.

"Throughout the history of the United States, the government has clearly recognized the importance of keeping hands off the nation's press," Rumsfeld said.

"The proposal made by the University Neighborhood Council is an extremely dangerous one."

RUMSFELD WAS referring to the Council's request that OEO provide a "demonstration grant" to start an eight-page, five-cent tabloid newspaper to serve residents of Washington's Cardozo area.

"In my opinion, approval of such a request would put the government directly into the propaganda business in competition with private enterprise," Rumsfeld said.

"This would amount to a violation of the Constitutional guarantee of a free press and would also set a precedent for the government to subsidize the news media. The next step could be for the government to tell the newspaper what it can and cannot say in print."

AS A MEMBER of the Government Information Subcommittee, Rumsfeld has been a champion of freedom of information and of the public's right to have access to government information.

"Once a government controls the press, it controls the information process upon which the public depends for facts and counterbalancing views," Rumsfeld said.

He expressed the hope that OEO would quickly reject the Council's request. (B-10

Six Area Residents Named Heart Chiefs

Six area residents have been named 1966 Heart Fund chairmen in their respective communities.

Newly appointed chairmen are Mrs. Charles T. Hodgin of Itasca, Mrs. Michael E. Petitte of Hoffman Estates, James O. Lawshe of Addison, Rodger W. Peterson of Bartlett, Richard J. Ciesla of Wood Dale, and Richard H. Tews of Roselle.

Their appointments were announced by Dr. Samuel Lewis, county coroner and chairman of the Heart Fund in DuPage.

THE GOAL of the February fund raising campaign is $1.35 million. This money will be used to support the Chicago Heart Association's programs of research, education and community service in the three counties it serves — DuPage, Cook and Lake.

The Association, an affiliate of the American Heart Association, is a voluntary health agency that for 43 years has been in the forefront of the fight against heart and blood vessel diseases, the nation's leading killers. Last year these diseases killed almost 1,000,000 Americans, accounting for more than 54 per cent of all reported deaths.

In DuPage County last year the diseases were responsible for 1,262 of the county's 2,314 deaths. The diseases also accounted for 31,000 of the 55,000 deaths in Cook County. (A15

Indoor Swim Pools At YMCA Cleaned

Northwest Suburban YMCA has completed a thorough cleaning of its two indoor swimming pools this week, adding a plus factor to its "AA" rating already awarded by the county health department.

Some 5,000 swimmers use the pools every week, and a periodic scrubbing adds to their over-all protection, in addition to an efficient filter system.

Swimmers are not permitted to use the pool immediately after refilling, because the drinking water that flows from the tap to fill it does not pass the rigid requirement of the water that is filtered for swimming. Several complete filtering cycles are necessary before swimmers can plunge in again.

BOTH POOLS are now in operation for YMCA members and other community residents.

Another recent improvement at the 'Y' was the installation of five new light poles in the parking lot, with ten 40-watt lamps providing added illumination for the safety of participants during evening hours.

Charles McClellan, executive secretary of the YMCA, has expressed appreciation to Bulko Corp. for donating the poles and lamps. (B10

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Things Different After Army Service

MY OLD FRIENDS ACT TOO YOUNG FOR ME, THINGS SEEM DIFFERENT.

THE WEEK'S LETTER: I recently returned home from Army service and find that things have changed. I joined the Army because of problems at home. My girlfriend knew about it, but resented the fact I joined just the same. We wrote often while I was in basic training and when I came home on holidays I saw her as often as possible, which, of course, wasn't too often as I had to visit with my family, too. Anyhow, now that I am home for good, things seem different. My former friends act too young for me. Even this girl acts different. I saw her at school and she would hardly talk to me. Next time I saw her, she was in a car with two other girls and some boys. I was extremely jealous and, after an argument, drove away. I haven't seen the girl since. One of my friends tried to talk to her for me, but she won't listen. I really care for this girl. What should I do?"

OUR REPLY: Begin by realizing that things do change. Your friends have changed some while you were away, it's true. But, remember, you were the one who was away and consequently are more aware of the change.

Regardless of your reasons for going into the service, you did go away. You did not expect time to stand still for this girl until you returned, any more than you could have expected to come home after many months and pick right up as if you had been away only a day.

Jealousy and arguments accomplish nothing. Maybe your friends think you have changed. Show them you have not.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Some 5,000 swimmers use the pools every week, and a periodic scrubbing adds to their over-all protection, in addition to an efficient filter system.

Swimmers are not permitted to use the pool immediately after refilling, because the drinking water that flows from the tap to fill it does not pass the rigid requirement of the water that is filtered for swimming. Several complete filtering cycles are necessary before swimmers can plunge in again.

BOTH POOLS are now in operation for YMCA members and other community residents.

Another recent improvement at the 'Y' was the installation of five new light poles in the parking lot, with ten 40-watt lamps providing added illumination for the safety of participants during evening hours.

Charles McClellan, executive secretary of the YMCA, has expressed appreciation to Bulko Corp. for donating the poles and lamps. (B10

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

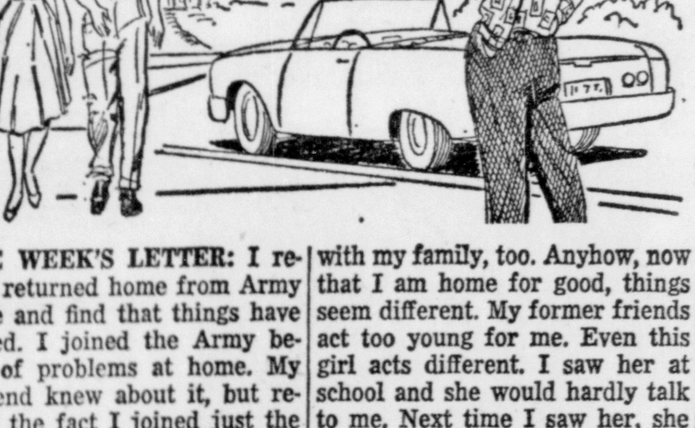
Things Different After Army Service



MY OLD FRIENDS ACT TOO YOUNG FOR ME, THINGS SEEM DIFFERENT.

THE WEEK'S LETTER: I recently returned home from Army service and find that things have changed. I joined the Army because of problems at home. My girlfriend knew about it, but resented the fact I joined just the same. We wrote often while I was in basic training and when I came home on holidays I saw her as often as possible, which, of course, wasn't too often as I had to visit with my family, too. Anyhow, now that I am home for good, things seem different. My former friends act too young for me. Even this girl acts different. I saw her at school and she would hardly talk to me. Next time I saw her, she was in a car with two other girls and some boys. I was extremely jealous and, after an argument, drove away. I haven't seen the girl since. One of my friends tried to talk to her for me, but she won't listen. I really care for this girl. What should I do?"

OUR REPLY: Begin by realizing that things do change. Your friends have changed some while you were away, it's true. But, remember, you were the one who was away and consequently are more aware of the change.

Regardless of your reasons for going into the service, you did go away. You did not expect time to stand still for this girl until you returned, any more than you could have expected to come home after many months and pick right up as if you had been away only a day.

Jealousy and arguments accomplish nothing. Maybe your friends think you have changed. Show them you have not.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Says 7 'Wonders' Needed To End Water Pollution

"Seven Wonders" of modern sanitary engineering must be achieved if man is to solve his water pollution problems, Nicholas J. Melas, trustee of the Sanitary District told the North Shore Chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers last week.

The Sanitary District trustee, taking his cue from the designation of the district by the American Society of Civil Engineers as one of the seven engineering wonders of America, posed "seven major engineering problems of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago that must be solved if adequate sewage disposal and pollution-free water are to be maintained in the near future."

THESE PROBLEMS, according to Trustee Melas, are:

1. How do we control flood waters in the metropolitan area as more and more of the absorbent ground is covered by houses, shopping centers, expressways, parking lots and the like?

2. To what extent can we prevent construction, both residential and commercial, in obvious flood plains?

3. How do we eliminate the drainage "bottleneck" on the Illinois Waterway System at Joliet in order to enable a faster passage of storm run-off without creating hazards for downstream communities?

4. How can we achieve a more complete treatment of sewage so as to produce a usable and possibly potable effluent?

5. HOW CAN we find new and more improved methods for the ultimate disposition of the residue of solid sewage waste?

6. How do we encourage young people to enter public service — particularly engineers —when they must face demands far in excess of those encounterel in private industry, to say nothing of lesser compensation?

7. What protection can we offer to engineers and other professionals to exercise the greatest possible freedom of expression of their opinions and the use of creative imagination without being subjected to pressures, either political, or built-in civil service restraints, or capricious administrative fiat.

"Until we get the answers to these questions, we still have a long way to go to solve the problem of ending the pollution of our water sources so essential to the maintenance of life," Trustee Melas told the engineers.

"In the meantime, it is absolutely imperative that we work in close cooperation with every agency of government and industry now contributing to the contamination of water, especially in the southern basin in Lake Michigan.

"TREMENDOUS strides have been made in this effort through the recent conference called by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare with the states of Illinois, Indiana and the Metropolitan Sanitary District as conferees, but continued communication must be maintained on several levels if we are to effect successful enforcement of the regulations or standards agreed upon.

"While state and city boundaries can be precisely marked off on maps, the water of the lake flows with no regard to them. The pollution problem is, therefore, a problem of every community dependent on Lake Michigan regardless of the origin of contamination.

"I urge that every municipality and state on the lake join in the common effort toward one single goal: the clean-up of Lake Michigan. And, while Lake Michigan is our primary concern, the ultimate object must be the saving of the entire Great Lakes system which contains close to one-third of all the fresh water in the world."

Court Backed on One Man, One Vote

The League of Women Voters has taken a national stand in favor of "one man, one vote" apportionment of state legislatures and will oppose efforts to have that standard changed.

Area Leagues, who themselves split on this issue, were informed this week of the national League consensus favoring the Supreme Court-directed apportionment standard based on population.

MEMBERS OF THE Arlington Heights League of Women Voters, which serves Wheeling and Elk Grove townships, were unable to reach agreement as to whether the "one man, one vote" standard should be upheld. A narrow majority favored the equal representation standard. A second group of Leaguers, almost as large in number, firmly declared themselves in favor of a constitutional amendment to allow one house of a state legislature to be apportioned on some other basis than population.

The Des Plaines LWV also split on this issue while members of the Palatine League went on record as favoring "one man, one vote" apportionment.

The national League consensus favoring the court-ordered "one man, one vote" apportionment means that the LWV will oppose the Dirksen amendment and any other amendments designed to allow states to apportion their legislatures on any other basis.

"Of overriding importance to the League in coming to this decision is the conviction that a population standard is the fairest and most equitable way of assuring that each man's vote is of equal value in a democratic and representational system of government," the national League position statement said.

MRS. FRANK MOORE of Arlington Heights, president of the local 100-member LWV, said that the national consensus favoring upholding the "one man, one vote" apportionment showed no indication of a rural-urban or geographic split on this issue.

"Large Leagues and small Leagues, rural Leagues and city Leagues and Leagues in the North, South, East and West supported the 'one man, one vote' apportionment," she said.

THE EASTER Seal Community Parade Chairman will coordinate volunteer workers, who will be delivering Easter Seals to their neighbors and requesting contributions to help crippled children and adults during Easter Seal Parade week, March 29-April 2.

The 1966 campaign begins March 1 and continues through April 10 (Easter Sunday). Parade week is the highlight of the annual campaign.

Village Delegates Report On Human Relations Work

Reports on the work of numerous human relations groups were submitted when the newly formed Northwest Suburban Council on Human Relations met last week at Pioneer Park Fieldhouse, Arlington Heights.

In attendance were representatives from Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village, Mount Prospect - Prospect Heights, Palatine and Rolling Meadows. They were joined by Al Thrasher of the Illinois Commission on Human Relations, newly appointed coordinator for the area, and Don Frey of the Freedom of Residence Committee.

IN ITS reconstituted form, the NSCHR is comprised principally of appointed representatives of the human relations organizations in northwest suburbia.

Officers of the council are: Mrs. Sally Leighton of Arlington Heights, chairman; Don Moebling of Des Plaines, vice chairman; Mrs. Sally Payzol of Elk Grove Village, secretary, and George Sully of Arlington Heights, treasurer.

The Arlington Heights group reported the initiation of a dialogue between the human relations committee and real estate firms operating in the area. They said their desire is to better understand the point of view of the realtor and to give realtors the chance to question human relations representatives privately. Mrs. Leighton said the conversations would be confidential and no further public report would be made on the project.

THE MOUNT Prospect-Prospect Heights group, recently organized, reported its first educational program will be a play presented by the Community Presbyterian players.

—Palatine commission spokesman Loren Shelffo reported that group's tasks recently have been limited to answering requests for talks before civic, school and church groups on the function of a commission and to sponsoring a school essay contest.

The Wheeling group reported a month-long kickoff series of educational efforts to coincide with February's "Brotherhood Month in Wheeling."

The Elk Grove Village group's immediate concern, it was reported, was with finding suitable housing for migrant workers. The group reported an effort is being made by officials, in the aftermath of a tragic fire, to eliminate dangerous and unsanitary structures, but there was no corresponding effort to replace them. Tackle Box In Hospital Saves Lives

A simple fisherman's tackle box has become a life saver at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

All the medications and fluids necessary to get a patient's heart beating again are stored in this box. A box of this type is kept on each floor.

Kept with the box is a suction machine and a board. In case a patient has a cardiac arrest — a sudden stopping of the heart —everything necessary is instantly available.

SINCE A FEW minutes can mean the difference between life and death, having all of the equipment instantly available can mean that a life is saved.

In case of a cardiac arrest, a doctor or a nurse takes all three items and rushes to the patient. The board is placed underneath the patient to give a firm support for cardiac massage, the suction machine is used when needed and the necessary medications are given.

Plans for this type of cardiac arrest unit were worked out by members of the hospital cardiovascular advisory, pharmacy and executive committees of the medical staff, nursing service and central service. (B10

Grace Church Congregation Meets Sunday

The seventh annual meeting of the congregation of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church will be held on Sunday, Jan. 23, at 3 p.m.

In addition to the presentation of reports from the Church Council, the pastor, the Churchmen, and the Luther League, special reports will be given by Edward MacLennan, chairman of the building committee, concerning progress toward expansion, and Arlyn Hedin, chairman of the organ committee.

TEN RESOLUTIONS will be presented by the council for congregational action, and in addition to the election of nine church councilmen, an auditing and nominating committee will be elected by the congregation.

Following the meeting, the Luther Leaguers will serve coffee and refreshments at a fellowship hour.

In case of impossible weather, the meeting will be postponed one week. (B-10

Tackle Box In Hospital Saves Lives

A simple fisherman's tackle box has become a life saver at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

All the medications and fluids necessary to get a patient's heart beating again are stored in this box. A box of this type is kept on each floor.

Kept with the box is a suction machine and a board. In case a patient has a cardiac arrest — a sudden stopping of the heart —everything necessary is instantly available.

SINCE A FEW minutes can mean the difference between life and death, having all of the equipment instantly available can mean that a life is saved.

In case of a cardiac arrest, a doctor or a nurse takes all three items and rushes to the patient. The board is placed underneath the patient to give a firm support for cardiac massage, the suction machine is used when needed and the necessary medications are given.

Plans for this type of cardiac arrest unit were worked out by members of the hospital cardiovascular advisory, pharmacy and executive committees of the medical staff, nursing service and central service. (B10

A. The person or guest nearest that dish.

Science in the News

Can Eating a Pill Make One Smarter?

What may become a "smart pill" is now being tested on people. Slow-learning laboratory rats given the drug (magnesium pemoline) learned a task four or five times faster than did slow-learners without the drug. And they retained the skill longer, scientists at Abbott Laboratories reported at the recent Berkeley meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS).

Tests of the drug are now beginning on human pre-senility cases at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Albany. N. Y. It was stressed that the drug, though it stimulates production of the basic life chemical RNA does not change the genetic makeup of a person. And it is thought to have practically no bad side effects.

Among possible uses suggested for the drug are to sharpen the minds of senile and retarded patients. However, the drug merely enhances the talent potential of a person — it cannot cure brain damage, for example. (Another physician said he doubted the validity of the conclusions reached in the rat research.)

Astronaut Health Excellent

The 14-day flight which hopefully will carry an American to the moon's surface before 1970 now looks feasible, as far as the health of the astronauts is concerned. The recent 14-day flight of astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell Jr. yielded this medical data:

1. Removing the pressure suits during the flight was vital to staying 14 days in space. With suits on, astronauts fatigue faster from getting too warm and being unable to sleep soundly.

2. Dr. Charles Berry, the astronauts' chief doctor, said the astronauts appeared in shape to travel for a month in space. But a new spacecraft giving them more room to move around would be necessary, he reported at the AAAS meeting in Berkeley.

Social Change And Population Control

The birth control pill will not halt world population growth — only social change will do that. Even before the pill was available, U. S. Negroes limited family size more sharply than whites as soon as their schooling and income increased, said Stephen Plank of Harvard University at the AAAS meeting. "Victory in the war for equal rights might be more effective," he said, "than a thousand contraceptive clinics" in reducing fertility among the Negro and other poor.

In India, peasants now look on a new child as another field hand and more old-age insurance. Largely for these reasons, contraceptive clinics have failed there.

But the pill itself is causing social changes. Martin Loeb, University of Wisconsin, said the pill's most important impact may be in the freedom it brings to the man-woman relationship — in separating sexual enjoyment from reproduction. With the pill, said Loeb, fidelity "might well become a virtue and not a romantic condition. . ."

Already the pill is used by more than 5 million U. S. women (about 10 per cent of those of childbearing age) reported Walter Modell of Cornell University. It could become the most widely used drug. (A15

Hospital Construction Plans Detailed

The 17th annual state plan for construction of hospital and medical care facilities was submitted to the Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, by Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

The plan, which is expected to be approved within 30 days, describes the need of Illinois' communities for modernization and expansion of their hospital and medical care facilities.

Approval of the plan will enable the Public Health Department to obtain $8,374,671 in federal grant funds to help pay for community non-profit and public medical care facilities. (A-15

Bees Produce 9.5 Million Pounds of Honey

Production of honey in Illinois totaled 9,516,000 pounds in 1965, according to a report issued last week by the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

The director estimated the value of pollination to the state's crops at approximately $30,000,000, about 15 times greater than the actual value of all the honey and all the beeswax produced during the year.

Carl E. Killion, superintendent of the Division of Apiary Inspection, listed 1,363 apiaries comprised of 36,025 colonies of bees inspected during the year. Of the total, 530 colonies were found to be infected with a disease known as American foulbrood. All colonies so infected were destroyed by burning. (A15

SQUARE DANCE CLUB NEWS

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

PLAIDS AND CALICOS

More than 400 on-the-ball square dancers have depleted the generous but limited supply of dinner tickets for the Plaids and Calicos' second annual luau, a Jan. 29 event. There will be entertainment and lots of good square dancing after dinner too, and tickets for that portion of the evening will be available at the door.

Said door is attached to James B. Conant High School in Hoffman Estates, and Jan. 29 the school will seem more like a bit of Hawaii than an institute of learning in the frozen Midwest. Last year's luau featured a little grass shack, King Kamehamehi, Queen Liliuokalani and Bob Kim, the club's Hawaiian-born caller, as per the accompanying picture. They'll all be in evidence again this year. After-dinner activities are expected to begin about 8:30, provided poi-stuffed diners are able to move fast enough to facilitate matters. If you didn't heed the hurry-hurry call to get dinner tickets, plan to get in on the rest of the fun a week from Saturday night in Conant School.

CIRCLE 8'S

Area dance enthusiasts are invited to join Wheaton's Circle Eight Square Dance Club for an evening of live music, country style, and dancing to the calls of Fred Tesnow. Fred and his Rhythm Boys will be featured Saturday night from 8:30 until 11:30 in Hawthorne School, Wakeman and Scott Sts., Wheaton. Everyone's welcome.

In addition to Fred's fine calls (he's a veteran of 23 years) there are "break time" treats planned. Further information about the evening's schedule or about the club may be had by calling the Arnold Schnabels, 668-2024, or the Gordon McFarlands, 231-0635, after 4:30 any afternoon.

SLOWPOKES

It's commencement night for beginners' class graduates tonight and all club members are urged to attend. Everyone's welcome to join tomorrow night's square dance fun as Slowpokes zoom into high gear for the new year. Club caller Gene Tidwell will square 'em up in Mount Prospect's Eculid School at 8:30 with a special welcome for all new graduates.

At a recent election Marion and Judy Duncan were chosen as the club's new co-presidents, Lee and Midge Kogut as vice-presidents, Ed and Bea Jost as secretaries and Fred and Kay Klotter as treasurers. Newly appointed club publicity hounds, Les and Ruth Carne, also make their debut with this week's news release. Information about the club is available from the Carnes, phone CL 5-4234.

BRONCO SQUARES

Barrington's Broncs are off 'n' running again in the new year, and invite all area dancers to join 'em for an evening of fun tomorrow night. Art "Old Dad" Matthews will get things swinging at 8 o'clock, immediately after a half-hour of rounds with the Sanders. Grove Avenue Grade School in Barrington is the place to go.

PALATINE SQUARES

Graduates of the club-sponsored beginners class were among the dancers adding to and sharing in the fun of Palatine Squares' first dance of the new year Jan. 8. It's reported that they did themselves, and the club, proud at their first public appearance and everyone's looking forward to more dancers, more fun at Saturday night's dance.

Jim Stewart will square 'em up at 8:30 in Pleasant Hill School, Cedar and Illinois Sts., Palatine. There'll be rounds by Jerry and Dot Daniels and, hopefully, a big 'n' jolly crowd of do-ci-doers. Be there?

Beginning Jan. 31 a 10-week refresher course for once-upon-a-time dancers will be held in Fremd High School. Word from the club is, "All you need do is be there and we'll do the rest." Time to be there is 8 o'clock.

Membership in Palatine Squares is open for the second half of the season; dancers wishing they belonged to somebody are welcome to belong to the Palatiners. Club information-please lady is Lil Langerock, CL 3-7229. (A-15

Science in the News

Can Eating a Pill Make One Smarter?

What may become a "smart pill" is now being tested on people. Slow-learning laboratory rats given the drug (magnesium pemoline) learned a task four or five times faster than did slow-learners without the drug. And they retained the skill longer, scientists at Abbott Laboratories reported at the recent Berkeley meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS).

Tests of the drug are now beginning on human pre-senility cases at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Albany. N. Y. It was stressed that the drug, though it stimulates production of the basic life chemical RNA does not change the genetic makeup of a person. And it is thought to have practically no bad side effects.

Among possible uses suggested for the drug are to sharpen the minds of senile and retarded patients. However, the drug merely enhances the talent potential of a person — it cannot cure brain damage, for example. (Another physician said he doubted the validity of the conclusions reached in the rat research.)

Astronaut Health Excellent

The 14-day flight which hopefully will carry an American to the moon's surface before 1970 now looks feasible, as far as the health of the astronauts is concerned. The recent 14-day flight of astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell Jr. yielded this medical data:

1. Removing the pressure suits during the flight was vital to staying 14 days in space. With suits on, astronauts fatigue faster from getting too warm and being unable to sleep soundly.

2. Dr. Charles Berry, the astronauts' chief doctor, said the astronauts appeared in shape to travel for a month in space. But a new spacecraft giving them more room to move around would be necessary, he reported at the AAAS meeting in Berkeley.

Social Change And Population Control

The birth control pill will not halt world population growth — only social change will do that. Even before the pill was available, U. S. Negroes limited family size more sharply than whites as soon as their schooling and income increased, said Stephen Plank of Harvard University at the AAAS meeting. "Victory in the war for equal rights might be more effective," he said, "than a thousand contraceptive clinics" in reducing fertility among the Negro and other poor.

In India, peasants now look on a new child as another field hand and more old-age insurance. Largely for these reasons, contraceptive clinics have failed there.

But the pill itself is causing social changes. Martin Loeb, University of Wisconsin, said the pill's most important impact may be in the freedom it brings to the man-woman relationship — in separating sexual enjoyment from reproduction. With the pill, said Loeb, fidelity "might well become a virtue and not a romantic condition. . ."

Already the pill is used by more than 5 million U. S. women (about 10 per cent of those of childbearing age) reported Walter Modell of Cornell University. It could become the most widely used drug. (A15

Hospital Construction Plans Detailed

The 17th annual state plan for construction of hospital and medical care facilities was submitted to the Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, by Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

The plan, which is expected to be approved within 30 days, describes the need of Illinois' communities for modernization and expansion of their hospital and medical care facilities.

Approval of the plan will enable the Public Health Department to obtain $8,374,671 in federal grant funds to help pay for community non-profit and public medical care facilities. (A-15

Bees Produce 9.5 Million Pounds of Honey

Production of honey in Illinois totaled 9,516,000 pounds in 1965, according to a report issued last week by the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

The director estimated the value of pollination to the state's crops at approximately $30,000,000, about 15 times greater than the actual value of all the honey and all the beeswax produced during the year.

Carl E. Killion, superintendent of the Division of Apiary Inspection, listed 1,363 apiaries comprised of 36,025 colonies of bees inspected during the year. Of the total, 530 colonies were found to be infected with a disease known as American foulbrood. All colonies so infected were destroyed by burning. (A15

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

PLAIDS AND CALICOS

More than 400 on-the-ball square dancers have depleted the generous but limited supply of dinner tickets for the Plaids and Calicos' second annual luau, a Jan. 29 event. There will be entertainment and lots of good square dancing after dinner too, and tickets for that portion of the evening will be available at the door.

Said door is attached to James B. Conant High School in Hoffman Estates, and Jan. 29 the school will seem more like a bit of Hawaii than an institute of learning in the frozen Midwest. Last year's luau featured a little grass shack, King Kamehamehi, Queen Liliuokalani and Bob Kim, the club's Hawaiian-born caller, as per the accompanying picture. They'll all be in evidence again this year. After-dinner activities are expected to begin about 8:30, provided poi-stuffed diners are able to move fast enough to facilitate matters. If you didn't heed the hurry-hurry call to get dinner tickets, plan to get in on the rest of the fun a week from Saturday night in Conant School.

CIRCLE 8'S

Area dance enthusiasts are invited to join Wheaton's Circle Eight Square Dance Club for an evening of live music, country style, and dancing to the calls of Fred Tesnow. Fred and his Rhythm Boys will be featured Saturday night from 8:30 until 11:30 in Hawthorne School, Wakeman and Scott Sts., Wheaton. Everyone's welcome.

In addition to Fred's fine calls (he's a veteran of 23 years) there are "break time" treats planned. Further information about the evening's schedule or about the club may be had by calling the Arnold Schnabels, 668-2024, or the Gordon McFarlands, 231-0635, after 4:30 any afternoon.

SLOWPOKES

It's commencement night for beginners' class graduates tonight and all club members are urged to attend. Everyone's welcome to join tomorrow night's square dance fun as Slowpokes zoom into high gear for the new year. Club caller Gene Tidwell will square 'em up in Mount Prospect's Eculid School at 8:30 with a special welcome for all new graduates.

At a recent election Marion and Judy Duncan were chosen as the club's new co-presidents, Lee and Midge Kogut as vice-presidents, Ed and Bea Jost as secretaries and Fred and Kay Klotter as treasurers. Newly appointed club publicity hounds, Les and Ruth Carne, also make their debut with this week's news release. Information about the club is available from the Carnes, phone CL 5-4234.

BRONCO SQUARES

Barrington's Broncs are off 'n' running again in the new year, and invite all area dancers to join 'em for an evening of fun tomorrow night. Art "Old Dad" Matthews will get things swinging at 8 o'clock, immediately after a half-hour of rounds with the Sanders. Grove Avenue Grade School in Barrington is the place to go.

PALATINE SQUARES

Graduates of the club-sponsored beginners class were among the dancers adding to and sharing in the fun of Palatine Squares' first dance of the new year Jan. 8. It's reported that they did themselves, and the club, proud at their first public appearance and everyone's looking forward to more dancers, more fun at Saturday night's dance.

Jim Stewart will square 'em up at 8:30 in Pleasant Hill School, Cedar and Illinois Sts., Palatine. There'll be rounds by Jerry and Dot Daniels and, hopefully, a big 'n' jolly crowd of do-ci-doers. Be there?

Beginning Jan. 31 a 10-week refresher course for once-upon-a-time dancers will be held in Fremd High School. Word from the club is, "All you need do is be there and we'll do the rest." Time to be there is 8 o'clock.

Membership in Palatine Squares is open for the second half of the season; dancers wishing they belonged to somebody are welcome to belong to the Palatiners. Club information-please lady is Lil Langerock, CL 3-7229. (A-15

Carl Massa, son of the Dominick Massas, 1710 W. Olive, will graduate from Northern Illinois University in De Kalb on Jan. 21. Next week he will begin teaching math at Lincoln School in Schiller Park; he will also assist with intra-mural athletics.

Among them were Jimmy Durante, Milton Berle, their favorite, Frank Sinatra, Xavier Cugat, Jan Garber and Betty Grable. They were surprised by all the snow when they returned home; beautiful weather was enjoyed during their week away.

Shirle Husted, 1610 W. Olive, arrived home last Wednesday after spending almost two weeks in Northwest Community Hospital following an accident.

THE TERRACE welcomes Lou and Liz Fugate and their children, Barbara, 13, Steve, 11, Brian, 9, David, 7, Linda, 6, and Jeanne, almost 3, who moved to 1207 N. Wilke from Alliance, Ohio, on Dec. 27. Lou is employed by Moloney Products, Inc., Elk Grove. They attend St. James Church.

Billy Sommerfield, son of the William Sommerfields, 1223 N. Race, was 6 Jan. 16. He celebrated with a party on his birthday attended by David Polewko, Peter Jessen, Danny Bartel, Kim Merckx, Bobby Peterson, Dale Walter, Chris Avery, and Billy's sister, Lisa. Also helping Billy celebrate was his grandmother, Mrs. Anne Dahland of Chicago.

Ricky Kirstein, son of the Richard Kirsteins, 1310 Jo Lane, was 12 Jan. 16. Two friends, Stephen Balow and Marty Singer, helped him celebrate Saturday night. They attended the Glenbrook North basketball game and then returned to Kirsteins'.

Donna Kirstein was 10 Jan. 17. She celebrated with a party on her birthday attended by Linda Gustke, Lori and Beth Martin, Christi Nelson, Debbie Bang and Cheryl Bloom. They went ice skating and then returned to Kirsteins' for dinner.

FRIDAY NIGHT Jim and Janice Murphy, 1326 N. Chicago, attended a play at Prospect High School. The Cameo Players presented, "Desk Set." They were accompanied by Jan's sister and husband, the Ray Bryczeks of Mount Prospect. The two couples went to Corrado's after the play.

Enjoying dinner out Saturday night were Bob and Kay Roden, 1212 N. Illinois. They and the Ralph Ansels of Rolling Meadows had dinner at Uncle Andy's Cow Palace.

Terrace newcomers are Rick and Glenda Coffin and their children, Richard, 11, and Amy, 8, who moved to 1217 N. Chicago in December. They lived in Virginia Beach, Va., for three years, while Rick was in the Navy; last April they moved to Texas, while Rick was starting employment with American Air Lines. He is now a flight officer with American Air Lines here. Both Glenda and Rick are interested in art, enjoy playing bridge and like plays.

On Jan. 16, Erica Berrier, daughter of the Galin Berriers, 1504 W. Oakton, was 7. She celebrated with a party for Maureen, Michael and Kathleen Coleman, Kim Merckx, Gigi Sortor, Kathy Schmidt, Sherry Skalicky, Ginger Griffin, Robby Salzman and Erica's brother, David.

Greatest Events In American History— No.3

THE IDEA IS BORN THAT AMERICA IS A LAND FOR FREEDOM OF RELIGION

"Congress shall make no law prohibiting the free exercise of religion".

These words, found in our Bill of Rights, guarantee Freedom of Religion to all Americans.

And this Freedom of Religion is one of the cornerstones on which America was built because it was the desire for it that brought our most famous early settlers —the Pilgrims—to this land.

In England people were persecuted for religious beliefs. Seeking a place where they could practice religion freely, the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620.

Their arrival was a milestone in our history, for they contributed much to our development, but the greatest gift they gave was the idea that America was a land where people could come and actually be guaranteed the right to worship as they pleased.

Greatest Events In American History— No.3

THE IDEA IS BORN THAT AMERICA IS A LAND FOR FREEDOM OF RELIGION

"Congress shall make no law prohibiting the free exercise of religion".

These words, found in our Bill of Rights, guarantee Freedom of Religion to all Americans.

And this Freedom of Religion is one of the cornerstones on which America was built because it was the desire for it that brought our most famous early settlers —the Pilgrims—to this land.

In England people were persecuted for religious beliefs. Seeking a place where they could practice religion freely, the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620.

Their arrival was a milestone in our history, for they contributed much to our development, but the greatest gift they gave was the idea that America was a land where people could come and actually be guaranteed the right to worship as they pleased.

PADDOCK BILLBOARD

Good Acting, Dialogue Make 'Desk Set' a Hit

By JOAN REDDY
Paddock Drama Critic

"Haste makes waste" seems to be the by-word for Cameo Players. A relatively new group in the little theater world, they waited 11 months before presenting their second production, "The Desk Set." But their time proves to have been well occupied. The result is a skillfully paced, well acted evening of theater.

"The Desk Set" strikes a responsive chord in all us frail humans adrift in the world of cybernetics. It is the tale of what happens in the research department of a broadcasting network when the computer threatens to take over. Playwright William Marchant has come up with a slick concoction which may not be true-to-life, but nevertheless does the heart good when humans are proved better than machines.

THE PLAY'S biggest asset is the clever repartee among the participants. And it is here that the Cameo production really shone. Thanks to good acting—particularly among the women—the dialogue ran merrily along its sophisticated way.

Outstanding was Gloria Dembinski in the lead role of the department head. Others have played this part with more of a sense of wonder, but Mrs. Dembinski's characterization of the woman who is very much "in" was more in tune with a lady who buys her dresses at Bonwit's and drinks her champagne from paper cups.

The ladies of the research department were equally well played by Doris Donavan, Venus Miller and Judy O'Brien. Each was able to convey a separate personality within the confines of those witty, but rather uncharacterizing, lines.

MRS. MILLER gets a special nod for the drunk scene when she and Mrs. Dembinski exhibit the debilitating effects of alcohol. Oh, yes, playwright Marchant has been shrewd enough to include that old standby, the drunk scene.

In fact, almost the entire second act is one big drunk scene. It does little to move the plot along, but is a very funny picture of that old American institution, "the office Christmas party."

Although more than capable in their roles, the gentlemen did not quite come up to the ladies in acting ability. Nevertheless, Pete Piper was a properly insufferable efficiency expert and Don Schroeder, the ever hesitant suitor of the leading lady. It might be wished, however, that Mr. Schroeder had left some of his hesitancy behind when he wasn't courting. A network executive might exhibit more self-assurance.

ONE OF THE characteristics of a good production is careful casting. And Cameo followed through in the minor roles. Of particular note were Ruth Piper as the fastidious computer expert and Juanita Shoenneman as the stunning blonde "secretary to the secretary to the president."

Director Betty Morris lists choreography among her credits. And there appeared to be the hand of the choreographer in the manner in which the many characters flowed about the stage. The action was not hectic, but she avoided the static—even within the rather cramped confines of the office set.

Certainly the set deserves special mention. On two levels, with a private office occupying one side of the stage, the designer still was able to avoid clutter and achieve an illusion of depth.

But the part of the set that attracted the most awe was the living, breathing monster, Emmy the computer. She gurgled, bleeped, flashed and smoked in a most beguiling manner. She was quite a girl, but we're still glad she got her come-uppance.

St. Theresa Group to Make Theatre Debut

St. Theresa Variety Players of St. Theresa Church, 465 N. Benton, Palatine, will make their public debut in a musical revue, "Please, Open the Door," at St. Viator's Auditorium, 1213 E. Oakton, Arlington Heights.

The production is scheduled for Friday, Jan. 28, and Saturday, Jan. 29, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, Jan. 30, at 7 p.m.

"THIS IS our virgin venture," said Mrs. Donald Heyden of Palatine, who with her husband is production coordinator for the event. They hope the Players can eventually form a permanent theatrical organization.

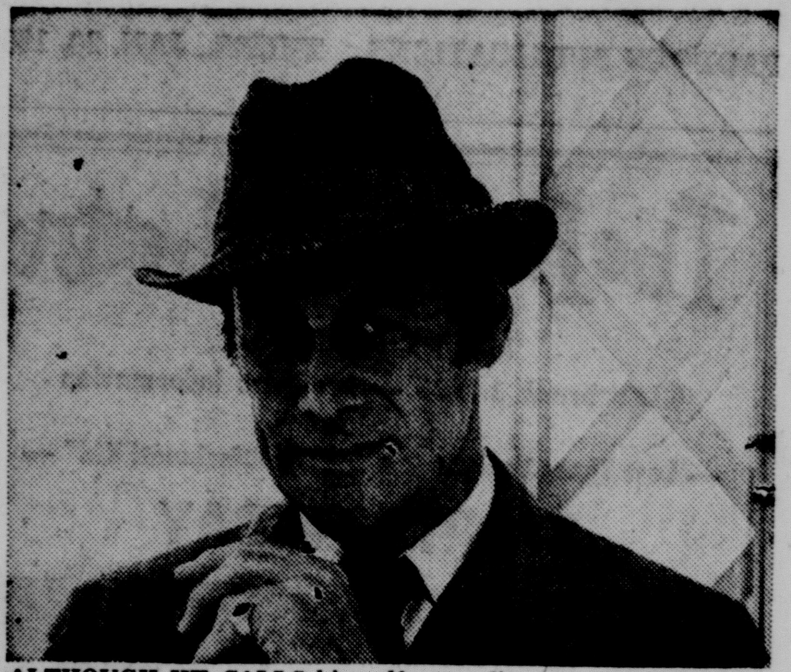
With a cast and crew of over 100 persons and, according to Mrs. Heyden, approximately another 100 persons contributing professional advice and talents, the show has become an all-parish event.

Bryce Driscoll, 10, of Palatine, is one of the few exceptions to this statement. Bryce, who plays Mae Ling, a South Vietnamese orphan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Driscoll of St. Thomas of Villanova Parish. Misses Carol Chupech and Donna Smolak are also St. Thomas parishioners. They are in the chorus and dialogue campfire scene. Pianist Mrs. Joseph V. Gallagher is from Roselle.

THE INTRODUCTION of the child, Mae Ling, to American life through the music of the four seasons forms the setting for the show.

James Stamm, who directs the production, collaborated with George Deonesotes, Rudolph Liska and Donald Heyden in the writing.

Ticket information may be obtained from Maurice Spratlin, 429 Monterey Road, Palatine, 358-5740. (Bill



ALTHOUGH HE CALLS himself an ordinary man, he's quite an extraordinary one, for no one but Rex Harrison could have portrayed Prof. Henry Higgins, the witty and tyrannical phonetics expert, in "My Fair Lady." Harrison personified Higgins 1,006 times on the musical stages of New York and London and for the 1,007th and last in the award-winning screen version. It starts tomorrow (Friday) at the Catlow Theatre.

Broadway Hit Next At Country Club

It's not a joke! The coming attraction at the Country Club Theatre in Mount Prospect on Wednesday, Feb. 2nd, is entitled "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad."

This is the lengthy title of the long-run New York comedy by Arthur L. Kopit, which not only scored a 13-month-long success for the young playwright and later on a nationwide American tour, but also won the Vernon Rice and Outer Circle Awards in New York as the best off-Broadway play of the 1962-63 season.

Written by Kopit out of mockery of the so-called avant-garde playwrights, such as Albee, Ionesco, Beckett, Pinter and Genet, "O Dad," is a melodramatic farce about an over-possessive mother, her artless and inhibited son and a girl who at first has the coyness to match the son's little-boyishness, but then turns into a hilariously bold tigress, intent on pursuing him whether he likes it or not.

THE PLOT of "Oh Dad," is so far out in looniness that most of the critics had to say that if their reviews of the story made sense, then they hadn't described it right. They were glad to do without sense in the comedy and just settle for pure entertainment.

"Side - splitting," "uproarious" and "stunning to the funnybone" were some of the reactions of these critics, which propelled "Oh Dad" into a 454-performance hit on the New York theatre scene.

The current comedy feature, "Boeing Boeing," will be playing nightly, except Mondays, through Sunday, Jan. 30. Reservations may be made by mail or by phoning 259-5400 or Clearbrook 5-2025 or at north suburban Sears - Roebuck stores.

Tickets on Sale For 'Othello'

Tickets now are on sale at Randhurst Cinema box office for the British National Theatre production of Shakespeare's "Othello."

The film, starring Sir Laurence Olivier, will be shown at a matinee and an evening performance each on Feb. 2 and Feb. 3.

Also in the cast are Frank Finlay as Iago, Maggie Smith as Desdemona and Joyce Redman as Emilia.

Special discount prices will be given students and groups.

St. James Picks Play Director

Father James Strzelecki has been chosen to direct the St. James Theatre Group's spring production, "Seven Nuns at Las Vegas," which will be presented by the Arlington Heights group April 22, 23 and 24.

Father Strzelecki, spiritual adviser of the St. James Group, is a graduate of Quigley Seminary and St. Mary of the Lake Seminary and was ordained in April, 1965. He was assigned to St. James parish in June.

Father Strzelecki's theatre career started at the age of 3½ when he was cast as the ring bearer in "The Wedding of Jack and Jill." His interest in theatre continued during his seminary years when he acted in as well as directed many of the shows put on by the seminarians, including musicals and theatre in the round.

JIM PHILLIPS, Paddock drama critic, spoke to the St. James organization at its January meeting on acting, make-up and goals of community theatre.

New members of the board of directors are Gladys Leake, Roger Alm, Cliff Harmon and Charles Willworth. Incumbents include Roy Quid, chairman; Ralph Elwart, Jim Kelly and Marilyn Ostrowski. (Bill

Panel to Tell How Tax Money Is Spent

The list of participants in a panel discussion titled "That's Where Your Money Goes" has been announced by Thomas W. Novotny, president of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop.

The occasion is the annual meeting of the workshop on Tuesday at 8 p.m. It will be held at the Township Hall, 1818 E. Northwest Highway, and is open to all taxpayers.

Representatives of each of the local taxing bodies will appear to outline their spending plans for 1966 and the impact on the taxpayers' pockets.

JOHN A. HAAS will represent the most recently established unit of local government. He is president of the board of Community College District 301, which is presently seeking a site on which to establish a local junior college.

Other school board officials who have accepted the invitation to speak include Arthur Aronson, president of the board of High School District 214; Theodore Seiler, board member of District 25 (Arlington Heights); and Mrs. Robert Koelsch, board member of District 23 (Prospect Heights).

Robert T. Wood, board member of District 57 (Mount Prospect) has agreed to participate, and board presidents Harold Haney and Harry Tyler will represent District 26 (River Trails) and District 21 (Wheeling and vicinity) respectively.

TWO BOARD presidents of local park districts will discuss their financial plans. They are Charles W. Payne, Mount Prospect, and John C. Edwards, Arlington Heights.

The financing problems of village governments will be covered by John G. Woods, village president of Arlington Heights; William B. McRae, trustee of the village of Wheeling, and James C. King, finance director of Mount Prospect.

Before the program, outgoing president Novotny will preside over a short business meeting, the chief purpose of which is to elect a slate of officers for the coming year.

THIS WILL BE the only formal meeting of the workshop organization for the year. The purpose of the Republican Workshop is to hold informal discussion meetings covering politics and government, in private homes. The discussions are structured along the lines of the Great Books discussions. Trained leaders and materials are provided by the workshop organization, and Democrats and "independent" voters are welcomed.

In addition to the discussion groups, the workshop also provides background information on local issues such as elections and referendums, conducts training for precinct workers, and cooperates with other Republican groups to disseminate information on public issues.

Long Grove

Country Club Estates

We understand that the idea of building homes along the fairways of a golf course originated in Palm Springs, California.

Regardless of where it started, we have seen from our own experience how a combination of a large site and the open greenery of acres of golf course provides a most distinctive and exclusive setting for the fine custom-built residence.

If you are seeking a close-in yet still rural setting and desire to build or buy a home in the general area of $75,000, we invite your inspection of our acre or larger home-sites in varying degree of proximity to the fairways and greens of the Long Grove Country Club.

Property office is located on Route 53, approximately two miles north of Rand Road (U.S. 12), or one mile west of the juncture of Routes 53 and 83.

Firemen List 862 Inspections

Arlington Heights firemen charged with preventing hazardous conditions made 862 inspections during 1965, almost twice last year's total.

They found 291 violations of fire codes during the calls made upon apartments, industrial and commercial firms and public buildings.

THEIR REPORT, submitted to the village manager by Fire Chief Harvey Carothers, shows that 47 inspections were made of apartments, 26 of industrial concerns and 225 of commercial buildings. Seventy-six inspections of public assemblies were made. The department made 458 reinspections.

Only one court action was necessary as a result of the inspections and a conviction resulted, the report said. (A

Full Disclosure of Costs

The public should always have available in time of need or in advance full information about funeral prices and services.
The funeral director serves the public interest best when he provides such information openly and freely.
This is one of the working principles adopted by all members of National Selected Morticians. We are daily guided by it.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beem and their children, Maureen, Patrick and Frankie, 412 S. Waterman, arrived home Thursday from a winter vacation to Mexico, with stops both ways at Brownsville, Tex., to visit Marian's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rue of Mount Prospect who are wintering in Brownsville. After spending a little time at Tampico, the family drove on to Vera Cruz, where Frankie particularly enjoyed their three-day stay because it was here they visited the fortress ruins dating back to the 1500's and saw the prison in which Zorro was held captive. It was while they were in Vera Cruz also, that a nor'easter blew in and Frankie enjoyed the excitement of being knocked off his feet, even while holding fast to his dad's hand.

Mexico City was a delight for the entire family. Although they stayed only two days they took in many of the sights for which the city is noted including the breathtaking view of the Cathedral area at night when special lighting effects give it the appearance of a golden square. Off the beaten track was a visit to the plaza frequented by small grocps of marachis who, dressed in colorful costume, sing, dance and play for tourists and natives alike.

The Beems' vacation was timed to coincide with Maureen's Christmas vacation and semester break. She returned Sunday to classes at St. Dominick College in St. Charles.

DAVID KUCERA son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, enjoyed a belated celebration of his Dec. 28 birthday, when his parents took him and two friends, Bill Brittain and Alan Carlstedt of Mount Prospect, to dinner at the Elks Club in Des Plaines on Jan. 5. Also at the dinner party for the 10-year-old were his sister, Karen, and brother, Mark.

The following Saturday Bill and Joan were hosts to a group of long time friends, Sigma Eta Phi sorority sisters of Joan, whose friendship dates from high school and who all attended either North Park College or Northwestern University. The women and their husbands, after dinner at the Des Plaines Elks Club, returned to the Bayuk home where they were treated to films of Tahiti, Hawaii and Alaska, taken by one of the group who is with American Airlines, and which is part of the airlines travelogue. To wind up the evening, belated Christmas gifts were exchanged between the year's "secret pals."

Congratulations are in order for Bill Bayuk on his recent election as second vice president of the Northwest Shrine Club.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of Mrs. Frank Jenko, 440 S. Prindle, will be happy to know that she is convalescing at home after undergoing surgery in Holy Family Hospital earlier this month.

Twofold congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Rip Van Sky, 1915 E. Grove, on their 20th wedding anniversary Jan. 15, and on becoming grandparents Dec. 26. Their new granddaughter is Kimberly Ann, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ron Sessions of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Sessions is the former Linda Van Sky.

A dinner guest at the Jack Curtin home, 420 S. Forrest, last Sunday, was their son-in-law, Ed Ford of Santa Clara, Calif., who was in New Orleans on business and stopped en route home to visit his family and that of his wife, Sue. The Curtins enjoyed first hand accounts of their granddaughters, Laura and Christine.

MR. AND MRS. Carl Schmidt, 515 S. Gibbons, were married 14 years Jan. 13 and celebrated Saturday evening by having dinner at the Sheraton-O'Hare with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Manny Peck of McHenry. They ended the evening on a pleasant note with a nightcap at the Cow Palace in Palatine.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Novy, 408 S. Phelps, had a 17th wedding anniversary Jan. 15. They attended a small dinner party Saturday at the Elmhurst home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wagner. Dessert was planned with an eye to the anniversary couple and Bob and Arlene were presented with an especially decorated cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Scharf, 528 S. Prindle, celebrated their 21st anniversary Jan. 10 quietly at home. Roses were delivered for the "bride" and gifts were presented to the couple.

RICKY STRENG'S family helped him celebrate his eighth birthday Friday by presenting him with gifts and singing "Happy Birthday" at a family dinner at the Streng home, 524 S. Waterman. An added feature of the celebration was a bowling party Sunday for the family, all enthusiasts of the sport. Ricky's parents are Frank and Nora and the other members of the group are his brother, Tom, and sister, Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henning, 408 S. Waterman, marked the third birthday of their younger son, Gregg, on Jan. 11 by inviting neighborhood friends to join them and their older children, Laurel and Larry, for birthday cake and coffee that evening.

BOB POST'S 15th birthday Jan. 12 was celebrated at a family dinner, where he received the best wishes of his brothers, Steve and Jimmy, and sisters, Laura, Karen and Nancy. Bob is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Post, 2105 E. Park.

The Jan. 16 birthday of Nancy Butkus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Butkus, 429 S. Phelps, was strictly a family affair. Her parents and brothers and sister, Steve, Scott and Susan, showered the 2-year-old with attention from morning till bedtime.

The sympathy of friends and neighbors is offered belatedly to Mr. and Mrs. M. Rex Hart, 2023 E. Park, on the death of Fern's mother, Mrs. Samantha Bringham, on Dec. 31 in Cushing, Okla.; and to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fritz, 420 S. Phelps, on the death of Jean's mother, Mrs. Mary Manning on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Manning made her home with the Fritzes. (A

Two Classes Are Slated For Judo

This winter instruction in judo and self defense will be offered to two age groups by the Arlington Heights Park District.

The younger set, aged fifth grade through eighth, may enroll for the class on Thursday evenings at the Arlington High School. Class time is 7 p.m. High school students and adults may register for the 8:30 to 10 p.m. class, also at the high school.

CLASSES TEACHING confidence, self reliance and sportsmanship will be held in the sunken gym, Room 119. Directing the class will be Richard Jankewicz, black belt instructor. The fee for 10 weeks is $4.

This year, due to interest in the past a Judo Club has been formed. This is an opportunity for judo enthusiasts to advance their knowledge and skills. Required for membership is one previous session of instruction. The club will meet on Tuesdays, 7 to 10 p.m., at the Arlington High School, beginning on Jan. 11. Members are still welcome.

Notes from Arlington Acres

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beem and their children, Maureen, Patrick and Frankie, 412 S. Waterman, arrived home Thursday from a winter vacation to Mexico, with stops both ways at Brownsville, Tex., to visit Marian's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rue of Mount Prospect who are wintering in Brownsville. After spending a little time at Tampico, the family drove on to Vera Cruz, where Frankie particularly enjoyed their three-day stay because it was here they visited the fortress ruins dating back to the 1500's and saw the prison in which Zorro was held captive. It was while they were in Vera Cruz also, that a nor'easter blew in and Frankie enjoyed the excitement of being knocked off his feet, even while holding fast to his dad's hand.

Mexico City was a delight for the entire family. Although they stayed only two days they took in many of the sights for which the city is noted including the breathtaking view of the Cathedral area at night when special lighting effects give it the appearance of a golden square. Off the beaten track was a visit to the plaza frequented by small grocps of marachis who, dressed in colorful costume, sing, dance and play for tourists and natives alike.

The Beems' vacation was timed to coincide with Maureen's Christmas vacation and semester break. She returned Sunday to classes at St. Dominick College in St. Charles.

DAVID KUCERA son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, enjoyed a belated celebration of his Dec. 28 birthday, when his parents took him and two friends, Bill Brittain and Alan Carlstedt of Mount Prospect, to dinner at the Elks Club in Des Plaines on Jan. 5. Also at the dinner party for the 10-year-old were his sister, Karen, and brother, Mark.

The following Saturday Bill and Joan were hosts to a group of long time friends, Sigma Eta Phi sorority sisters of Joan, whose friendship dates from high school and who all attended either North Park College or Northwestern University. The women and their husbands, after dinner at the Des Plaines Elks Club, returned to the Bayuk home where they were treated to films of Tahiti, Hawaii and Alaska, taken by one of the group who is with American Airlines, and which is part of the airlines travelogue. To wind up the evening, belated Christmas gifts were exchanged between the year's "secret pals."

Congratulations are in order for Bill Bayuk on his recent election as second vice president of the Northwest Shrine Club.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of Mrs. Frank Jenko, 440 S. Prindle, will be happy to know that she is convalescing at home after undergoing surgery in Holy Family Hospital earlier this month.

Twofold congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Rip Van Sky, 1915 E. Grove, on their 20th wedding anniversary Jan. 15, and on becoming grandparents Dec. 26. Their new granddaughter is Kimberly Ann, born to Mr. and Mrs. Ron Sessions of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Sessions is the former Linda Van Sky.

A dinner guest at the Jack Curtin home, 420 S. Forrest, last Sunday, was their son-in-law, Ed Ford of Santa Clara, Calif., who was in New Orleans on business and stopped en route home to visit his family and that of his wife, Sue. The Curtins enjoyed first hand accounts of their granddaughters, Laura and Christine.

MR. AND MRS. Carl Schmidt, 515 S. Gibbons, were married 14 years Jan. 13 and celebrated Saturday evening by having dinner at the Sheraton-O'Hare with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Manny Peck of McHenry. They ended the evening on a pleasant note with a nightcap at the Cow Palace in Palatine.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Novy, 408 S. Phelps, had a 17th wedding anniversary Jan. 15. They attended a small dinner party Saturday at the Elmhurst home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wagner. Dessert was planned with an eye to the anniversary couple and Bob and Arlene were presented with an especially decorated cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Scharf, 528 S. Prindle, celebrated their 21st anniversary Jan. 10 quietly at home. Roses were delivered for the "bride" and gifts were presented to the couple.

RICKY STRENG'S family helped him celebrate his eighth birthday Friday by presenting him with gifts and singing "Happy Birthday" at a family dinner at the Streng home, 524 S. Waterman. An added feature of the celebration was a bowling party Sunday for the family, all enthusiasts of the sport. Ricky's parents are Frank and Nora and the other members of the group are his brother, Tom, and sister, Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henning, 408 S. Waterman, marked the third birthday of their younger son, Gregg, on Jan. 11 by inviting neighborhood friends to join them and their older children, Laurel and Larry, for birthday cake and coffee that evening.

BOB POST'S 15th birthday Jan. 12 was celebrated at a family dinner, where he received the best wishes of his brothers, Steve and Jimmy, and sisters, Laura, Karen and Nancy. Bob is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Post, 2105 E. Park.

The Jan. 16 birthday of Nancy Butkus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Butkus, 429 S. Phelps, was strictly a family affair. Her parents and brothers and sister, Steve, Scott and Susan, showered the 2-year-old with attention from morning till bedtime.

The sympathy of friends and neighbors is offered belatedly to Mr. and Mrs. M. Rex Hart, 2023 E. Park, on the death of Fern's mother, Mrs. Samantha Bringham, on Dec. 31 in Cushing, Okla.; and to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fritz, 420 S. Phelps, on the death of Jean's mother, Mrs. Mary Manning on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Manning made her home with the Fritzes. (A

KICKIN' IT AROUND

BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

Reeves Held to One Basket . . .

There were some interesting developments last weekend on the area basketball scene.

What kind of odds would you have gotten if you had wagered that Mike Reeves, Glenbrook South's 30-plus scorer who bombed in 39 points Friday against Maine South, would be held to one basket Saturday?

That's exactly what happened as Niles North slowed things down in a 37-32 loss to Glenbrook. Reeves, who had topped 30 in nine of the Titans' 12 previous outings, picked up only six points against Niles on one basket and four free throws.

Saturday's slow-motion encounter "trimmed" Reeves' scoring average to 31.9 for 13 games.

It shouldn't have come as a big surprise that the high-scoring Glenbrook South star would run into some problems from Niles North.

Last winter Reeves only scored one basket as Glenbrook toppled Niles North, 42-26, in a Mid-Suburban game. Glenbrook held a 17-8 lead after three periods in this one and Niles didn't score a single point in the second stanza.

Reeves did hit Niles for 15 baskets and one free throw in his other meeting, but that was a first round encounter and you can be sure the 33-point effort prompted Niles North coach Babe Baptist to alter his strategy for the second bout.

Reeves will get another crack at Niles North on Saturday, Feb. 12.

Elsewhere around the suburban area, the Mid-Suburban division didn't waste any time putting some daylight between the first and second division. Prospect, Forest View, and Palatine each scored two wins while Wheeling, Conant, and Maine West dropped a pair.

The Mid-Suburban is coming up with an early showdown with Prospect hosting Forest View Friday evening in the area headliner.

Arlington's easy conquest of LaGrange was the big news in the West Suburban with the Cards jumping into sole possession of second place.

Arlington has not enjoyed many memorable visits to the Lion gymnasium through the years, but Ted Wissen's outfit made its last trip a big one. LaGrange is a tough place to play, and you welcome any victory there. You really cherish a one-sided win.

The Chicagoland Prep League is geared for a showdown Saturday evening when DeLaSalle visits St. Patrick, but don't discount the possibility of a St. Viator victory over St. Pat's on Friday.

The Lions are tough at home and can give anyone trouble. They gave a touted Shamrock five fits last winter at the Arlington Heights site before falling by a 57-56 margin.

There's no league we can think of in the Chicago area where the site of the game means as much as it does in the Chicagoland Prep.

It's a nightmare for teams visiting such sites as St. Ignatius, St. Mel, and St. George where the gyms create unusual problems.

Any upset in the Chicagoland prompts only one question: "Where was it played?"

The Tri-County has a real dog-fight going with Lake Park and Elmwood Park tied for the top with 5-1 marks, and Ridgewood and Mundelein right behind at 4-2.

The Lancers from Lake Park should know their fate by around 10 o'clock Friday evening, Feb. 4. Jimmie Dudley's crew catches Elmwood Park, Mundelein, and Ridgewood within a space of eight days.

The Des Plaines Valley features two clubs unbeaten in league scuffling today but will have only one by Sunday. Willowbrook and East Leyden, currently sporting 4-0 marks in the division, square off Saturday evening in Franklin Park.

Do you think Collinsville basketball fans are spoiled? Their beloved Kahoks, state champs last winter, have won 61 straight games at home. Vergil Fletcher has another powerhouse at Collinsville which he labels "better than the state champs at this stage of the season."

Hockey Group Is Formed . . .

A hockey association has been formed in Arlington Heights with supervised games now available for any Arlington youth from grades four through 12.

Experienced instruction is provided by Mike Mulroy, who played and coached in the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association; Allen Schweitzer, who played in the New York Amateur Hockey Association; and a group of selected officials.

"The goals of the program," says Mulroy, "are to teach hockey from both a participants and spectators point of view and to foster a spirit of good sportsmanship."

The official title is the Pioneer-Recreation-Hasbrook Park District Hockey Association.

Arlington has a team in the North West Suburban Hockey league playoffs which features the top high school-age players from each entry.

What's the king of schoolboy sports? It all depends upon how you look at it. Basketball has 19,622 participating schools compared to 13,309 for football. Football, on the other hand, has 822,681 participants to 674,938 in basketball. Track and field is second in number of schools and third in participants. Baseball is third in number of schools (13,399), followed by football, and fourth in number of participants.

Release Mat Assignments . . .

The wrestlers learned this week of their assignments for the district and sectional tournaments.

The Illinois High School Association has assigned districts to three Paddock area schools, Forest View, Lake Park, and Fenton.

Arlington, St. Viator, Maine West, Prospect, Maine East, and Wheeling will join the host Falcons at Forest View.

St. Patrick, York, Elmwood Park, East Leyden, Ridgewood, West Leyden, and Maine South join Fenton, and Elgin, Elgin Larkin, Conant, Palatine, St. Charles, and Sycamore will be at Lake Park.

Palatine will host sectional action with the top two boys in each weight class at Forest View, Fenton, Lake Park, and Rockford (East) earning sectional berths.

The Forest View and Fenton districts will be staged February 11-12, but Lake Park will start its tourney on February 10 and then conclude on February 12. The sectional is set for February 18-19.

The state meet will be held at Northwestern University's McGaw Hall on February 25-26.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

A 25-foot set shot by Bob Gruber with two seconds remaining gave Maine a 68-66 victory over Arlington . . . The Cards trailed by seven with 1:50 remaining when they rallied to knot the score . . . Ron Ashley was high for the losers with 17 points . . .

Both Undefeated in League Play

Knights Seek 9th Win in Row From Forest View Hoopsters

by MICHAEL HESS

Something's got to give at the top of Mid-Suburban League cage standings and that "give" will come tomorrow.

At the moment Prospect, Forest View and Palatine are knotted in front of the conference pack. Each owns a perfect 2-0 M-SL record.

Tomorrow (Friday) Knights host Falcons and Pirates face Wheeling. With such a game alignment at least one of the first place trio must fall.

Because Palatine should whip the 'Cats, victory is a necessity if a league leading tie is the goal of either Prospect or Forest View. Their meeting has assumed tremendous importance and both coaches know it.

"WE'LL HAVE TO be ready for anything," Dick Kinneman, the Knights headman stated. "This game will go a long way toward determining who wins the league championship."

"We'll have to play well this weekend," said Falcons director Ken Arneson. "This is going to be the biggest game we've played so far. They've gotten hot lately and we'll have to rise to the challenge."

At Prospect

FOREST VIEW			PROSPECT

6-0	Buckholz	F	Agard	6-2
6-3	Brasch	C	Beard	6-3
6-1	Erlander	G	Thorne	6-0
5-9	Jones	G	Kulasa	5-11

TIME:
Junior varsity preliminary at 7:00 p.m.; varsity game at 8:15 p.m.
COACHES:
Forest View, Ken Arneson; Prospect, Dick Kinneman.

Prospect has indeed gotten hot lately. The Knights are currently riding the crest of an eight game winning streak. The last time they lost was December 17 when Glenbrook South beat them 74-61. Currently Kinneman's charges are 11-3 overall.

Last week Prospect won a pair of games by lop-sided counts. First came a 71-43 hammering of Wheeling and then a 74-56 stomping of Conant. Both margins could have been wider as Kinneman inserted reserves for both last quarters.

Forest View, in contrast, has continued its generally erratic pattern. The Falcons, since season's start, have won three, lost three, won four, lost two

Second Place Cards Host Glenbard West

by BOB FRISK

Arlington's red-hot Cardinals, off to one of the fastest starts in school history, launch their second and final trip around the West Suburban Conference Friday evening.

Streaking along with 10 victories in 13 games and a snappy five-game winning streak, coach Ted Wissen's Cardinals will entertain Glenbard West to kick off the second half schedule in league warfare.

Arlington will journey to Barrington Saturday for a non-conference engagement.

Wissen's entry enjoyed the first half of West Suburban play. They wrapped up five victories in seven games to gain sole possession of second place, burying a highly regarded La Grange team in the Lion gymnasium Saturday for that fifth win.

AVENGING ONE of their setbacks and strengthening their hold on second place in the league will be the primary objectives of the Cardinal quintet Friday in the home tussle with Glenbard West.

The rangy Hilltoppers whipped Arlington in an earlier meeting, 84-73, but the Cards suffered through a frigid night in the shooting department while still staying in contention.

Wissen was encouraged with the double victory last weekend, pointing to the rout of La Grange as Arlington's "top effort of the season."

"EVERYONE HELPED out," Wissen praised after he saw his club trip up Downers Grove by one point and shell La Grange. "We only had 10 turnovers in each game and shot well too. Now, if we can just keep going."

Wissen plans no changes in the alignment which has ignited this current surge. He'll still go with senior Pete Barker as his top reserve, shifting Steve Allen to a forward when Barker enters the lineup.

Barker came off the bench to score 22 points last weekend, hitting eight straight free throws to hike his charity mark for the season to 23-for-26.

ALLEN ENJOYED an impressive weekend, hitting Downers Grove with 17 points and La Grange with 27. Steve had 27 after three periods Saturday and there was a time when the school record of 38 (Jim Clabaugh, 1960) appeared

Bowlers Vie This Weekend

Hoffman Lanes Site of Action Saturday, Sunday

The spotlight shines on Joe Bowler this weekend.

One hundred and two teams, 510 bowlers, will assemble at Hoffman Lanes in Hoffman Estates Saturday and Sunday for the 15th edition of the popular Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap tournament for men.

The handicaps are the equalizers in the tourney that brings together the finest entries from 102 leagues in the Paddock circulation area. These are the bowlers who strive throughout the fall and early weeks of the winter to earn a berth in the Paddock headliner.

Past Champs

Year	Champion	Series
1952	Haseman Truckers	2979
1953	Black's Funeral Home	3036
1954	Len & Sev's IGA	2899
1955	Haseman Truckers	3041
1956	Haseman Truckers	2999
1957	Schimming Oil	3032
1958	McIntyre Lumber	3034
1959	Arl. Furniture Mart	3054
1960	Schmidt Construction	3099
1961	Abbinanti Insurance	3085
1962	Haberkamp Flowers	3005
1963	Highland Motors	3166
1964	Morton Pontiac	3064
1965	Rob Roy	3033

Competition will unfold at Hoffman Lanes, Route 72 and Roselle road in Hoffman Estates, at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. Four sessions will follow on Sunday at 12:30, 2:55, 5:20, and 7:45.

ENTRIES HAVE been processed, bowling and prize fees have been paid, scorekeepers hired, and the lanes are all set for the big tournament with hundreds of fans expected to watch the festivities.

League prestige is also at stake as the bowlers shoot for the large traveling trophy, five individual trophies, and an estimated $900 in team prizes.

Unofficial results of the tournament will be posted immediately following its conclusion Sunday evening. These results will be published in detail in the paper, but no prize money will be paid for about three weeks, pending verification of averages and checking of scores.

Tournaments for the women and mixed leagues will be held the following weekend at Striking Lanes in Mount Prospect. See separate story.

A POWER failure in the northwest suburban area hit the Paddock men's tourney last winter at Thunderbird Bowl and forced a switch in the concluding day of activity, a first in tournament history.

Rob Roy of the High Ridge men's league at Striking Lanes took home top honors in 1965 with a 3033 series, 13 pins ahead of runnerup Villa Pizzeria of the Wednesday Night Men's at Jeffery Lanes.

Rob Roy's triumph snapped a string of two straight championships by Paddock Classic League entries, but the Classic outfit looms as one of the strongest entries in the 1966 headliner.

Brass Rail Restaurant will represent the Paddock Classic and will shoot in the 12:30 p.m. squad Sunday.

THE TOP TEAM total ever registered in the Paddock men's meet was a 3166 by Highland Motors of the Paddock Classic in 1963. The lowest for a champion, with handicap, was the 2899 posted by Len & Sev's IGA in 1954.

The individual marks to shoot at are a 701 scratch series by Dave Catherwood and 279 single game by Walter Behm.

Lions Handle Cards' Units

St. Viator's powerful swimmers, unbeaten at both levels this season, rocked their neighbors to the west last Saturday.

Coach Charles Mondi's Lions had no trouble as they disposed of Arlington's varsity, 73-22, and the Cardinal frosh-sophs, 78-17.

St. Viator splashed to nine firsts on a varsity level with Rick Withrow and Fred Schmidt double winners.

Withrow ruled the middle distance freestyle with a 2:06.3 clocking and also topped the distance freestyle at 4:49.4.

SCHMIDT CAME up with a 2:26.3 in the individual medley, topping Arlington's John Erickson by less than two seconds, and scored another win in the butterfly at 1:07.

Other Lion firsts in the individual events were picked by Rene Tague in the 100 freestyle (52.4), Rick Kalinowski in the 100 breaststroke (1:10.6), and Ken Sophie in diving.

St. Viator topped both relays. Mike Gibler, Kalinowski, Joe Herrity, and John Massey worked on the medley unit which came up with a 1:53.9, and Bob Brown, Massey, Kevin Shea and Jim Cronin were on the freestyle unit (3:54).

ARLINGTON picked up two firsts to Dick Tucker in the 50 freestyle and Lowell Christy in the backstroke.

Tucker turned in one of his top efforts in flashing to a 23.7 clocking and nipping Tague by two-tenths of a second in the 50 freestyle. Christy had a fine 1:05.9 in the backstroke.

The frosh-soph meet also belonged to St. Viator with the Lions coming up with the firsts, yielding only to Arlington's Cary Oliver in the backstroke.

Collecting the wins for St. Viator were Bill McCaffrey in the 300 and 150 yard free, Ed Leadley in the 50 and 100 free, Lou Hibbs in the 100 individual medley, Dave Mullan in diving, Mike Kaminski in the 150 fly, and Mike Madden in the 50 breast.

St. Viator also topped both relays.

Arlington will journey to Niles East and St. Viator will host Holy Cross Saturday afternoon. The Holy Cross meet was scheduled for Jan. 22 when the engagement with Wheeling had to be dropped.

Summer Baseball Program Discussed

The fate of District 214 summer baseball program—subsidized or self-supporting will be considered by the high school district's board of education at an 8 p.m. meeting Monday in the administration building, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

Summer baseball was tried by the district last summer for the first time, on a trial basis only and just at Forest View, at the urging of local coaches and area sports fans. A summer baseball program is needed to upgrade the quality of team play in the district, the board was told.

In approving the trial program, the board stipulated that it be self-supporting, from tuition paid by the boys participating. When enrollment in the program was smaller than expected — just 24 boys — Forest View Athletic Director Bill Beckman authorized the supplying of funds needed to meet the deficit.

The total cost of the program, according to a report submitted, which the board will be considering Monday, was $721. The income, based on a $17 charge per boy, was $408.

Hal Sprehe, head baseball coach at Forest View, has recommended that the baseball program be continued with the same tuition charge and the district assuming other costs.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

Reeves Held to One Basket . . .

There were some interesting developments last weekend on the area basketball scene.

What kind of odds would you have gotten if you had wagered that Mike Reeves, Glenbrook South's 30-plus scorer who bombed in 39 points Friday against Maine South, would be held to one basket Saturday?

That's exactly what happened as Niles North slowed things down in a 37-32 loss to Glenbrook. Reeves, who had topped 30 in nine of the Titans' 12 previous outings, picked up only six points against Niles on one basket and four free throws.

Saturday's slow-motion encounter "trimmed" Reeves' scoring average to 31.9 for 13 games.

It shouldn't have come as a big surprise that the high-scoring Glenbrook South star would run into some problems from Niles North.

Last winter Reeves only scored one basket as Glenbrook toppled Niles North, 42-26, in a Mid-Suburban game. Glenbrook held a 17-8 lead after three periods in this one and Niles didn't score a single point in the second stanza.

Reeves did hit Niles for 15 baskets and one free throw in his other meeting, but that was a first round encounter and you can be sure the 33-point effort prompted Niles North coach Babe Baptist to alter his strategy for the second bout.

Reeves will get another crack at Niles North on Saturday, Feb. 12.

Elsewhere around the suburban area, the Mid-Suburban division didn't waste any time putting some daylight between the first and second division. Prospect, Forest View, and Palatine each scored two wins while Wheeling, Conant, and Maine West dropped a pair.

The Mid-Suburban is coming up with an early showdown with Prospect hosting Forest View Friday evening in the area headliner.

Arlington's easy conquest of LaGrange was the big news in the West Suburban with the Cards jumping into sole possession of second place.

Arlington has not enjoyed many memorable visits to the Lion gymnasium through the years, but Ted Wissen's outfit made its last trip a big one. LaGrange is a tough place to play, and you welcome any victory there. You really cherish a one-sided win.

The Chicagoland Prep League is geared for a showdown Saturday evening when DeLaSalle visits St. Patrick, but don't discount the possibility of a St. Viator victory over St. Pat's on Friday.

The Lions are tough at home and can give anyone trouble. They gave a touted Shamrock five fits last winter at the Arlington Heights site before falling by a 57-56 margin.

There's no league we can think of in the Chicago area where the site of the game means as much as it does in the Chicagoland Prep.

It's a nightmare for teams visiting such sites as St. Ignatius, St. Mel, and St. George where the gyms create unusual problems.

Any upset in the Chicagoland prompts only one question: "Where was it played?"

The Tri-County has a real dog-fight going with Lake Park and Elmwood Park tied for the top with 5-1 marks, and Ridgewood and Mundelein right behind at 4-2.

The Lancers from Lake Park should know their fate by around 10 o'clock Friday evening, Feb. 4. Jimmie Dudley's crew catches Elmwood Park, Mundelein, and Ridgewood within a space of eight days.

The Des Plaines Valley features two clubs unbeaten in league scuffling today but will have only one by Sunday. Willowbrook and East Leyden, currently sporting 4-0 marks in the division, square off Saturday evening in Franklin Park.

Do you think Collinsville basketball fans are spoiled? Their beloved Kahoks, state champs last winter, have won 61 straight games at home. Vergil Fletcher has another powerhouse at Collinsville which he labels "better than the state champs at this stage of the season."

Hockey Group Is Formed . . .

A hockey association has been formed in Arlington Heights with supervised games now available for any Arlington youth from grades four through 12.

Experienced instruction is provided by Mike Mulroy, who played and coached in the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association; Allen Schweitzer, who played in the New York Amateur Hockey Association; and a group of selected officials.

"The goals of the program," says Mulroy, "are to teach hockey from both a participants and spectators point of view and to foster a spirit of good sportsmanship."

The official title is the Pioneer-Recreation-Hasbrook Park District Hockey Association.

Arlington has a team in the North West Suburban Hockey league playoffs which features the top high school-age players from each entry.

What's the king of schoolboy sports? It all depends upon how you look at it. Basketball has 19,622 participating schools compared to 13,309 for football. Football, on the other hand, has 822,681 participants to 674,938 in basketball. Track and field is second in number of schools and third in participants. Baseball is third in number of schools (13,399), followed by football, and fourth in number of participants.

Release Mat Assignments . . .

The wrestlers learned this week of their assignments for the district and sectional tournaments.

The Illinois High School Association has assigned districts to three Paddock area schools, Forest View, Lake Park, and Fenton.

Arlington, St. Viator, Maine West, Prospect, Maine East, and Wheeling will join the host Falcons at Forest View.

St. Patrick, York, Elmwood Park, East Leyden, Ridgewood, West Leyden, and Maine South join Fenton, and Elgin, Elgin Larkin, Conant, Palatine, St. Charles, and Sycamore will be at Lake Park.

Palatine will host sectional action with the top two boys in each weight class at Forest View, Fenton, Lake Park, and Rockford (East) earning sectional berths.

The Forest View and Fenton districts will be staged February 11-12, but Lake Park will start its tourney on February 10 and then conclude on February 12. The sectional is set for February 18-19.

The state meet will be held at Northwestern University's McGaw Hall on February 25-26.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

A 25-foot set shot by Bob Gruber with two seconds remaining gave Maine a 68-66 victory over Arlington . . . The Cards trailed by seven with 1:50 remaining when they rallied to knot the score . . . Ron Ashley was high for the losers with 17 points. . .

Both Undefeated in League Play

Knights Seek 9th Win in Row From Forest View Hoopsters

by MICHAEL HESS

Something's got to give at the top of Mid-Suburban League cage standings and that "give" will come tomorrow.

At the moment Prospect, Forest View and Palatine are knotted in front of the conference pack. Each owns a perfect 2-0 M-SL record.

Tomorrow (Friday) Knights host Falcons and Pirates face Wheeling. With such a game alignment at least one of the first place trio must fall.

Because Palatine should whip the 'Cats, victory is a necessity if a league leading tie is the goal of either Prospect or Forest View. Their meeting has assumed tremendous importance and both coaches know it.

"WE'LL HAVE TO be ready for anything," Dick Kinneman, the Knights headman stated. "This game will go a long way toward determining who wins the league championship."

"We'll have to play well this weekend," said Falcons director Ken Arneson. "This is going to be the biggest game we've played so far. They've gotten hot lately and we'll have to rise to the challenge."

TIME:
Junior varsity preliminary at 7:00 p.m.; varsity game at 8:15 p.m.
COACHES:
Forest View, Ken Arneson; Prospect, Dick Kinneman.

Prospect has indeed gotten hot lately. The Knights are currently riding the crest of an eight game winning streak. The last time they lost was December 17 when Glenbrook South beat them 74-61. Currently Kinneman's charges are 11-3 overall.

Last week Prospect won a pair of games by lop-sided counts. First came a 71-43 hammering of Wheeling and then a 74-56 stomping of Conant. Both margins could have been wider as Kinneman inserted reserves for both last quarters.

Forest View, in contrast, has continued its generally erratic pattern. The Falcons, since season's start, have won three, lost three, won four, lost two

Second Place Cards Host Glenbard West

by BOB FRISK

Arlington's red-hot Cardinals, off to one of the fastest starts in school history, launch their second and final trip around the West Suburban Conference Friday evening.

Streaking along with 10 victories in 13 games and a snappy five-game winning streak, coach Ted Wissen's Cardinals will entertain Glenbard West to kick off the second half schedule in league warfare.

Arlington will journey to Barrington Saturday for a non-conference engagement.

Wissen's entry enjoyed the first half of West Suburban play. They wrapped up five victories in seven games to gain sole possession of second place, burying a highly regarded La Grange team in the Lion gymnasium Saturday for that fifth win.

AVENGING ONE of their setbacks and strengthening their hold on second place in the league will be the primary objectives of the Cardinal quintet Friday in the home tussle with Glenbard West.

The rangy Hilltoppers whipped Arlington in an earlier meeting, 84-73, but the Cards suffered through a frigid night in the shooting department while still staying in contention.

Wissen was encouraged with the double victory last weekend, pointing to the rout of La Grange as Arlington's "top effort of the season."

"EVERYONE HELPED out," Wissen praised after he saw his club trip up Downers Grove by one point and shell La Grange. "We only had 10 turnovers in each game and shot well too. Now, if we can just keep going."

Wissen plans no changes in the alignment which has ignited this current surge. He'll still go with senior Pete Barker as his top reserve, shifting Steve Allen to a forward when Barker enters the lineup.

Barker came off the bench to score 22 points last weekend, hitting eight straight free throws to hike his charity mark for the season to 23-for-26.

ALLEN ENJOYED an impressive weekend, hitting Downers Grove with 17 points and La Grange with 27. Steve had 27 after three periods Saturday and there was a time when the school record of 38 (Jim Clabaugh, 1960) appeared

Bowlers Vie This Weekend

Hoffman Lanes Site of Action Saturday, Sunday

The spotlight shines on Joe Bowler this weekend.

One hundred and two teams, 510 bowlers, will assemble at Hoffman Lanes in Hoffman Estates Saturday and Sunday for the 15th edition of the popular Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap tournament for men.

The handicaps are the equalizers in the tourney that brings together the finest entries from 102 leagues in the Paddock circulation area. These are the bowlers who strive throughout the fall and early weeks of the winter to earn a berth in the Paddock headliner.

Competition will unfold at Hoffman Lanes, Route 72 and Roselle road in Hoffman Estates, at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. Four sessions will follow on Sunday at 12:30, 2:55, 5:20, and 7:45.

ENTRIES HAVE been processed, bowling and prize fees have been paid, scorekeepers hired, and the lanes are all set for the big tournament with hundreds of fans expected to watch the festivities.

League prestige is also at stake as the bowlers shoot for the large traveling trophy, five individual trophies, and an estimated $900 in team prizes.

Unofficial results of the tournament will be posted immediately following its conclusion Sunday evening. These results will be published in detail in the paper, but no prize money will be paid for about three weeks, pending verification of averages and checking of scores.

Tournaments for the women and mixed leagues will be held the following weekend at Striking Lanes in Mount Prospect. See separate story.

A POWER failure in the northwest suburban area hit the Paddock men's tourney last winter at Thunderbird Bowl and forced a switch in the concluding day of activity, a first in tournament history.

Rob Roy of the High Ridge men's league at Striking Lanes took home top honors in 1965 with a 3033 series, 13 pins ahead of runnerup Villa Pizzeria of the Wednesday Night Men's at Jeffery Lanes.

Rob Roy's triumph snapped a string of two straight championships by Paddock Classic League entries, but the Classic outfit looms as one of the strongest entries in the 1966 headliner.

Brass Rail Restaurant will represent the Paddock Classic and will shoot in the 12:30 p.m. squad Sunday.

THE TOP TEAM total ever registered in the Paddock men's meet was a 3166 by Highland Motors of the Paddock Classic in 1963. The lowest for a champion, with handicap, was the 2899 posted by Len & Sev's IGA in 1954.

The individual marks to shoot at are a 701 scratch series by Dave Catherwood and 279 single game by Walter Behm.

Lions Handle Cards' Units

St. Viator's powerful swimmers, unbeaten at both levels this season, rocked their neighbors to the west last Saturday.

Coach Charles Mondi's Lions had no trouble as they disposed of Arlington's varsity, 73-22, and the Cardinal frosh-sophs, 78-17.

St. Viator splashed to nine firsts on a varsity level with Rick Withrow and Fred Schmidt double winners.

Withrow ruled the middle distance freestyle with a 2:06.3 clocking and also topped the distance freestyle at 4:49.4.

SCHMIDT CAME up with a 2:26.3 in the individual medley, topping Arlington's John Erickson by less than two seconds, and scored another win in the butterfly at 1:07.

Other Lion firsts in the individual events were picked by Rene Tague in the 100 freestyle (52.4), Rick Kalinowski in the 100 breaststroke (1:10.6), and Ken Sophie in diving.

St. Viator topped both relays. Mike Gibler, Kalinowski, Joe Herrity, and John Massey worked on the medley unit which came up with a 1:53.9, and Bob Brown, Massey, Kevin Shea and Jim Cronin were on the freestyle unit (3:54).

ARLINGTON picked up two firsts to Dick Tucker in the 50 freestyle and Lowell Christy in the backstroke.

Tucker turned in one of his top efforts in flashing to a 23.7 clocking and nipping Tague by two-tenths of a second in the 50 freestyle. Christy had a fine 1:05.9 in the backstroke.

The frosh-soph meet also belonged to St. Viator with the Lions coming up with the firsts, yielding only to Arlington's Cary Oliver in the backstroke.

Collecting the wins for St. Viator were Bill McCaffrey in the 300 and 150 yard free, Ed Leadley in the 50 and 100 free, Lou Hibbs in the 100 individual medley, Dave Mullan in diving, Mike Kaminski in the 150 fly, and Mike Madden in the 50 breast.

St. Viator also topped both relays.

Arlington will journey to Niles East and St. Viator will host Holy Cross Saturday afternoon. The Holy Cross meet was scheduled for Jan. 22 when the engagement with Wheeling had to be dropped.

Summer Baseball Program Discussed

The fate of District 214 summer baseball program—subsidized or self-supporting will be considered by the high school district's board of education at an 8 p.m. meeting Monday in the administration building, 799 Kensington Road, Mount Prospect.

Summer baseball was tried by the district last summer for the first time, on a trial basis only and just at Forest View, at the urging of local coaches and area sports fans. A summer baseball program is needed to upgrade the quality of team play in the district, the board was told.

In approving the trial program, the board stipulated that it be self-supporting, from tuition paid by the boys participating. When enrollment in the program was smaller than expected — just 24 boys -- Forest View Athletic Director Bill Beckman authorized the supplying of funds needed to meet the deficit.

The total cost of the program, according to a report submitted, which the board will be considering Monday, was $721. The income, based on a $17 charge per boy, was $408.

Hal Sprehe, head baseball coach at Forest View, has recommended that the baseball program be continued with the same tuition charge and the district assuming other costs.

Cards Host Bard Quintet Friday

Dave Lockwood is still a question-mark. The junior forward, who has been bothered with a bad back, suited up for both games but didn't see any action. Dave now has missed five games.

Glenbard West will bring a dangerous club to town Friday evening. The Hilltoppers have good size and some deadly shooters.

KIRK BIGGS, a 6-5 senior who threw in 27 against Arlington the first time around, is the Bard scoring leader in league action with 117 points in seven games, a 16.7 average. Don Borling (6-0) is right behind with 113.

The Glen Ellyn entry features good balance with Todd Faulkner (13.0) and 6-6 Steve Rapp (12.0) also averaging in double figures in WSC play.

In addition to the win over Arlington, the Bards have also bumped Maine East (72-59), Downers Grove (73-71), and La Grange (81-79) in league activity.

BARRINGTON enjoys a 5-2 conference record in the North Suburban and could be tough to handle in its own gym Saturday.

The Broncos' main scorers have been Ron Hopkins (6-1), Rob Berghom (6-1), Mike Lewis (5-10), and Don Schumaker (6-0). Bill Van Wambeke (6-5), Ken McMillan (6-0), and Tim Cruttenden (5-9) also see extensive action.

Arlington tripped up Barrington on two occasions last winter but had difficulty in regional play before fashioning a 49-44 win.

Cards on Radio

WNWC Radio, 92.7 on the FM dial, will broadcast Arlington High School's non-conference game with Barrington Saturday. Game time is 8:30 p.m. Rick Van Pelt will call the play-by-play.

MARIAN PHILLIPS continues talking while looking at one of the trophies with Bob Paddock, with dozens of final details still pending in the women's and mixed tournaments at Striking Lanes Jan. 29-30. Men's event is all set for Hoffman Lanes this weekend. Marian and Tommie Scalzitti made over 1,000 calls in processing red tape for the tourney.

Defense is the Game

Wheeling Cage Unit Hosts Palatine Five

by MICHAEL HESS

Is the name of the game defense?

Palatine cagers have averaged 55.5 points a game this year and have allowed 55.4 markers per contest. The Pirates are 7-7.

Wheeling's quintet carries a scoring average of 55.0 and, to each opponent, has given up 67.0 points. The 'Cats campaign mark is 3-10.

Comparing point output (only .5 apart) and point permitted figures (11.6 separation) with records (a variance of four wins and three losses) the game's name as the two teams meet tomorrow (Friday) must be defense.

Outcome of the Palatine - Wheeling battle will depend on defense because, except for defensive performance and resultant victory-defeat showings, there's little difference between the two. In many ways they are the same.

BOTH TEAMS have two starters averaging in double figures.

The Pirates center, Dave Willy, has hit for 12.1 points each game while teammate Paul Kozlicki, a forward, produces at an 11.9 clip. A center, Scott Bischoff, and forward, Tom Neuckranz, also pace the Wildcats. Neuckranz carries a 13.1 average to go along with the 10.9 mark of Bischoff's.

Both teams have two other starters averaging just over eight points.

Randy McWilliams, a guard, and Jerry McCormick, a forward, own respective 8.8 and 8.4 averages for Palatine. Identical 8.8 figures belong to guards Rex Peterson and Mark Newman of Wheeling.

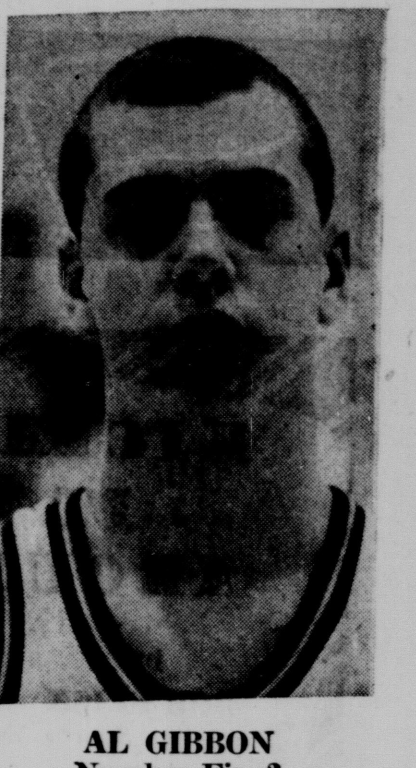
Both teams have been trying various personnel in the fifth starter's slot.

FOR THE Pirates the number five man this week will be junior guard Mike Ferguson. He doesn't score much but, says coach Bud Mueller, "Ferguson does a tremendous job on defense and he has helped us with his 13 assists and 26 recoveries. He hasn't played a great deal and we'd like him to take more shots."

Al Gibbon, senior forward, may be the one to fill out Wheeling's quintet due to recent good work as a sub. However, headman Mike Owens isn't sure about Gibbon's starting. "He did a good job for us last week," says Owens, "and he could be in there but there are three or four others who might also start."

Both teams have sixth and seventh players who have shown their value.

Acting as sixth man and as a starter for Palatine has been 6-3 junior Doug Spruance. He has shown some scoring potential and also pulled down 83 rebounds for the season, second high on his squad. Another 6-3 reserve who has done well for Mueller's club is Jerry Kissner.



AL GIBBON
Number Five?

Chief bench player for the Wildcats has been 5-11 forward Skip Grandt. He has averaged 7.4 points and around seven rebounds each contest in starting and reserve roles. Behind Grandt those who have seen considerable action are Jim Funk, Jerry Kerr and Tom Harwood.

BOTH TEAMS will be entering their third Mid-Suburban League contest but, due to defensive differences again, their conference records are considerably different.

Palatine whipped Conant 53-49 and Maine West 74-55 last week and is tied for the league lead with Prospect and Forest View. All three are 2-0. At 0-2 is Wheeling, which was pounded by Prospect 71-43 and Forest View 66-42 last week.

Both teams have similar shooting percentages from the floor. The Pirates have hit on almost 36 per cent of their goal tries while a 38 per cent tabulation is the Wildcats'. At the line there is a big variation as Palatine has connected on just a little over 50 per cent of its free throws and Wheeling is over 70 per cent on foul shots.

Against common opponents there is a vast difference between tomorrow's combatants, again mainly due to defense.

Both Palatine and Wheeling have been beaten by Glenbrook South, Maine South, Niles North and Deerfield. The Pirates have defeated Glenbrook North 48-44 and Niles West 54-37 while the Wildcats were whipped by GN 61-52 and NW 59-43. Both teams have topped Conant by four points.

"I DON'T know much about Wheeling," says coach Mueller. "I do know that with our record we can't afford to underestimate any opponent or to be at all overconfident. We do play better away from home but we'll have to cut down on our turnovers and improve our free throw shooting."

Stated host coach Owens: "I know that Palatine tries a fast break and I wouldn't be surprised to see them use a zone defense against us. We try certain things against a fast break and they've worked fairly well. We'll be trying to get better shots than we had last week and also to improve our defense."

"Defense" — that's the name of the game tomorrow at Wheeling.

Knights, Falcons To Battle Friday

FOR THE unblemished Mid-Suburban mark FV edged Maine West 51-48 last week and followed by destroying Wheeling 66-42. The affair with Maine was a nip and tuck struggle but it shouldn't have been since MW was 1-9 for the year. The poor showing prompted Arneson to change his starters to stop the 'Cats.

A sidelight of tomorrow's first place encounter will be the initial head-on meeting of two Paddock area standouts, Tom Lundstedt and Pat Dunnigan.

Lundstedt has tallied 314 points this season for a 22.4 average. He is shooting 58.8 per cent from the floor (113 of 192) and 73.9 per cent at the line (71 of 96). Lundstedt also has pulled down over 11 rebounds a game and has been playing a continually better floor game.

Dunnigan carries a 16.9 average for the season with 237 points scored. He has maintained his 10 rebounds a game average and is a rugged performer on defense. "I've got to put my best defensive player on Lundstedt," said Arneson, "and that's Dunnigan." Every player guarded man for man by Dunnigan this season has been held to less than his average.

In back of Lundstedt there is a less potent though very balanced attack.

GUARD J. D. Thorne has 133 points this campaign. He is followed by Dave Kingman, 103 points, Dan Agard, 98 points, Tom Beard, 91 points, Craig Wolf, 61 points, and Tony Kulasa, 56 points. Kingman and Wolf are not starters which gives Prospect one of the best sixth and seventh men around.

"Kingman has been developing very well," states Kinneman, and he and Wolf have been doing an extremely fine job for us." Those two made 34 points in very limited play

For Dunnigan the supporting cast has undergone a radical change.

Other openers against the Knights for FV will be juniors Howie Brasch and Bucky Jones and seniors Jim Buckholz and Bob Erlander. "They earned another chance to start," says Arneson. "They're hustling." Starting that new group means former regulars Jim Baumgardt, Jeff Grismer and Byron Borgardt willbe riding the bench.

Brasch play only 2½ quarters against Maine last week yet scored 10 points, got nine rebounds and made several key defensive plays. In the Wheeling battle he threw in 17 points, took down 13 rebounds and blocked five shots.

"BRASCH HAS come a long way," Arneson comments. "He's a strong rebounder and is beginning to shoot with authority. His defensive play has been very good."

Buuckholz totaled 24 points for his weekend of work, including 16 against Wheeling. Erlander and Jones turned in sparkling floor games and Jones put in four free throws which moved the Falcons ahead of Maine in the final minutes of their contest.

Knights Rated 18th in State

Prospect High School's cagers fell from 15th to 18th place in the Associated Press rating of Illinois prep basketball teams released on Tuesday. That drop of three places came despite two one-sided victories racked up by the Knights last weekend to make their record 11-3. Benton, carrying a 14-0 standard, retained first spot in the poll while York, 15-0, continued in second.

Come Back In Frenzied Game

Pirates Claim 53-49 Win Over Cougars

by KEN KNOX

Part Two in the continuing episode of the Pirates vs. the Cougars will be staged Friday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m. Don't miss it!

Those who witnessed Part One—portrayed last Friday evening in Palatine's Wood Street gym—are doubtless even now readying themselves for the next thrilling adventure.

In Part One—which was less a basketball game than it was an emotional experience—the Pirates triumphed over the forces from Hoffman Estates. They overcame an early and savage assault and were victorious in the end, 53-49, in the Mid-Suburban League opener for both.

But the question remains: were the Cougars left for dead? Were the arch-rivals vanquished with finality, or will they take revenge when the two match forces again on their ground three weeks hence?

THE ANSWER in this basketball melodrama must wait the final playing out of the roles. For the moment, there is only what has transpired, a searing clash that could not have better symbolized the essence of the Palatine-Conant tradition.

That the tradition, as young as it is, has already taken deep root could not be disputed. The contest was cloaked in an almost perpetual din, a wave of cacophony that ran from hisses to shrieks to bellows to roars, and which didn't subside until the pistol of timekeeper Tiny Bock signalled that it was at last at an end. At least for that evening.

There wasn't much to separate the two teams at the finish. Both contended with the frenzy that characterized the game with alternate streaks of splendid and sloppy basketball. Both put in 19 shots from the floor, Palatine in 47 chances, Conant in 54. Each had the lead on numerous occasions.

THE DIFFERENCE in the point spread was the result of free throws, and there's a touch of irony that the Pirates should have won that way. They produced as dismally from the foul line as they have at frequent moments this season. But Conant fouled 23 times, giving Palatine 31 free throw opportunities. The Pirates made 15 of them, a .486 standard. Conant hit a splendid .786 but had only 14 chances.

But more essentially, the difference was Palatine's ability to come back from adversity. The victors rebounded in the first period when Conant had them down 14-4 and threatened to run them off their own floor. They rebounded after the third period, when they had fallen behind again and had lost—on fouls—Randy McWilliams, the senior guard whose ball-stealing and play-making had much to do with Palatine staying in the game until then.

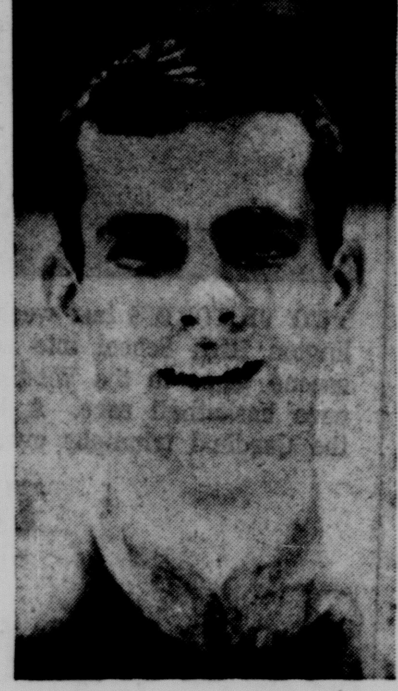
Conant, for its part, was handicapped by those two dozen fouls, especially by the four John Glasshof picked up in three quarters. His long artillery lobs, some from 30 feet out, were a grievous concern to Palatine for much of the game. As it was, he finished high for his team with 13 points, but missed some of the late action with his foul burden.

HIGH FOR THE game was Palatine's Dave Willy, who had 15 points. Most of those were in the second half, as he didn't get his first field goal until the last second ticked off in the first half, a moment when he put in a long desperation bomb that gave the Pirates a 29-28 halftime lead.

The Pirate scoring was carefully balanced though, as Jerry McCormick had 13 and Paul Kozlicki had 12 points. Each boy was judicious in how he applied his scoring.

The bulk of Kozlicki's came early, at the time when Palatine fought back from the first big handicap. McCormick—moved to a starting role for the tussle with his ex-teammates—had four of his points in the crucial last minutes of the game. They proved to be the clinchers.

THE TRUTH of the contest seemed to have been etched in the first quarter. Rol Berg's Cougars came out with a fury, took the opening tip and—with five seconds gone—converted it to a 2-0 lead on a short jumper by forward Bill Lunebach.



JERRY McCORMICK
The Clinchers

Before the first quarter was half over, Conant had put in seven baskets, with each member of the starting lineup contributing something. The Pirates were repeatedly guilty of turning over the ball before they could get a shot, and the Cougars ran the margin to 14-4.

At 3:30 Palatine's Bud Mueller took his charges off the floor for consultation. When they returned, it was to outscore the Cougars 10-1 during the rest of the period, with Kozlicki's six points the largest bulge.

PALATINE WENT ahead for the first time at the start of period two, when Kozlicki put one in from under the basket and McWilliams turned a steal into a layup. It stayed on even terms after that, through the third quarter until McWilliams went out.

For a moment then, it looked as if the Pirates would crumble. Jim Garcia—compliments of McWilliams' foul—plunked in two free throws to give Conant a 39-38 lead, and the Cougars followed that by thieving the ball and setting up a Walt Riley basket from the corner.

But the Pirates stayed close, keeping Conant to only three field goals in the fourth quarter while ruling the period 14-8. Conant had the lead the last time at 4:25, when Dick Helmmer's 20 foot set made it 47-46. Conant didn't score again until 1:00, when Helmer put one in from the key.

IN THE INTERIM, Willy followed the first Helmer basket by tapping in a rebound and McCormick launched his clinchers. The first was a layup at 3:20, following a rifle pass on the full run from guard Mike Ferguson. The second, after two minutes of trading the ball, was an arching shot from the corner of the floor.

That made it 52-47, and the game was played out after that with Helmer's basket and an effective Pirate stall, the passing of the ball beyond the frenzied fingertips of the Cougars until Ferguson was fouled at 0:02. He made one of two, and Part One of the episode was completed.

FV Jayvees Get 6th Win In Wrestling

Forst View's JV wrestlers extended their winning streak to six straight with a 38-13 trouncing of Wheeling last Saturday.

The Falcons junior varsity, undefeated this year, used pins, undefeated this year, usel pins, decisions, ties and default points to get their victory.

Taking pins for FV were Mark Beatty (103 pounds), Dale Hansen (112), Bob Urban (120), Bruce Lampert (165) and Hank Tasche (180). Don Dapplen (95) and Phil Reder (heavyweight) got the Forest View decisions while Mike Casey (138) tied and Stan Rohner (154) won by default.

Points for the losting 'Cats went to four different wrestlers. Thad Miklos (127) and Eric Meisenheimer (133) took decisions while Jim Owens (138) tied and Phil Peet (145) won by default.

Wheeling Frosh Handle Prospect In Cage Action

Outscoring Prospect in three of the four periods, Wheeling's freshman basketball team handled the Knights 52-41 last Saturday, improving their season mark to 4-3.

The Wildcats did the most damage to Prospect in the first and fourth quarters, scoring 15 points in each of those frames.

Carl Fricke led the winners with 18 points on eight field goals and two free throws. But there was team balance, as Ron King added 14 markers and Gary Salata 12.

Cougars Take 211 Mat Battle

It was the kind of wrestling match to be expected with Palatine and Conant meeting on the mats.

In a dual that wasn't finally decided until the next to the last challenge, the Cougars prevailed 23-21 in the Friday evening confrontation at Conant, the first mat meeting between the District 211 rivals.

So close was the match between Merv Miller's Cougars and John Ellis' Pirates that it came down to who had the most pins. Each team won five individual matches, and they tied two. But Conant had two pins to one for Palatine, and that represented the final margin.

The match almost ended in a tie at that. At 133 pounds, with Conant leading in the dual 10-8 at that point, the Cougars' Fred Krempl and Palatine's Howie Tuttle were locked in a 2-2 draw. But, with six seconds left, Krempl pulled a reversal on Tuttle and won 4-2. It gave Conant a 13-8 team lead, and Palatine could never quite catch up after that.

THE DUAL was the first of the Mid-Suburban League season for both squads. It put Conant's over-all mark through the first seven duals at 5-2, and left Palatine winless in the first eight duals.

The match began with the teams trading decisions. Jim Lynch won for Palatine by beating Mike Smith 6-3 at 95, but Tom Borthwick came back for Conant with a pinning of Brad Molinari at 103.

Palatine regained the advantage when Dave Bettinger (112) decisioned Mike Ferguson 5-0, but Bill Gluck put Conant back on top by whipping Dick Schupner 11-1 at 120.

It was all even at 127, with Palatine's Charlie Grayson and Conant's Bill Lee deadlocking 0-0. Then came the Krempl-Tuttle match, and Conant started to move away.

KEN ROBERTS won 2-1 over Bill Schroeder at 138 and Dennis Skoneczka pinned Bob Angleson at 145 to make the count Conant 21, Palatine 8. The Pirates cut that to 21-14 on decision wins by Dick Biddle over Dennis Szymkowski (154) and Bill Peterman over Steve Deutschman (165).

Conant had to have at least a tie at 180, or it would go down to the heavyweight decision. Conant got the tie, a 1-1 deadlock between the Cougars' Glen Volkening and Paul Dolik. It was needed too, because John Reed pinned Dennis Reynolds in 3:58 to bring Palatine within two points after the heavyweight match.

Frosh Matmen Win For FV Over Elk Grove

Forest View's freshman wrestlers dominated a dual meeting with Elk Grove's freshmen last week, running up a 46-2 final on the Forest View mats.

The only points for EG, which had to forfeit at 138, 154 and 165, came at 120 pounds, where Dan Austin tied Dave Derezotes 1-1.

Falcons Frosh Beat Elk Grove On Foul Shots

Free throws made a big difference in a freshman basketball clash between Forest View and Elk Grove last week.

The Falcons cashed in on 27 EG fouls, turning them into 21 free throws. Elk Grove hit only four from the line, and that was almost the margin in a 55-36 FV win.

Forest View also demonstrated an effective half-court zone press that prevented EG from setting up its offense and from getting under the basket for close shots.

High for the Falcons and the game was Thor Hibbler, whose 17 points included 13 free throws. Keith Bauer had 15 and John Calvello eight points for the winners, while for Elk Grove Gary Pleickhardt had 11 points and Joe Kalisz and Ray Davidson seven each.

In a frosh B game, Forest View also won, 41-22.

Dave Lockwood is still a question-mark. The junior forward, who has been bothered with a bad back, suited up for both games but didn't see any action. Dave now has missed five games.

Glenbard West will bring a dangerous club to town Friday evening. The Hilltoppers have good size and some deadly shooters.

KIRK BIGGS, a 6-5 senior who threw in 27 against Arlington the first time around, is the Bard scoring leader in league action with 117 points in seven games, a 16.7 average. Don Borling (6-0) is right behind with 113.

The Glen Ellyn entry features good balance with Todd Faulkner (13.0) and 6-6 Steve Rapp (12.0) also averaging in double figures in WSC play.

In addition to the win over Arlington, the Bards have also bumped Maine East (72-59), Downers Grove (73-71), and La Grange (81-79) in league activity.

BARRINGTON enjoys a 5-2 conference record in the North Suburban and could be tough to handle in its own gym Saturday.

The Broncos' main scorers have been Ron Hopkins (6-1), Rob Berghom (6-1), Mike Lewis (5-10), and Don Schumaker (6-0). Bill Van Wambeke (6-5), Ken McMillan (6-0), and Tim Cruttenden (5-9) also see extensive action.

Arlington tripped up Barrington on two occasions last winter but had difficulty in regional play before fashioning a 49-44 win.

Cards on Radio

WNWC Radio, 92.7 on the FM dial, will broadcast Arlington High School's non-conference game with Barrington Saturday. Game time is 8:30 p.m. Rick Van Pelt will call the play-by-play.

MARIAN PHILLIPS continues talking while looking at one of the trophies with Bob Paddock, with dozens of final details still pending in the women's and mixed tournaments at Striking Lanes Jan. 29-30. Men's event is all set for Hoffman Lanes this weekend. Marian and Tommie Scalzitti made over 1,000 calls in processing red tape for the tourney.

Knights, Falcons To Battle Friday

FOR THE unblemished Mid-Suburban mark FV edged Maine West 51-48 last week and followed by destroying Wheeling 66-42. The affair with Maine was a nip and tuck struggle but it shouldn't have been since MW was 1-9 for the year. The poor showing prompted Arneson to change his starters to stop the 'Cats.

A sidelight of tomorrow's first place encounter will be the initial head-on meeting of two Paddock area standouts, Tom Lundstedt and Pat Dunnigan.

Lundstedt has tallied 314 points this season for a 22.4 average. He is shooting 58.8 per cent from the floor (113 of 192) and 73.9 per cent at the line (71 of 96). Lundstedt also has pulled down over 11 rebounds a game and has been playing a continually better floor game.

Dunnigan carries a 16.9 average for the season with 237 points scored. He has maintained his 10 rebounds a game average and is a rugged performer on defense. "I've got to put my best defensive player on Lundstedt," said Arneson, "and that's Dunnigan." Every player guarded man for man by Dunnigan this season has been held to less than his average.

In back of Lundstedt there is a less potent though very balanced attack.

GUARD J. D. Thorne has 133 points this campaign. He is followed by Dave Kingman, 103 points, Dan Agard, 98 points, Tom Beard, 91 points, Craig Wolf, 61 points, and Tony Kulasa, 56 points. Kingman and Wolf are not starters which gives Prospect one of the best sixth and seventh men around.

"Kingman has been developing very well," states Kinneman, and he and Wolf have been doing an extremely fine job for us." Those two made 34 points in very limited play

For Dunnigan the supporting cast has undergone a radical change.

Other openers against the Knights for FV will be juniors Howie Brasch and Bucky Jones and seniors Jim Buckholz and Bob Erlander. "They earned another chance to start," says Arneson. "They're hustling." Starting that new group means former regulars Jim Baumgardt, Jeff Grismer and Byron Borgardt willbe riding the bench.

Brasch play only 2½ quarters against Maine last week yet scored 10 points, got nine rebounds and made several key defensive plays. In the Wheeling battle he threw in 17 points, took down 13 rebounds and blocked five shots.

"BRASCH HAS come a long way," Arneson comments. "He's a strong rebounder and is beginning to shoot with authority. His defensive play has been very good."

Buuckholz totaled 24 points for his weekend of work, including 16 against Wheeling. Erlander and Jones turned in sparkling floor games and Jones put in four free throws which moved the Falcons ahead of Maine in the final minutes of their contest.

Knights Rated 18th in State

Prospect High School's cagers fell from 15th to 18th place in the Associated Press rating of Illinois prep basketball teams released on Tuesday. That drop of three places came despite two one-sided victories racked up by the Knights last weekend to make their record 11-3. Benton, carrying a 14-0 standard, retained first spot in the poll while York, 15-0, continued in second.

Come Back In Frenzied Game

by KEN KNOX

Part Two in the continuing episode of the Pirates vs. the Cougars will be staged Friday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m. Don't miss it!

Those who witnessed Part One—portrayed last Friday evening in Palatine's Wood Street gym—are doubtless even now readying themselves for the next thrilling adventure.

In Part One—which was less a basketball game than it was an emotional experience—the Pirates triumphed over the forces from Hoffman Estates. They overcame an early and savage assault and were victorious in the end, 53-49, in the Mid-Suburban League opener for both.

But the question remains: were the Cougars left for dead? Were the arch-rivals vanquished with finality, or will they take revenge when the two match forces again on their ground three weeks hence?

THE ANSWER in this basketball melodrama must wait the final playing out of the roles. For the moment, there is only what has transpired, a searing clash that could not have better symbolized the essence of the Palatine-Conant tradition.

That the tradition, as young as it is, has already taken deep root could not be disputed. The contest was cloaked in an almost perpetual din, a wave of cacophony that ran from hisses to shrieks to bellows to roars, and which didn't subside until the pistol of timekeeper Tiny Bock signalled that it was at last at an end. At least for that evening.

There wasn't much to separate the two teams at the finish. Both contended with the frenzy that characterized the game with alternate streaks of splendid and sloppy basketball. Both put in 19 shots from the floor, Palatine in 47 chances, Conant in 54. Each had the lead on numerous occasions.

THE DIFFERENCE in the point spread was the result of free throws, and there's a touch of irony that the Pirates should have won that way. They produced as dismally from the foul line as they have at frequent moments this season. But Conant fouled 23 times, giving Palatine 31 free throw opportunities. The Pirates made 15 of them, a .486 standard. Conant hit a splendid .786 but had only 14 chances.

But more essentially, the difference was Palatine's ability to come back from adversity. The victors rebounded in the first period when Conant had them down 14-4 and threatened to run them off their own floor. They rebounded after the third period, when they had fallen behind again and had lost—on fouls—Randy McWilliams, the senior guard whose ball-stealing and play-making had much to do with Palatine staying in the game until then.

FV Jayvees Get 6th Win In Wrestling

Wheeling Frosh Handle Prospect In Cage Action

Outscoring Prospect in three of the four periods, Wheeling's freshman basketball team handled the Knights 52-41 last Saturday, improving their season mark to 4-3.

The Wildcats did the most damage to Prospect in the first and fourth quarters, scoring 15 points in each of those frames.

Carl Fricke led the winners with 18 points on eight field goals and two free throws. But there was team balance, as Ron King added 14 markers and Gary Salata 12.

Defense is the Game

Wheeling Cage Unit Hosts Palatine Five

by MICHAEL HESS

Is the name of the game defense?

Palatine cagers have averaged 55.5 points a game this year and have allowed 55.4 markers per contest. The Pirates are 7-7.

Wheeling's quintet carries a scoring average of 55.0 and, to each opponent, has given up 67.0 points. The 'Cats campaign mark is 3-10.

Comparing point output (only .5 apart) and point permitted figures (11.6 separation) with records (a variance of four wins and three losses) the game's name as the two teams meet tomorrow (Friday) must be defense.

Outcome of the Palatine - Wheeling battle will depend on defense because, except for defensive performance and resultant victory-defeat showings, there's little difference between the two. In many ways they are the same.

BOTH TEAMS have two starters averaging in double figures.

The Pirates center, Dave Willy, has hit for 12.1 points each game while teammate Paul Kozlicki, a forward, produces at an 11.9 clip. A center, Scott Bischoff, and forward, Tom Neuckranz, also pace the Wildcats. Neuckranz carries a 13.1 average to go along with the 10.9 mark of Bischoff's.

Both teams have two other starters averaging just over eight points.

Randy McWilliams, a guard, and Jerry McCormick, a forward, own respective 8.8 and 8.4 averages for Palatine. Identical 8.8 figures belong to guards Rex Peterson and Mark Newman of Wheeling.

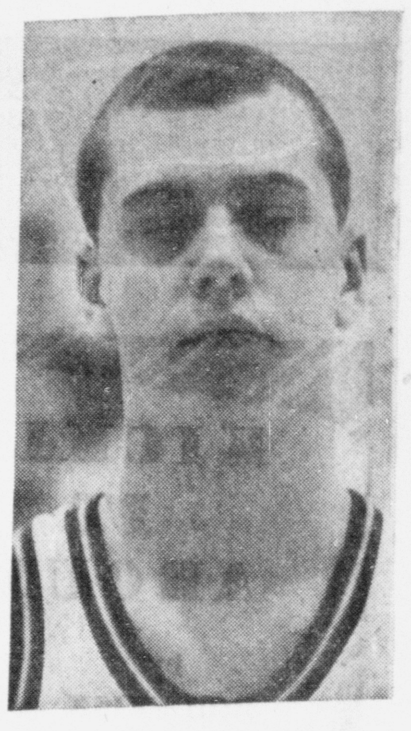
Both teams have been trying various personnel in the fifth starter's slot.

FOR THE Pirates the number five man this week will be junior guard Mike Ferguson. He doesn't score much but, says coach Bud Mueller, "Ferguson does a tremendous job on defense and he has helped us with his 13 assists and 26 recoveries. He hasn't played a great deal and we'd like him to take more shots."

Al Gibbon, senior forward, may be the one to fill out Wheeling's quintet due to recent good work as a sub. However, headman Mike Owens isn't sure about Gibbon's starting. "He did a good job for us last week," says Owens, "and he could be in there but there are three or four others who might also start."

Both teams have sixth and seventh players who have shown their value.

Acting as sixth man and as a starter for Palatine has been 6-3 junior Doug Spruance. He has shown some scoring potential and also pulled down 83 rebounds for the season, second high on his squad. Another 6-3 reserve who has done well for Mueller's club is Jerry Kissner.



AL GIBBON
Number Five?

Chief bench player for the Wildcats has been 5-11 forward Skip Grandt. He has averaged 7.4 points and around seven rebounds each contest in starting and reserve roles. Behind Grandt those who have seen considerable action are Jim Funk, Jerry Kerr and Tom Harwood.

BOTH TEAMS will be entering their third Mid-Suburban League contest but, due to defensive differences again, their conference records are considerably different.

Palatine whipped Conant 53-49 and Maine West 74-55 last week and is tied for the league lead with Prospect and Forest View. All three are 2-0. At 0-2 is Wheeling, which was pounded by Prospect 71-43 and Forest View 66-42 last week.

Both teams have similar shooting percentages from the floor. The Pirates have hit on almost 36 per cent of their goal tries while a 38 per cent tabulation is the Wildcats'. At the line there is a big variation as Palatine has connected on just a little over 50 per cent of its free throws and Wheeling is over 70 per cent on foul shots.

Against common opponents there is a vast difference between tomorrow's combatants, again mainly due to defense.

Both Palatine and Wheeling have been beaten by Glenbrook South, Maine South, Niles North and Deerfield. The Pirates have defeated Glenbrook North 48-44 and Niles West 54-37 while the Wildcats were whipped by GN 61-52 and NW 59-43. Both teams have topped Conant by four points.

"I DON'T know much about Wheeling," says coach Mueller. "I do know that with our record we can't afford to underestimate any opponent or to be at all overconfident. We do play better away from home but we'll have to cut down on our turnovers and improve our free throw shooting."

Stated host coach Owens: "I know that Palatine tries a fast break and I wouldn't be surprised to see them use a zone defense against us. We try certain things against a fast break and they've worked fairly well. We'll be trying to get better shots than we had last week and also to improve our defense."

"Defense" — that's the name of the game tomorrow at Wheeling.

Cougars Take 211 Mat Battle

It was the kind of wrestling match to be expected with Palatine and Conant meeting on the mats.

In a dual that wasn't finally decided until the next to the last challenge, the Cougars prevailed 23-21 in the Friday evening confrontation at Conant, the first mat meeting between the District 211 rivals.

So close was the match between Merv Miller's Cougars and John Ellis' Pirates that it came down to who had the most pins. Each team won five individual matches, and they tied two. But Conant had two pins to one for Palatine, and that represented the final margin.

The match almost ended in a tie at that. At 133 pounds, with Conant leading in the dual 10-8 at that point, the Cougars' Fred Krempl and Palatine's Howie Tuttle were locked in a 2-2 draw. But, with six seconds left, Krempl pulled a reversal on Tuttle and won 4-2. It gave Conant a 13-8 team lead, and Palatine could never quite catch up after that.

THE DUAL was the first of the Mid-Suburban League season for both squads. It put Conant's over-all mark through the first seven duals at 5-2, and left Palatine winless in the first eight duals.

The match began with the teams trading decisions. Jim Lynch won for Palatine by beating Mike Smith 6-3 at 95, but Tom Borthwick came back for Conant with a pinning of Brad Molinari at 103.

Palatine regained the advantage when Dave Bettinger (112) decisioned Mike Ferguson 5-0, but Bill Gluck put Conant back on top by whipping Dick Schupner 11-1 at 120.

It was all even at 127, with Palatine's Charlie Grayson and Conant's Bill Lee deadlocking 0-0. Then came the Krempl-Tuttle match, and Conant started to move away.

KEN ROBERTS won 2-1 over Bill Schroeder at 138 and Dennis Skoneczka pinned Bob Angleson at 145 to make the count Conant 21, Palatine 8. The Pirates cut that to 21-14 on decision wins by Dick Biddle over Dennis Szymkowski (154) and Bill Peterman over Steve Deutschman (165).

Conant had to have at least a tie at 180, or it would go down to the heavyweight decision. Conant got the tie, a 1-1 deadlock between the Cougars' Glen Volkening and Paul Dolik. It was needed too, because John Reed pinned Dennis Reynolds in 3:58 to bring Palatine within two points after the heavyweight match.

Frosh Matmen Win For FV Over Elk Grove

Forest View's freshman wrestlers dominated a dual meeting with Elk Grove's freshmen last week, running up a 46-2 final on the Forest View mats.

The only points for EG, which had to forfeit at 138, 154 and 165, came at 120 pounds, where Dan Austin tied Dave Derezotes 1-1.

Falcons Frosh Beat Elk Grove On Foul Shots

Free throws made a big difference in a freshman basketball clash between Forest View and Elk Grove last week.

The Falcons cashed in on 27 EG fouls, turning them into 21 free throws. Elk Grove hit only four from the line, and that was almost the margin in a 55-36 FV win.

Forest View also demonstrated an effective half-court zone press that prevented EG from setting up its offense and from getting under the basket for close shots.

High for the Falcons and the game was Thor Hibbler, whose 17 points included 13 free throws. Keith Bauer had 15 and John Calvello eight points for the winners, while for Elk Grove Gary Pleickhardt had 11 points and Joe Kalisz and Ray Davidson seven each.

In a frosh B game, Forest View also won, 41-22.

Shamrocks to Visit Lions' Gym Friday

by BOB FRISK

Max Kurland doesn't need to remind his St. Patrick Shamrocks that they have more than JUST ONE game to play this weekend.

It's true highly regarded St. Pat's tangles with rugged DeLaSalle Saturday evening in a bout that should attract state-wide interest, but Kurland is well aware that he must visit Arlington Heights on Friday.

And that game with St. Viator can't be taken lightly by this high - flying Shamrock quintet which has wrapped up 12 victories in 14 games.

The last time St Patrick visited St. Viator they were happy to escape with a 57-56 decision.

"We'll need the type of game we played last year," says Lion coach Larry Nomellini. "They've got another nice ball club, but we'll be ready."

NOMELLINI knows that Friday's contest could play a vital role in the Lions' progress during the remainder of the campaign. A victory could be just what's needed to pump some new life into the St. Viator hardwood machine.

Nomellini will take his charges to St. Joseph in Westchester Saturday evening for a third crack at the Chargers. St. Joseph owns 66-52 and 69-63 wins over the Lions but beating a club for the third time can be a demanding assignment.

St. Viator emerged with a split last weekend, falling before powerful DeLaSalle on Friday 56-41 but rebounding with a 77-62 shellacking of St. George Saturday. The Lions are tied with St. Mel for second place in the Chicagoland division, one game between the unbeaten co-leaders, St. Pat's and DeLaSalle.

"WE JUST couldn't put the ball in the basket at DeLaSalle," Nomellini pointed out. "We did not have many floor errors and had five more shots but two less baskets. Their biggest asset is their strength on the boards and yet we were fairly even in rebounding."

St. Viator zeroed in before the home fans Saturday, hitting 35 of 59 shots in the victory, but was guilty of 26 turnovers in a loosely - played game. "We had far too many fundamental violations," Nomellini said.

Paul Dumke and Frank Hogan, the Lions' top league scorers, now own 72 points in four games to share second place behind Don Geist of St. George who has 73. Frank Stankiewicz of St. Ignatius and John Ryan of St. Mel have 71 each in what is developing into a torrid race for league scoring honors.

ST. PATRICK will bring a squad with good balance to town Friday with 6-4 senior John Lucas to team point-producer in Chicagoland play with 64 points in four games.

Joe Burke (6-7), the only other senior in the Shamrock alignment and sophomore flash Carlos Martinez (6-0) are next in line with 52 each. Burke was checked with five by St. Ignatius last Saturday as St. Pat's was extended to the limit before winning, 53-51.

Junior Tony Bertucca (5-11) and junior Charles Hampton (5-10) round out the Shamrock starting five.

In league play St. Pat's owns victories over Holy Cross (63-54), St. George (75-55), St. Mel (77-50), and St. Ignatius.

ST. JOSEPH, the Lions' opponent Saturday, is 2-2 in the league and has been in a mild slump after streaking to six straight wins at the outset of the season.

The Chargers' big man is 6-4 center Tom Miller, who has 63 points in Chicagoland action with a high of 23 against Holy Cross.

St. Joseph has league wins over Holy Cross (80-61) and St. George (47-39). They've dropped decisions to St. Mel (80-62) and DeLaSalle (78-51).

TWO MORE POINTS for Steve Allen. Arlington High School's 6-3 sharpshooter uncorks a jump shot from the side in West Suburban Conference battle with Downers Grove last Friday evening. Allen connected this time, one of eight baskets for the junior in the game, to push Arlington into a 37-35 lead. The Cards nipped Downers in the final seconds by one point and went on to rip LaGrange Saturday evening. Allen had 45 points in the doubleheader. (Staff Photo)

Five Straight for Cards

Trojans, Lions Fall To Arlington Varsity

By BOB FRISK

Pass the word. Arlington's got a good thing going.

The red-hot varsity Cardinals treated their fans to a cliff-hanger at home and an unexpected breather on the road as they enjoyed their biggest weekend of the 1965-66 season.

Coach Ted Wissen's outfit, now sporting a handsome five-game winning streak and 10-3 standard, climbed into sole possession of second place in the West Suburban with a 65-64 conquest of Downers Grove and 64-49 shelling of LaGrange.

ANY BASKETBALL script usually calls for a club to have more difficulty on the road, but that wasn't the case with Arlington last weekend. The Cards thoroughly enjoyed their visit to LaGrange Saturday evening.

Through the years Arlington teams have encountered difficulty in their engagements in the Lion gymnasium, but the current edition made its final visit a memorable one.

Steve Allen, who suffered through one of the coldest evenings of his career last season at LaGrange, treated the fans to a dazzling exhibition of marksmanship as he poured through 10 baskets and seven free throws for 27 points.

ALLEN, WHO certainly turned in an all-conference performance through the first half of league play, was the ring-leader in a second period flurry Saturday that pulled the Cards into a lead they never relinquished.

The two clubs started slowly, and LaGrange held a four-point lead before Allen hit from 10 feet and Jim Jorgensen from 20 to pull the Cards into a 10-10 deadlock at the end of one period.

Allen took over in the second quarter, throwing in five baskets and three free throws, to guide Arlington into a 29-25 advantage at the break. The Cards outscored their hosts 15-5 at one stretch.

LaGRANGE FIRED up 43 shots in the first half but only connected nine times as they experienced the same problems that plagued them in a loss to Glenbard West the previous night. The Lions blew a 16-point lead in that one.

Allen didn't cool off in the third quarter, and Arlington shot into a commanding lead. Jim Donchess scored on a free throw and Bruce Hubbard hit a short jumper to ignite the explosion.

Allen had 12 more points in that third stanza, dumping in four baskets, and when he buzzed one through with 30 seconds remaining Arlington enjoyed a 56-35 lead.

PETE BARKER, who came off the bench to turn in another solid effort, chipped in with six points and Donchess dialed five in that third period which saw Arlington outscore LaGrange 27-10.

The fourth period didn't offer much for the fans. The Lions were dead.

Allen's 27 topped both teams. Barker was next in line with 12, hitting six straight from the free throw line to give him 20 out of his last 21 from the charity stripe this season.

ALLEN AND Donchess, who clicked 10 times for 107 yards as a quarterback-end combination last fall, clicked with five seconds remaining Friday evening to give Arlington a thrilling 65-64 victory over Downers Grove.

The clincher came 20 seconds after a Cardinal timeout with Downers nursing a one-point lead. The ball exchanged hands nine times before Allen fired a perfect pass to Donchess under the basket. Jim pushed in the layup.

Downers called a time out and set up a final shot, but the ball bounced off at the buzzer.

Both clubs were red-hot from the field. The Cards hit 29 of 59, a .492 mark, and Downers connected 28 times in 55 cracks for a .509 standard.

FROM THE OUTSET Arlington and Downers exchanged blows with the fans anticipating a battle to the wire.

The Cards jumped on top 18-13 after one period with Terry Townley firing in five baskets, but Downers rallied to knot the count at halftime. The Trojans shot out to a seven-point lead late in the third quarter and held a six-point bulge heading into the concluding stanza.

Arlington fought back on a 17-footer by Allen, jumper from the side by Jorgensen, and free throw by Jorgensen and sailed into the lead again when Barker netted two 10-footers within 40 seconds.

DONCHESS' LAYUP gave Arlington a 59-57 lead with 3:04 remaining, but Bud Bocker hit a three-pointer to push the Trojans back on top.

It was a sign of things to come when Allen hit Donchess with a nifty pass for an easy layup to give Arlington another lead, but Bocker went to the line seconds later on a disputed foul and hit two more.

With 50 seconds remaining Joe Radosevich pumped one through to give Downers a 64-61 lead, and now the Cards were in serious trouble. Jorgensen zeroed in from the side with 41 seconds left to bring the Cardinal fans back to their feet.

Radosevich went to the line on a one-and-one with 32 seconds showing on the clock but missed the first toss, and Hubbard cleared the rebound for Arlington.

Wissen called a time out, and the strategy unfolded.

Barker took the ball in and whipped a pass to Allen. Back to Barker . .to Allen . . . to Barker . . .to Allen . . to Jorgensen . . . to Donchess . . . to Allen . . back to Barker . . .to Allen . And then to Donchess!

First Since '59

Arlington's victory over LaGrange Saturday evening was its first in the Lion gymnasium since Jan. 17, 1959. The Cards had dropped six straight games at LaGrange. George Bork sparked the 1959 triumph, hitting 11 of 12 shots from the floor, as Arlington won, 72-62.

Hippensteel Stars

FV Gymnasts Split 2 Meets

Brilliant performance by Dave Hippensteel paced Forest View gymnasts to a split in action held last weekend.

Hippensteel took two firsts and a fifth as the Falcons lost to Maine West 70-61 on Friday. Then, on Saturday, Hippensteel got another pair of firsts and a fourth as FV whipped Oak Lawn 69-63.

Against Maine the trampoline and rings events were taken by Hippensteel. He won on the tramp with a score of 131 and on the rings with a 110. His fifth was on the horizontal bar.

Other first for Forest View against MW went to Mike Damore. He registered a top showing on the side horse with a judges rating of 117.

ED WILHUESEN, Len Pergander, Tony Damico and Jim Olmon also did well for FV coach Gay Hughes against Maine. Wilhuesen was third in tumbling while other third went to Pergander on the parallel bars, Damico on the tramp and Olmon on the H-bar.

For Hippensteel his showing against Oak Lawn also resulted in firsts on the tramp and rings. He registered a 143 on the tramp, the seventh straight time this season he has won in that event, and had a 123 on rings. He was fourth on the high bar.

Also repeating against OL was Damore who gained his fifth first of the campaign on the horse. He was scored at 120 for the front position.

Taking seconds for Forest View were Olmon, on the H-bar, Bill Wineland, on the P-bars, Wilhuesen, in tumbling, and Paul Jay on the horse. Thirds on the high bar, horse and in tumbling went to Rick Furst, Dave Cook and Damico respectively.

With those two meet results the Falcons' dual meet record was shifted to 4-3. FV is 0-1 in the Mid-Suburban League after the conference opening defeat by Maine.

AT THE FROSH-SOPH level there were two victories for Forest View. The younger Falcons topped Maine 74-57 and then stopped Oak Lawn 80½-51½. Leading the victors were Gregg Murphy, Roger Kratowicz and Bill Bell.

Murphy won in tumbling in both meets while both Kratowicz and Bell were tops in both meets on the high bar and rings. Other firsts for FV in the two meets went to Gary Dimas and Glenn Owsiany on the tramp, Dale Simon on the horse and Mike Sanders on parallel bars.

The frosh soph season record is now 5-2 overall and 1-0 in the M-SL.

Next meets for Forest View's gym squad will be tomorrow (Friday) when they host Prospect at 4:15 p.m. and Saturday when Wheaton North will travel to FV at 2 p.m.

Knights Rip 'Cats For First League Win

by MARV PRELLBERG JR.

The Prospect High varsity basketball squad settled down to the first order of business for 1966—that of beginning its quest for a Mid-Suburban League cage title.

The state-ranked Knights opened their title drive by playing host to a scrappy but outmatched group of Wheeling cagers last Friday night in the conference grand-opener. Coach Dick Kinneman's Prospect aggregation completely dominated the game, and when the workout was over the Knights claimed a convincing 71-43 victory.

The win was the seventh straight for Prospect, and it followed the same pattern as in the other recent conquests. The Knights shot at a 50 per cent figure in the field goal department, had a tough defense, controlled the rebounding against the smaller Wildcat performers, and again featured an eye-opening performance by its ace forward-center Tom Lundstedt.

THE 6-3 junior awed the cage fans in attendance with his offensive moves and his ability to reach impressive heights in his scrap for the rebounds.

Lundstedt continued to increase his 22.7 points per game average, as he ended up his duties at the end of the third quarter with 27 points. He tallied on 12 of 14 field goal attempts and hit on all three of his charity toss tries.

The majority of his field goals came on close in shots, but the big junior also showed his touch on a couple of attempts from around the free-throw circle.

HIS SCORING power was evident at the end of the first half, when the official score book showed Lundstedt 20-Wheeling High 19.

Prospect's height advantage showed up prominently in the team field goal attempt statistics. The Knights managed to get away 66 field goal shots compared to the Wildcats' 44.

Since the turnover figures on both teams were comparable, this rebounding advantage was the important factor in the field goal attempts department. While Prospect was hitting at a 50 per cent clip, Wheeling was forced into numerous long range shots by the Knight defenders which resulted in an unimpressive 34 per cent shooting average.

DAN AGARD'S basket started the Prospect machine rolling in the opening seconds of the first quarter. After a brief tie at 4-4 the Knights went into a quick 10-4 lead on two baskets by Lundstedt and one by J. D. Thorne and from that point continued to stretch its margin.

Prospect took a 23-10 lead with them when the second period of play got under way, and with Lundstedt's 13 points leading the way raced out to a comfortable 47-19 halftime lead. Lundstedt at one stretch in this quarter swished the nets for 10 straight Prospect tallies.

The Prospect dominance continued in the third quarter, as it outscored Wheeling 18-10. At the end of this frame the Knights led 65-29, and Coach Kinneman pulled his regulars out of action for the balance of the evening.

THE FOURTH quarter scoring pace was slowed down considerably, as Prospect substitutes took charge of the Knight affairs and Wheeling mentor Mike Owens began to experiment with several different Wildcat combinations.

The Wheeling five made up a little slack in this final quarter by outpointing the host team 14-6. Wildcat substitute Al Gibbon turned in a creditable job, as he chipped in with seven of his team's fourth period points.

When the final buzzer sounded the end of the game, the scoreboard indicated a 71-43 Prospect victory. Lundstedt's 27 points looked out of place in a scorebook that showed the game's next high point man being Wheeling guard Mark Newman with 10 points.

New School In Need Of Opponents

The search is on by Palatine High School athletic officials for some football and basketball competition.

With the district's third high school — the Fremd School at 1000 S. Quentin Road — slated to begin operating as a separate four-year school in the 1967-68 school year, certain gaps have to be filled in the athletic schedule.

The school needs a varsity football opponent for Sept. 16, 1967, and four varsity basketball opponents for the 67-68 season. Two home and two away basketball opponents are being sought.

Any athletic officials in this suburban area interested in scheduling the games have been asked to contact Athletic Director J. E. Stutzman at the Palatine High School, 150 E. Wood Dt., telephone 358-6111.

Varsity Also Wins

Perfect Score for St. Viator's Sophs

A perfect meet or "shutout" in high school swimming is when you whip an opponent, 86-9.

St. Viator's powerful sophomore swimmers accomplished this feat last Friday as they buried St. George High School, racking up eleven firsts and eleven seconds.

The Lion varsity didn't do too bad either, crushing the outmanned Dragons of Evanston, 71-24.

The victories kept the locals' unbeaten strings alive.

Rick Withrow, Rene Tague, and Jim Spears gave the varsity Lions double victories.

Withrow showed wins in the 200 yard freestyle and 400 free, Tague in the 50 and 100 free, and Spears in the 200 individual medley and breaststroke.

Dave Chantry topped the diving alignment, and Joe Herity came through with a win in the 100 fly.

St. Viator's victorious relay teams were made up of Mike Gibler, Rick Kalinowski, Joe Herrity, and John Massey in the 200 medley relay and Kevin Shea, Bob Brown, Jim Cronin, and Massey in the 400 free.

Individual winners for the Lion sophs were Bill McCaffrey, Ed Leadley, Fred Schmidt, Mullan, Kaminski, McMahon, and Mike Madden.

Cards Capture Sixth Victory

Arlington isn't particular about conference affiliations of its victims in varsity gymnastics.

Coach Tom Walthouse's Cardinals added a Suburban League entry to their impressive list Saturday as they overpowered New Trier, 83-49.

The victory was the sixth straight for Arlington in varsity duals. The frosh-sophs won 84.5-43.5 to run their streak to six in a row.

Arlington now has toppled opponents from the Suburban League, Mid-Suburban, Central Suburban, and West Suburban. The Cards will get back into West Suburban action this Saturday when they journey to LaGrange.

VERSATILE BERT Schmitt missed the battle with New Trier with a shoulder injury, but the Cards still had no trouble coasting to a 34-point victory.

Jim Johannensen was the leader once again as he personally accounted for 23 points, scoring with firsts on the high bar, parallel bar and in tumbling and with a fifth on the still rings.

Johannensen was in superb form on the parallel bar as he earned ratings of 95-87 for a sparkling 182. He topped the high bar with a 171 and tumbling with a 156.

TOM RIESING got back into action after sitting out the Maine East meet with an injury, and he ruled the trampolinists Saturday with a fine 169 routine. Steve LeVan topped the side horse at 151, and Roy Rettburg came through with a 92-85—177 for a win on the still rings.

Wayne Crockett and Lee Brown were the pace-setters for the victorious Cardinal frosh-sophs.

Crockett scored 15 points with a first on the rings, second on the side horse, and fourth on the parallel bars, and Brown collected 14 with firsts on the high bar and parallel bars.

Other Arlington firsts were picked up by Vaughn Abbott on the trampoline, Doug Atkins on the side horse, and Bill St. John in tumbling.

"We'll need the type of game we played last year," says Lion coach Larry Nomellini. "They've got another nice ball club, but we'll be ready."

NOMELLINI knows that Friday's contest could play a vital role in the Lions' progress during the remainder of the campaign. A victory could be just what's needed to pump some new life into the St. Viator hardwood machine.

Nomellini will take his charges to St. Joseph in Westchester Saturday evening for a third crack at the Chargers. St. Joseph owns 66-52 and 69-63 wins over the Lions but beating a club for the third time can be a demanding assignment.

St. Viator emerged with a split last weekend, falling before powerful DeLaSalle on Friday 56-41 but rebounding with a 77-62 shellacking of St. George Saturday. The Lions are tied with St. Mel for second place in the Chicagoland division, one game between the unbeaten coleaders, St. Pat's and DeLaSalle.

"WE JUST couldn't put the ball in the basket at DeLaSalle," Nomellini pointed out. "We did not have many floor errors and had five more shots but two less baskets. Their biggest asset is their strength on the boards and yet we were fairly even in rebounding."

St. Viator zeroed in before the home fans Saturday, hitting 35 of 59 shots in the victory, but was guilty of 26 turnovers in a loosely - played game. "We had far too many fundamental violations," Nomellini said.

Paul Dumke and Frank Hogan, the Lions' top league scorers, now own 72 points in four games to share second place behind Don Geist of St. George who has 73. Frank Stankiewicz of St. Ignatius and John Ryan of St. Mel have 71 each in what is developing into a torrid race for league scoring honors.

ST. PATRICK will bring a squad with good balance to town Friday with 6-4 senior John Lucas to team point-producer in Chicagoland play with 64 points in four games.

Joe Burke (6-7), the only other senior in the Shamrock alignment and sophomore flash Carlos Martinez (6-0) are next in line with 52 each. Burke was checked with five by St. Ignatius last Saturday as St. Pat's was extended to the limit before winning, 53-51.

Junior Tony Bertucca (5-11) and junior Charles Hampton (5-10) round out the Shamrock starting five.

In league play St. Pat's owns victories over Holy Cross (63-54), St. George (75-55), St. Mel (77-50), and St. Ignatius.

ST. JOSEPH, the Lions' opponent Saturday, is 2-2 in the league and has been in a mild slump after streaking to six straight wins at the outset of the season.

The Chargers' big man is 6-4 center Tom Miller, who has 63 points in Chicagoland action with a high of 23 against Holy Cross.

St. Joseph has league wins over Holy Cross (80-61) and St. George (47-39). They've dropped decisions to St. Mel (80-62) and DeLaSalle (78-51).

FV Gymnasts Split 2 Meets

Brilliant performance by Dave Hippensteel paced Forest View gymnasts to a split in action held last weekend.

Hippensteel took two firsts and a fifth as the Falcons lost to Maine West 70-61 on Friday. Then, on Saturday, Hippensteel got another pair of firsts and a fourth as FV whipped Oak Lawn 69-63.

Against Maine the trampoline and rings events were taken by Hippensteel. He won on the tramp with a score of 131 and on the rings with a 110. His fifth was on the horizontal bar.

Other first for Forest View against MW went to Mike Damore. He registered a top showing on the side horse with a judges rating of 117

ED WILHUESEN, Len Pergander, Tony Damico and Jim Olmon also did well for FV coach Gay Hughes against Maine. Wilhuesen was third in tumbling while other third went to Pergander on the parallel bars, Damico on the tramp and Olmon on the H-bar.

For Hippensteel his showing against Oak Lawn also resulted in firsts on the tramp and rings. He registered a 143 on the tramp, the seventh straight time this season he has won in that event, and had a 123 on rings. He was fourth on the high bar.

Also repeating against OL was Damore who gained his fifth first of the campaign on the horse. He was scored at 120 for the front position.

Taking seconds for Forest View were Olmon, on the H-bar, Bill Wineland, on the P-bars, Wilhuesen, in tumbling, and Paul Jay on the horse. Thirds on the high bar, horse and in tumbling went to Rick Furst, Dave Cook and Damico respectively.

With those two meet results the Falcons' dual meet record was shifted to 4-3. FV is 0-1 in the Mid-Suburban League after the conference opening defeat by Maine.

AT THE FROSH-SOPH level there were two victories for Forest View. The younger Falcons topped Maine 74-57 and then stopped Oak Lawn 80½-51½. Leading the victors were Gregg Murphy, Roger Kratowicz and Bill Bell.

Murphy won in tumbling in both meets while both Kratowicz and Bell were tops in both meets on the high bar and rings. Other firsts for FV in the two meets went to Gary Dimas and Glenn Owsiany on the tramp, Dale Simon on the horse and Mike Sanders on parallel bars.

The frosh soph season record is now 5-2 overall and 1-0 in the M-SL.

Next meets for Forest View's gym squad will be tomorrow (Friday) when they host Prospect at 4:15 p.m. and Saturday when Wheaton North will travel to FV at 2 p.m.

New School In Need Of Opponents

The search is on by Palatine High School athletic officials for some football and basketball competition.

With the district's third high school — the Fremd School at 1000 S. Quentin Road — slated to begin operating as a separate four-year school in the 1967-68 school year, certain gaps have to be filled in the athletic schedule.

The school needs a varsity football opponent for Sept. 16, 1967, and four varsity basketball opponents for the 67-68 season. Two home and two away basketball opponents are being sought.

Any athletic officials in this suburban area interested in scheduling the games have been asked to contact Athletic Director J. E. Stutzman at the Palatine High School, 150 E. Wood Dt., telephone 358-6111.

Varsity Also Wins

Perfect Score for St. Viator's Sophs

A perfect meet or "shutout" in high school swimming is when you whip an opponent, 86-9.

St. Viator's powerful sophomore swimmers accomplished this feat last Friday as they buried St. George High School, racking up eleven firsts and eleven seconds.

The Lion varsity didn't do too bad either, crushing the outmanned Dragons of Evanston, 71-24.

The victories kept the locals' unbeaten strings alive.

Rick Withrow, Rene Tague, and Jim Spears gave the varsity Lions double victories.

Withrow showed wins in the 200 yard freestyle and 400 free, Tague in the 50 and 100 free, and Spears in the 200 individual medley and breaststroke.

Dave Chantry topped the diving alignment, and Joe Herity came through with a win in the 100 fly.

St. Viator's victorious relay teams were made up of Mike Gibler, Rick Kalinowski, Joe Herrity, and John Massey in the 200 medley relay and Kevin Shea, Bob Brown, Jim Cronin, and Massey in the 400 free.

Individual winners for the Lion sophs were Bill McCaffrey, Ed Leadley, Fred Schmidt, Mullan, Kaminski, McMahon, and Mike Madden.

TWO MORE POINTS for Steve Allen. Arlington High School's 6-3 sharpshooter uncorks a jump shot from the side in West Suburban Conference battle with Downers Grove last Friday evening. Allen connected this time, one of eight baskets for the junior in the game, to push Arlington into a 37-35 lead. The Cards nipped Downers in the final seconds by one point and went on to rip LaGrange Saturday evening. Allen had 45 points in the doubleheader. (Staff Photo)

Lundstedt Scores 27

Knights Rip 'Cats For First League Win

by MARV PRELLBERG JR.

The Prospect High varsity basketball squad settled down to the first order of business for 1966—that of beginning its quest for a Mid-Suburban League cage title.

The state-ranked Knights opened their title drive by playing host to a scrappy but outmatched group of Wheeling cagers last Friday night in the conference grand-opener. Coach Dick Kinneman's Prospect aggregation completely dominated the game, and when the workout was over the Knights claimed a convincing 71-43 victory.

The win was the seventh straight for Prospect, and it followed the same pattern as in the other recent conquests. The Knights shot at a 50 per cent figure in the field goal department, had a tough defense, controlled the rebounding against the smaller Wildcat performers, and again featured an eye-opening performance by its ace forward-center Tom Lundstedt.

THE 6-3 junior awed the cage fans in attendance with his offensive moves and his ability to reach impressive heights in his scrap for the rebounds.

Lundstedt continued to increase his 22.7 points per game average, as he ended up his duties at the end of the third quarter with 27 points. He tallied on 12 of 14 field goal attempts and hit on all three of his charity toss tries.

The majority of his field goals came on close in shots, but the big junior also showed his touch on a couple of attempts from around the free-throw circle.

HIS SCORING power was evident at the end of the first half, when the official score book showed Lundstedt 20-Wheeling High 19.

Prospect's height advantage showed up prominently in the team field goal attempt statistics. The Knights managed to get away 66 field goal shots compared to the Wildcats' 44.

Since the turnover figures on both teams were comparable, this rebounding advantage was the important factor in the field goal attempts department. While Prospect was hitting at a 50 per cent clip, Wheeling was forced into numerous long range shots by the Knight defenders which resulted in an unimpressive 34 per cent shooting average.

DAN AGARD'S basket started the Prospect machine rolling in the opening seconds of the first quarter. After a brief tie at 4-4 the Knights went into a quick 10-4 lead on two baskets by Lundstedt and one by J. D. Thorne and from that point continued to stretch its margin.

Prospect took a 23-10 lead with them when the second period of play got under way, and with Lundstedt's 13 points leading the way raced out to a comfortable 47-19 halftime lead. Lundstedt at one stretch in this quarter swished the nets for 10 straight Prospect tallies.

The Prospect dominance continued in the third quarter, as it outscored Wheeling 18-10. At the end of this frame the Knights led 65-29, and Coach Kinneman pulled his regulars out of action for the balance of the evening.

THE FOURTH quarter scoring pace was slowed down considerably, as Prospect substitutes took charge of the Knight affairs and Wheeling mentor Mike Owens began to experiment with several different Wildcat combinations.

The Wheeling five made up a little slack in this final quarter by outpointing the host team 14-6. Wildcat substitute Al Gibbon turned in a creditable job, as he chipped in with seven of his team's fourth period points.

When the final buzzer sounded the end of the game, the scoreboard indicated a 71-43 Prospect victory. Lundstedt's 27 points looked out of place in a scorebook that showed the game's next high point man being Wheeling guard Mark Newman with 10 points.

Cards Capture Sixth Victory

Arlington isn't particular about conference affiliations of its victims in varsity gymnastics.

Coach Tom Walthouse's Cardinals added a Suburban League entry to their impressive list Saturday as they overpowered New Trier, 83-49.

The victory was the sixth straight for Arlington in varsity duals. The frosh-sophs won 84.5-43.5 to run their streak to six in a row.

Arlington now has toppled opponents from the Suburban League, Mid-Suburban, Central Suburban, and West Suburban. The Cards will get back into West Suburban action this Saturday when they journey to LaGrange.

VERSATILE BERT Schmitt missed the battle with New Trier with a shoulder injury, but the Cards still had no trouble coasting to a 34-point victory.

Jim Johannensen was the leader once again as he personally accounted for 23 points, scoring with firsts on the high bar, parallel bar and in tumbling and with a fifth on the still rings.

Johannensen was in superb form on the parallel bar as he earned ratings of 95-87 for a sparkling 182. He topped the high bar with a 171 and tumbling with a 156.

TOM RIESING got back into action after sitting out the Maine East meet with an injury, and he ruled the trampolinists Saturday with a fine 169 routine. Steve LeVan topped the side horse at 151, and Roy Rettburg came through with a 92-85—177 for a win on the still rings.

Wayne Crockett and Lee Brown were the pace-setters for the victorious Cardinal frosh-sophs.

Crockett scored 15 points with a first on the rings, second on the side horse, and fourth on the parallel bars, and Brown collected 14 with firsts on the high bar and parallel bars.

Other Arlington firsts were picked up by Vaughn Abbott on the trampoline, Doug Atkins on the side horse, and Bill St. John in tumbling.

Trojans, Lions Fall To Arlington Varsity

By BOB FRISK

Pass the word. Arlington's got a good thing going.

The red-hot varsity Cardinals treated their fans to a cliff-hanger at home and an unexpected breather on the road as they enjoyed their biggest weekend of the 1965-66 season.

Coach Ted Wissen's outfit, now sporting a handsome five-game winning streak and 10-3 standard, climbed into sole possession of second place in the West Suburban with a 65-64 conquest of Downers Grove and 64-49 shelling of LaGrange.

ANY BASKETBALL script usually calls for a club to have more difficulty on the road, but that wasn't the case with Arlington last weekend. The Cards thoroughly enjoyed their visit to LaGrange Saturday evening.

Through the years Arlington teams have encountered difficulty in their engagements in the Lion gymnasium, but the current edition made its final visit a memorable one.

Steve Allen, who suffered through one of the coldest evenings of his career last season at LaGrange, treated the fans to a dazzling exhibition of marksmanship as he poured through 10 baskets and seven free throws for 27 points.

ALLEN, WHO certainly turned in an all-conference performance through the first half of league play, was the ring-leader in a second period flurry Saturday that pulled the Cards into a lead they never relinquished.

The two clubs started slowly, and LaGrange held a four-point lead before Allen hit from 10 feet and Jim Jorgensen from 20 to pull the Cards into a 10-10 deadlock at the end of one period.

Allen took over in the second quarter, throwing in five baskets and three free throws, to guide Arlington into a 29-25 advantage at the break. The Cards outscored their hosts 15-5 at one stretch.

LaGRANGE FIRED up 43 shots in the first half but only connected nine times as they experienced the same problems that plagued them in a loss to Glenbard West the previous night. The Lions blew a 16-point lead in that one.

Allen didn't cool off in the third quarter, and Arlington shot into a commanding lead. Jim Donchess scored on a free throw and Bruce Hubbard hit a short jumper to ignite the explosion.

Allen had 12 more points in that third stanza, dumping in four baskets, and when he buzzed one through with 30 seconds remaining Arlington enjoyed a 56-35 lead.

PETE BARKER, who came off the bench to turn in another solid effort, chipped in with six points and Donchess dialed five in that third period which saw Arlington outscore LaGrange 27-10.

The fourth period didn't offer much for the fans. The Lions were dead.

Allen's 27 topped both teams. Barker was next in line with 12, hitting six straight from the free throw line to give him 20 out of his last 21 from the charity stripe this season.

ALLEN AND Donchess, who clicked 10 times for 107 yards as a quarterback-end combination last fall, clicked with five seconds remaining Friday evening to give Arlington a thrilling 65-64 victory over Downers Grove.

The clincher came 20 seconds after a Cardinal timeout with Downers nursing a one-point lead. The ball exchanged hands nine times before Allen fired a perfect pass to Donchess under the basket. Jim pushed in the layup.

Downers called a time out and set up a final shot, but the ball bounced off at the buzzer.

Both clubs were red-hot from the field. The Cards hit 29 of 59, a .492 mark, and Downers connected 28 times in 55 cracks for a .509 standard.

FROM THE OUTSET Arlington and Downers exchanged blows with the fans anticipating a battle to the wire.

The Cards jumped on top 18-13 after one period with Terry Townley firing in five baskets, but Downers rallied to knot the count at halftime. The Trojans shot out to a seven-point lead late in the third quarter and held a six-point bulge heading into the concluding stanza.

Arlington fought back on a 17-footer by Allen, jumper from the side by Jorgensen, and free throw by Jorgensen and sailed into the lead again when Barker netted two 10-footers within 40 seconds.

DONCHESS' LAYUP gave Arlington a 59-57 lead with 3:04 remaining, but Bud Bocker hit a three-pointer to push the Trojans back on top.

It was a sign of things to come when Allen hit Donchess with a nifty pass for an easy layup to give Arlington another lead, but Bocker went to the line seconds later on a disputed foul and hit two more.

With 50 seconds remaining Joe Radosevich pumped one through to give Downers a 64-61 lead, and now the Cards were in serious trouble. Jorgensen zeroed in from the side with 41 seconds left to bring the Cardinal fans back to their feet.

Radosevich went to the line on a one-and-one with 32 seconds showing on the clock but missed the first toss, and Hubbard cleared the rebound for Arlington.

Wissen called a time out, and the strategy unfolded.

Barker took the ball in and whipped a pass to Allen. Back to Barker . . to Allen . . . to Barker . . . to Allen . . to Jorgensen . . . to Donchess . . . to Allen . . back to Barker . . . to Allen . And then to Donchess!

First Since '59

Arlington's victory over LaGrange Saturday evening was its first in the Lion gymnasium since Jan. 17, 1959. The Cards had dropped six straight games at LaGrange. George Bork sparked the 1959 triumph, hitting 11 of 12 shots from the floor, as Arlington won, 72-62.

Striking Clips Lattof

Three Share Ladies' Lead

"It's a new ball game . . . " goes the popular expression.

It certainly is. At least a new bowl game.

The teams of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League embarked on round two of the 1965-66 season at River Rand Bowl last Saturday, and the most obvious event was the dismantling of the first round champions.

Striking Lanes, which dangled desperately just above the cellar in the first round, whipped Lattof Chevrolet 3-1, missing a 4-0 blanking by four pins.

SIMULTANEOUS with that upset, first round contenders Steve's Restaurant and Morton Pontiac slipped into the top spot with Striking. Steve's, champion of both rounds a year ago, took care of Rolling Meadows Bowl 3-1 and Morton did the same to River Rand Bowl.

In the clipping of the Chevrolet quintet, Striking won handily in games one and three, and lost the second 836-833. Lattof had an abnormally cool night, getting a 2351 team series and a high individual effort of 500 from Peggy Harris. Striking romped behind Evelyn Elarde's 556 and Judy Anderson's 548.

The evening's best individual game and series were both provided by Ann Neumann as she rolled 181-219-184 — 584 to pace Steve's dismissal of Rolling Meadows Bowl. There was some solid scoring from both sides in the challenge, as Steve's yielded only in the first game, when RMB totaled 919 team pins.

THE BEST FOR RMB was Marlene Smith, who had a 547 which included a 216 game. The scoring runner-up for Steve's was Delores Harris with 532, and for RMB Harriet Fuchs with 529.

Morton Pontiac came almost as close to Striking Lanes in getting a shutout. The Pontiac girls took games one and two from River Rand with some sizeable scores, and lost three 838-833. High for the match was Morton's Ruthmary Baurhyte with 582 and Joan Lindahl with 565, while the balanced River Rand attack was led by Marge Lindenberg's 519.

Some changes are due this Saturday at Striking Lanes, as the host team and Steve's meet, with Lattof vs. Morton and River Rand vs. Rolling Meadows Bowl in the other matches.

Karlsen Keeps Pace

Brim's Blanks Brass Railers

It was a little like old times.

Brim's Pioneer Lanes, champions of the Paddock Classic Traveling League a year ago, rolled out Saturday night's biggest offensive splurge to dispose of The Brass Rail, freshly-crowned champions of this season's first round. It was a whitewash, 7-0.

But at the same time, one of the league's new upstarts—Karlsen Pharmacy — indicated its intention to contend in the second round with a similar blanking of Jeffery Lanes.

Those two teams — Brim's and Karlsen — roost alone now at the top of the PCTL's second round standings after the first weekend of competition. Tied for third — each with five points — are Bill Cook Buick and Concourse Sports Chalet. The Buick Men whipped City Welding Sales and Service and Chalet did it to Morton Pontiac in their Saturday meetings.

PIONEER, AT HOME, ran up a 2901 team pin count in beating the Railers. Ron Sheldon led it for Pioneer, hitting an amazingly consistent 214-213-213—640. For The Brass Rail, somewhat hindered now that Warren Walter has exchanged his bowling shirt for one of Uncle Sam's, Bill Page was best with a 617.

Karlsen's, at the home Striking Lanes, was just as decisive over Jeffery. The way was shown by Herm Simonis, who had both the best game and series of the night in his 182-258-214 — 654. Warren Karlsen added a 606, while the best for Jeffery was Don Christensen's 590.

City Welding had a repectable team series, but could salvage only one game against Bill Cook Buick on the victor's home Rolling Meadows Bowl lanes. Bill Cook, with three consistent team games, had a consistent 638 series from Paul Borvig, while the Welders were led by Lobby Lobinsky's 622.

Morton Pontiac had two huge series — a 646 from Les Zikes and a 629 from Bob Glaser — but it couldn't contend with Sports Chalet's balance in their tilt at Gunnell's Lanes. Four men were around 600 for Chalet, helping the team to big wins in games two and three.

Pioneer will meet Morton this Saturday at Beverly Lanes, while Karlsen's visits City Welding at Thunderbird Bowl. The Brass Rail will seek a rebound against Sports Chalet at Gunnell's and Bill Cook will host Jeffery at Rolling Meadows Bowl.

Gals, Mixed Leagues Next

The men have their showdown this weekend at Hoffman Lanes in Hoffman Estates, but that doesn't bring down the curtain on the Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap bowling spectaculars for 1966.

The women and mixed leagues will vie for honors the following weekend, Jan. 29-30, at Striking Lanes in Mount Prospect.

One hundred and six squads, topping the men's field by four teams, have filed entries for the women's tourney which will be held Sunday, Jan. 30, at Striking.

Twenty-six have filed for the mixed feature which is set for Saturday, Jan.29.

Questions on the two Paddock Publications tournaments should be directed to Tournament Manager Marian Phillips at CLearbrook 3-1520 during the business day.

Striking Clips Lattof

Three Share Ladies' Lead

"It's a new ball game . . . " goes the popular expression.

It certainly is. At least a new bowl game.

The teams of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League embarked on round two of the 1965-66 season at River Rand Bowl last Saturday, and the most obvious event was the dismantling of the first round champions.

Striking Lanes, which dangled desperately just above the cellar in the first round, whipped Lattof Chevrolet 3-1, missing a 4-0 blanking by four pins.

SIMULTANEOUS with that upset, first round contenders Steve's Restaurant and Morton Pontiac slipped into the top spot with Striking. Steve's, champion of both rounds a year ago, took care of Rolling Meadows Bowl 3-1 and Morton did the same to River Rand Bowl.

In the clipping of the Chevrolet quintet, Striking won handily in games one and three, and lost the second 836-833. Lattof had an abnormally cool night, getting a 2351 team series and a high individual effort of 500 from Peggy Harris. Striking romped behind Evelyn Elarde's 556 and Judy Anderson's 548.

The evening's best individual game and series were both provided by Ann Neumann as she rolled 181-219-184 — 584 to pace Steve's dismissal of Rolling Meadows Bowl. There was some solid scoring from both sides in the challenge, as Steve's yielded only in the first game, when RMB totaled 919 team pins.

THE BEST FOR RMB was Marlene Smith, who had a 547 which included a 216 game. The scoring runner-up for Steve's was Delores Harris with 532, and for RMB Harriet Fuchs with 529.

Morton Pontiac came almost as close to Striking Lanes in getting a shutout. The Pontiac girls took games one and two from River Rand with some sizeable scores, and lost three 838-833. High for the match was Morton's Ruthmary Baurhyte with 582 and Joan Lindahl with 565, while the balanced River Rand attack was led by Marge Lindenberg's 519.

Some changes are due this Saturday at Striking Lanes, as the host team and Steve's meet, with Lattof vs. Morton and River Rand vs. Rolling Meadows Bowl in the other matches.

Karlsen Keeps Pace

Brim's Blanks Brass Railers

It was a little like old times.

Brim's Pioneer Lanes, champions of the Paddock Classic Traveling League a year ago, rolled out Saturday night's biggest offensive splurge to dispose of The Brass Rail, freshly-crowned champions of this season's first round. It was a whitewash, 7-0.

But at the same time, one of the league's new upstarts—Karlsen Pharmacy — indicated its intention to contend in the second round with a similar blanking of Jeffery Lanes.

Those two teams — Brim's and Karlsen — roost alone now at the top of the PCTL's second round standings after the first weekend of competition. Tied for third — each with five points — are Bill Cook Buick and Concourse Sports Chalet. The Buick Men whipped City Welding Sales and Service and Chalet did it to Morton Pontiac in their Saturday meetings.

PIONEER, AT HOME, ran up a 2901 team pin count in beating the Railers. Ron Sheldon led it for Pioneer, hitting an amazingly consistent 214-213-213—640. For The Brass Rail, somewhat hindered now that Warren Walter has exchanged his bowling shirt for one of Uncle Sam's, Bill Page was best with a 617.

Karlsen's, at the home Striking Lanes, was just as decisive over Jeffery. The way was shown by Herm Simonis, who had both the best game and series of the night in his 182-258-214 — 654. Warren Karlsen added a 606, while the best for Jeffery was Don Christensen's 590.

City Welding had a repectable team series, but could salvage only one game against Bill Cook Buick on the victor's home Rolling Meadows Bowl lanes. Bill Cook, with three consistent team games, had a consistent 638 series from Paul Borvig, while the Welders were led by Lobby Lobinsky's 622.

Morton Pontiac had two huge series — a 646 from Les Zikes and a 629 from Bob Glaser — but it couldn't contend with Sports Chalet's balance in their tilt at Gunnell's Lanes. Four men were around 600 for Chalet, helping the team to big wins in games two and three.

Pioneer will meet Morton this Saturday at Beverly Lanes, while Karlsen's visits City Welding at Thunderbird Bowl. The Brass Rail will seek a rebound against Sports Chalet at Gunnell's and Bill Cook will host Jeffery at Rolling Meadows Bowl.

Knights Club Cougars 74-56 In MSL Action

by KEN KNOX

In big business, it's considered good form to call in an efficiency expert when the deficits begin to predominate.

Conant's basketball team—which certainly has seen too much of too little in its ledger this season—summoned the firm of Kinneman & Co. of Mount Prospect for an efficiency lesson Saturday night. The lesson was dutifully given, though at great expense.

Kinneman, Richard, and company, the Prospect Knights, extracted a Mid-Suburban League basketball decision in return for their demonstration of winning hoopsmanship. With a minimum of the spectacular, they deliberately and methodically amassed a 74-56 tabulation, and Rol Berg's Cougars had the deficit again.

For Prospect, the victory was the eighth in succession, putting the Knights at 11-3 for the season and—more importantly—at 2-0 in the MSL. For Conant, it was the 10th loss in 13 games, and made the Cougars 0-2 after the first Mid-Suburban weekend.

PROSPECT achieved its latest profit with the soundest of practices, all part of the efficiency lesson. The Knights ruled the rebounding offensively and defensively and they capitalized on cage precision, systematically working the ball toward the man and the region of the floor from which the greatest reward might accrue.

That man was not—as it has been on frequent occasions—chiefly forward Tom Lundstedt. He did get six field goals (in 12 attempts) and three free throws (in three attempts), but he was only one of the important contributors.

Dave Kingman, working in a substitute role, also claimed 15 points, while Dan Agard had 12 and Gary Guerin—as a fourth quarter reserve—had eight.

GAME HONORS, fact, went to Conant's John Glasshof. He had 17 points for the contest, with 10 of them in one searing stretch in the last period.

In only one facet of the operation did Prospect fail to impress. In free throws, the Knights could convert only 18 of 32, a .586 rating, while Conant put in a resplendent 18 of 21, an .856 standard. But even at that, Prospect did hit seven for seven as the gap increased in the second quarter, and it was mostly the reserves who pulled down the percentage.

It was on a free throw that Conant had its only lead of the game. Larry Powell hit one at 7:40 of period one, giving the Cougars a 1-0 lead. But Lundstedt matched that less than a minute later, and Prospect was never headed again.

The first Prospect lead came at 5:35 when a Tony Kulasa jumper from the key made it 3-1. Dick Helmer evened it for Conant with a corner jump shot, and it was tied again at 4-4. But—at 4:37—Lundstedt put one in from near the basket and the rout was on.

Conant stayed in contention for a few minutes after that, with the 6-7 Powell—who was to leave the game on fouls early in the third period—getting four more points. A shot under the basket by Powell left Conant in arrears 11-9 at 2:39. Then Agard laid a shot in and was knocked down by Conant guard Walt Riley as he did.

The 6-2 forward missed the free shot, but was fouled going for the rebound. Then he made two foul tosses to make the score 15-9, and before the quarter was over he and sub Craig Wolf added a field goal each to put the period score at 19-9.

THE COUGARS made one flurry after that, at one point in the second quarter cutting a 16-point lead to an eight-point Prospect advantage. But the Knights—with Lundstedt getting five of them—ran nine straight points after that for a 38-21 halftime advantage.

The only time the Knights didn't steadily add to their margin was in the fourth quarter, when coach Kinneman retired all his regulars and Conant prevailed 21-13. But the game was too much out of reach to be salvaged by the losers.

Statistics of the game show how efficient Prospect was. The Knights hit 28 of 59 shots from the floor, or 47 per cent. Conant mustered 28 per cent on 19 of 66. In rebounding, Prospect had a huge edge of 59 to 29, with Lundstedt grabbing 11 and Agard 10 in their three quarters of play. In athletics as well as business, those kind of figures mean profit.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

County Canine Control—

Next month residents of Cook County living in unincorporated areas and who own dogs may find a new rabies control ordinance passed by the county board.

The legislation has been sought because of the repeated complaints of dogs running loose. If passed, dogs will no longer be free to roam such unincorporated areas and may be picked up, regardless of the fact that they may have a rabies inoculation tag.

If passed, even leashed dogs will not be permitted in many public places; this includes the forest preserves. One part of the ordinance will prohibit dogs from taking playful nips at each other—in play or otherwise—and there will be teeth in the ordinance itself from the standpoint of fines. These will range from $10 to $200.

Field Trial Amendments—

There have been some changes proposed by the AKC, relative to pointing breed trials. Owners of field dogs and those interested in field trials might do well to check on the changes.

Although rather general in scope relative to the handlers, owners of German Wirehaired Pointers or Weimaraners will find that after June 30, 1967, in addition to the regular stakes, such dogs must be certified by two judges to have passed a water test at a licensed or member field trial held by a specialty club for one of these two breeds before it can become a field trial champion.

There is also a new section on the national amateur championship stake for German Shorthaired Pointers and for Brittany Spaniels which should be studied by owners of these breeds who are interested in the proposed changes.

Wheaton K.C. Show—

The Wheaton Kennel Club All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial held Sunday had a record entry. There were 1,522 dogs entered in the event, an increase of more than 200 dogs from last year's show.

Held at the DuPage County Fairgrounds, the snow and cold weather did not stop interest in the event. Your editor was able to attend during the morning and the place was packed. There were a number of folks from this area who had dogs entered, however, final major wins were not available before this column's deadline. Hope to have information for the next one.

Outdoor living—

At this time of year too much stress cannot be placed on two basic requirements for living quarters for the outdoor animal—placing the house high enough off the ground to avoid dampness and keeping it away from chilly or icy winds by locating it in a southern exposure. If you provide them with a well constructed and tight house, most dogs, short-haired as well as long-haired—will come through the winter in good shape. There are exceptions, these include some of the miniature or toy breeds.

Barks & Bays—

Still like the true story about the blind girl who went to a costume party dressed as a fire hydrant with her seeing-eye dog. She won first prize.

Northwest Gals Still Unbeaten

The Northwest Suburban YMCA girls swimming team remained unbeaten last Saturday with a convincing 261-31 victory over the Park Ridge 'Y'.

Susie Ivison and Jan Lesniak were the pace-setters in the easy triumph.

Ivison won the 100-yard individual medley and 100-yard freestyle in the Prep Division and also swam on the victorious medley relay team.

Jan Lesniak of Prospect Heights tied a team record in the midget division 25-yard breaststroke with a 19.7 clocking. She also competed on the 100-yard freestyle relay team.

The Northwest 'Y' gals will host Waukegan this Saturday at 4:00 p.m. The public is invited free of charge.

Pin Decides League Dual

A pin in 3:24 at heavyweight gave Downers Grove's varsity wrestlers a come-from-behind 22-20 victory over Arlington High School last Friday evening.

The host Trojans trailed by six points with two bouts remaining when they made their move, racking up a decision and pin for the team triumph.

Arlington, now 1-2 in West Suburban Conference duals, didn't jump off to a fast start Friday, falling behind by 11 points after five bouts, but the Cards rallied with five straight wins to take the lead.

CHIP DOUGLAS got things started with a 6-0 victory at 133 pounds, scoring a reversal and predicament in the concluding period, and Dave Gooding coasted, 8-1, at 138. Dave did all his scoring in the first two periods.

Kirk Wolter kept the Cardinal string alive with a 6-0 conquest at 145 pounds, jumping out on top 4-0 in the opening stanza, and Don Lindmark pushed Arlington into a one-point lead with a 4-2 win at 154.

Lindmark broke a tie with a reversal in the final period. Both wrestlers were scoreless heading into that decisive segment.

ARLINGTON WENT on top 20-14 at 165 pounds when Mike Jones flattened his opponent in 5:35, showing a 4-2 advantage at the time.

That's when Downers Grove rebounded, posting a decision at 180 and pin at heavyweight for the team victory.

Arlington's only scoring over the first five bouts Friday came at 95 pounds when Jim Whitnell continued to impress with a 7-4 victory. Jim had two takedowns, an escape, and reversal.

Arlington's wrestlers will host LaGrange Saturday at 1:45 p.m.

Jonland Tops Skating Club

The uncertainty of the winter seemed to have reached the Mount Prospect club and the endeavors of the two skating meets hardly measured up to previous experiences the club had enjoyed in earlier meets.

A last minute cancellation was received on the Illinois State championships scheduled last Friday, at Lake Ellyn in Glen Ellyn. Wednesday's heavy snow made it impossible to manicure the lake's ice into shape in time for an early Friday evening start.

The Pierce Western Open opened Saturday at Chicago's Waveland Rink and as the Chicago ice disappeared the unskated balance of the program was put on the road for an evening finale. Northbrook invited the skaters to finish their racing program on their Meadowhill Park rink.

ONCE THEY got around to the job of skating, Bobby Haenisch decided skating was more fun than sightseeing and took a fourth and a third in the 220 and 440 yard events in the Midget Boys class. Todd Jonland finished 5th in the sprint final.

Gary Jonland continued his spectacular skating in the Juvenile boys class, finishing his day's work with the individual trophy as he again won both his races on the program. In the 220 yard sprint Gary bested the efforts of teammates Bobby Knight, who finished second and Tom Tagney in third. All three skated the one-half mile final but only Gary managed to avoid trouble.

In the Midget class, Laura Lawler skated to both finals but failed to score.

MARY CUNNINGHAM took a fourth place in the 440 yard final to be Prospect's only scorer in the girls classes. The bantam boys again swept the first three spots in their races. Tom Grunnah bombed off the starting line and won two first place awards. Rich Vehe and Jimmy Tagney swapped seconds and thirds in these races. Lee Hubbard and Andy Lindstrom showed noticeable improvement in chasing their teammates home to the finish each time.

With only ninetten points earned for the team effort the club started home to Prospect hoping hard work next week would be rewarded with more satisfying results.

But on Sunday the club again tackled the same tough competition at the Northwest Open held at Waveland where overnight the workmen, with the help of the weatherman, were able to put the rink in good condition for the meet.

The big guns of the Prospect Juvenile boys class, Jonland and Knight, finished one, two in both their events. Jonland added another trophy for his individual effort. Tom Tagney took the fourth spot in the 440 yard event to complete the scoring.

Laura Lawler skated a final in the girls class without adding to the point total but Mary Cunningham in the Junior class took a good third in the 220 sprint but failed by inches in her other event to score.

It is expected that the Silver Skates will next be skated at the Waveland rink, but two postponed point scoring meets for National Qualifying team selection may be scheduled and skated on short notice. This information will be passed on to team members when officially received by Bob Zuckermandel, Prospect club president.

Lions Rebound From Loss to Win, 77-62

by FRED BOEDEKER

What a difference a day makes—

That pretty well sums up the story of how the St. Viator Lions were removed from the dwindling unbeaten list in the Chicagoland Prep League last weekend.

The locals lost to highly touted DeLaSalle, 56-41, last Friday night on the Meteors' home court but returned home the following evening to rout St. George of Evanston 77-62.

The Lions shot only 31 per cent from the field in Friday night's loss to the Meteors but regained their shooting eyes to hit at a 58 per cent clip against the Dragons.

THE ST. VIATOR five got off to a slow start in Friday's encounter, scoring only 17 points in the first half to find themselves eight points down at intermission. Their inability to score was compounded by the fact that the Meteors were doing an excellent job of controlling the boards and very rarely giving the Lions more than one shot at the basket.

With the exception of junior guard Frank Hogan's 10 point outburst in the final period, it was much the same story in the second half. The Lions were unable to get an effective offensive attack going and Jerry Tokars' Meteors continued to score on easy layups and tipins to put the game out of reach.

It isn't often anybody beats the powerful DeLaSalle cagers on their home court, but this year's team doesn't seem to be as well-rounded as some of its predecessors. With a little better shooting percentage, the Lions might have been able to pull off the upset that would have left them atop the league standings with an unblemished 4-0 mark.

Hogan led St. Viator scorers with 17 points on 7 field goals and 3-3 free throws. Frank shared scoring honors with 6-5 Meteor forward Sevira Brown. DeLaSalle's 6-5 center Tommy Hunter chipped in with 15 points and performed a yeoman job in the rebounding department.

THE LIONS wasted no time in celebrating their return to the familiar scenery of their home court as they raced out to a 21-10 lead at the end of the first quarter against St. George. Center Paul Pomplun led the charge with four quick baskets and some impressive rebounding. Four Viator scorers hit in double figures as the locals outscored the Dragons in every period.

Senior forward Paul Dumke turned in one of the most impressive offensive performances of his career as he led the Lion attack with 25 points on 10 baskets and 5-7 charity tosses before fouling out midway into the final period. Hogan chipped in with 17 counters for the second night in a row while Pomplun and Johnny Loughman collected 12 and 10 points respectively.

Nomellini's boys hope to gain undisputed possession of second place in the C.P.L. as they launch another double-header weekend. St. Viator will host powerful St. Patrick Friday night and travel to Westchester to meet St. Joseph the following evening.

Knights In JV Win At Conant

The steady attack outweighed the one-man assault Saturday evening, as Prospect's junior varsity basketball team took a 61-50 measure of Conant's JVs on the Cougar floor.

The Knights spread their scoring around evenly while dominating the rebounding to slowly but steadily widen their margin. For the Cougars — hindered by the absence of 6-2 George Schenck and 6-4 Brian Bethke — the slack was mostly picked up by guard Mike Kennedy.

KENNEDY HAD the biggest night of his JV career, hitting nine field goals and four of six free throws for 22 points. John Fabing, transferred from the varsity for the game, was next high for Conant with eight markers.

Prospect was topped by Mike Anderson with 13 points, but Tom Grafton was only a point behind, and Clyde Whitcomb and Mike Mueller had nine each.

The steady Prospect momentum gave the Knights an 18-14 first quarter lead, a 37-21 halftime bulge and a 48-37 third quarter edge.

One of the critical factors in the game was free throws, especially in the second quarter. In that period, while Conant was converting seven of 12, Prospect hit 13 of 15. For the game, the Knights had a gaudy 27 of 35 and Conant 18 of 29.

Cardinal Sophs Bumped on Mat

Downers Grove's sophomore wrestlers rallied from a four-point deficit with three bouts remaining to score a 27-18 victory over Arlington High last week.

The Cardinals held the lead for only a matter of seconds. Doug Sanderson's pin gave them a four-point advantage at 154 pounds, but Downers took the lead for good with a pin in 1:40 at 165.

Also scoring victories for Arlington were Bob Dabbert at 127 pounds, Douglas at 133, and Kelly Reid at 145. Jeff Damm claimed a tie at 120.

Wayside Wins Doubleheader

Our Lady of Wayside basketball teams won both junior and senior basketball games against St. Monica of Carpentersville last Sunday. The seniors won 63 to 36 and the juniors triumphed 28 to 18.

Cullen led senior scorers with 19 points. Michalek scored nine points and rebounded well. Shanahan led the juniors with nine points.

Wayside will meet St. James of Arlington Heights next Sunday at St. Viator's gym. Junior game starts at 2 p.m. and the seniors at 3 p.m.

Both teams are in second place in their respective divisions of the North West Suburban League. The seniors have a record of eight wins and one loss; the juniors stand at seven wins and two losses.

Falcons JV Cagers Beaten in Overtime

"Cold spells" sent Forest View's JV cagers down to a 42-38 overtime defeat before Maine West last Friday.

In the opening Mid-Suburban contest for both quintets, the Falcons sank just one basket over the final five minutes of play. MW outscored FV 6-2 in the overtime period to wrap up the triumph.

As the contest opened Forest View didn't tally for over four minutes and was behind 7-5 after one quarter. Led by Frank Calvello and Rich Gillespie, however, the Falcons went on top 19-18 at the half.

In period three Ted Lambert kept coach Bob Rees FV forces in front. Lambert popped in seven markers and Forest View increased its margin to 30-27 before last quarter action got underway. Then came another cold spell.

FV DIDN'T GET on the scoreboard again for four minutes while Phil Murdock and Dale Haase counted for Maine which went in front 33-30. Calvello's four points and Lambtrt's six footer brought Forest View back but a lay-up by MW's Ken Mach tied the score with 41 seconds remaining and caused the overtime.

The Falcons put in just one bucket in six attempts in those extra minutes. That came with only one second left after Maine West had wrapped up the win on four points by Haase and two by Don Bartholamae. Mike Martin made the two points for FV.

High scorer in the game was Maine's Murdock with 16 while Haase had nine and Mach eight for the winners. Lambert and Calvello, with nine apiece, led Forest View which shot a lackluster 27 per cent, 12 for 45, from the floor.

Knights Club Cougars 74-56 In MSL Action

by KEN KNOX

In big business, it's considered good form to call in an efficiency expert when the deficits begin to predominate.

Conant's basketball team—which certainly has seen too much of too little in its ledger this season—summoned the firm of Kinneman & Co. of Mount Prospect for an efficiency lesson Saturday night. The lesson was dutifully given, though at great expense.

Kinneman, Richard, and company, the Prospect Knights, extracted a Mid-Suburban League basketball decision in return for their demonstration of winning hoopsmanship. With a minimum of the spectacular, they deliberately and methodically amassed a 74-56 tabulation, and Rol Berg's Cougars had the deficit again.

For Prospect, the victory was the eighth in succession, putting the Knights at 11-3 for the season and—more importantly—at 2-0 in the MSL. For Conant, it was the 10th loss in 13 games, and made the Cougars 0-2 after the first Mid-Suburban weekend.

PROSPECT achieved its latest profit with the soundest of practices, all part of the efficiency lesson. The Knights ruled the rebounding offensively and defensively and they capitalized on cage precision, systematically working the ball toward the man and the region of the floor from which the greatest reward might accrue.

That man was not—as it has been on frequent occasions—chiefly forward Tom Lundstedt. He did get six field goals (in 12 attempts) and three free throws (in three attempts), but he was only one of the important contributors.

Dave Kingman, working in a substitute role, also claimed 15 points, while Dan Agard had 12 and Gary Guerin—as a fourth quarter reserve—had eight.

GAME HONORS, fact, went to Conant's John Glasshof. He had 17 points for the contest, with 10 of them in one searing stretch in the last period.

In only one facet of the operation did Prospect fail to impress. In free throws, the Knights could convert only 18 of 32, a .586 rating, while Conant put in a resplendent 18 of 21, an .856 standard. But even at that, Prospect did hit seven for seven as the gap increased in the second quarter, and it was mostly the reserves who pulled down the percentage.

It was on a free throw that Conant had its only lead of the game. Larry Powell hit one at 7:40 of period one, giving the Cougars a 1-0 lead. But Lundstedt matched that less than a minute later, and Prospect was never headed again.

The first Prospect lead came at 5:35 when a Tony Kulasa jumper from the key made it 3-1. Dick Helmer evened it for Conant with a corner jump shot, and it was tied again at 4-4. But—at 4:37—Lundstedt put one in from near the basket and the rout was on.

Conant stayed in contention for a few minutes after that, with the 6-7 Powell—who was to leave the game on fouls early in the third period—getting four more points. A shot under the basket by Powell left Conant in arrears 11-9 at 2:39. Then Agard laid a shot in and was knocked down by Conant guard Walt Riley as he did.

The 6-2 forward missed the free shot, but was fouled going for the rebound. Then he made two foul tosses to make the score 15-9, and before the quarter was over he and sub Craig Wolf added a field goal each to put the period score at 19-9.

THE COUGARS made one flurry after that, at one point in the second quarter cutting a 16-point lead to an eight-point Prospect advantage. But the Knights—with Lundstedt getting five of them—ran nine straight points after that for a 38-21 halftime advantage.

The only time the Knights didn't steadily add to their margin was in the fourth quarter, when coach Kinneman retired all his regulars and Conant prevailed 21-13. But the game was too much out of reach to be salvaged by the losers.

Statistics of the game show how efficient Prospect was. The Knights hit 28 of 59 shots from the floor, or 47 per cent. Conant mustered 28 per cent on 19 of 66. In rebounding, Prospect had a huge edge of 59 to 29, with Lundstedt grabbing 11 and Agard 10 in their three quarters of play. In athletics as well as business, those kind of figures mean profit.

JUST DOGS

By Dave Terrill

County Canine Control—

Next month residents of Cook County living in unincorporated areas and who own dogs may find a new rabies control ordinance passed by the county board.

The legislation has been sought because of the repeated complaints of dogs running loose. If passed, dogs will no longer be free to roam such unincorporated areas and may be picked up, regardless of the fact that they may have a rabies inoculation tag.

If passed, even leashed dogs will not be permitted in many public places; this includes the forest preserves. One part of the ordinance will prohibit dogs from taking playful nips at each other—in play or otherwise—and there will be teeth in the ordinance itself from the standpoint of fines. These will range from $10 to $200.

Field Trial Amendments—

There have been some changes proposed by the AKC, relative to pointing breed trials. Owners of field dogs and those interested in field trials might do well to check on the changes.

Although rather general in scope relative to the handlers, owners of German Wirehaired Pointers or Weimaraners will find that after June 30, 1967, in addition to the regular stakes, such dogs must be certified by two judges to have passed a water test at a licensed or member field trial held by a specialty club for one of these two breeds before it can become a field trial champion.

There is also a new section on the national amateur championship stake for German Shorthaired Pointers and for Brittany Spaniels which should be studied by owners of these breeds who are interested in the proposed changes.

Wheaton K.C. Show—

The Wheaton Kennel Club All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial held Sunday had a record entry. There were 1,522 dogs entered in the event, an increase of more than 200 dogs from last year's show.

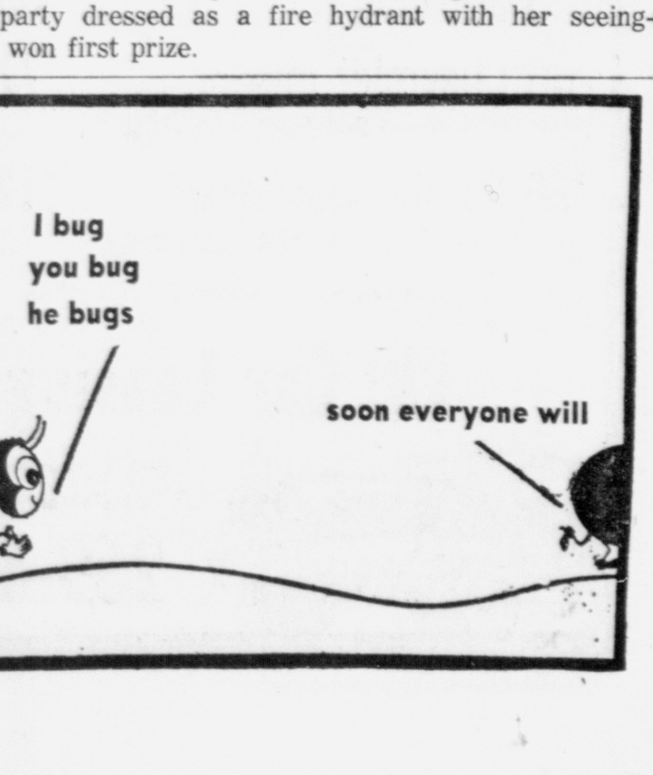
Held at the DuPage County Fairgrounds, the snow and cold weather did not stop interest in the event. Your editor was able to attend during the morning and the place was packed. There were a number of folks from this area who had dogs entered, however, final major wins were not available before this column's deadline. Hope to have information for the next one.

Outdoor living—

At this time of year too much stress cannot be placed on two basic requirements for living quarters for the outdoor animal—placing the house high enough off the ground to avoid dampness and keeping it away from chilly or icy winds by locating it in a southern exposure. If you provide them with a well constructed and tight house, most dogs, short-haired as well as long-haired—will come through the winter in good shape. There are exceptions, these include some of the miniature or toy breed.

Barks & Bays—

Still like the true story about the blind girl who went to a costume party dressed as a fire hydrant with her seeing-eye dog. She won first prize.



Northwest Gals Still Unbeaten

The Northwest Suburban YMCA girls swimming team remained unbeaten last Saturday with a convincing 261-31 victory over the Park Ridge 'Y'.

Susie Ivison and Jan Lesniak were the pace-setters in the easy triumph.

Ivison won the 100-yard individual medley and 100-yard freestyle in the Prep Division and also swam on the victorious medley relay team.

Jan Lesniak of Prospect Heights tied a team record in the midget division 25-yard breaststroke with a 19.7 clocking. She also competed on the 100-yard freestyle relay team.

The Northwest 'Y' gals will host Waukegan this Saturday at 4:00 p.m. The public is invited free of charge.

Pin Decides League Dual

A pin in 3:24 at heavyweight gave Downers Grove's varsity wrestlers a come-from-behind 22-20 victory over Arlington High School last Friday evening.

The host Trojans trailed by six points with two bouts remaining when they made their move, racking up a decision and pin for the team triumph.

Arlington, now 1-2 in West Suburban Conference duals, didn't jump off to a fast start Friday, falling behind by 11 points after five bouts, but the Cards rallied with five straight wins to take the lead.

CHIP DOUGLAS got things started with a 6-0 victory at 133 pounds, scoring a reversal and predicament in the concluding period, and Dave Gooding coasted, 8-1, at 138. Dave did all his scoring in the first two periods.

Kirk Wolter kept the Cardinal string alive with a 6-0 conquest at 145 pounds, jumping out on top 4-0 in the opening stanza, and Don Lindmark pushed Arlington into a one-point lead with a 4-2 win at 154.

Lindmark broke a tie with a reversal in the final period. Both wrestlers were scoreless heading into that decisive segment.

ARLINGTON WENT on top 20-14 at 165 pounds when Mike Jones flattened his opponent in 5:35, showing a 4-2 advantage at the time.

That's when Downers Grove rebounded, posting a decision at 180 and pin at heavyweight for the team victory.

Arlington's only scoring over the first five bouts Friday came at 95 pounds when Jim Whitnell continued to impress with a 7-4 victory. Jim had two takedowns, an escape, and reversal.

Arlington's wrestlers will host LaGrange Saturday at 1:45 p.m.

Jonland Tops Skating Club

The uncertainty of the winter seemed to have reached the Mount Prospect club and the endeavors of the two skating meets hardly measured up to previous experiences the club had enjoyed in earlier meets.

A last minute cancellation was received on the Illinois State championships scheduled last Friday, at Lake Ellyn in Glen Ellyn. Wednesday's heavy snow made it impossible to manicure the lake's ice into shape in time for an early Friday evening start.

The Pierce Western Open opened Saturday at Chicago's Waveland Rink and as the Chicago ice disappeared the unskated balance of the program was put on the road for an evening finale. Northbrook invited the skaters to finish their racing program on their Meadowhill Park rink.

ONCE THEY got around to the job of skating, Bobby Haenisch decided skating was more fun than sightseeing and took a fourth and a third in the 220 and 440 yard events in the Midget Boys class. Todd Jonland finished 5th in the sprint final.

Gary Jonland continued his spectacular skating in the Juvenile boys class, finishing his day's work with the individual trophy as he again won both his races on the program. In the 220 yard sprint Gary bested the efforts of teammates Bobby Knight, who finished second and Tom Tagney in third. All three skated the one-half mile final but only Gary managed to avoid trouble.

In the Midget class, Laura Lawler skated to both finals but failed to score.

MARY CUNNINGHAM took a fourth place in the 440 yard final to be Prospect's only scorer in the girls classes. The bantam boys again swept the first three spots in their races. Tom Grunnah bombed off the starting line and won two first place awards. Rich Vehe and Jimmy Tagney swapped seconds and thirds in these races. Lee Hubbard and Andy Lindstrom showed noticeable improvement in chasing their teammates home to the finish each time.

With only ninetten points earned for the team effort the club started home to Prospect hoping hard work next week would be rewarded with more satisfying results.

But on Sunday the club again tackled the same tough competition at the Northwest Open held at Waveland where overnight the workmen, with the help of the weatherman, were able to put the rink in good condition for the meet.

The big guns of the Prospect Juvenile boys class, Jonland and Knight, finished one, two in both their events. Jonland added another trophy for his individual effort. Tom Tagney took the fourth spot in the 440 yard event to complete the scoring.

Laura Lawler skated a final in the girls class without adding to the point total but Mary Cunningham in the Junior class took a good third in the 220 sprint but failed by inches in her other event to score.

It is expected that the Silver Skates will next be skated at the Waveland rink, but two postponed point scoring meets for National Qualifying team selection may be scheduled and skated on short notice. This information will be passed on to team members when officially received by Bob Zuckermandel, Prospect club president.

Lions Rebound From Loss to Win, 77-62

by FRED BOEDEKER

What a difference a day makes—

That pretty well sums up the story of how the St. Viator Lions were removed from the dwindling unbeaten list in the Chicagoland Prep League last weekend.

The locals lost to highly touted DeLaSalle, 56-41, last Friday night on the Meteors' home court but returned home the following evening to rout St. George of Evanston 77-62.

The split left head coach Larry Nomellini's quintet in a second place tie with St. Mel at 3-1, while perennial C.P.L. powers St. Patrick and DeLaSalle lead the pack with identical 4-0 marks.

The Lions shot only 31 per cent from the field in Friday night's loss to the Meteors but regained their shooting eyes to hit at a 58 per cent clip against the Dragons.

THE ST. VIATOR five got off to a slow start in Friday's encounter, scoring only 17 points in the first half to find themselves eight points down at intermission. Their inability to score was compounded by the fact that the Meteors were doing an excellent job of controlling the boards and very rarely giving the Lions more than one shot at the basket.

With the exception of junior guard Frank Hogan's 10 point outburst in the final period, it was much the same story in the second half. The Lions were unable to get an effective offensive attack going and Jerry Tokars' Meteors continued to score on easy layups and tipins to put the game out of reach.

It isn't often anybody beats the powerful DeLaSalle cagers on their home court, but this year's team doesn't seem to be as well-rounded as some of its predecessors. With a little better shooting percentage, the Lions might have been able to pull off the upset that would have left them atop the league standings with an unblemished 4-0 mark.

Hogan led St. Viator scorers with 17 points on 7 field goals and 3-3 free throws. Frank shared scoring honors with 6-5 Meteor forward Sevira Brown. DeLaSalle's 6-5 center Tommy Hunter chipped in with 15 points and performed a yeoman job in the rebounding department.

THE LIONS wasted no time in celebrating their return to the familiar scenery of their home court as they raced out to a 21-10 lead at the end of the first quarter against St. George. Center Paul Pomplun led the charge with four quick baskets and some impressive rebounding. Four Viator scorers hit in double figures as the locals outscored the Dragons in every period.

Senior forward Paul Dumke turned in one of the most impressive offensive performances of his career as he led the Lion attack with 25 points on 10 baskets and 5-7 charity tosses before fouling out midway into the final period. Hogan chipped in with 17 counters for the second night in a row while Pomplun and Johnny Loughman collected 12 and 10 points respectively.

Nomellini's boys hope to gain undisputed possession of second place in the C.P.L. as they launch another double-header weekend. St. Viator will host powerful St. Patrick Friday night and travel to Westchester to meet St. Joseph the following evening.

Knights In JV Win At Conant

The steady attack outweighed the one-man assault Saturday evening, as Prospect's junior varsity basketball team took a 61-50 measure of Conant's JVs on the Cougar floor.

The Knights spread their scoring around evenly while dominating the rebounding to slowly but steadily widen their margin. For the Cougars — hindered by the absence of 6-2 George Schenck and 6-4 Brian Bethke — the slack was mostly picked up by guard Mike Kennedy.

KENNEDY HAD the biggest night of his JV career, hitting nine field goals and four of six free throws for 22 points. John Fabing, transferred from the varsity for the game, was next high for Conant with eight markers.

Prospect was topped by Mike Anderson with 13 points, but Tom Grafton was only a point behind, and Clyde Whitcomb and Mike Mueller had nine each.

The steady Prospect momentum gave the Knights an 18-14 first quarter lead, a 37-21 halftime bulge and a 48-37 third quarter edge.

One of the critical factors in the game was free throws, especially in the second quarter. In that period, while Conant was converting seven of 12, Prospect hit 13 of 15. For the game, the Knights had a gaudy 27 of 35 and Conant 18 of 29.

Cardinal Sophs Bumped on Mat

Downers Grove's sophomore wrestlers rallied from a four-point deficit with three bouts remaining to score a 27-18 victory over Arlington High last week.

The Cardinals held the lead for only a matter of seconds. Doug Sanderson's pin gave them a four-point advantage at 154 pounds, but Downers took the lead for good with a pin in 1:40 at 165.

Also scoring victories for Arlington were Bob Dabbert at 127 pounds, Douglas at 133, and Kelly Reid at 145. Jeff Damm claimed a tie at 120.

Wayside Wins Doubleheader

Our Lady of Wayside basketball teams won both junior and senior basketball games against St. Monica of Carpentersville last Sunday. The seniors won 63 to 36 and the juniors triumphed 28 to 18.

Cullen led senior scorers with 19 points. Michalek scored nine points and rebounded well. Shanahan led the juniors with nine points.

Wayside will meet St. James of Arlington Heights next Sunday at St. Viator's gym. Junior game starts at 2 p.m. and the seniors at 3 p.m.

Both teams are in second place in their respective divisions of the North West Suburban League. The seniors have a record of eight wins and one loss; the juniors stand at seven wins and two losses.

Falcons JV Cagers Beaten in Overtime

"Cold spells" sent Forest View's JV cagers down to a 42-38 overtime defeat before Maine West last Friday.

In the opening Mid-Suburban contest for both quintets, the Falcons sank just one basket over the final five minutes of play. MW outscored FV 6-2 in the overtime period to wrap up the triumph.

As the contest opened Forest View didn't tally for over four minutes and was behind 7-5 after one quarter. Led by Frank Calvello and Rich Gillespie, however, the Falcons went on top 19-18 at the half.

In period three Ted Lambert kept coach Bob Rees FV forces in front. Lambert popped in seven markers and Forest View increased its margin to 30-27 before last quarter action got underway. Then came another cold spell.

FV DIDN'T GET on the scoreboard again for four minutes while Phil Murdock and Dale Haase counted for Maine which went in front 33-30. Calvello's four points and Lambtrt's six footer brought Forest View back but a lay-up by MW's Ken Mach tied the score with 41 seconds remaining and caused the overtime.

The Falcons put in just one bucket in six attempts in those extra minutes. That came with only one second left after Maine West had wrapped up the win on four points by Haase and two by Don Bartholamae. Mike Martin made the two points for FV.

High scorer in the game was Maine's Murdock with 16 while Haase had nine and Mach eight for the winners. Lambert and Calvello, with nine apiece, led Forest View which shot a lackluster 27 per cent, 12 for 45, from the floor.

FOREST VIEW'S BUCKY JONES
Go-Ahead Points At The Line

First M-SL Loss Ever

Maine Edged By FV Five

by MICHAEL HESS

Royalty, as Forest View cagers discovered, does not succumb easily . . .

Maine West has worn two straight Mid-Suburban League hoop crowns. A 24-0 mark was compiled by the regal Warriors to capture those titles.

Last Friday the Falcons challenged MW's conference throne in opening '65 M-SL contests for each quintet. Surprisingly close, the outcome found FV on top 51-48.

Entering the struggle coach Ken Arneson's team was 7-5 while a lowly 1-9 record belonged to headman Gaston Freeman's Warriors. Forest View had been expected to roll over Maine but, as it turned out, the affair was close all the way.

AT HALF TIME the Falcons were down 29-22 and when the last quarter opened FV was still behind MW at 38-37. Only clutch final quarter showings by Bucky Jones and Howie Brasch allowed Forest View to pull out the triumph.

Jones initiated the closing eight minutes by popping in a pair of free throws to put the Falcons in front 39-38. That margin increased as Pat Dunnigan hit an eight footer from the corner. Maine's Ken Mueller traded 10 footers, with FV's Jim Buckholz and the tally was 43-40.

The Warriors surged back on a pair of goals by Tom Sperling and held a 44-43 lead with 4:53 left. One minute later Maine was still up by three at 48-45.

Then Brasch, a junior reserve, grabbed an offensive rebound and layed it up making the score 48-47. With 1:42 remaining Jones was fouled and again put in a pair from the line to again give Forest View a one point margin, at 49-48.

DURING THE ending 90 seconds the Warriors had two opportunities to get points on free throws. However, they missed both first tries in one and one situations and, thanks to a regrouped Falcons defense, didn't register on any shots from the floor. FV's final goal came on another lay-up by Brasch which set the 51-48 totals.

Never before had Maine West dropped a Mid-Suburban game and never before had Forest View topped an MW varsity basketball aggregation. But, giving away height, experience and overall talent, the Warriors still battled and made it close.

The game began with coach Freeman's forces jumping out to a 7-0 advantage. The Falcons' starting markers came after three minutes on a goal by center Jim Baumgardt. Buckholz and Baumgardt kept FV close and period one closed with Maine leading 13-12.

The second quarter was one of near disaster for Forest View. The Falcons made only four of 15 attempts from the floor, had eight turnovers and picked up just 10 points. At the same time Maine West flipped in seven of 15 goal tries including an eight point performance from sub Pete Kulik, turned the ball over just twice and made 16 markers.

AT INTERMISSION time the score was 29-22.

Third period competition found a complete reversal from previous play as FV used six points by Brasch and four from Jeff Grismer to spearhead a 15 point attack. The Warriors had turnover troubles, with seven, made only one of five at the line and were outscored by six.

Entering that last quarter the score was 38-37.

High man in the game was Dunnigan, with 13 points, while Brasch added 10 and Buckholz eight for the winners. Forest View shot 33 per cent from the floor (21 of 64) and had 16 turnovers. For deposed Maine the best was Kulik with 12 though Mueller had 11. The losers shot 38 per cent (18 of 47) and had 15 turnovers.

Prospect spurted to a 20-8 first period lead and held on after that. The Wildcats came back with a 17-11 second quarter edge, but the second half was played virtually at a standstill and Wheeling couldn't cut the margin any more.

The losers received two 20-point performances, with John Cammarato and Phil Smith each putting in nine shots from the floor and two from the free throw line.

St. Viator Frosh Split

St. Viator's frosh Lions rebounded from a loss to DeLaSalle to roar past St. George Saturday in basketball activity.

'Cats Matmen Edge Falcons

Victory and defeat were decided by just two bouts during last Saturday's wrestling competition between Forest View and Wheeling.

After the first nine matches of that encounter the meet score was knotted 14-14. The 'Cats took the next two decisions and edged FV 20-19.

As a result of the outcome, Wheeling's dual meet record was lifted to 3-6 while the Falcons were left at 6-2. In Mid-Suburban League action both grappling units now carry 1-1 marks.

When the meet began, the first four bouts were divided. Falcons Tom Mann and Steve DeHaven won 6-4 and 6-1 decisions at 95 and 112 pounds over Wheeling's Rex Meisenheimer and Ken Brown. At 103 and 120 the 'Cats Ray Weidner and Karl Meisenheimer defeated John Martin and George Taylor 6-0 and 8-2.

The Falcons came back in the following pair of bouts. Ray Vitha and Jim Kubik both shut out their opponents at 138 and 145. Vitha blanked Mike Fluegel 4-0 and a 2-0 tally sent Matt Porzell down before Kubik.

When Wheeling's Rich Haddock was tied by Pete Phillips 2-2 at 154 the team scoring showed both sides with 14 points. Then came the crucial bouts.

Paul Berwanger used an 8-2 margin to decision Brian Lampert at 165 pounds. Berwanger's win put Wheeling on top 17-14 in the meet. Putting the triumph out of reach for the Wildcats was Ray Pace. Pace whipped FV's Mike Severns 9-1 at 180 for only the second loss of the season in 11 bouts for Severns.

THE MEET score was 20-14 as heavyweight action began. Al Gildemeister salvaged something for the losing Falcons by pinning Wheeling's Ted Armstrong in 2:50. Armstrong is 7-3-1 for the year.

Next action for coach Art Kraft's Wildcats will be tomorrow (Friday) when they travel to Palatine at 7:30 p.m. Also tomorrow, and at the same time, Forest View, under headman Hal Henson, will host Prospect.

Prospect Wins 2nd In MSL

Prospect made it two straight in Mid-Suburban League junior varsity wrestling competition last Saturday, coming back to beat Conant 25-19 on the Knight mats. Conant went to 0-2 in the MSL.

Prospect had jumped off to an 8-0 lead in the meet, on a decision win by Ricardo Basch at 95 and a forfeit victory by Gary Mundt at 103. The Knights quickly lost that lead, and in fact fell behind 19-8.

CLARK ELLITHORPE won 6-5 for Conant at 112 to start the Cougar scoring. That was followed by decision wins from Tom Isenberg (120) and Mike Skoneczka (127), a pin victory by Barry Alexa (133) and a default victory by Larry Patel (138).

Then, in what represented the difference in the match, Conant forfeited another match, giving Joe Koza the victory at 145.

It was followed by four straight decision victories, with Gary Cobe triumphing for the Knights at 154, Bill Whittemeyer at 165, Larry Clark at 180 and — in the final decisive match — Dennis Creighton at heavyweight. That last victory was a close 6-5 decision over Jim Lohff.

In One-Sided Affair . . .

Forest View Quintet Tops Wheeling 66-42

by MICHAEL HESS

"One-sided" is an unpleasant term in athletics but one which fits perfectly last Saturday's Forest View-Wheeling cage encounter.

There was never any doubt about the outcome of that affair. The Falcons led from start to finish and finally topped the 'Cats 64-42.

FV's victory made its Mid-Suburban League mark 2-0 while the setback left Wheeling an 0-2 conference record. Overall the winners are 9-5, the losers 3-10.

To beat the Widlcats, Forest View used a re-vamped lineup, good field goal shooting and top individual showings by Howie Brasch and Jim Buckholz. Against FV, Wheeling had fewer turnovers, near perfect free throw accuracy and standout work by Scott Bischoff.

OPENING FOR the Falcons was just one regular, Pat Dunnigan. He was joined by former subs Brasch, Buckholz and Bucky Jones plus newcomer Bob Erlander. All did well and gave Forest View the life, hustle and spark it had formerly lacked.

A percentage of 47.4 (27 for 57) from the floor was turned in by FV. Especially effective was junior center Brasch, who hit six of 10 and ended with 17 points, and senior forward Buckholz, who made eight of 17 for 16 points. Brasch also topped all rebounders with 13 while Buckholz grabbed six off the boards.

The Wildcats committed just 15 turnovers, six fewer than the Falcons, and also made 10 of 11 at the line for 90.9 per cent. From the floor they connected for 16 of 42, a dull percentage of 38.1, but Bischoff, who finished with 17 points, sank seven of 10.

Starting game action Buckholz sank a 20-footer putting FV ahead 2-0. Coach Ken Arneson's charges stayed ahead the rest of the way.

Bischoff countered for Wheeling with a free throw to set the totals at 2-1 but then the Falcons rattled off eight straight points. Another goal by Buckholz, a steal and driving lay-up by Dunnigan, a foul shot and 15-footer by Erlander and the score was 9-1.

GIVING THE 'Cats three points was Bischoff, who hit from the corner before Brasch made an eight-footer. A free throw by Al Gibbon and another bucket by Bischoff set the score at 11-6 but Jones' hook and Dunnigan's jumper put Forest View up 15-6 entering period two.

SCOTT BISCHOFF
Loser Leader

That second quarter was the worst for the Falcons though they lost no ground to Wheeling. Forest View had nine turnovers in the period and just 11 points, four each from Buckholz and Brasch and three from Dunnigan. Bischoff's five and Rex Peterson's four gave the 'Cats nine more before the half.

Intermission found FV on top 26-15.

Third quarter action brought no change in the game's trend. Brasch scored seven and Buckholz four to pace the Falcons, 16 point effort and the Wildcats got only 11 including four more from Bischoff. A 24-16 advantage in the final eight minutes set Forest View's winning margin.

Near the start of that closing play Brasch and Buckholz were relieved of duty and Dunnigan, who ended with 11 points, fouled out. FV reserves Jeff Grismer, Byron Borgardt and Jim Baumgardt, all former starters, took over.

IN JUST over four minutes of competition, Grismer put in four goals, mainly from over 20 feet, while Borgardt produced a pair of baskets and Baumgardt a lone two-pointer. For Wheeling, Peterson, who totaled nine, flipped in four points, Bischoff and Tom Harwood three each but the Wildcats just never came close.

Thus the Falcons continued their domination over District 214 rival Wheeling. In three basketball meetings between the two, FV has totaled 202 points in gaining a trio of triumphs to the 128 'Cats total. Last year the quintet of coach Mike Owens was bested by Forest View 54-32 and 82-54.

Arlington Sophs Split Loop Games

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals routed Downers Grove but dropped a tough six-point decision to LaGrange in West Suburban Conference basketball play last weekend.

Coach Fran Somers' outfit stormed out to a 31-11 lead at halftime Friday and coasted to a 49-25 victory over visiting Downers Grove.

John Theroux paced the winners with five baskets and three free throws for 13 points.

Arlington played one of its top games of the season Saturday but still dropped a 55-49 decision to a strong LaGrange five.

The host Lions needed an 18-12 cushion in the final quarter to sew up the victory. Arlington had rallied from a seven-point deficit to knot the score in the third period.

Keith Culberson was high for the Cards with 13 points. Theroux had 11.

Arlington will host Glenbard West Friday evening and journey to Barrington Saturday.

Bowling Lanes Entry Hopes to Make Climb

(This is the seventh in a series of articles on the sponsors in the Paddock Classic bowling leagues for men and women.)

Rolling Meadows Bowl hit the jackpot as a sponsor in the Paddock Classic Traveling League in the 1963-64 season, capturing the grand championship in the men's division.

Now, two seasons later, the Rolling Meadows establishment is finding out how the other half lives in the sponsor department.

The headlines have been scarce and the pinfall light for the Rolling Meadows Bowl entry in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League. The pinfall was so light, in fact, during the first half action that the Rolling Meadows gals found themselves settled in the basement of the six-team division.

But there's a chance at new life as the women embark on the second half of the schedule with hopes of making the climb all the way to the top.

Actually, the sponsors who experienced the most difficulty in first half action in the women's league were the bowling lanes themselves. River Rand Bowl, Striking Lanes, and Rolling Meadows Bowl finished in the second division in the gals' activity while two car dealers and a restaurant landed the top three slots.

ROLLING MEADOWS Bowl has been a fixture in Rolling Meadows since 1959, and the popular house now features 36 lanes, a nursery, restaurant, snack bar, billiards, meeting room, and attractive cocktail lounge.

Located just across from the Rolling Meadows Shopping Center on Kirchoff Road, the completely air-conditioned establishment is popular with leagues and also has opened its doors to the schools.

The girls athletic associations at several high schools bowl at Rolling Meadows with the Palatine Park District also utilizing the lanes for a special program.

THE KEY MAN at Rolling Meadows, the man in charge, is Al Jordan, a personable 33-year-old Arlington Heights resident who is regarded as one of the finest bowlers in the suburban area.

Jordan, who was the Chicago Match Game champion in 1960, served as instructor at Rolling Meadows Bowl when it first opened its doors in 1959. Al became manager three years ago and still handles all the instruction.

Ed Williams is in his first year as assistant manager at Rolling Meadows, and Donna Garchie works at the counter during the days. Carmella Motisi is in charge of the leagues and bowling schools.

IN ADDITION TO sponsoring an entry in the Paddock Women's league, Rolling Meadows Bowl also serves as the home lanes for the Bill Cook Buick outfit in the men's loop. Cook Buick finished second in first round play.

The first half was no picnic for the Rolling Meadows Bowl team in the Paddock Women's Classic, but that's history and has no bearing on the second half.

There are 15 weeks remaining in the second half schedule, and you can be sure Kay Clark, Harriet Fuchs, Jean Ladd, Marlene Smith, and Esther Hugo are anxious to push Rolling Meadows Bowl into title contention.

Bertoglio Loses First

Knights Wrestlers Stop Cougars 34-6

Prospect's wrestlers remained unbeaten in Mid-Suburban League competition Saturday, whipping Conant 34-6. But even the losing Cougars had some solace in the loss.

Though only two Knights lost in the dual on the Prospect mats, they were those with the best season records going into the meeting. The most prominent of the victims was Rick Bertoglio, who the day before had won his 12th straight challenge without defeat. He lost 2-0 to Conant's Dennis Skoneczka in their 145-pound confrontation.

DAVE HOLMES, who entered the meet with a 6-3-1 record at 103, was also blanked, with Tom Borthwick of the Cougars doing it 6-0. The Knight with the third best record, Bill Kalvog, won his match on default when Conant's Bill Gluck had to stop in the second period of their 120-pound tussle. Kalvog is now 6-3.

The two teams had started the match by trading big beatings. Prospect's Gary McMorrow beat Conant's Mike Smith 8-0 at 95, and Conant's Borthwick won that 6-0 match at 103. Then Mike Mohr won 8-3 over Mike Ferguson at 112 and the Prospect triumph was on.

Several of the matches were settled by close scores, but Prospect won them all and ran up its huge team score. Jeff Hansen (127) won 4-2; Jim Herod (133) won 2-1; Vince Curry (138) won 7-1; Pete Smith (154) won 4-2; Kim Schier (180) won 2-1; and Dave Chapman (heavy) won 2-0. There was only one pin, with Prospect's Marty Destefanis downing Conant's Steve Deutschman at 3:26 of their 165-pound battle.

Prospect, now 2-0 in the MSL, is 5-2-1 for the season, while Conant—1-1 in the MSL—is 5-3 over-all.

St. Viator Sophs Fall In 2 Tilts

St. Viator's sophomore basketball team suffered a double defeat last weekend in Chicagoland Prep League play.

The young Lions came out on the short end of a 36-32 score when they traveled to DeLaSalle Friday night and lost by that same four point margin, 46-42 when they played host to St. George of Evanston the following evening.

The locals had a 22-20 lead at halftime against DeLaSalle but a disastrous third quarter, in which they scored only three points, gave the Meteors the only break they needed to put the game out of reach.

Pat Zeller led Viator scorers with 12 points on four baskets and four free throws but scoring honors for the game went to Jim Martin of DeLaSalle with 13 counters.

Coach Ed Wasielewski's boys fought back from a 25-19 halftime deficit to within two points of St. George on Saturday night but fell short in their bid to upset the Dragons.

The Lions will still be seeking their first league victory of the young season when they launch another doubleheader weekend Friday night. They host perennial power St. Patrick on Friday and then travel to Westchester to meet St. Joseph the following evening.

Cards Triumph In Frosh Meet

Jim Brousseau won two events and added a third place for 18 team points to spark Arlington's frosh gymnastics team to an 80-52 victory over Prospect High.

Brousseau won the high bar and parallel bars and finished third on the side horse.

Other Cardinal winners were Glenn Pierre on the side horse and Pete Metz in tumbling.

Fred Dolce on rings and Tindall on the tramp won for Prospect.

Wheeling Gymnasts Fall in Two Meets

Two narrow losses were handed Wheeling gymnasts last week despite top showings by three individuals and towering strength on the rings.

First the Wildcats' gym squad was topped by Prospect 69-63 last Friday in the opening Mid-Suburban League meet for both. Then came a 68-64 defeat at the hands of Barrington on Saturday.

In both meets the Wheeling charges of coach Wayne Selvig were paced by Mike Bangs, Jim Bowker and Rick Dyson. Bangs won on the parallel bars in both meets with scores of 131 and 154. Two firsts on the rings went to Bowker registered a 131 and 139. With a 151 and 126 Dyson was first and second in tumbling.

IN BOTH MEETS the 'Cats swept the top three positions on the rings. Bowker got his firsts and then Lonny Davis and Craig Ovesky took second and third. Davis gained the runner-up spots with scores of 112 and 123 while Ovesky received ratings of 110 and 120.

Others who did well in the meeting with Prospect were Mike Allen, Wayne Coats, Bob Johnson and Greg Shornden. Allen and Coats were second and third on the horse while Johnson and Shornden were third on the high bar and P-bar.

"We made a few mistakes," commented headman Selvig after the meeting with the Knights, "but the meet was a great improvement over what we had done in previous meets."

Back up the leaders against Barrington's Broncos for the 'Cats were Fred Hudson and Gerry Fontecchio. Hudson tied for second on the horizontal bar and Gerry Fontecchio got thirds on the trampoline and in tumbling.

With those meets, Wheeling's gymnastics record was shifted to 3-6 for the season. The 'Cats gym men are now 0-1 in M-SL competition.

NEXT MEET for Wheeling will come tomorrow (Friday). The Wildcats travel to Palatine at 7:30 p.m.

(Details of Prospect's performance in the meet against Wheeling were not made available by press time.)

Knights' Jayvees Whip 'Cats, 53-41

After a nip-and-tuck first half battle, the Prospect High JV cagers pulled away in the third period and went on to win their opening Mid Suburban league tilt from a visiting Wheeling five by a 53-41 count in last Friday night's preliminary contest.

The Knights shot out to a 15-7 first period margin, but Wheeling rallied in the second quarter to narrow this difference to one point, 25-24, when the first half ended.

Coach Don Arseneau's Prospect quintet quickly opened up an eight point lead early in the third quarter. With Tom Grafton and Mike Mueller leading the way, the Knights stretched their margin to 13 points during one point in this period.

Prospect went into a semi-stall type offense in the final period, and walked off the court with the 53-41 triumph.

The Knights' Mueller was the game's high point man with 25 points. Jay Newman paced Wheeling with 18 tallies.

'Cats Matmen Edge Falcons

Victory and defeat were decided by just two bouts during last Saturday's wrestling competition between Forest View and Wheeling.

After the first nine matches of that encounter the meet score was knotted 14-14. The 'Cats took the next two decisions and edged FV 20-19.

As a result of the outcome, Wheeling's dual meet record was lifted to 3-6 while the Falcons were left at 6-2. In Mid-Suburban League action both grappling units now carry 1-1 marks.

When the meet began, the first four bouts were divided. Falcons Tom Mann and Steve DeHaven won 6-4 and 6-1 decisions at 95 and 112 pounds over Wheeling's Rex Meisenheimer and Ken Brown. At 103 and 120 the 'Cats Ray Weidner and Karl Meisenheimer defeated John Martin and George Taylor 6-0 and 8-2.

IN THE 127 pound match Al Eisenstein put Wheeling in front with a 12-0 stomping of Marty Fontana. Eisenstein's victory, his seventh of the year against a loss and tie, set meet totals at 9-6. Jerry Hawkinson made it 12-6 for the Wildcats by edging Forest View's Bob Best 6-5 at 133.

The Falcons came back in the following pair of bouts. Ray Vitha and Jim Kubik both shut out their opponents at 138 and 145. Vitha blanked Mike Fluegel 4-0 and a 2-0 tally sent Matt Porzell down before Kubik.

When Wheeling's Rich Haddock was tied by Pete Phillips 2-2 at 154 the team scoring showed both sides with 14 points. Then came the crucial bouts.

Paul Berwanger used an 8-2 margin to decision Brian Lampert at 165 pounds. Berwanger's win put Wheeling on top 17-14 in the meet. Putting the triumph out of reach for the Wildcats was Ray Pace. Pace whipped FV's Mike Severns 9-1 at 180 for only the second loss of the season in 11 bouts for Severns.

THE MEET score was 20-14 as heavyweight action began. Al Gildemeister salvaged something for the losing Falcons by pinning Wheeling's Ted Armstrong in 2:50. Armstrong is 7-3-1 for the year.

Next action for coach Art Kraft's Wildcats will be tomorrow (Friday) when they travel to Palatine at 7:30 p.m. Also tomorrow, and at the same time, Forest View, under headman Hal Henson, will host Prospect.

Prospect Wins 2nd In MSL

Prospect made it two straight in Mid-Suburban League junior varsity wrestling competition last Saturday, coming back to beat Conant 25-19 on the Knight mats. Conant went to 0-2 in the MSL.

Prospect had jumped off to an 8-0 lead in the meet, on a decision win by Ricardo Basch at 95 and a forfeit victory by Gary Mundt at 103. The Knights quickly lost that lead, and in fact fell behind 19-8.

CLARK ELLITHORPE won 6-5 for Conant at 112 to start the Cougar scoring. That was followed by decision wins from Tom Isenberg (120) and Mike Skoneczka (127), a pin victory by Barry Alexa (133) and a default victory by Larry Patel (138).

Then, in what represented the difference in the match, Conant forfeited another match, giving Joe Koza the victory at 145.

It was followed by four straight decision victories, with Gary Cobe triumphing for the Knights at 154, Bill Whittemeyer at 165, Larry Clark at 180 and — in the final decisive match — Dennis Creighton at heavyweight. That last victory was a close 6-5 decision over Jim Lohff.

FV Sophs Beat Grove In Wrestling

In a meet in which seven matches were decided on pins, Forest View's sophomore wrestlers handled Elk Grove's sophs 31-21 last week.

Forest View had four of the pins, with Don Cappelon winning at 95, Brian Wolff at 112, Marc Swanson at 154 and Bob Savage in the heavyweight meeting. Gaining pin wins for Grove were Dave Wheeler at 127, Cliff Gaylor at 133 and Mike McFarland at 165.

Coach Dave Theesfeld's victors also took five points on a forfeit, with Kevin Powers getting the win at 180. Winning decisions for the Falcons were Bill Dehaven, who won 4-0 at 120, and Mike Casey, a 2-1 winner at 138.

Elk Grove's remaining points came on decision wins from Mark Beatty (4-2 at 103) and Chuck Raffaele (12-4 at 145).

Stavros Paces Wildcat Sophs Past FV Squad

Wheeling sophs racked up their sixth win of the season by topping Forest View wrestlers 34-13 last Saturday.

The Wildcats were paced in their triumph by Dan Stavros. Stavros, competing at 154 pounds, scored a pin in 5:49. That marked the eighth consecutive win and eighth consecutive pin by the Wheeling sophomore standout.

OTHERS TO win with a pin for Wheeling were Tom Russell (133 pounds), Steve Strom (165) and Pat McGuire (180). Those who took decisions for the 'Cats were Rick Abrams (103), Israel Lopez (112), Ted Milbratz (120) and Pat Goin (138).

Two more points in the meet for Wheeling were gained by Steve Mykytuik (127) who took an 8-8 tie.

Those who picked up points for FV were Mike Walden (95), Steve Allen (145) and Bob Savage (heavyweight). Walden and Allen won with decisions while Savage scored a pin. Don Winkelman was the one who tied Mykytuik for the Falcons.

Card JVs Post 4th Cage Win

Arlington's jayvee Cardinals snapped a three-game losing streak Saturday with an impressive 59-47 victory over Hinsdale.

Playing what head coach Al Allen termed their "best ball as a team this season," the Cardinals pulled into a lead they never relinquished with a 17-8 third period.

Arlington scored 37 points over the final two periods to clinch their fourth victory in seven games.

Steve Conley was high for the winners with 21 points on nine baskets and three free throws. Jim Bressler flipped in six baskets.

Arlington will journey to Glenbard West Saturday morning.

Prospect Hands Wheeling Sophs First Mat Loss

Prospect ran off a string of three pins and a decision to settle the issue after ten bouts last week in a 31-21 sophomore wrestling victory over Wheeling.

The Knights held a slim 13-11 lead heading into the 138-pound match when Bob Link, Ron Richardson, Don Burkhardt, and Mike Sanders combined for 18 team points.

Also scoring victories for Prospect were Jim Amoroso (95), Bill Huchstedt (103), and Terry Holshauser (127).

Wheeling's point-getters were Israel Lopez (112), Ted Milbratz (120), Tom Russel (133), Pat McGuire (180), and Clay Aarhaus (heavyweight).

The loss was the first of the season for Wheeling's sophomore matmen.

Arlington Wins Frosh Mat Meet

Arlington's frosh wrestlers climbed into a 13-8 lead at 127 pounds and held on for a 26-21 victory over Downers Grove last week.

Noel Bauler's pin in 2:32 at 127 pounds pushed the Cards into a lead they never relinquished.

Also scoring wins for Arlington were Gary Prochaska at 95, Jack Dabbert at 120, Jim Revelle at 138, McCoy at 154, and Dan Selleck at 165.

Frosh Mat Win

Forest View's frosh wrestlers fashioned five pins and two decisions Saturday as they scored a 31-23 victory over Wheeling.

Bill Sundblom (112), Bob Bartels (127), Gene Cushing (145), Lohrman (154), and Jim Pierson (heavyweight) posted the falls for the winners.

Hal Busch (103) and Jim Smith (133) had the Falcon decisions.

ROLLING MEADOWS BOWL has been contending mostly with adversity during the 1965-66 Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League season. The RMB ladies ended the first round sixth in the six-team loop, 23 points behind victor Lattof Chevrolet, and they lost their round two opener 3-1 to Steve's Restaurant over the weekend. The team, smiling in spite of the troubles, consists of Marlene Smith, Jean Ladd and Esther Hugo, back row; and Kay Clark and Harriet Fuchs, front row. (Staff photo)

In One-Sided Affair . . .

Forest View Quintet Tops Wheeling 66-42

by MICHAEL HESS

"One-sided" is an unpleasant term in athletics but one which fits perfectly last Saturday's Forest View-Wheeling cage encounter.

There was never any doubt about the outcome of that affair. The Falcons led from start to finish and finally topped the 'Cats 64-42.

FV's victory made its Mid-Suburban League mark 2-0 while the setback left Wheeling an 0-2 conference record. Overall the winners are 9-5, the losers 3-10.

To beat the Widlcats, Forest View used a re-vamped lineup, good field goal shooting and top individual showings by Howie Brasch and Jim Buckholz. Against FV, Wheeling had fewer turnovers, near perfect free throw accuracy and standout work by Scott Bischoff.

OPENING FOR the Falcons was just one regular, Pat Dunnigan. He was joined by former subs Brasch, Buckholz and Bucky Jones plus newcomer Bob Erlander. All did well and gave Forest View the life, hustle and spark it had formerly lacked.

A percentage of 47.4 (27 for 57) from the floor was turned in by FV. Especially effective was junior center Brasch, who hit six of 10 and ended with 17 points, and senior forward Buckholz, who made eight of 17 for 16 points. Brasch also topped all rebounders with 13 while Buckholz grabbed six off the boards.

The Wildcats committed just 15 turnovers, six fewer than the Falcons, and also made 10 of 11 at the line for 90.9 per cent. From the floor they connected for 16 of 42, a dull percentage of 38.1, but Bischoff, who finished with 17 points, sank seven of 10.

Starting game action Buckholz sank a 20-footer putting FV ahead 2-0. Coach Ken Arneson's charges stayed ahead the rest of the way.

Bischoff countered for Wheeling with a free throw to set the totals at 2-1 but then the Falcons rattled off eight straight points. Another goal by Buckholz, a steal and driving lay-up by Dunnigan, a foul shot and 15-footer by Erlander and the score was 9-1.

GIVING THE 'Cats three points was Bischoff, who hit from the corner before Brasch made an eight-footer. A free throw by Al Gibbon and another bucket by Bischoff set the score at 11-6 but Jones' hook and Dunnigan's jumper put Forest View up 15-6 entering period two.

SCOTT BISCHOFF
Loser Leader

That second quarter was the worst for the Falcons though they lost no ground to Wheeling. Forest View had nine turnovers in the period and just 11 points, four each from Buckholz and Brasch and three from Dunnigan. Bischoff's five and Rex Peterson's four gave the 'Cats nine more before the half.

Intermission found FV on top 26-15.

Third quarter action brought no change in the game's trend. Brasch scored seven and Buckholz four to pace the Falcons, 16 point effort and the Wildcats got only 11 including four more from Bischoff. A 24-16 advantage in the final eight minutes set Forest View's winning margin.

Near the start of that closing play Brasch and Buckholz were relieved of duty and Dunnigan, who ended with 11 points, fouled out. FV reserves Jeff Grismer, Byron Borgardt and Jim Baumgardt, all former starters, took over.

IN JUST over four minutes of competition, Grismer put in four goals, mainly from over 20 feet, while Borgardt produced a pair of baskets and Baumgardt a lone two-pointer. For Wheeling, Peterson, who totaled nine, flipped in four points, Bischoff and Tom Harwood three each but the Wildcats just never came close.

Thus the Falcons continued their domination over District 214 rival Wheeling. In three basketball meetings between the two, FV has totaled 202 points in gaining a trio of triumphs to the 128 'Cats total. Last year the quintet of coach Mike Owens was bested by Forest View 54-32 and 82-54.

Arlington Girl First In AAU Swim Meet

Marsha Kaipus came home with an arm full of honors from last Saturday's 9th annual Chicagoland Open Indoor Age Group Swimming Meet.

The 12-year-old Miss Kaipus received three medals and a trophy for her showing in the meet. Swimming unattached from the Lake Forest Swim Club Marsha took two firsts and a second in individual races plus the top spot in her age group.

With a timing of :27.6 Miss Kaipus won the 50 yard freestyle event and followed that up by ending ahead in the 100 yard freestyle with the excellent time of 1:00.6. Her second came in the 100 yard backstroke in which she was clocked at 1:12.6.

DUE TO THE meet points she gained with those performances, Marsha was awarded the first place trophy for girls in the 11 to 12 age bracket. The meet, sponsored by the Amateur Athletic Union, was staged at Wells Park pool in Chicago.

Miss Kaipus resides at 815 E. Redwood Lane in the Ivy Hill section of Arlington Heights. Marsha, a seventh grade student at St. Thomas of Villanova school in Palatine, moved to Arlington during the past year.

While a resident of Nebraska, her former home, Miss Kaipus won 23 trophies, over 100 medals and over 100 ribbons for her swimming feats. Her present swim plans call for entering several more area meets in the near future.

Arlington Sophs Split Loop Games

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals routed Downers Grove but dropped a tough six-point decision to LaGrange in West Suburban Conference basketball play last weekend.

Coach Fran Somers' outfit stormed out to a 31-11 lead at halftime Friday and coasted to a 49-25 victory over visiting Downers Grove.

John Theroux paced the winners with five baskets and three free throws for 13 points.

Arlington played one of its top games of the season Saturday but still dropped a 55-49 decision to a strong LaGrange five.

The host Lions needed an 18-12 cushion in the final quarter to sew up the victory. Arlington had rallied from a seven-point deficit to knot the score in the third period.

Keith Culberson was high for the Cards with 13 points. Theroux had 11.

Arlington will host Glenbard West Friday evening and journey to Barrington Saturday.

Bertoglio Loses First

Knights Wrestlers Stop Cougars 34-6

Prospect's wrestlers remained unbeaten in Mid-Suburban League competition Saturday, whipping Conant 34-6. But even the losing Cougars had some solace in the loss.

Though only two Knights lost in the dual on the Prospect mats, they were those with the best season records going into the meeting. The most prominent of the victims was Rick Bertoglio, who the day before had won his 12th straight challenge without defeat. He lost 2-0 to Conant's Dennis Skoneczka in their 145-pound confrontation.

DAVE HOLMES, who entered the meet with a 6-3-1 record at 103, was also blanked, with Tom Borthwick of the Cougars doing it 6-0. The Knight with the third best record, Bill Kalvog, won his match on default when Conant's Bill Gluck had to stop in the second period of their 120-pound tussle. Kalvog is now 6-3.

The two teams had started the match by trading big beatings. Prospect's Gary McMorrow beat Conant's Mike Smith 8-0 at 95, and Conant's Borthwick won that 6-0 match at 103. Then Mike Mohr won 8-3 over Mike Ferguson at 112 and the Prospect triumph was on.

Several of the matches were settled by close scores, but Prospect won them all and ran up its huge team score. Jeff Hansen (127) won 4-2; Jim Herod (133) won 2-1; Vince Curry (138) won 7-1; Pete Smith (154) won 4-2; Kim Schier (180) won 2-1; and Dave Chapman (heavy) won 2-0. There was only one pin, with Prospect's Marty Destefanis downing Conant's Steve Deutschman at 3:26 of their 165-pound battle.

Prospect, now 2-0 in the MSL, is 5-2-1 for the season, while Conant—1-1 in the MSL—is 5-3 over-all.

Wheeling Gymnasts Fall in Two Meets

Two narrow losses were handed Wheeling gymnasts last week despite top showings by three individuals and towering strength on the rings.

First the Wildcats' gym squad was topped by Prospect 69-63 last Friday in the opening Mid-Suburban League meet for both. Then came a 68-64 defeat at the hands of Barrington on Saturday.

In both meets the Wheeling charges of coach Wayne Selvig were paced by Mike Bangs, Jim Bowker and Rick Dyson. Bangs won on the parallel bars in both meets with scores of 131 and 154. Two firsts on the rings went to Bowker registered a 131 and 139. With a 151 and 126 Dyson was first and second in tumbling.

IN BOTH MEETS the 'Cats swept the top three positions on the rings. Bowker got his firsts and then Lonny Davis and Craig Ovesky took second and third. Davis gained the runner-up spots with scores of 112 and 123 while Ovesky received ratings of 110 and 120.

Others who did well in the meeting with Prospect were Mike Allen, Wayne Coats, Bob Johnson and Greg Shornden. Allen and Coats were second and third on the horse while Johnson and Shornden were third on the high bar and P-bar.

"We made a few mistakes," commented headman Selvig after the meeting with the Knights, "but the meet was a great improvement over what we had done in previous meets."

Back up the leaders against Barrington's Broncos for the 'Cats were Fred Hudson and Gerry Fontecchio. Hudson tied for second on the horizontal bar and Gerry Fontecchio got thirds on the trampoline and in tumbling.

With those meets, Wheeling's gymnastics record was shifted to 3-6 for the season. The 'Cats gym men are now 0-1 in M-SL competition.

NEXT MEET for Wheeling will come tomorrow (Friday). The Wildcats travel to Palatine at 7:30 p.m.

(Details of Prospect's performance in the meet against Wheeling were not made available by press time.)

Knights' Jayvees Whip 'Cats, 53-41

After a nip-and-tuck first half battle, the Prospect High JV cagers pulled away in the third period and went on to win their opening Mid Suburban league tilt from a visiting Wheeling five by a 53-41 count in last Friday night's preliminary contest.

The Knights shot out to a 15-7 first period margin, but Wheeling rallied in the second quarter to narrow this difference to one point, 25-24, when the first half ended.

Coach Don Arseneau's Prospect quintet quickly opened up an eight point lead early in the third quarter. With Tom Grafton and Mike Mueller leading the way, the Knights stretched their margin to 13 points during one point in this period.

Prospect went into a semi-stall type offense in the final period, and walked off the court with the 53-41 triumph.

The Knights' Mueller was the game's high point man with 25 points. Jay Newman paced Wheeling with 18 tallies.

4 Local Patrols Win Klondike Derby Races

Four Arlington Heights Boy Scout patrols took first place in races staged by the Sauk Woods District of the Northwest Suburban Council as a part of its "Klondike Derby" held Saturday in the Deer Grove Forest Preserves.

Winners in the pair of races conducted on homemade snowshoes were the Flaming Arrow patrol of Troop 56, sponsored by Faith Lutheran Church, and the Buffalo patrol of Troop 57, South Junior High School PTA.

IN THE TWO sledge races, first place honors went to the Panther patrol of Troop 135, First Methodist Church, and the Hawk patrol of Troop 7, Arlington Heights Lions Club.

Jack Medley, 2003 Hawk Court, Rolling Meadows, district activities chairman, said 37 patrols from 15 troops in Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows competed in the racing events.

The Scouts also were tested in their signalling, compass reading, fire building and first aid skills. The highest score for this proficiency went to Troop 135's Panthers. Close behind was the same troop's Falcon patrol.

TROOP 7'S Hawks came in third in the Scouting skills. Fourth place went to Troop 57's Flying Eagle patrol. The Cougar patrol of Troop 132, Stonegate Homeowner's Association, was fifth.

Medley said the success of the annual Boy Scouting winter outing was due to the efforts of Scout unit leaders and the many other adults who took part in the all-day affair. Helping him in key assignments were Oscar Josetti, Jim Lindsey, Joe Talaber, John Thompson and Don Traver. Hot chocolate and coffee was provided by Otis Johnson and the boys of Explorer Post 7. (A

'The Salem' Home Revives An Old New England Idea

The Salem, built by Campanelli Bros. in the Weathersfield subdivision of Schaumburg, revives the kitchen-family center aspect of early New England homes. It features a huge, 18-foot-eight inch by 10 foot-eight inch kitchen-family room combination with plenty of cabinets coupled with clean-wall design.

The design provides banquet size meal planning and serving facilities, plus a recreation area much larger than the usual "snack or dining area." The kitchen is modern in every respect and has maple cabinets. It may be equipped with General Electric appliances including disposal, range, dishwasher and refrigerator.

CAMPANELLI BROS. are currently offering five models at Weathersfield, priced from $16,450 to $26,950. All prices include landscaped sites with a minimum 70-foot frontage.

Taxes are comparatively low in Weathersfield. The village's unusually favorable financial condition has eliminated the need for a local village tax.

Standard home features include underground wiring, ceramic tile bath and kitchen tile, one and one-half or more baths, concrete drive, gas heat, stainless steel sinks, and built-in kitchen cabinets. Sundecks, fireplaces and appliances are also included in some models. Free decorator advice is available to all Weathersfield buyers.

WEATHERSFIELD HAS its own schools, community center, swimming pool, tennis courts, ice-skating rink, shopping and churches. Loop rail transportation is available at nearby Roselle and by the Illinois Tollway. Current models are located along Irving Park Road, five miles west of Illinois Highway 53. (15BB

Plant Tour Slated for Executives

One of the highlights of this year's program for the Northwest Suburban Manufacturers is a plant tour of Motorola in Franklin Park. Advance registration for this dinner meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 26, indicates that it will be well attended.

Following a smorgasbord buffet, manufacturers will hear an address by Walter Scott, vice president of manufacturing, entitled, "The Motorola Story." Afterwards guides will be available to escort the manufacturers through the plant facilities.

AT THE FRANKLIN Park facilities, Mototola employs over 6,000 employes. They manufacture colored and black and white TV's, and stereos. It is considered one of the most ultra-modern manufacturing plants in the Midwest.

Manufacturers interested in attending this meeting should contact the Northwest Suburban Manufacturers office, 9500 W. Belmont Ave., Franklin Park. (15BB

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Each year a certain pattern of questions develops concerning house plants. One of these questions that comes at this time of year regards large leaved foliage plants as decoration in the home.

Sometimes, for example, the leaves on the split leaved philodendron, fail to split. It is with not certainty that we can give the reason for the failure to split, however, many times it has been found that full sunlight will help to correct the problem. In other cases, increased fertilization is helpful provided they are not fertilized oftener than once a month. Fertilizing more often than this results in a leggy, tall, ungainly plant.

Incidentally, the correct name for the split leaf philodendron is Monstere deliciosa. In the trade it is often incorrectly called Philodendron pertussun..

THESE SAME foliage plants are often kept in spic and span condition by washing. In fact, plant shining and cleaning materials are becoming very popular. If you have used them you may have been particularly happy with the results. However, before using them again consider the results of research at the Pennsylvania State University.

They found tnat some of these new plant shining or cleaning materials are harmful to the plant growth. There is no question that these plant cleaners improve the appearance of the foliage. This glossy appearance can't be duplicated with plain water. But water on the other hand is safe to use as often as you wish. It leaves the leaves clean but not glossy.

If you wish to use the plant cleaning and shining materials, use them infrequently, perhaps once a month. Used oftener they may burn the leaves of your favorite plant and definitely slow its growth.

Another plant that we are often questioned about is the Bird-of-paradise flower. Even under the best home conditions the plants do not bloom freely. Even then with good divisions and under excellent growing conditions it may take two years or more before flowers appear. As a guide you may want to follow these suggestions. Any good soil is satisfactory for the Bird-of-paradise. After planting it should be given full sun. When growth starts in the spring increase the watering and its rate of fertilization. It will be necessary to keep the plant in a large tub. This will help it to develop into a large plant. Look for blooms after ten or more large healthy leaves are produced.

TWO ADDITIONAL points to remember are that the plant should be kept as cool as possible during winter. Temperatures of 50 to 55 degrees would be about right. Too much water during the dormant winter season can also cause root rot and thus dying of leaves and failure to flower.

Thus with a lot of luck, a large pot or tub, cool temperatures and plenty of light the Bird-of-paradise plant will occasionally bloom under home conditions. (15BB

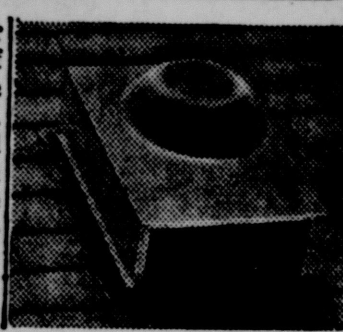
IT'S AN IDEA—HOME DECORATIONS



This new low-profile blower gives the advantages of roof mounting without marring the exterior appearance of a home. It is only nine inches high and blends inconspiciously when painted to match the roof. The two-speed unit can handle indoor barbecues with ease and can be used conventional hoods. It can also be wall-mounted.

IT'S AN IDEA— HOME DECORATIONS

This new low-profile blower gives the advantages of roof mounting without marring the exterior appearance of a home. It is only nine inches high and blends inconspiciously when painted to match the roof. The two-speed unit can handle indoor barbecues with ease and can be used conventional hoods. It can also be wall-mounted.

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

PART A THURS., JAN. 20, 1966

Love of Old Things Is Their Common Interest

Women Search for 'Livable' Antiques

by Pat Adam
Suburban Living Editor

You had so much fun hunting for that Seth Thomas clock in your living room, those cut glass goblets in your china cabinet, the spinning wheel in your family room? And you experienced such joy when you found them?

Then you share the sentiments of an unusual organization interested in searching for and finding antiques as well as learning about old and collectible items. The organization is The Questers. Its motto: It's fun to search and a joy to find.

The Questers is a national group, and it has several chapters in Illinois, one of them in the northwest suburban area, the Salt Creek chapter. Among the Salt Creek members are women from Mount Prospect, Palatine, Arlington Heights and Long Grove plus a number of other suburbs.

The Questers itself was formed in 1944 by the late Mrs. William George Bardens of Fort Washington, Pa., after she discovered a shared love for antiques among fellow members of her Red Cross group. The Salt Creek Chapter was organized in June, 1961, and three of the original members are still active in it.

MEETINGS ARE held in the homes of members, and for this reason the chapter has to limit its membership to 25, the maximum that can be accommodated, so the chapter always has a waiting list. Interest is so keen, said the chapter president, Mrs. Albert G. Boeck of Arlington Heights, that there is the full quota at each meeting. No one wants to miss, and besides, three absences without good excuse and a member is out.

Salt Creek Chapter is an unusual chapter in an unusual organization. So far as its members know, it is the only one to meet in the morning, at least in this area. Whatever problems they may have getting their households in order other days, they experience no difficulties on meeting day, noted Mrs. Henry Rosen of Palatine, the present program chairman.

Programs vary, Mrs. Rosen said. Sometimes there may be a speaker. Mrs. Milton Daniels of the Arlington Heights Historical Society was one, and the group has heard others talk on such a variety of subjects as quilts, European antiques and Staffordshire pot lids.

"WE DIDN'T even know what pot lids were," explained Mrs. Richard MacDermott of Palatine, past president of Salt Creek. "The pots were used by the English to store bear grease which the men used to stimulate hair growth when they quit wearing wigs.

"The lids of these pots were very decorative. The pots themselves frequently got broken, but the lids were kept. It's a lost art today," she said.

On other occasions members may make a field trip. They've visited the Francis Willard home in Evanston, the church in Kenilworth where poet Eugene Field is buried, the Chicago Historical Society Building, Old Town, among other places.

THERE IS even a "textbook," which they study at some meetings. It's Alice Winchester's "How to Know American Antiques," and it's come in handy on their frequent shopping tours.

One advantage of morning meetings is that members can bring a sandwich for a quick lunch and then take off on an antique hunting jaunt.

Individual Questers chapters are supposed to prepare two original study papers each year and send these to the national organization. These may be on an assigned basis or they may be done voluntarily. Mrs. Ray Jacobs, Arlington Heights, who is the treasurer this year, prepared such a paper on cut and pressed glass, and Mrs. Donald Mitchell, Ingleside, who is publicity chairman both for Salt Creek and the state of Illinois, did another on lighting.

HIGHLIGHT OF the chapter year is the Christmas potluck luncheon to which each one brings an antique to be auctioned. Proceeds go to the group's library, numbering 14 books at present but due for some additions soon. Members may borrow these books for individual study.

Members of Salt Creek Chapter are not collectors of antiques.

"We're interested in antiques that we can use and live with," explained Mrs. Gordon Ward, Arlington Heights, the group's vice president.

BY THEIR definition, an antique is anything "collectible." For example, right now items of the 1920's and 1930's are popular. By another definition, an antique must be at least 100 years old, but according to Questers, if it's not made any more, it's worth having.

Besides the satisfaction of sharing with others the fun of seeking out old items and finding what you want, these Salt Creek Questers have found other rewards in this unusual organization.

"I've belonged to several groups, but none with the zest for living that these women have," commented Mrs. Ward.

"We've discovered that each member is an excellent cook, too," added Mrs. MacDermott, with a chuckle.

"AND THERE'S always somebody available to go antique hunting with you on the spur of the moment," put in Mrs. Jacobs.

How do their husbands feel about their interest in antiques?

A few share it to some extent.

"Mine is interested when it's something he wants very much. He'll even go hunting for it on his own," said Mrs. Jacobs.

A RARE ONE like the husband of Mrs. Eugene Grewe, Mount Prospect, does all the refinishing of furniture that she acquires and even enjoys the task.

But most of them probably are like Mrs. Boeck's spouse. Tolerant.

"I keep something in the basement until my husband gets used to seeing it around, and then I bring it upstairs," she admitted.

New Column

"Doctor in the Kitchen," a column on nutrition by Dr. W. W. Bauer, director emeritus of health education for the American Medical Association and consultant to the National Dairy Council, starts today (Thursday) in Suburban Living. This feature will be published on a regular basis in the Suburban Living Living section.

THE QUESTERS like antiques that fit into their homes and can be used as well as enjoyed. The Seth Thomas clock in Mrs. Boeck's living room serves this double purpose; it is a decorative piece in keeping with her decor and it still keeps time. Mrs. Richard MacDermott of Palatine, past Salt Creek Chapter president, winds the clock as Mrs. Gordon Ward of Arlington Heights watches. (Staff Photo)

District Juniors Hold Annual Meeting Today

Seventh District Juniors of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will hold their second annual meeting today (Thursday) at 8:15 p.m. in Pioneer Park, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Erwin Godowa, program chairman, will introduce the art scholarship recipient, who will present a dialog of her experiences at the Allerton Park Art School.

Honored guests for the evening will include Mrs. George Young, IFWC state junior director, Mrs. Joseph Hansen, Seventh District art chairman, Mrs. Warren Petersen, seventh district literature chairman, and members of the Seventh District executive board.

The ways and means committee will present a "sneak preview" of the "February Flair" annual hat show, to be held Saturday, Feb. 26, in Elmhurst Country Club. Tickets may be obtained by contacting Junior clubwomen, or by calling 439-0418. There will be three showings, 10:30 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. Models will be from all clubs in the district.

HOSTESS CLUBS for today's meeting will be the Des Plaines and Wheeling Junior Woman's Clubs.

The Seventh District Junior Executive Board meeting was held Jan. 6 at the home of Mrs. Sheldon Schultz, president of the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's Club.

The IFWC CARE project continues with "Operation Little Bells." Through this project the Illinois Junior Clubs have provided 50 Mexican children between the ages of 6 and 15 with a prefabricated school building, a teacher and supplies. This was made possible through the sale of gold bell charm bracelets and personal contributions. Continuation of this project will provide further schooling in rural parts of Mexico to combat illiteracy.

MRS. GEORGE Young, IFWC state junior director attended the dedication of the El Ocate, Hidalgo, Mexico school last September. She was greeted by dignitaries, and a group of smiling, attentive children and their parents. The mothers served refreshments which included, tacos, sandwiches, cokes, cactus juice punch and cookies.

Mrs. Young emphasizes that the Junior Women's obligation in this project is just beginning. "You cannot give kindness away. It always comes back to you," she commented.

Exchange Students On Club Program

Intimate glimpses of life on other continents will be shared with the Arlington Heights Woman's Club by exchange students in this country sponsored by American Field Service. The International Relations study group of the club will be host at its annual program with the visitors Tuesday, Jan. 25, at 1:15 p.m. in Pioneer Park Field House.

Also from that continent is Malena Gonzales of Paraguay, who attends Wheeling High School. Her proxy parents are the Bernard Morses of Prospect Heights.

NAOKI SAITO from Japan is living with Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Chilton of Mount Prospect while attending Forest View High School. A student from Arlington High who visited Spain under the Americans Abroad program, Randy Oppelt, also will speak. Mrs. Howard Payne is chairman of the study group presenting this program, "Youth Looks Forward."

Plan Study Course For Hoffman Women

"Focus: Christianity 1966 and Me" will be the study course conducted this year by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Our Saviour's Methodist Church, Hoffman Estates.

The study course, which will be held at Hoffman Lanes, will begin Friday, Jan. 21, and meet each Friday morning except Jan. 28, through Feb. 25. Interested members of the entire congregation will be included in this session, which will conclude as pizza and coffee are served.

THE STUDY COURSE will include play reading, a film and individual case studies. Ethan Janove, head of the Head Start Program in this area as well as principal of an elementary school, and Jerry Schuler, theological student, social worker and parish assistant of Our Saviour's Methodist Church, will be leading the fifth session Feb. 18.

Topic for that morning will be "New Patterns of Involvement." The course will conclude Feb. 25 with a special observance of World Day of Prayer.

An introduction to the subject of the study course will be the film, "Almost Neighbors," which will be shown at the WSCS Circle Meetings in January.

Homemakers Mark 25th Anniversary

Cook County Homemakers Extension Association of the University of Illinois Cooperative Service is holding its 25th annual meeting and luncheon today, (Thursday) at Mangam's Chateau, Lyons.

Members of Homemakers Extension organization are interested in education for better home and family living. It is said to be the largest educational organization for women in the world.

Mrs. Albert E. Schaefer, president of Cook County Homemakers Extension Association, a member of the Barrington Unit, is presiding at the all day meeting, at which 500 homemakers are attending.

SPECIAL SPEAKER of the day is Mrs. Herman Stiehr of Waukegan, president of Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation, who will talk about her trip to Ireland as a representative to the triennial conference of the Country Women of the World. Card Party Advance ticket sales promise a good turnout for the card party planned by Queen of the Rosary Altar and Rosary Society, Elk Grove Village, for Wednesday, Jan. 26, at 8:30 p.m. Tickets will also be available at the door, the party set for Golden Acres Country Club in Hoffman Estates.

There will be all kinds of card games, and the party is open to the public.

To Review Best Seller Tuesday

The recent best seller, "And Then There Were Eight," by Chicago writer, Paul Malloy, will be reviewed by Mrs. Robert Reynolds of Mount Prospect, herself a mother of nine children, for the Palatine Book Review Club Tuesday, Jan. 25. The club will meet at 12:15 p.m. in Brandt's Restaurant.

All members are urged to attend this first meeting of the new year to participate in planning next season's activities.

BESIDES THE FUN she has collecting these antique silver spoons, Mrs. Albert G. Boeck of Arlington Heights, current president of the Questers, finds they make an attractive accessory for her home where the spoon rack normally adorns a wall in her dining room. Two other Salt Creek chapter members, Mrs. Henry Rosen of Palatine and Mrs. Eugene Grewe of Mount Prospect, examine two old goblets from the collection belonging to another member who likes to set a dinner party table, using a different goblet for each guest. Women on All Strata Use 'The Pill,' Study Reveals

The acceptance and faithful use of birth control pills know no social, economic or educational boundaries, according to a study involving almost 15,000 women made by the Planned Parenthood Association, Chicago area.

Until this time there has been a question in the minds of many as to whether low-education mothers would take the pill regularly if it were made available to them.

"THE RESULTS of this study show that the woman with only a grammar school education—or even less in some instances—will use the oral contraceptive just as successfully as the woman who has completed college," says Dr. Richard Frank, medical director for the Planned Parenthood Association, Chicago area, and co-director of the study together with Dr. Christopher Tietze, research director for the National Committee on Maternal Health, Inc.

At the conclusion of the three-year study about three out of four women were still using this method, a significantly high continuation rate when compared to other methods of birth control, Dr. Frank notes.

"Use of the pills requires a high deree of motivation," Dr. Frank explained. "If a woman forgets to take just one or two pills in the same cycle, there is a possibility of pregnancy, so the successful use of this method also requires a good memory or daily notations on a calendar."

OF THE 14,157 women who began on the study, only 1,314 women discontinued the pills for reasons pertaining to their use, such as the presence of side effects, miscellaneous physical complaints, fear of long-term effects and economic reasons. No patient was urged to continue the pills against her will.

The "average user" was described as a Negro, about 25 years old, who had completed high school and borne three children. The median family income was $66 a week, and about one-sixth of the families were receiving public assistance.

Love of Old Things Is Their Common Interest

Suburban Living Editor

You had so much fun hunting for that Seth Thomas clock in your living room, those cut glass goblets in your china cabinet, the spinning wheel in your family room? And you experienced such joy when you found them?

Then you share the sentiments of an unusual organization interested in searching for and finding antiques as well as learning about old and collectible items. The organization is The Questers. Its motto: It's fun to search and a joy to find.

The Questers is a national group, and it has several chapters in Illinois, one of them in the northwest suburban area, the Salt Creek chapter. Among the Salt Creek members are women from Mount Prospect, Palatine, Arlington Heights and Long Grove plus a number of other suburbs.

The Questers itself was formed in 1944 by the late Mrs. William George Bardens of Fort Washington, Pa., after she discovered a shared love for antiques among fellow members of her Red Cross group. The Salt Creek Chapter was organized in June, 1961, and three of the original members are still active in it.

MEETINGS ARE held in the homes of members, and for this reason the chapter has to limit its membership to 25, the maximum that can be accommodated, so the chapter always has a waiting list. Interest is so keen, said the chapter president, Mrs. Albert G. Boeck of Arlington Heights, that there is the full quota at each meeting. No one wants to miss, and besides, three absences without good excuse and a member is out.

Salt Creek Chapter is an unusual chapter in an unusual organization. So far as its members know, it is the only one to meet in the morning, at least in this area. Whatever problems they may have getting their households in order other days, they experience no difficulties on meeting day, noted Mrs. Henry Rosen of Palatine, the present program chairman.

Programs vary, Mrs. Rosen said. Sometimes there may be a speaker. Mrs. Milton Daniels of the Arlington Heights Historical Society was one, and the group has heard others talk on such a variety of subjects as quilts, European antiques and Staffordshire pot lids.

"WE DIDN'T even know what pot lids were," explained Mrs. Richard MacDermott of Palatine, past president of Salt Creek. "The pots were used by the English to store bear grease which the men used to stimulate hair growth when they quit wearing wigs.

"The lids of these pots were very decorative. The pots themselves frequently got broken, but the lids were kept. It's a lost art today," she said.

On other occasions members may make a field trip. They've visited the Francis Willard home in Evanston, the church in Kenilworth where poet Eugene Field is buried, the Chicago Historical Society Building, Old Town, among other places.

THERE IS even a "textbook," which they study at some meetings. It's Alice Winchester's "How to Know American Antiques," and it's come in handy on their frequent shopping tours.

One advantage of morning meetings is that members can bring a sandwich for a quick lunch and then take off on an antique hunting jaunt.

Individual Questers chapters are supposed to prepare two original study papers each year and send these to the national organization. These may be on an assigned basis or they may be done voluntarily. Mrs. Ray Jacobs, Arlington Heights, who is the treasurer this year, prepared such a paper on cut and pressed glass, and Mrs. Donald Mitchell, Ingleside, who is publicity chairman both for Salt Creek and the state of Illinois, did another on lighting.

HIGHLIGHT OF the chapter year is the Christmas potluck luncheon to which each one brings an antique to be auctioned. Proceeds go to the group's library, numbering 14 books at present but due for some additions soon. Members may borrow these books for individual study.

Members of Salt Creek Chapter are not collectors of antiques.

"We're interested in antiques that we can use and live with," explained Mrs. Gordon Ward, Arlington Heights, the group's vice president.

BY THEIR definition, an antique is anything "collectible." For example, right now items of the 1920's and 1930's are popular. By another definition, an antique must be at least 100 years old, but according to Questers, if it's not made any more, it's worth having.

Besides the satisfaction of sharing with others the fun of seeking out old items and finding what you want, these Salt Creek Questers have found other rewards in this unusual organization.

"I've belonged to several groups, but none with the zest for living that these women have," commented Mrs. Ward.

"We've discovered that each member is an excellent cook, too," added Mrs. MacDermott, with a chuckle.

"AND THERE'S always somebody available to go antique hunting with you on the spur of the moment," put in Mrs. Jacobs.

How do their husbands feel about their interest in antiques?

A few share it to some extent.

"Mine is interested when it's something he wants very much. He'll even go hunting for it on his own," said Mrs. Jacobs.

A RARE ONE like the husband of Mrs. Eugene Grewe, Mount Prospect, does all the refinishing of furniture that she acquires and even enjoys the task.

But most of them probably are like Mrs. Boeck's spouse. Tolerant.

"I keep something in the basement until my husband gets used to seeing it around, and then I bring it upstairs," she admitted.

New Column

"Doctor in the Kitchen," a column on nutrition by Dr. W. W. Bauer, director emeritus of health education for the American Medical Association and consultant to the National Dairy Council, starts today (Thursday) in Suburban Living. This feature will be published on a regular basis in the Suburban Living Living section.

Penny Flame Contestant

Susan Lorraine Sundeen of Arlington Heights will be representing South Junior High School when she competes in the regional contest of the Penny Falme home economics awards program Feb. 5 in Glenview.

She will be competing on the junior level of the contest for monetary awards of $200 and $100 and other awards in the program sponsored annually by Northern Illinois Gas Co. Senior level contestants will be judged separately for a $1,000 or $300 college scholarship.

Susan, 13, is an eighth grade student of Miss Barbara Givens. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sundeen, 604 S. Dunton Ave.

Alexian Group Election Tonight

General elections for Alexian Brothers Hospital Auxiliary will be held tonight (Thursday) at 8:15 in Itasca Village Hall. All members are urged to attend as there will be no absentee voting.

Reports from each committee chairman will be available, and a short talk will be given by one of the Brothers.

THE QUESTERS like antiques that fit into their homes and can be used as well as enjoyed. The Seth Thomas clock in Mrs. Boeck's living room serves this double purpose; it is a decorative piece in keeping with her decor and it still keeps time. Mrs. Richard MacDermott of Palatine, past Salt Creek Chapter president, winds the clock as Mrs. Gordon Ward of Arlington Heights watches. (Staff Photo)

District Juniors Hold Annual Meeting Today

Seventh District Juniors of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will hold their second annual meeting today (Thursday) at 8:15 p.m. in Pioneer Park, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Erwin Godowa, program chairman, will introduce the art scholarship recipient, who will present a dialog of her experiences at the Allerton Park Art School.

Honored guests for the evening will include Mrs. George Young, IFWC state junior director, Mrs. Joseph Hansen, Seventh District art chairman, Mrs. Warren Petersen, seventh district literature chairman, and members of the Seventh District executive board.

The ways and means committee will present a "sneak preview" of the "February Flair" annual hat show, to be held Saturday, Feb. 26, in Elmhurst Country Club. Tickets may be obtained by contacting Junior clubwomen, or by calling 439-0418. There will be three showings, 10:30 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. Models will be from all clubs in the district.

HOSTESS CLUBS for today's meeting will be the Des Plaines and Wheeling Junior Woman's Clubs.

The Seventh District Junior Executive Board meeting was held Jan. 6 at the home of Mrs. Sheldon Schultz, president of the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's Club.

The IFWC CARE project continues with "Operation Little Bells." Through this project the Illinois Junior Clubs have provided 50 Mexican children between the ages of 6 and 15 with a prefabricated school building, a teacher and supplies. This was made possible through the sale of gold bell charm bracelets and personal contributions. Continuation of this project will provide further schooling in rural parts of Mexico to combat illiteracy.

MRS. GEORGE Young, IFWC state junior director attended the dedication of the El Ocate, Hidalgo, Mexico school last September. She was greeted by dignitaries, and a group of smiling, attentive children and their parents. The mothers served refreshments which included, tacos, sandwiches, cokes, cactus juice punch and cookies.

Mrs. Young emphasizes that the Junior Women's obligation in this project is just beginning. "You cannot give kindness away. It always comes back to you," she commented.

BESIDES THE FUN she has collecting these antique silver spoons, Mrs. Albert G. Boeck of Arlington Heights, current president of the Questers, finds they make an attractive accessory for her home where the spoon rack normally adorns a wall in her dining room. Two other Salt Creek chapter members, Mrs. Henry Rosen of Palatine and Mrs. Eugene Grewe of Mount Prospect, examine two old goblets from the collection belonging to another member who likes to set a dinner party table, using a different goblet for each guest. Doctor in the Kitchen

More and more, salads are coming out of the "side dish" or secondary course place and constituting the principal dish in the meal.

Salads make particularly good meals for luncheon, especially for business men and women who have to return to a desk and do an afternoon's work. They are, I believe, less likely to cause that sleepy feeling than a heavy luncheon.

Almost any restaurant menu now offers salads of cottage cheese, fruit, shrimp, crab, lobster or tossed vegetables, with a choice of dressings, and strippings of cheese, ham, chicken, turkey or corned beef or with hard-cooked egg wedges and anchovies to give that extra fillip to the taste.

WHEN ONE stops to think about it, such a salad isn't a bad description of a balanced array of nutrients from the four basic food groups — and a lot more tempting than some listings of these dietary essentials.

Add a glass of milk and some whole grain or enriched bread, rolls or wafers, and you can return to your task with your dietary conscience at rest, knowing that you have done well by your nutrition and probably have avoided the calorie excess which some other food selection might have involved.

There are many interesting variations of the salad menu, originating in various parts of the world. In France one meets a salad which contains an almost incredible variety of foodstuffs — boiled potatoes, tuna fish, black olives, anchovies, olive oil, parsley, celery, green peppers and tomatoes, seasoned with garlic, chickory, pepper and wine vinegar, and decorated with hard-cooked eggs.

MOLDED ASPIC or gelatin with mixed vegetables or fruits in gelatin molds also make excellent salads, and ingenious things can be done with chicken or duck or turkey in gelatin. Large ripe tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese or a variety of fish, meat or poultry combinations also make tasty light luncheons or snacks.

Speaking of salads generally, there's a lot to be said for the simple mixed vegetable salad, with or without fancy additions, and with dressing of oil and vinegar, French, thousand island or garlic or with Roquefort or blue cheese either in luscious lumps or smoothly blended.

Rice, macaroni and other pasta forms may also be added to salad. The Cantonese vegetable dishes, which are in effect cooked salads, offer another tempting variation.

FOR DESSERT, it's hard to beat a good plate of fresh or canned fruit, balls of cream cheese rolled in chopped nuts or a sherbet salad.

Anywhere you put it in the meal, a good salad adds to enjoyment while ensuring better nutrition.

Superman vs. Dr. Seuss

Son's Bedtime Story Favorites Puzzle Mom

by BETTY AINSLIE

Lives there a child anywhere who doesn't enjoy a bedtime story? And now 'tis the season for longer sessions with a night-time tale.

In the summer with evenings long and light, we barely get the kids tubbed and in bed anywhere near the rather flexible summer bedtime, so there's little time for stories.

But with winter there's time to pull the youngsters away from the TV set and read some of the tales you yourself enjoyed when young.

Time to read with pleasure again "Peter Pan" or "Alice in Wonderland." Funny but I enjoyed those two stories much more myself when I read them to sons and daughter than when they were read to me.

Books I loved and a Christmas never passed without leaving me a new supply of reading material. When I could figure out the words for myself I cried over the entire series of "Elsie Dinsmore." Enjoyed the "Honey Bunch" books and the "Bobbsey Twins" and all their adventures. Horse or dog stories were my favorites and mother read "Black Beauty" to me at the rate of a chapter a night—which made going to bed a joy.

Now-a-days with a library close or the separate Golden Books at inexpensive prices, mothers can finish an entire book a night.

It was a new experience for Bill to be read to and a habit he now greatly enjoys. After his nightly bath he carefully selects a book from his shelf, some inherited from Son no. 2 and some new, and I read a story.

His favorites he knows practically by heart.

"You forgot to say what the engine does," Bill will accuse me as I mistakenly turn two pages instead of one.

"Olive Oil handed Popeye a can of spinach," he will talk along with me and is definite about just exactly what was said on each page by this Popeye or Superman character.

His favorites are not the tried and true nursery tales. He is much more interested in a tale of superman or Popeye and my attempts to introduce him to Alice in Wonderland have so far met with failure.

"That's a dumb book," he declares after I've finished a chapter.

He's not one to sit quietly and listen—if he's not interested he wiggles and Alice definitely sets every muscle atwitch.

The Walt Disney collections of some of the children's classics interest him because the pictures are attractive—and he's completely sold on the "Three Little Pigs" Disney style.

Bill had never heard "The Night Before Christmas" so we played the record, and I found Son no. 2 had an elderly copy which I read as a goodnight story.

Bill was unimpressed and during the record I found his hand edging toward a comic book nearby. After I finished reading the poem to him, his comment was "Now can I have a real story?"

The stories by Dr. Seuss which to me are clever and amazingly funny even to an adult leave Bill unimpressed.

Daughter and sons all enjoyed the Seuss books, but not Bill. Somehow they don't tickle his funny bone. He takes the written word literally and has no truck with anything in the land of fantasy.

"Why, Mom, why should an elephant sit on an egg?" he'll ask, completely losing the ludicrous humor of the whole book of Horton.

One of his favorite stories is about the elephant who wanted to look like and be someone else so he'd have more friends only to find out he had more friends as a good old elephant. Maybe the story echoes his own longing to be liked and loved. This is the only book in fantasy land he enjoys.

But give him a story about a space ship or a supersonic moon rocket, that character Superman or Mouse or adventures of Popeye or the Flintstones and he sits still and interested.

"Boy! Mom," he'll say after another reading of his favorites. "Boy, I'm going to find Superman and get him to help me build a rocket and we'll go to the moon. That's the bestest book, Mom!" (SSD

Trust Officer Explains Wills

"Are you dying to pay taxes?"

This was one of the questions posed by Donald E. Chaney, assistant trust officer of Chicago Title and Trust Co., when he addressed the members of the Addison Women's Club on the subject of "Your Family and Its Protection." He spoke at a luncheon meeting Jan. 12 in the Brookwood Country Club.

Chaney emphasized that no one dies without a will.

"The question is," he stated, "whether an individual has his family lawyer prepare a will that is specifically tailored to unique family circumstances, or, leaves the family property to be distributed according to state law governing descent and distribution. This in effect is having a will prepared by the State of Illinois."

THE TRUST company official explained that the effect of the law of descent could make a widowed mother the vassal of her minor children as she is entitled to only one-third of her deceased husband's solely owned property with the remaining two-thirds going to children.

"If these children are minors," he said, "the mother as guardian, must account to, and get approval from the court for expenditures from their share."

Chaney emphasized that holding title to the family property in joint tenancy to avoid the law governing descent may be like playing the Halloween game of trick or treat — particularly so in the case where there are moderate to substantial amounts of stock and related types of personal property jointly held by husband and wife.

SUCH AN arrangement may compound the federal estate tax woes and result in passing tax dollars to the government that could otherwise be saved for the benefit of children, he said.

Chaney stated that a lawyer should always be consulted in the drawing of a will and the preparation of a family estate plan and that the competent and experienced service of a trust company as executor and trustee assures professional assistance to the surviving members of the family at a time when they will need it the most.

Doctor in the Kitchen

by W. W. Bauer, M.D.

Consultant, National Dairy Council

More and more, salads are coming out of the "side dish" or secondary course place and constituting the principal dish in the meal.

Salads make particularly good meals for luncheon, especially for business men and women who have to return to a desk and do an afternoon's work. They are, I believe, less likely to cause that sleepy feeling than a heavy luncheon.

Almost any restaurant menu now offers salads of cottage cheese, fruit, shrimp, crab, lobster or tossed vegetables, with a choice of dressings, and strippings of cheese, ham, chicken, turkey or corned beef or with hard-cooked egg wedges and anchovies to give that extra fillip to the taste.

WHEN ONE stops to think about it, such a salad isn't a bad description of a balanced array of nutrients from the four basic food groups — and a lot more tempting than some listings of these dietary essentials.

Add a glass of milk and some whole grain or enriched bread, rolls or wafers, and you can return to your task with your dietary conscience at rest, knowing that you have done well by your nutrition and probably have avoided the calorie excess which some other food selection might have involved.

There are many interesting variations of the salad menu, originating in various parts of the world. In France one meets a salad which contains an almost incredible variety of foodstuffs — boiled potatoes, tuna fish, black olives, anchovies, olive oil, parsley, celery, green peppers and tomatoes, seasoned with garlic, chickory, pepper and wine vinegar, and decorated with hard-cooked eggs.

MOLDED ASPIC or gelatin with mixed vegetables or fruits in gelatin molds also make excellent salads, and ingenious things can be done with chicken or duck or turkey in gelatin. Large ripe tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese or a variety of fish, meat or poultry combinations also make tasty light luncheons or snacks.

Speaking of salads generally, there's a lot to be said for the simple mixed vegetable salad, with or without fancy additions, and with dressing of oil and vinegar, French, thousand island or garlic or with Roquefort or blue cheese either in luscious lumps or smoothly blended.

Rice, macaroni and other pasta forms may also be added to salad. The Cantonese vegetable dishes, which are in effect cooked salads, offer another tempting variation.

FOR DESSERT, it's hard to beat a good plate of fresh or canned fruit, balls of cream cheese rolled in chopped nuts or a sherbet salad.

Anywhere you put it in the meal, a good salad adds to enjoyment while ensuring better nutrition.

The annual white elephant sale will highlight the Thursday, Jan. 27 meeting of Arlington Heights Nurses Club. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Pioneer Park, Arlington Heights, with Mrs. Charles Bloecker as auctioneer. (S Adapted and reproduced from original American and English pieces of the 18th Century, they combine to make the perfect spot for "afternoon tea." They may be seen at Schneller Furniture, Arlington Heights. (S

Architectural in design and feeling, it gives great character to today's homes which are so void of any architectural detail. The beautiful functioning bookcases with Tudor arches and trefoil columns make the wall important. Game table with reversible top can be used also for "television dining" as well as chess or cards. Superman vs. Dr. Seuss

Son's Bedtime Story Favorites Puzzle Mom

by BETTY AINSLIE

Lives there a child anywhere who doesn't enjoy a bedtime story? And now 'tis the season for longer sessions with a nighttime tale.

In the summer with evenings long and light, we barely get the kids tubbed and in bed anywhere near the rather flexible summer bedtime, so there's little time for stories.

But with winter there's time to pull the youngsters away from the TV set and read some of the tales you yourself enjoyed when young.

Time to read with pleasure again "Peter Pan" or "Alice in Wonderland." Funny but I enjoyed those two stories much more myself when I read them to sons and daughter than when they were read to me.

Books I loved and a Christmas never passed without leaving me a new supply of reading material. When I could figure out the words for myself I cried over the entire series of "Elsie Dinsmore." Enjoyed the "Honey Bunch" books and the "Bobbsey Twins" and all their adventures. Horse or dog stories were my favorites and mother read "Black Beauty" to me at the rate of a chapter a night—which made going to bed a joy.

Now-a-days with a library close or the separate Golden Books at inexpensive prices, mothers can finish an entire book a night.

It was a new experience for Bill to be read to and a habit he now greatly enjoys. After his nightly bath he carefully selects a book from his shelf, some inherited from Son no. 2 and some new, and I read a story.

His favorites he knows practically by heart.

"You forgot to say what the engine does," Bill will accuse me as I mistakenly turn two pages instead of one.

"Olive Oil handed Popeye a can of spinach," he will talk along with me and is definite about just exactly what was said on each page by this Popeye or Superman character.

His favorites are not the tried and true nursery tales. He is much more interested in a tale of superman or Popeye and my attempts to introduce him to Alice in Wonderland have so far met with failure.

"That's a dumb book," he declares after I've finished a chapter.

He's not one to sit quietly and listen—if he's not interested he wiggles and Alice definitely sets every muscle atwitch.

The Walt Disney collections of some of the children's classics interest him because the pictures are attractive—and he's completely sold on the "Three Little Pigs" Disney style.

Bill had never heard "The Night Before Christmas" so we played the record, and I found Son no. 2 had an elderly copy which I read as a goodnight story.

Bill was unimpressed and during the record I found his hand edging toward a comic book nearby. After I finished reading the poem to him, his comment was "Now can I have a real story?"

The stories by Dr. Seuss which to me are clever and amazingly funny even to an adult leave Bill unimpressed.

Daughter and sons all enjoyed the Seuss books, but not Bill. Somehow they don't tickle his funny bone. He takes the written word literally and has no truck with anything in the land of fantasy.

"Why, Mom, why should an elephant sit on an egg?" he'll ask, completely losing the ludicrous humor of the whole book of Horton.

One of his favorite stories is about the elephant who wanted to look like and be someone else so he'd have more friends only to find out he had more friends as a good old elephant. Maybe the story echoes his own longing to be liked and loved. This is the only book in fantasy land he enjoys.

But give him a story about a space ship or a supersonic moon rocket, that character Superman or Mouse or adventures of Popeye or the Flintstones and he sits still and interested.

"Boy! Mom," he'll say after another reading of his favorites. "Boy, I'm going to find Superman and get him to help me build a rocket and we'll go to the moon. That's the bestest book, Mom!" (SSD

Trust Officer Explains Wills

"Are you dying to pay taxes?"

This was one of the questions posed by Donald E. Chaney, assistant trust officer of Chicago Title and Trust Co., when he addressed the members of the Addison Women's Club on the subject of "Your Family and Its Protection." He spoke at a luncheon meeting Jan. 12 in the Brookwood Country Club.

Chaney emphasized that no one dies without a will.

"The question is," he stated, "whether an individual has his family lawyer prepare a will that is specifically tailored to unique family circumstances, or, leaves the family property to be distributed according to state law governing descent and distribution. This in effect is having a will prepared by the State of Illinois."

THE TRUST company official explained that the effect of the law of descent could make a widowed mother the vassal of her minor children as she is entitled to only one-third of her deceased husband's solely owned property with the remaining two-thirds going to children.

"If these children are minors," he said, "the mother as guardian, must account to, and get approval from the court for expenditures from their share."

Chaney emphasized that holding title to the family property in joint tenancy to avoid the law governing descent may be like playing the Halloween game of trick or treat — particularly so in the case where there are moderate to substantial amounts of stock and related types of personal property jointly held by husband and wife.

SUCH AN arrangement may compound the federal estate tax woes and result in passing tax dollars to the government that could otherwise be saved for the benefit of children, he said.

Chaney stated that a lawyer should always be consulted in the drawing of a will and the preparation of a family estate plan and that the competent and experienced service of a trust company as executor and trustee assures professional assistance to the surviving members of the family at a time when they will need it the most.

It deals with the experiences of Sinbad in trying to help a cowardly djinn regain his magic lamp. However, they meet Azura, the evil spirit of the east, who detains them with his plans to capture the beautiful daughter of the Caliph with the help of the magic lamp.

"The result of this conflict presents a play full of action and color of special interest to the 6-12 year olds," commented Mrs Janda.

Hospital League to Chalk 1/2 Million Service Hours

Some time this week as a Service League volunteer goes about her duty at Lutheran General Hospital, she will be giving the 500,000th hour of volunteer service from the League since the hospital opened in 1960.

She may be accompanying a new patient to his room. She may be working in the blood bank. She may be helping a patient select his menu. She may be taking the library cart to patients.

The volunteer may be taking an electrocardiogram. She may be welcoming visitors at the reception desk. She may be working in any one of the 54 areas where Service Leaguers serve.

"SINCE THE hospital opened in 1960, Service League volunteers have given a half-million hours of service. All of the members can be proud of this accomplishment," said Mrs. Samuel Anderson, president.

Mrs. Anderson noted that the current membership of the Service League is more than 725. On any given day, 125 volunteers will be in the hospital.

"A half-million hours of service is an almost incredible amount of time. When you consider that this was given in just over five years, it becomes almost unbelievable," said T. L. Jacobsen, executive director. "To my knowledge, this is the most imprssive record ever achieved by a group this young."

The need for additional volunteers was cited by Mrs. Anderson.

"However, this is no time for us to rest on our laurels.," Mrs Anderson stated. "With the $6,200,000 expansion program at Lutheran General now in progress, there is a pressing need for additional volunteers. Although we're working in 54 areas, there are many more opportunities available." (S

Organized Dec. 4, 1921, the society has grown from a charter membership of 18 to its present roll of 81 ladies. Four of the charter members continue to be active in the organization. They include Miss Minna Clausing, Mrs. Edwin Jannusch, Mrs. William Lussman and Mrs. William Wilke.

Purposes of the group include promoting and supporting the work of St. Peter Lutheran Church by soliciting new members for the church and rendering financial support to various church, day school, Sunday School and community projects. Support of students for the Lutheran ministry and teaching profession is another of its projects.

THE ORGANIZATION also aids the Missouri Synod by contributions to missions and institutions of charity. The Aid's ever-present goal is to promote the general religious knowledge of its members. All ladies of St. Peter congregation are eligible for membership and are invited to the meetings, conducted the second Tuesday of each month.

Financial obligations of the group are met by various fund-raising projects conducted throughout the year. These have included rummage sales, card parties, fashion shows, luncheons and bazaars.

The social committee of the Aid plans the entertainment to follow each month's business session. The Christmas, Valentine, birthday and mother-daughter parties are highlights of the year's social calendar.

Present officers of the Dorcas Aid are: president, Mrs. Henry Leark; first vice president, Mrs. Walter Landmeier; second vice president, Mrs. Calvin Maurer; secretary, Mrs. Theodore Preuss; and treasurer, Miss Lillian Plass. Board members include Mrs. Edward LaBantschnig, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs Morry Schalin. (S

Hospital League to Chalk 1/2 Million Service Hours

Some time this week as a Service League volunteer goes about her duty at Lutheran General Hospital, she will be giving the 500,000th hour of volunteer service from the League since the hospital opened in 1960.

She may be accompanying a new patient to his room. She may be working in the blood bank. She may be helping a patient select his menu. She may be taking the library cart to patients.

The volunteer may be taking an electrocardiogram. She may be welcoming visitors at the reception desk. She may be working in any one of the 54 areas where Service Leaguers serve.

"SINCE THE hospital opened in 1960, Service League volunteers have given a half-million hours of service. All of the members can be proud of this accomplishment," said Mrs. Samuel Anderson, president.

Mrs. Anderson noted that the current membership of the Service League is more than 725. On any given day, 125 volunteers will be in the hospital.

"A half-million hours of service is an almost incredible amount of time. When you consider that this was given in just over five years, it becomes almost unbelievable," said T. L. Jacobsen, executive director. "To my knowledge, this is the most imprssive record ever achieved by a group this young."

The need for additional volunteers was cited by Mrs. Anderson.

"However, this is no time for us to rest on our laurels.," Mrs Anderson stated. "With the $6,200,000 expansion program at Lutheran General now in progress, there is a pressing need for additional volunteers. Although we're working in 54 areas, there are many more opportunities available." (S

St. James Women To Hear Decorator

Although holiday festivities have ended and decorations have been taken down, the women of St. James Catholic church hope to get some ideas today (Thursday) of how to brighten their spirits and their homes. Speaking to them at 8:15 p.m. in the school hall will be Miss Muriel VanWaning, a decorator and lecturer employed by John M. Smyth Co. Miss VanWaning has been a decorator for 25 years and has worked in Europe and the Far East as well as in this country.

GUILD MEMBERS will be taken on an imaginary tour of a home with emphasis on color coordinating. Miss VanWaning will bring fabric, wallpaper and carpet samples and a question and answer period will follow the lecture.

Mrs. Leonard Brown, medical missions chairman, announces that many articles are needed for the missions and should be brought to the meeting. These items include used eye glasses, soaps, toothbrushes, toothpaste, white shirts, baby kimonos and used rosaries. (S

Oven Dinner Features Pork Chops, Baked Rice

TOM, JANE and Joanne Gorney look on with interest as their mother, Mrs. Norbert L. Gorney of Mount Prospect, prepares one of their favorite dinners, a tempting Smothered Pork Chop casserole. Baked for an hour, the chops are tender and tasty, and the rich and creamy gravy is delicious with Mrs. Gorney's Baked White Rice.

Gourmet Peaches Served as Dessert

by Lois Seiler

A recipe clipper by her own admission, Mrs. Norbert L. Gorney enjoys trying new food ideas and some stay on to become family favorites.

Such is the case with the menu she has shared with us today. It is one Marian Gorney likes to serve to both family and friends.

The dinner features pork chops smothered in a rich and creamy gravy, a rice casserole which can be baked in the oven along with the chops and a delicious dessert called Gourmet Stuffed Peaches to top off this appealing meal.

Easy to make, the chops are browned first and then baked in a mixture of mushroom soup, sour cream, French fried onions and seasonings.

This dish can be prepared in advance and popped into the oven an hour before serving. The tender chops and savory gravy are delicious served with Mrs. Gorney's Baked White Rice.

IN THIS casserole, regular raw rice is combined with onion, bouillon and butter. Baked for 30 minutes, it is light and fluffy—never sticky or gummy.

"And there is no last minute fuss with this dinner," said Mrs. Gorney. "A hostess can enjoy her guests and be assured that all is going well in the kitchen."

Because the pork chops and gravy are rich, Mrs. Gorney prefers a plain green vegetable such as asparagus or broccoli and a green salad.

The Gourmet Stuffed Peaches are an appropriate dessert for this tasty meal.

"They are easy to prepare, yet look impressive," commented Marian Gorney.

PEACH HALVES are arranged over pineapple slices and filled with a tasty mixture of macaroon crumbs, chopped pecans and butter spiced with candied orange peel and allspice. Baked for 15 minutes, they look especially pretty served in long-stemmed sherbet glasses with a sauce of currant jelly and sherry.

Another of this good cook's recipe specialties which she likes to serve with a plain meat is Scallions in a Sauce.

This unique vegetable recipe calls for four bunches of scallions (or green onions) which are cooked whole for a few minutes until tender, and then served on a hot platter with a parsley-seasoned cream sauce.

THEIR FLAVOR is especially complementary to a steak or roast beef dinner.

All of these recipes make a big hit with the Gorneys' three children: Tom, 12, in sixth grade at Fairview School; Joanne, 6, a first grader, and Jane, 4.

The Gorney family lives at 309 N. Elmhurst Ave., Mount Prospect. Mrs. Gorney is a member of St. Raymond's Catholic Women's Club and the Mount Prospect Junior Woman's Club.

Week's Best Food Buys

Poultry, beef and scarce lamb are active market factors. Costs higher on only moderate supplies. Retailers are balking at raising prices for now with pork products the exception. Pork conditions are hectic. Wholesale costs jumped 3 to 6½ cents for the week. Canned hams cost another 5 cents a pound more. Promotions are spotty.

Fryer costs up, but features persist at 29 to 33 cents a pound, mostly 39. Medium sized eggs cut by some stores from 43 to 45 cents a dozen, large at 53 to 59 cents.

PRODUCE pricing is aimed at volume-making items, such as citrus. Cold weather moves lettuce, peppers, cucumbers and corn higher in most stores. Strawberries are seasonally low at 49 cents a pint.

Chicago area food values:

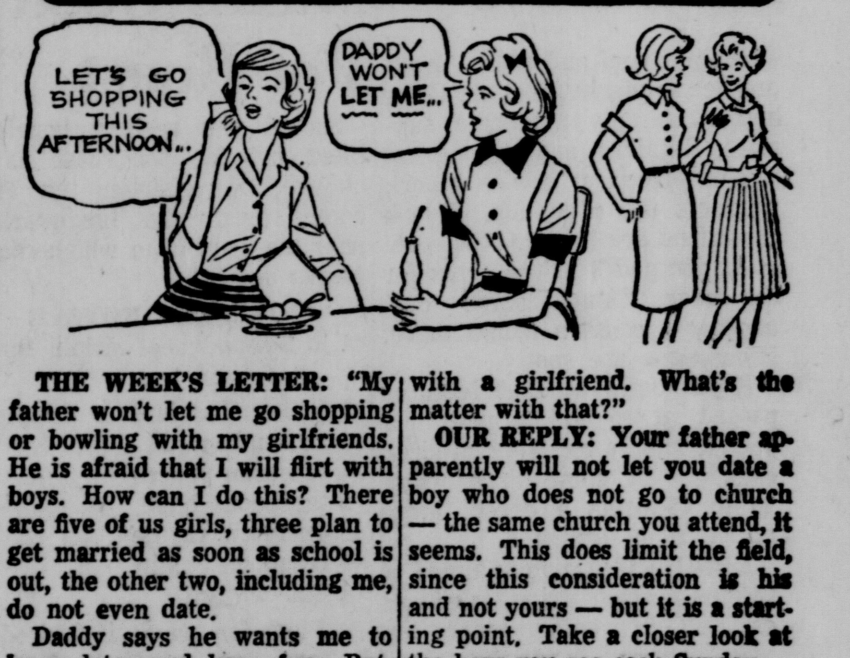
For And About Teenagers



LET'S GO SHOPPING THIS AFTERNOON...
DADDY WON'T LET ME...

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "My father won't let me go shopping or bowling with my girlfriends. He is afraid that I will flirt with boys. How can I do this? There are five of us girls, three plan to get married as soon as school is out, the other two, including me, do not even date.

Daddy says he wants me to have dates and have fun. But, he will not let me accept a date. When I ask him if I can have a date with some boy he says, "No, not until he comes to church." I asked him if I could date a boy on Saturday if the boy came to the house Friday night to meet him. He only repeated what he had said before.

If he won't let me go with the girls shopping, or with boys to a movie, what can I do? He will not even let me spend the night with a girlfriend. What's the matter with that?"

OUR REPLY: Your father apparently will not let you date a boy who does not go to church — the same church you attend, it seems. This does limit the field, since this consideration is his and not yours — but it is a starting point. Take a closer look at the boys you see each Sunday — and then have another talk with your father.

As to being able to spend the night with girlfriends, it appears you need to convince your father that such an outing would be a supervised get-together for girls only.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

For And About Teenagers

LET'S GO SHOPPING THIS AFTERNOON...
DADDY WON'T LET ME...

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "My father won't let me go shopping or bowling with my girlfriends. He is afraid that I will flirt with boys. How can I do this? There are five of us girls, three plan to get married as soon as school is out, the other two, including me, do not even date.

Daddy says he wants me to have dates and have fun. But, he will not let me accept a date. When I ask him if I can have a date with some boy he says, "No, not until he comes to church." I asked him if I could date a boy on Saturday if the boy came to the house Friday night to meet him. He only repeated what he had said before.

If he won't let me go with the girls shopping, or with boys to a movie, what can I do? He will not even let me spend the night with a girlfriend. What's the matter with that?"

OUR REPLY: Your father apparently will not let you date a boy who does not go to church — the same church you attend, it seems. This does limit the field, since this consideration is his and not yours — but it is a starting point. Take a closer look at the boys you see each Sunday — and then have another talk with your father.

As to being able to spend the night with girlfriends, it appears you need to convince your father that such an outing would be a supervised get-together for girls only.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS. COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE. FRANKFORT, KY.

The Way We See It

Questions Raised On Revenue Article

Critics of the proposed new Revenue Article to the state Constitution are citing chapter and verse in a way that cannot be ignored.

The demand for a new Revenue Article has been the refrain of everyone interested in better government for Illinois. The present article was devised in 1848 for a rural society. For many years, it has been obviously unsuited to the revenue needs of the state. It has been a major obstacle to progress.

Therefore, when the General Assembly agreed last June on the wording of a new article to be submitted to the voters in November, 1966, there was almost universal rejoicing. Agreement on a new article was listed by most commentators as one of the major achievements of the session.

Last week, in an interview with a Paddock Publications reporter, veteran State Rep. Bernard M. Peskin of Northbrook ticked off a long list of alleged flaws in the proposed amendment.

Peskin predicted that sloppy drafting of the article would result in a torrent of lawsuits which would bog down the taxing process. He predicted the article would cause a constant battle between state and local governments over allocation of funds.

He predicted the proposed amendment would fail to achieve the main purposes of raising more money and distributing the tax load more fairly. He foresaw heavier real estate taxes if it is adopted.

Of course, not everyone shares the views of Rep. Peskin on the Revenue Article. It has its enthusiastic supporters.

Constitutional provisions on taxation are of fundamental bread-and-butter importance to every citizen of Illinois. The issues and arguments involved are complex. Much study and explanation will be required to make them clear. This should be done.

It would be foolish to accept a Revenue Article that fails to do what is expected, just for the sake of getting rid of the existing obsolete one. This would only result in saddling the state with an inadequate or unfair tax system for another long term of years.

Issues involved in the Revenue Article seem to be an ideal subject for study by the League of Women Voters. This bi-partisan group of able researchers has given invaluable service to voters in the past, by preparing unbiased reports based on the facts.

We hope they will give such a report on the proposed Revenue Article, thus helping the people to reach the right decision on this vital question.

Let the Public Know

Junior College District 301 board members acted wisely last week in withholding support for a suggestion they adopt a written policy stating no member should speak individually on junior college questions.

The suggestion for such a policy came from board member James Hamill, who foresaw possible harm from "news leaks." Hamill cited as an example the hypothetical case of news of a resignation reaching a reporter, and thus the public, before the board learned of it.

What harm this would do wasn't explained, but that is of secondary importance. A policy seeking to stifle individual opinions by board members would do a lot more than plug news leaks. It would hamper the full and free public discussion of junior college affairs.

Attempts by public boards to present an artificial "united front" to the public have been tried repeatedly without success.

We recall that a few years ago the Evanston City Council discussed its major items of business behind closed doors, then marched into the council chambers and rattled off a series of perfunctory affirmative votes.

Perhaps this was intended to reassure the public that everything was on an even keel in Evanston. Certainly the effect was the opposite; the aldermen only aroused suspicion. Fortunately alert citizens and the press fought against this practice and ended it.

A few years ago in a western suburb, a candidate endorsed by a caucus group in a school election announced he was breaking with the previous practice forbidding individual opinions by school board members. The caucus withdrew its support and worked for his defeat in the election. He won overwhelmingly.

The public expects that intelligent, independent board members will disagree on occasion and that all will speak their minds forthrightly. This is good. In the process of debate, the right course of action will be found and, furthermore, the public will be informed and give its support.

Those afraid of following this policy are seeing ghosts. Free discussion helps, not hurts, the progress of public institutions.

Another Step Forward

The new Real Estate Section of Paddock Publications makes its debut next week.

Eye-catching cover photographs taken by Paddock's own photographers will lead the home-seeker into a section full of news, pictures, and ads about homes.

The section will be a new high in convenient and complete information on northwest suburban real estate.

Over the years, thousands of families seeking homes in this area have come to Paddock newspapers for the most complete and reliable information on this major purchase.

Our new Real Estate Section will be another step in anticipating and answering the needs of our growing suburbs, the basis of Paddock leadership. We will keep it that way.

No Beverages For Kiddies!

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

Dr. Morris Chafetz, Harvard University psychiatrist, has suggested that children be taught to drink alcoholic beverages in school.

Dr. Chafetz hopes this addition to the curriculum will be the answer to alcoholism and social maladjustments related to drinking.

The reaction to his proposal has been lukewarm, at most. I think drinking by children would compel us all to go through a period of adjustment.

CUMMINS

I can imagine the shock I would feel the first time I thumbed through a woman's magazine and saw the picture of a man in a white smock, with a stethoscope hanging around his neck, pointing a finger at me, while underneath his picture was printed in bold black type:

"Give your child the children's gin recommended by more doctors than any other!"

AND THEN I would flip the pages and see a freckle-faced red-haired boy chinning himself on a tree in the backyard, while his mother beamed proudly from the kitchen window, and the caption would read:

"Now! Three times as much body-building protein as any other vodka!"

And on the next page might be a picture of a sickly looking lad, shaken by coughing:

"Is rotgut whiskey giving your child a hacking cough? Robbing him of precious sleep? Give him Crayfish Tennessee Sippin' Whiskey and watch the sparkle come back to his eyes!"

And further on another proud mother would send her daughter staggering off in the direction of school, to the message of: "Aren't you glad she had a Cuba libre with her lunch? Guards her with a full day's supply of rum."

A FEW PAGES further I might see a full-color spread, headed with the caption: "Your baby's first drink . . ."

"It seems only days ago that he babbled his first words . . .the memory of his first step is fresh in your mind . . .that lock of hair is so new in the memory book. . . and now — he's ready for his first martini. Make it a good one! Make sure it's drier than dry and a full 100 proof. Make it with Old Cockney — The Gin for All Ages."

All this would be distressing, but I think my biggest disappointment would come if Canadian Club ads joined this trend. I have come to look forward to their pictures of a James Bond-like man in some exotic foreign setting with the story of his stirring adventure told underneath.

Sometimes our hero is in the South Seas and just finished fighting a man-eating shark at 40 fathoms deep. After this fight, it's a particular pleasure for him to sit on the verandah of the old French hotel and sip a drink made with Canadian Club.

OR PERHAPS he has miraculously escaped an avalanche high in the Alps and just made it back to the chalet. Naturally a drink of Canadian Club awaits him.

I am going to protest if these adventurers in exotic settings are replaced by some fresh kid who starts playing marbles for keeps on the playground, then goes to the school cafeteria to celebrate with a drink of Canadian Club.

That's why I'm urging all of you — don't pay any attention to Dr. Chafetz!

Plowing Gets 'A' Grade

By JOAN LORENSON
Staff Writer

The majority of area residents give their villages kudos for the job they do in snow plowing.

They also seem to accept gracefully or resignedly the fact their driveways will be blocked with a snowpile after the plow goes by, a sampling of opinion showed.

Residents on cul de sacs or deadend streets cite the most problems with snow plowing. One man told of having an insurmountable heap of snow left in his driveway on a cul de sac.

LORENSON

Many people believe the snow removal operation is more effective than what they knew in Chicago or older suburbs if they are relatively new northwest suburbanites.

On the village's job of salting streets and intersections during icy conditions, the reaction of residents is mixed. Some believe their villages do an adequate job; others point to the examples of hazardous conditions during last winter's iciness.

MRS. FRANK BORK, 112 Edward St., can look at snow plowing in Mount Prospect from a long standpoint since her family has lived in the village for 40 years. "We're half a mile from the business section and they were out right away cleaning," she said of the last snowfall. She recalls the days when the village was small and plowed sidewalks as well. "We can't complain."

Mrs. Robert Callahan, 109 N. Greenwood, Palatine, believes the village does a "marvelous" job. However, she was quizzical about why the village cleared her residential street before tackling the business streets in the snowfall last week. Commuters were getting stuck in the middle of town, she commented.

She considers Palatine's job of snow removal superior to Chicago's.

In the Greenwood section of Palatine, the streets lack curbs and Mrs. Callahan praises the snow plow crew for keeping away from the grass line.

IF THE SHORT experience of Mrs. William Marston of 158 Cooper St., is a true indication, Hoffman Estates gets its snow equipment out faster than her family's former town of Oak Park did. "I'm very surprised," she remarked frankly. The village took care of the streets last year even when they had not been formally dedicated to them. The Marstons moved to Hoffman Estates last February.

Two families served by townships found the plowing very satisfactory. "We haven't had any trouble," said Mrs. Walter Erickson, 617 Glendale Road in a 40 home unincorporated section bordering Mount Prospect near the country club. "They do a marvelous job."

In unincorporated Prospect Heights Ed Roeder, 204 Columbine Drive, rates the job "wonderful." This is the Roeder's first year in this area, he explained, and so far he has no complaints. He recalled some chagrin when a snow plow pushed snow across the area he had shoveled. He advised the driver he could push the snow in a different and more effective manner.

"IT'S VERY good or lousy," Mrs. Donald Mitchell, 535 Maple Lane, comments about Elk Grove Village's plowing. Often main roads like Tonne Road are cleared well while the side streets are terrible.

The village's handling of salting of streets last year was criticized by Mrs. Mitchell. She complained that it seemed like few of the streets had been salted.

Residents' own practices of shoveling sidewalks also came in for comment from Mrs. Mitchell. "It's always been a pet peeve of mine that people don't shovel their walks," she said. "You say a prayer if you go into a spin because of the number of kids who then have to walk in the middle of the streets," she said. She'd like to see Rolling Meadows' program of sidewalk cleaning adopted in Elk Grove Village. She believes it would make sense in a village where there are so many children.

CARL FABIAN, 3503 Meadow Drive, in Rolling Meadows is very happy with his city's plowing of sidewalks. Some people complain because the plows get on their grass, he said, but he doesn't consider this a legitimate complaint. Rolling Meadows does a good job of snow removal in his estimation.

Buffalo Grove's biggest problem with its snow removal operation is its lack of big enough equipment, evaluated J. Raupp of Buffalo Grove Road. He still considers the job done about "average." The village is "very poor" at salting icy streets in his estimation.

Walter Moore, 48 Cedar Lane, has no complaints of Wheeling's job and seems to represent the viewpoint of residents. The crews get out early enough and do a good job of necessary salting, he believes.

The job that is done by village operated versus contracted equipment does not seem to make a difference, the random sampling also showed.

Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund Grows

More than $750 has been contributed thus far to the Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, it was announced this week by Larry S. Jenness, principal of Forest View High School, Arlington Heights.

BRISTOL

Jenness is co-chairman of a committee temporarily administering the scholarship fund established in memory of Mrs. Helene Bristol, education editor of Paddock Publications who died Dec. 31.

An annual contribution of $400 will be made to the scholarship fund by the northwest suburban division of Illinois Education Association.

A donation of $1,000 to be paid in 10 annual installments has been made by Paddock Publications, Inc. In addition, employes of the newspaper chain have contributed $155.

Jenness said the current scholarship total includes the annual IEA and Paddock donations.

Contributions are still coming in, he said. Others may be sent to Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, c/o Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

Other members of the temporary committee are Jack W. Martin, assistant to the superintendent of High School District 214; Dr. Donald Thomas, principal of Elk Grove High School; Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, and Donald Morton, vice president of Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Associated with Paddock news staff since 1954, Mrs. Bristol was made education editor of the chain in 1960. Her duties included news coverage of area high school boards of education, the new northwest suburban junior college, and general education assignments.

In a recent tribute to Mrs. Bristol, the District 214 Board of Education said:

"Few individuals have worked so selflessly for the cause of education, and area schools are deeply indebted to her service.

"She was much more than a reporter. She brought to her job a tireless effort motivated by an extraordinary interest in the welfare of education. We shall miss her quick laughter and warmth of character, but our personal loss is little compared to the community's loss, for she was a rare laborer in its behalf."

In its resolution, the Junior College District 301 Board recognized Mrs. Bristol's contribution to education in the community by "her printed word, her depth of understanding of school operation, and her enthusiasm."

Her five years of work as a newspaperwoman and a citizen, acquainting the area with a need and feasibility of a junior college, were appreciated, according to the resolution.

Jenness said the current scholarship total includes the annual IEA and Paddock donations.

Contributions are still coming in, he said. Others may be sent to Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarship Fund, c/o Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

Other members of the temporary committee are Jack W. Martin, assistant to the superintendent of High School District 214; Dr. Donald Thomas, principal of Elk Grove High School; Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, and Donald Morton, vice president of Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Associated with Paddock news staff since 1954, Mrs. Bristol was made education editor of the chain in 1960. Her duties included news coverage of area high school boards of education, the new northwest suburban junior college, and general education assignments.

In a recent tribute to Mrs. Bristol, the District 214 Board of Education said:

"Few individuals have worked so selflessly for the cause of education, and area schools are deeply indebted to her service.

"She was much more than a reporter. She brought to her job a tireless effort motivated by an extraordinary interest in the welfare of education. We shall miss her quick laughter and warmth of character, but our personal loss is little compared to the community's loss, for she was a rare laborer in its behalf."

In its resolution, the Junior College District 301 Board recognized Mrs. Bristol's contribution to education in the community by "her printed word, her depth of understanding of school operation, and her enthusiasm."

Her five years of work as a newspaperwoman and a citizen, acquainting the area with a need and feasibility of a junior college, were appreciated, according to the resolution.

Letters to the Editor

Asks Employers of Migrants Designate Public Housing Sites

Mrs. Carl Klehm's letter in last week's paper exposes some of the complexities of trying to assist the Spanish - speaking families in the area. Even given the good will of her husband, who is generally acknowledged to be among the better disposed and cooperative growers in the vicinity, the job cannot be done alone. If Mr. Klehm has prospered through the availability of low-cost labor, he at least has tried to ameliorate the terrible living conditions poverty and rootlessness have forced upon the propertyless.

Perhaps the attitude of Mr. John Marks, published in the same edition, is more typical of more people living here comfortably. They do not realize that they profit from low-cost labor, or suffer from lack of it. Every time they buy a geranium or a bunch of carrots, they profit. Every time their mail is late, they suffer.

There are many people who are forced to travel long distances to do work in the northwest area which would not bring a living wage if they lived here. In addition to putting too many dangerous cars on our already dangerous thoroughfares, travel like this places undue expense on the worker, and our community suffers for lack of sufficient people willing to make this sacrifice - understandably.

I mention the mail because our post office in Arlington Heights is a case in point; the shortage of help and employe turnover there is tremendous, for the reasons given above. Mr. Marks and Co. apparently believe they can withdraw from the heart of a great metropolitan complex, clipping its dividends in prosperity but eschewing its "substandard people." Even slaves lived on the plantation, after all.

A solution for Mr. Klehm and other growers who have been frustrated in personal efforts to upgrade the living conditions of their employes might be to work with NORWESCO, presently in need of sites for possible public housing. If each set aside a small parcel of land, giving NORWESCO an option for the year necessary for a feasibility study, that part of NORWESCO's need would be met. The growers would be relieved of having to take all the responsibility; in addition, such parcels on scattered properties would avoid a centralized "ghetto." With public, low-rise decent apartment - housing available in the area, more service workers and other low-income groups could live here. Living with the Spanish-speaking, so long culturally as well as physically isolated from the total community, could eliminate the need for tutors in English very shortly; the next-door neighbor is the best "teacher" of language in the world.

In this way, as well as with the possible addition of privately owned, long-term-loan small homes scattered through our towns and villages, the suburbs could make their contribution to the health, education, and welfare of the country, without visiting so much as one settlement house. Instead of sending the deprived to the slums of the central city, we would welcome them here as neighbors. We would offer their children the same excellent education we offer our own, not condemn them to sub-standard training which forces repetition of the cycle of failure. We would give them the respect due to all workers of whatever station, in return for their alleviating the shortages of help in industries from which we all profit, one way or another. Decentralization of poverty is as important in keeping the problem manageable as decentralization of industry is to prevent miles of warehousing in cities.

Only pride of community too strong to allow misery to thrive behind the lovely homes misery itself has landscaped, can bring this about. Does the northwest community have this pride?

Happy New Year Wishes Sent by Rep. Erlenborn

This is a note to wish you and your staff a happy and prosperous 1966, with pay increases (non-inflationary, of course) at every turn.

During the past year, I have sought to keep the people of the 14th District informed about my votes and my positions on the various questions which come before the people. A gratifying number of newspapers have carried the stories and columns, and I am appreciative of the courtesies which have been shown me by the press, generally.

Lists Questions Roselle Voters Should Ponder

We, by all that is holy, are somewhat better off than in the past. The royalties of the 1890's led a less luxurious life than we live today.

This luxurious life enabled us to move to Roselle. Therefore, by all that is holy we should endeavor to educate a generation of children better prepared than we, so that when problems come up they won't run to the pills, the hills, or any other kinds of relief.

Lenghty discussions on the minor school issues detract us from our main endeavor—the developmental child.

DEMOCRATIC knowledge bequeaths the right to cast (1) vote, but unrecognized by some, it also implies a responsibility and concern with the freedom to do so. Many problems do not have a simple, partial, or permanent solution.

Recent studies indicate that exposure to an enriched environment improves the ability of an individual to cope with future problems in a more desirable way than the way chosen by individuals exposed to an enrichment-poor environment.

Certainly, we would desire and seek enriched environmental media rather than call them frivolous, unnecessary, budget-cutting expenditures. Certainly, we have elected a school board to guide us in our endeavor.

Therefore, before we get involved in lengthy discussions on some $3,000 issue for a 5,000 school district population, it behooves us to ponder some important questions. (Not exhaustive.)

1. Do Roselle district residents pay state or government pro-rata monies in excess of what they receive in educational grants or subsidies? If not, somebody is supporting our dream world?

2. DOES THE private school tuition cover the total education cost per student in school? If not, does it imply that a governmentally sponsored enrichment program does exist, since contributions are income tax deductible?

3. Are the Roselle district residents tired enough to seek relief through government payments and the attached strings? If so, does it mean they accept the philosophy that bigger governments do better things for less?

4. Do the elderly, grown-up family parents feel that their educative responsibilities stop toward other growing children? If so, where, how, by whom, do they expect their retirements to be paid? Who's going to protect them in their declining years? In their wise, safe, overage will they have to evermore fight in some foreign field?

5. Do "farm town" minded school residents feel that by erecting several impressive structures and commemorating them with names of renown, a cultural suburbia will arise? Is not our greatest resource, the trained and resourceful citizen?

6. If some of the "best" teaching is done at some of the comparable low salaries, does it imply that we get some of the best students from the poorest environments? Why did we leave our old neighborhoods if they were so good?

7. As residents of the Roselle School District, do we have some common endeavor? Yes!! — THE DEVELOPMENTAL CHILD.

Hopes Political Candidates Take Signs Down

Again, politics is beginning to dun the local news media with the promises and predictions of the prospective candidates. Shortly the area will be cluttered with unsightly signs of the future heroes of the various parties. I wonder how long these eyesores will decorate the trees and poles this election.

I can recall one specific four letter sign that covered the countryside like a blanket. Practically every pole, post, tree and building that could be reached was plastered with this poster. I'll bet Mother Nature winced with pain every time she saw them coming.

I don't deny these politicians the privilege of letting their party be known, but when you promise to remove these eyesores after the election, do it as quickly as possible, instead of dragging it out over the years. Maybe I have the wrong idea; it could be the parties are low on funds and can't afford to put up new signs each election. It may soon get to the place where we won't be able to tell if a candidate is running for this year's election or last year's.

Let's hope that the candidates in this year's election will be a bit speedier in removing their signs than some of their predecessors have been. FP

Carson's Has Bridal Registry At Randhurst

Your "Speak Up" column in last week's Herald was very interesting, particularly the sentence in which you state, "Despite the size of Randhurst, one specialty seems to be lacking: a bridal registry." (Did you check?) Mrs. James J. Rose, whom you contacted, uses stronger language: . . . "Carsons doesn't have a registry."

Such is not the case. There is a bridal registry at Carson's Randhurst. It is located on the lower level in the china and silver department, extension 343. The registration of any Carson's bride, whether registered at Randhurst or any of its branches, can be checked by means of a telephone call to the parent store in Chicago. Here a master file of every Carson's registered bride is kept. Nor did Mrs. Rose have to go to Field's in Chicago. Their Old Orchard store has a similar arrangement. There is also, according to their advertisements in the Herald, a bridal registry at Persin and Robbin's store in Arlington Heights.

There may be some confusion as to labels. The bridal secretary is in charge of outfitting the bride and her attendants. The bridal registry — official name is Wedding Gift Service —lists the bride's patterns and gift preferences.

The lack of a really adequate book store in this area is something else again. Perhaps one might be located in Randhurst —on the site of the present popcorn and hot dog stand!

MEMO FROM BILL COOK

Our Used Car Creed

"When we sell NEW automobiles we act chiefly as a retailer, selling merchandise that bears another's name and reputation.

"But when we sell USED cars, we take on some of the responsibility of a manufacturer.

"The various USED cars that we sell are no longer warranted by the original makers. In effect, they bear OUR name.

"We have succeeded as a merchant of re-conditioned automobiles with the honesty of our products and our methods.

"We can't afford to jeopardize our reputation by selling merchandise we cannot offer with pride and confidence.

"Our USED cars must be honestly re-conditioned to give us the benefit of a product that will create the right kind of word-of-mouth advertising."

Afghan Showing

Spinnerin Yarn Co. has sent us six beautiful afghans to have for a week. We know you'll enjoy seeing them. They show how beautiful and varied afghans can be. One embroidered afghan is magnificent. Come have a cup of coffee with us and enjoy the afghans.

Classes

We're going to try something a bit different in classes. We're going to have two 3 week classes of lessons emphasizing FINISHING. How to sew up, block, weave, pick up stitches, crochet. The classes will be limited to ten. Anne will teach them. They'll be at 9:00 Monday or Friday morning. The charge is $5.00. Beginners, we'll start in the shop any day but Wednesday. Right after lunch is usually a good time to come in.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Just what is the correct tip for waiters?

A. This varies. Fifteen per cent to 20 per cent of the total amount of the check is usual, except if the check is very low or very high. For example, 10 cents for a 50-cent check — never a nickel. For checks over $20, the percentage may come down to 10 per cent.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Just what is the correct tip for waiters?

A. This varies. Fifteen per cent to 20 per cent of the total amount of the check is usual, except if the check is very low or very high. For example, 10 cents for a 50-cent check — never a nickel. For checks over $20, the percentage may come down to 10 per cent.
